LEASE, August 20, 1870. Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Agreement, made this twentieth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy (1870), by and between the Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, both of them corporations duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, the said party of the first part is authorized by the aforesaid laws to construct and operate a railroad from Streator in La Salle County to Geneva in Kane County, in said State of Illinois, and has already located the same and is proceeding in the construction thereof.

And whereas, for the purpose of obtaining money necessary for the construction of said railroad, including labor thereon and the materials used therein, and other expenses attending upon the construction of the same, it has executed its bonds in the sum of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, of the date of July first, A. D. 1870, amounting in the aggregate to twelve hundred and sixty thousand (1,260,000) dollars, having thirty (30) years to run to maturity and bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, payable samei-annually, free of government tax, and both principal and interest payable in the city of New York, and has secured the payment of the same by a deed of trust or mortgage duly executed by it to Milton H. Swift and Edward Eames upon the said railroad, made and to be constructed, its right of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto, and revenues to be derived therefrom, which said trust mortgage bears even date with said bonds and has been duly recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs.

And whereas, the proceeds of said bonds and the other means of said company will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of the road-bed and superstructure, and in accomplishing so much the said party of the first part will have exhausted its resources and will be wholly unable to procure the equipment or any part thereof necessary for the maintenance and operation of said railroad; and in order that the same may, when completed, be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and means be provided for the annual purchase of said bonds at not above par and accrued interest, it has become necessary to have the assistance of and make the arrangement with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company hereinafter mentioned.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said party of the second part, it, the said party of the first part, hath granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, all the following-described property of the said Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad Company, that is to say: its said railroad extending from Streator to Geneva aforesaid, made and to be made, including right of way, lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, rails, ties, and other materials used therein, procured and to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depot grounds and buildings thereon or to be placed thereon, also all rolling stock, tools, and other property, real and personal, pertaining to said railroad and to the use thereof, now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said party of the first part, together with the rents, revenues, and incomes to be had, levied, and derived therefrom, and all rights, privileges, and franchises is said party of the first part of, in, to, or concerning the same.

To have and to hold the above-described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises appertaining thereto, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day and date hereof in perpetuity, absolute and exclusive possession thereof to be delivered to and had by said party of the second part as soon as the road-bed and superstructure shall have been completed, and in the mean time the possession of the parties constructing the aforesaid railroad shall be deemed and taken to be the possession of the said party of the second part. The said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does here covenant and agree with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to pay and cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on the said demised premises or any part thereof during the continuance of this lease, and to take possession of said demised road and property as soon as the road-bed, track, and superstructure thereof shall be completed; to place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be required in the transaction of the business of said railroad, and at all times to keep the same equipped in such a manner as the public convenience may require; and also to maintain and keep the said demised road in repair; to run and operate the same in such manner as will furnish reasonable accommodations to the public; and that it will at all times save the said party of the first part and its successors from all damages and liabilities that may be incurred or occasioned by said second party in the management, maintenance, and operation of said railroad.

The said party of the second part further agrees, for the consideration aforesaid, that in the transportation of coal over said demised road it will charge no more or higher rates than shall be charged for the transportation of coal over like distances on the railroad of the said party of the second part, and that it will transport the same with all reasonable despatch, and when to be loaded or unloaded by said second party it shall be done without unnecessary delay; and that it will not charge more per mile for the transportation of coal from Streator to Ottawa than is charged on the Rock Island road from LaSalle to Ottawa; and that the said demised road shall be managed as a part of the railroad of the said party of the second part, and in a manner which shall be equally useful and convenient to the county and business public through which the said demised road runs.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, and also as rent and in full payment of rent for the aforesaid demised railroad and property, hereby covenants and agrees that it will set aside forty per cent of the gross earnings arising from the business done upon the said demised road extending from Streator to Geneva aforesaid, and also forty per cent of the gross earnings from the transportation of business, both freight and passenger, over its own road or any part thereof, coming from or going to the said Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad, as a fund to be annually appropriated each year to the purchase of the aforesaid bonds of the said party of the first part, so long as they can be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest.

And that it will cause to be kept a separate account of all such earnings, and on the first day of July in each year will pay over the amount thereof to the trustees named in the aforesaid trust mortgage securing said bonds, and their successors, to be applied by them to the purchase of said bonds at not more than par and accrued interest, in the manner herein provided.

It is mutually agreed by the parties hereto that the said trustees named in the said trust mortgage shall, in the month of July in each year, advertise for proposals for ten successive days in a daily newspaper for the time being in the city of Boston, stating therein the time and place when and where and the terms upon which the said bonds will be purchased, for the information of such of the holders of said bonds as may wish to sell any of the same under this agreement; and if in response to said advertisement, none of such bonds are offered for sale on the terms aforesaid, then the obligation to purchase bonds for that year and until the time for another annual advertisement shall cease, and the moneys thus applicable to the purchase of bonds for that year shall be returned to the said party of the second part and its successors.

But that the fact that no bonds are offered for sale on the terms herein provided, for that year or any one year, shall not in any manner affect the liability and obligation of the said party of the second part to purchase said bonds on the terms and in the manner herein provided, with the amount which may accumulate from the said forty per cent of the gross earnings for the next or any year thereafter, and which by the terms of this agreement shall be applicable to the purchase of said bonds; it being the intention of this agreement not to purchase said bonds at more than par and accrued interest.

And that when they cannot be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, the funds provided therefor not being required for that purpose shall be returned to and may be used and divided by said party of the second part, like other earnings of its road, year by year.

It is also mutually agreed and understood that an abstract of this agreement relating to the purchase of said bonds shall be printed and attached to each of them. And that the provisions of this contract shall only extend to the said twelve hundred and sixty thousand (1,260,000) dollars of bonds hereinbefore mentioned, and to those of them only which shall have printed and attached thereto the abstract above mentioned. And that it shall be the duty of the said trustee, upon the purchase of said bonds or any of them as herein mentioned, to deliver the same to the said party of the second part, to be held, used, and employed by it as its own property and in such manner as it shall deem advisable.

It is also mutually agreed that the stipulations and provisions of this contract shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused their respective corporate names to be hereunto subscribed by their presidents, and their respective corporate seals to be hereunto attached by their secretaries, on the day and year first above written.

TRUST MORTGAGE, July 1, 1870, Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad company to Milton H. Swift and Edward Eames, Trustees.

This Indenture made this first day of July in the Year of Our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy (1870) between the "Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad Company" a Corporation duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and Milton H. Swift and Edward Eames of Ottawa in the State of Illinois Trustees herein, parties of the second part,

Witnesseth that whereas the "Ottawa, Oswego, and Fox River Valley Railroad Company" pursuant to the terms of the Statutes and Acts of the Legislature of the said State of Illinois creating it, and of the organization of said Company under and in accordance therewith, is engaged in constructing a railroad to extend from Streator in the County of LaSalle in the State of Illinois to Geneva in the County of Kane in said State, a distance of about Seventy (70) miles; and

Whereas the said "Ottawa Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad Company" is desirous of borrowing money to an amount not exceeding One Million Two Hundred and Sixty Thousand (1,260,000) Dollars, that being Eighteen Thousand (18,000) Dollars per mile on the length of the road between Streator and Geneva aforesaid, to aid in the construction and to be applied to the purchase and transportation of, or in payment for materials, superstructure and equipment for said road, and has resolved to execute the bonds of said Company therefor as follows: to wit; One Thousand Two Hundred and Sixty (1,260) in sums of One Thousand (1,000) Dollars each bearing date on the First day of July A. D. One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy (1870), having Thirty (30) years to run to maturity bearing interest at the rate of Eight (8) per cent. per annum, free of Government Tax, and payable semi annually on the first days of January and July in each year, at the Banking House of the "Farmers Loan and Trust Company" in the City of New York, where both principal and interest are made payable, or at such other place in said City as it may designate. All of which bonds are to bear the same date and are to stand equally secured by this Deed of Trust and are to be duly stamped with the revenue stamps required by law; and the aforesaid bonds are to be numbered consecutively from Number One to the highest number which may be issued inclusive. Each of which said bonds are to be authenticated by a certificate signed by the Trustees named in this Deed of Trust.

Now therefore this Indenture Witnesseth that the said "Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad Company" in order to secure the payment of its said bonds and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of Five (5) Dollars to it in hand paid by the said parties of the second part at the ensembling and delivery of these presents, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained, sold, transferred and conveyed and by these presents does grant, bargain, sell, transfer and convey to the said parties of the second part their successors in said trust and assigns, all the following and all the above described property to wit;-- "All the present and in future to be acquired property of the said railroad Company in and relating to the said railroad, and all the right, title, interest and equity of redemption therein, that is to say; all the railroad of the said party of the first part, now made and to be constructed extending from Streator to Geneva aforesaid, including the right of way therefor, road-bed, superstructure, iron, ties, chairs, splices, bolts, nuts, spikes, and all the lands and depot grounds, Station houses, depots, viaducts, bridges, timber and materials and property purchased or to be purchased for the construction of the said Railroad, and all the engines, tenders, cars and machinery and all kinds of rolling stock now owned or to be hereafter purchased by the said party of the first part, for and to be used upon said railroad;—all the revenues and income of said railroad and all the franchises and rights of said party of the first part relating thereto, and property acquired by virtue thereof, now in possession or hereafter to be acquired, including machine shops, tools, implements, and personal property used therein or along the line of said railroad."

To have and to hold the said railroad and property and all and singular the premises and every part thereof, with the appurtenances, unto the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns.

But for the following purposes and upon the following express trust, that is to say:

In case the said "Ottawa, Oswego and Fox River Valley Railroad Company" shall fail to pay the principal or any part thereof, or any of the interest on any of the bonds secured or intended to be secured hereby, at any time when and where the same may become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and for thirty days thereafter, then and in such case, all of said bonds both principal and interest shall thereupon at the option of the holders thereof, become due and payable, and at the request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds, the said parties of the second part their successors in said trust or assigns, may enter into and take possession of all and singular, the said railroad, premises and property hereby conveyed, and, as the attorneys in fact or agents of said first party by themselves or their agent duly constituted, have, use and employ the same, making from time to time all needful repairs, alterations and additions

AN ACT to incorporate the Illinois Grand Trunk Railway.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly, That, William P. Pierce, Henry Sherrill, Chas. H. Gilman, Jacob Albright, and A. J. Mattson, and their associates, successors and assigns, be and they are hereby created a body corporate, by the name and style of "The Illinois Grand Trunk Railway," with perpetual succession, and power to build, maintain and use a railroad, from some point or points on the Mississippi river, either at Rock Island, Fulton or any intermediate point or points, to Prophetstown, Mendota, Newark, the village of Lisbon, Grintown and Joliet to Chicago, or to any desirable point on the Indiana state line. The said railroad to be built on or near the established line of the old Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, as nearly as may be practicable, from Prophetstown to Joliet, running through the places before named, between Prophetstown and Joliet. To purchase, hold lease, sell and convey estate, whether real, personal or mixed, so far as may be necessary to carry out the intentions of this act; and in their corporate name, may sue and be sued as natural persons; to have and use a common seal; to make all by-laws, rules and regulations deemed necessary and proper for the government and management of said corporation and its affairs; and shall have the right to exercise all powers which are or may be necessary to carry into effect the purposes and objects of this act; and also for such purposes, may make, execute and deliver bonds, notes, mortgages or other evidences of indebtedness and agreements to pay the same; and for such purposes, may negotiate for and take the same.

§ 2. Said corporation shall have the right to negotiate for and purchase the road-bed and right of way of the late or old "Illinois Grand Trunk Railway," from Albany, in Whiteside county, to Joliet, in Will county, and each and all of the corporate rights, franchises, and privileges of said old Illinois Grand Trunk Railway Company, and to go on and build and complete the same when so purchased to all intents and purposes, the same as said Illinois Grand Trunk Railway might have done, had the organization thereof been kept up; but nothing in this act shall be construed to make the corporation hereby formed liable in any way or manner to pay the debts of said old Illinois Grand Trunk Railway Company. And all rights, privileges, franchises and property which have lapsed and reverted to the State of Illinois from the failure of the old Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, are hereby granted and vested in the corporation created by this act.

§ 3. The said corporation is hereby authorized by their agents, surveyors and engineers, to cause such examination and surveys to be made of the ground and country between said points above mentioned, from the west to the east line of this state, as shall be necessary to determine and select the most proper, direct and feasible route whereon to construct their said railroad; and it shall be lawful for said corporation to enter upon and take possession of and use all such lands and real estate as may be necessary for the construction, maintenance and operation of their said railroad: Provided, that all lands or real estate entered upon and taken possession of and used by said corporation for the purposes and accommodation of said railroad, or upon which the site of said railroad shall have been located and determined by said corporation, shall be paid for by said company to the owner or owners thereof, by the use of the same for the purposes of said railroad; and all lands entered upon and which are not donated to said company for the use of said railroad shall be paid for by said corporation, at such price as may be mutually agreed upon by the corporation and the owner or owners of such lands; and in all cases where said company shall not be able to acquire the right of way through any lands or premises they may wish to occupy for the purposes of said railroad or its appendages by purchase or voluntary cession, said company may proceed to obtain such right of way by the provisions of "An Act to provide for a general system of railroad incorporations," approved November 5, 1849; and any act or acts passed amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto; and said corporation shall have and possess all the powers, privileges and immunities provided in and by said general railroad act, or acts amendatory thereof, or supplemental thereto.

§ 4. The capital stock of said company shall be one million dollars, which may be increased to such amount as may be found necessary to complete said road. Said stock shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, which shall be deemed personal property, and may be issued and transferred as the board of directors may prescribe.

§ 5. The time of holding the annual meetings of said corporation for the election of directors, shall be fixed and determined by the by-laws of said company; and at all meetings each stockholder shall be entitled to vote in person, or by lawful proxy, one vote for each share in the stock he, she or they may hold bona fide in said corporation.

§ 6. The persons named in the first section of this act are hereby appointed the directors of said corporation, and shall hold their office for one year from the first day of June, A. D. 1867, or until others are elected; and said persons heretofore named in section one of this act, are also appointed commissioners, who, or a majority of whom, are hereby authorized to open stock subscription books for the capital stock, at such a time or times and place or places, as they may deem proper; said commissioners shall require each subscriber to pay five dollars on each share of capital stock subscribed at the time of subscribing. The directors appointed by this act, or a majority of them, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and shall elect one of their number to be president of said company. They shall also elect a secretary and treasurer, and such officers and agents as they shall deem proper. In case a vacancy occurs in the board of directors, it may be filled by the remaining directors, or as the by-laws of said corporation may prescribe; no person shall hereafter be elected a director in said company, unless he shall be a stockholder thereof.

§ 7. The right of way, and real estate acquired for the right of way and depot ground, by said company, whether by mutual agreement or otherwise, or which shall become the property of the company by operation of law, as in this act provided, shall, upon the payment of the amount of money belonging to the owner or owners of said lands as a compensation for the same, become the property of said company in fee simple.

§ 8. That when the lands of any femmes covert, persons under age, non compos mentis, or any non-resident of the State, shall be taken in the construction of said railroad, as is provided by this act, the said corporation shall pay the amount that shall be awarded as due to said owner or owners, respectively, whenever the same may be lawfully demanded, together with interest thereon at six per cent per annum., or may deposit the amount with the county treasurer of the county in which the land so taken lies.

§ 9. It shall be lawful for the company created by this act to unite with any railroad company whose line of road comes to the east line of this State from the east, and it may also unite with any railroad company whose line of road comes to the Mississippi River from the west, or with any such company or companies who have the right to use any railroad or railroads coming to the said east line, or to the Mississippi River, or the company hereby formed may lease or sell their road to any company, either in or out of this State who will agree to furnish the capital to finish, build, construct, furnish and equip said railroad to completion for practical use, and that such purchasing or leasing company may go on and complete said railroad, and work the same with like power and effect, and in the name of the company hereby formed.

§ 10. For the purpose of facilitating the construction of the railroad authorized by this act, said corporation is empowered to borrow money and pledge its property, both real and personal, and its rights, credits and franchises, to secure the payment thereof.

§ 11. This act shall be deemed to be a public act, and shall take effect from and after its passage.

CONTRACT, October 1, 1870. Illinois Grand Trunk Railway and James F. Joy.

This Indenture, made this first (1st) day of October, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and seventy (1870), by and between the Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, a corporation organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and James F. Joy of Detroit, in the State of Michigan, party of the second part.

Whereas, the said first party is authorized by its charter and the laws aforesaid to construct, maintain, and operate a railroad from some point on the Mississippi River at Fulton, Rock Island, or intermediate those points, by way of Prophetstown and Mendota, to Joliet, and thence to Chicago or the Indiana State line, and has already located that part of its railroad between Mendota and Prophetstown, and is now ready to proceed with the construction of that part of said railroad.

And whereas, certain towns, municipalities, and individuals along the line of said railroad at and between Prophetstown and Mendota, to aid and secure the construction of the same between Prophetstown and Mendota, have agreed to subscribe to the capital stock of said company and to issue bonds therefor, and to contribute individually to an amount in the aggregate to about two hundred thousand (200,000) dollars, which said bonds and contributions cannot be delivered to or had by said first party until the said railroad shall be constructed and in operation from Prophetstown to Mendota aforesaid, which the said first party, now without credit, is unable alone of itself to accomplish.

And whereas, said first party, for the purpose of obtaining money necessary to proceed with the construction of said section of railroad between Mendota and Prophetstown, to procure and pay for the right of way and to pay the contractor, the said second party, who hereby agrees to obtain the iron, ties, and other material necessary for the construction of said section of railroad, and to construct and complete the same as hereinafter stated, has executed and is about to issue its bonds as follows: twelve hundred and ten (1,210) in all, seven hundred and ten (710) of them in sums of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, and five hundred (500) in sums of five hundred (500) dollars each, all bearing even date herewith, with semi-annual interest thereon at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, free of government tax, with both principal and interest payable in the city of Boston, which said bonds amount in the aggregate to nine hundred and sixty thousand (960,000) dollars and have not more than twenty (20) years to run to maturity; all of which said bonds are to be stamped as the law requires, and their payment has been secured by a deed of trust or mortgage duly executed by said first party to John N. Denison and Stephen V. R. Thayer of Boston, Massachusetts, on its aforesaid railroad, made and to be made, its right of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, buildings, and all other of its property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises of said first party belonging thereto, and the revenues to be derived therefrom, which said trust mortgage bears even date herewith, and has been duly recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs.

And whereas, the proceeds of said bonds and other means of said first party will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of said section of railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, and the said first party is, and when said railroad shall be completed as herein provided, will be, wholly unable to procure the equipment or any part thereof necessary for the maintenance and operation of said railroad, and in order that the same may be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and a fund be created for the annual purchase of said bonds at not above par and accrued interest, so that a present sale can be made of the same in the market, it has become necessary for said first party to make with the said second party the agreements and covenants hereinafter mentioned.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said second party hereby stipulates and agrees, for the considerations hereinafter mentioned, to obtain and pay for the right of way, so far as has not already been obtained, from Prophetstown to Mendota, and to procure all the iron, ties, and other necessary materials, and to construct thereon and complete in a good, substantial manner a first-class railroad with all necessary switches, turnouts, and station houses from Prophetstown to Mendota aforesaid, and have the same completed and ready for use on or before the first day of July, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-one (1871), and in the construction of said section of railroad the said second party agrees to iron the same with iron weighing not less than fifty-four (54) pounds to the yard, to be laid with fish joint and be fully spiked, surfaced up, and made ready for use, with all needful ditching, road crossings, and fencing, all to be done under the plans and specifications and directions to be made and given by the chief engineer who shall be placed by said first party in charge of the construction of the said section of railroad.

And the said first party, in consideration of the construction and completion of said section of railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota as aforesaid, hereby agrees, immediately on the execution of this contract, and as a part of the consideration to said second party for the construction of the aforesaid section of railroad, to assign, transfer, and deliver to said second party the aforesaid nine hundred and sixty thousand (960,000) dollars of first mortgage bonds of said first party as hereinbefore mentioned, to be received, owned, and negotiated, or otherwise appropriated, by said second party in such manner as to him shall seem best.

The said first party further agrees, in further payment to said second party for the construction of the aforesaid section of railroad, on the completion of the same to deliver or cause to be delivered to him all the aforesaid township and municipal bonds, amounting to one hundred and ninety-four thousand (194,000) dollars, and donations to the amount of six thousand (6,000) dollars, voted and made to secure the construction of said section of railroad, amounting in the aggregate to two hundred thousand (200,000) dollars.

The said first party also agrees, in further payment to said second party for the construction of the aforesaid section of railroad, upon the execution of this instrument to assign or cause to be assigned, transferred, and delivered to him all the capital stock which has hitherto been issued, excepting that which has been issued to townships and municipalities in payment of the township and municipal bonds hereinbefore mentioned, and also to assign and issue to said second party so much additional capital stock as may be required to make the capital stock to be delivered to said second party amount to twenty thousand (20,000) dollars per mile on said section of railroad between Mendota and Prophetstown, and to issue certificates therefor to said second party whenever he shall demand the same; and said first party further agrees to issue no certificate of stock to any other party or parties whomsoever without the written consent of said second party until the option hereinafter reserved to said second party to construct other sections of said road shall have expired.

The said party of the first part, for the considerations hereinafter mentioned, hereby further covenants and agrees that upon the completion of said section of railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns, shall thereupon have and continue to hold the sole and exclusive possession of said railroad of said first party, and may run, maintain, and operate said section of railroad, and receive the tolls, incomes, and profits thereof and to be derived therefrom, and appropriate the same to his own use, and as he shall be advised upon compliance with the terms and provisions hereinafter provided to be kept and performed on his part. And the said second party shall also have the right and it shall be optional with him to construct or not, as he shall think proper, the whole or any portion of said railroad lying west of Prophetstown, or the whole or any part of said railroad lying east of Mendota; but it is mutually understood that the said second party is not required by the terms of this contract to construct any portion of said railroad other than that lying between Prophetstown and Mendota.

And the said second party, in consideration of the right to possess, maintain, and operate said section of railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, and to receive the tolls, incomes, and profits therefrom as above provided, hereby agrees that he will, immediately upon the completion of said section of railroad from Mendota westward to Prophetstown, either by himself or his duly authorized agents, take exclusive possession, control, and management thereof, and will, either himself or by his said agents, equip, maintain, and operate the said section of railroad and receive the tolls and income thereof, and pay the semi-annually accruing interest on said first mortgage bonds of said first party, and procure the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company to set aside forty (40) per cent of the gross earnings on its own road derived from the business going to and coming from the said section of railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, for the annual purchase of said bonds at the lowest price at which proposals may be made, but not above par and accrued interest, and also hereby agrees to pay all taxes that shall be lawfully assessed on said section of railroad, and pay all damages that may be incurred or occasioned in the maintenance and operation thereof, and save said party of the first part harmless therefrom; or he will procure a contract to be entered into by and between the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company and the said first party, in virtue of which the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company shall, upon the completion of said section of railroad as herein provided, take absolute and exclusive control and management thereof, and shall purchase and place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as the business of the country through which said railroad runs may reasonably require, and shall keep said section of railroad equipped and in repair, and maintain and operate the same as a part of its own road or otherwise, but in such manner as to furnish all reasonable facilities to the travelling and business public along the line of said section of railroad, and shall pay all taxes and assessments that may be levied or assessed upon said section of railroad or any part thereof during the continuance of this contract, and shall pay all damages that may be incurred or occasioned in the maintenance and operation of said section of railroad, and save said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, harmless therefrom; and in addition thereto the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, in consideration of the use of said section of railroad and of the income to be derived therefrom, shall pay to the holders of the said nine hundred and sixty thousand (960,000) dollars of first mortgage bonds of said first party the semi-annually accruing interest thereon, as it shall become due and payable according to the terms thereof, and shall set aside forty (40) per cent of the gross earnings on its own road accruing from the business going to and coming from the aforesaid section of railroad of said first party, and pay over annually in the month of October in each year the amount thereof to the trustees named in the deed of trust securing said bonds, to be applied by them to the purchase of said bonds whenever the same can be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest: provided, that if in answer to proposals for the purchase of bonds in any one year, none shall be offered for sale upon said terms, then the funds for the purchase of bonds for that year to be returned to the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, its successors and assigns; but the fact that no bonds are offered for sale in any one year shall not relieve the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company from setting aside the forty per cent of the gross earnings for the next or any ensuing year.

And it is hereby mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that the said second party, his heirs and assigns, in case he or they equip, maintain, and operate said section of railroad, and the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company in case it shall take possession of the same and maintain and operate it, shall be and are hereby clothed with all the requisite authority and rights, privileges and franchises of said first party in and to the same which may be necessary or convenient to the equipment, maintenance, and operation of said section of railroad and the receipt of the tolls and incomes therefrom.

And the said party of the second part and his assigns, and the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company in case it shall come into possession of the aforesaid section of railroad, will maintain and operate the same in the name of said first party or otherwise as they shall think proper, and may have, use, and employ the name of said first party, and its rights, privileges, and franchises relating to said section of railroad, whenever and in such manner as may be necessary or convenient in the transaction of the business connected therewith.

It is hereby further mutually agreed and understood that this contract shall continue and be in force for the period of ninety-nine (99) years from and after the date hereof; and that each and every of the provisions and stipulations and agreements thereof shall be binding upon the successors, heirs, and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In witness whereof, the party of the first part has caused its corporate name to be hereunto subscribed by its president, and its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed and attested by its secretary.

And the said second party has hereunto set his hand and seal, all on the day and year first above written.

CONTRACT, October 1, 1870 The Illinois Grand Trunk Railway and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture, made and entered into this first (1st) day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy (1870), by and between the Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, both corporations duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, the said first party is authorized by the aforesaid laws to construct, maintain, and operate a railroad from some point on the Mississippi River at Fulton, Rock Island, or intermediate those places, by way of Prophetstown and Mendota, to Joliet and thence to Chicago or the Indiana State line, and has already located that part of its said railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, and is proceeding with the construction thereof.

And Whereas, for the purpose of obtaining money necessary to proceed with the construction of that section of its railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, to procure and pay for the right of way and to pay the contractor for labor and materials in the construction thereof and completing it ready for the equipment and use, the said party of the first part has executed its bonds therefor as follows: twelve hundred and ten (1,210) bonds in all, seven hundred and ten of them in sums of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, and five hundred in sums of five hundred (500) dollars each, all bearing date the first (1st) day of October, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy (1870), having twenty (20) years to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, free from government tax, with both principal and interest payable in the city of Boston, and has secured the payment of the same by a deed of trust or mortgage duly executed by it to John N. Denison and Stephen V. R. Thayer, of the city of Boston and State of Massachusetts, trustees therein, upon the aforesaid railroad of said first party, made and to be constructed, its right of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto, and revenues to be derived therefrom, which said trust mortgage bears even date with said bonds and has been duly recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs.

And Whereas, the proceeds of said bonds and other means and resources of said company will be sufficient only for the construction of the road-bed and superstructure, and in accomplishing so much said first party will have exhausted its resources and will be wholly unable to procure the equipment or any part thereof necessary for the maintenance and operation of said section of railroad between Mendota and Prophetstown, and in order that the same may when completed be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and means be provided for the payment of the semi-annual interest accruing on said first mortgage bonds of said first party, and a fund be created for the annual purchase of said bonds at the lowest price at which proposals may be made for them, but not above par and accrued interest, it, the said first party, has made and executed a contract of even date herewith with James F. Joy, of the city of Detroit and State of Michigan, in virtue of which and for the considerations therein expressed the said Joy has agreed among other things, either by himself or his duly appointed agents, to take possession of said railroad, to equip, maintain, and operate that portion thereof between Mendota and Prophetstown, to pay the interest on the bonds above mentioned, or to procure the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company to enter into a contract with said first party, in virtue of which that company shall, on the completion of said section of railroad between Mendota and Prophetstown, equip, maintain, and operate the same during the continuance of said contract with said Joy, and pay the semi-annually accruing interest on said bonds, and set aside forty (40) per cent of the gross earnings on its own road accruing from the business going to and coming from the aforesaid section of railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, to be applied to the purchase of said bonds annually, at not above par and accrued interest, and also to pay all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied on said section of railroad, and all damages that may be occasioned in the maintenance and operation of the same.

And Whereas, the said second party, at the solicitation of and in pursuance of an agreement with said Joy to that effect, has consented to make such contract and undertake the equipment, maintenance, and operation of said section of railroad.

Now, Therefore, this Indenture Witnesseth: That the said party of the first part hereby agrees, in consideration of the covenants herein contained to be kept and performed by said second party, that upon the completion of said section of railroad of said first party extending from Prophetstown to Mendota by the said James F. Joy and his duly authorized agents, and the transfer and possession thereof to said second party in accordance with the agreement between said Joy and said second party above mentioned, it, the said party of the second part, shall have and continue to hold the exclusive control and management of said section of railroad, and shall have and receive to its own use the earnings and revenues which may accrue or be derived from the aforesaid section of railroad; and in order that the said second party may have every facility for the equipment, maintenance, and operation of said section of railroad, in such manner as the business public may require, it, the said first party, hereby assigns and transfers all its rights, privileges, and franchises in and belonging to the said section of railroad, and requisite to its use and maintenance, to said second party, and hereby clothes said second party with all needful authority, in the name of said first party or otherwise as it shall deem best, to exclusively possess said section of railroad, and to equip, maintain, and operate the same during the continuance of this contract, and as fully to all intents as the said first party could or might do were it to remain in the possession thereof.

And the said second party, in consideration of the premises and of the gains and profits to be derived from the aforesaid section of railroad and property, and as soon as the same shall be completed and ready for use, agrees to procure and place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be reasonably required in the transaction of the business of said section of railroad, and will at all times keep the same equipped and in good repair, and during the continuance of this contract will run, maintain, and operate the same as a part of its own road and in connection therewith, in such manner as will furnish all reasonable accommodations to the travelling and business public; and that it will pay or cause to be paid all taxes or assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on said section of railroad, or any part thereof, and will pay and discharge all damages and liabilities that may be caused or occasioned by said second party in the maintenance and operation of said section of railroad, and save said first party and its successors harmless therefrom.

And the said second party, for the aforesaid considerations, further agrees that it will pay or cause to be paid the semi-annually accruing interest on the aforesaid nine hundred and sixty thousand (960,000) dollars of first mortgage bonds of said first party hereinbefore mentioned, when and where the same shall become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and that it will set aside forty (40) per cent of the gross earnings accruing from the transportation of business, both freight and passenger, over its own road or any part thereof, coming from and going to the aforesaid section of railroad between Prophetstown and Mendota, as a fund to be annually appropriated each year to the purchase of the aforesaid bonds of said first party as long as they can be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, and that it will cause to be kept a separate account of all such earnings, and on the first day of October in each year will pay over the amount thereof to the trustees named in the aforesaid trust mortgage securing said bonds or their successors, to be applied by them to the purchase of said bonds at the lowest price at which proposals may be made for them, but not more than par and accrued interest, in the manner hereinafter provided.

And it is mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that the said trustees named in the said trust mortgage shall, in the month of October in each year, advertise for proposals for ten (10) successive days in a daily newspaper for the time being in the city of Boston, stating therein the time and place when and where and the terms upon which the said bonds will be purchased, for the information of such of the holders of said bonds as may wish to sell any of the same on the terms contained in this agreement. If in response to said advertisement none of such bonds are offered for sale on the terms aforesaid, then the obligation to purchase bonds for that year and until the time for another advertisement shall cease and the moneys thus applicable to the purchase of bonds for that year, shall be returned to said second party or its successors. But the fact that no bonds are offered for sale on the terms herein provided for that or any one year shall not in any manner affect the liability and obligation of said second party to purchase said bonds on the terms and in the manner herein provided with the amount which may accumulate from the forty (40) per cent of gross earnings for the next or any year thereafter, and which by the terms of this agreement shall be applicable to the purchase of said bonds; it being the intention of this agreement not to purchase said bonds at more than par and accrued interest, and when they cannot be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, the funds provided therefor, not being required for that purpose, shall be returned to and may be used and divided by said second party like other earnings of its road, year by year.

It is also mutually agreed that a memorandum of this agreement relating to the payment of interest and to the purchase of said bonds shall be printed on each of them and certified to by the trustees in the mortgage securing the same; and that the provisions of this contract shall only extend to the nine hundred and sixty thousand (960,000) dollars of bonds hereinbefore mentioned, and to those of them only which shall have printed thereon the memorandum above mentioned.

And that it shall be the duty of the said trustees, upon the purchase of said bonds or any of them as herein mentioned, to deliver the same to said second party, to be held, used, and employed by it and its successors as its own property, and in such manner as it shall deem advisable.

It is further mutually agreed that this contract shall take effect and be in force for the period of ninety-nine (99) years from and after the date hereof; and that each and every of the stipulations and provisions of this contract shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have caused their respective corporate names to be hereunto subscribed by their respective presidents, and their respective corporate seals to be hereunto affixed and attested by their respective secretaries, in the day and year first above written.

TRUST MORTGAGE, October 1, 1870, The Illinois Grand Trunk Railway to John N. Denison and Stephen V. R. Thayer, Trustees.

This mortgage covers the Illinois Grand Trunk Railroad, and secures an issue of bonds amounting to $960,000. These bonds are dated Oct. 1, 1879, have twenty years to run, bear interest at the rate of eight per cent, payable semi-annually, and mature Oct. 1, 1890.

This Indenture, made this first (1st) day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy (1870), by the Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, a corporation duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and John N. Denison and Stephen V. R. Thayer, of the city of Boston and State of Massachusetts, trustees herein and parties of the second part, witnesseth:—

That Whereas, the Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, pursuant to the terms of the statutes and acts of the Legislature of said State of Illinois, and of the organization of said company under and in accordance therewith, is engaged in constructing a railroad from a point on the Mississippi River at Fulton or Rock Island or intermediate those points, in said State of Illinois, by way of Prophetstown and Mendota to Joliet, and thence to Chicago or to the Indiana State line. And whereas, the said Illinois Grand Trunk Railway is desirous of borrowing money to an amount not exceeding twenty thousand (20,000) dollars per mile on completed road, and amounting in the aggregate to not more than nine hundred and sixty thousand (960,000) dollars to aid in the construction of that part of its said railroad situate between Prophetstown and Mendota, and to be applied to the purchase and transportation of iron and in payment of the contractors for constructing and furnishing materials for the said portion of said railroad and other purposes connected with the construction of the same, and has resolved to execute the bonds of said company therefor as follows, to wit: twelve hundred and ten (1,210) bonds in all, seven hundred and ten of them in sums of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, and five hundred (500) in sums of five hundred (500) dollars each, all bearing date the first (1st) day of October, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy (1870), having twenty (20) years to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, free of government tax, and payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October in each year at the office of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, where both principal and interest of said bonds are made payable, or at such other place in said city as it may designate for that purpose, all of which said bonds are to bear the same date and are to stand equally secured by this deed of trust, and are to be duly stamped with the revenue stamps required by law, and are to be numbered as follows: the one thousand (1,000) dollar bonds from number one (1) to seven hundred and ten (710), both inclusive, and the five hundred (500) dollar bonds from number one (1) to five hundred (500), both inclusive, each of which said bonds is to be authenticated by a certificate signed by the trustees named in this deed of trust.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, in order to secure the payment of its said bonds and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of five (5) dollars to it in hand paid by said second parties at the ensembling and delivery of these presents, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained, sold, transferred, and conveyed, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, transfer, and convey to the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, all the following and all the above-described property, to wit: all the present and in the future to be acquired property of said Illinois Grand Trunk Railway relating to the said railroad, and all the right, title, interest, and equity of redemption therein, that is to say: all the railroad of said first party now made and to be constructed, extending from a point on the Mississippi River at Fulton, Rock Island, or intermediate those points in the said State of Illinois, by way of Prophetstown and Mendota to Joliet, and thence to Chicago or the Indiana State line, including the right of way therefor, road bed, superstruction, iron, chairs, ties, splices, bolts, nuts, spikes, and all lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, viaducts, timber, and materials and property purchased or to be purchased for the construction and completion of said section of railroad, and all the engines, tenders, cars, and machinery and all kinds of rolling stock now owned or hereafter to be purchased by said first party for and to be used upon said railroad, all the revenues and income of said railroad, and all the franchises, rights, and privileges of said first party relating thereto, and the property acquired by virtue thereof, now in possession or hereafter to be acquired, including all machine shops, tools, implements, and personal property used thereon or along the line of said railroad.

To have and to hold the said railroad and property, and all and singular the said premises and every part thereof, with the appurtenances, unto the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, but upon the following express trust, that is to say: the said parties of the second part, in order that the security hereby created may be complete and absolute, shall have and are hereby invested with the immediate possession of said railroad premises and property, and the rights, privileges, and franchises hereby conveyed and intended to be conveyed; and until the final payment of said bonds and each and every renewal thereof, the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, shall have and exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of a mortgagee in possession; and during the construction of said railroad or any part thereof, the possession of the contractors for the purposes of construction shall be deemed and taken to be the possession of said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns; and the said parties of the second part, and their successors in said trust and assigns, are hereby fully authorized and empowered to possess, maintain, and operate the said railroad premises and property hereby conveyed, or any part thereof, by themselves or by their agents or attorneys by them duly constituted and appointed; and when the track and superstruction of any part of said railroad shall have been completed, in case the said first party neglects to equip or cause the same to be equipped, the said second parties, their successors in said trust and assigns, shall have power and authority to place thereon the necessary rolling stock, and to maintain and operate said part of said railroad by themselves or by their duly authorized agents, or they may procure any other party or parties, individual or corporate, to equip, maintain, and operate the same, and for that purpose they are hereby invested with all requisite power and authority to make such arrangements, contracts, and agreements, in their own names or in the corporate name and under the corporate seal of said first party, for such time and on such terms and conditions as to them shall seem proper, and also to do and perform all such other acts and things in the premises as may be necessary or convenient in executing the trust hereby created. And it shall be especially the duty of said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, by themselves or by their aforesaid individual or corporate agents, to enter upon and take possession of said railroad, situated between Prophetstown and Mendota (that being the only part of said railroad now in process of construction or soon to be completed), and its appurtenances, and the property thereto belonging and proper for its use, and to make from time to time all needful repairs, alterations, and additions thereto, and after deducting the expenses of said repairs, alterations, and additions, and the cost of maintaining said part of said railroad, including all necessary and reasonable charges and expenses, to apply from time to time the proceeds of the same to the payment pro rata of the interest as it shall become due and payable on said bonds, and to the payment of the principal thereof, at maturity; and in case the said proceeds shall not be sufficient to pay the several instalments of interest on, and the principal of, said bonds as they shall severally become due and payable, and the said first party, its successors and assigns, shall fail or neglect to pay such deficiency, or any part thereof, at the time when and the place where the same shall become due and payable according to the tenor and effect thereof, and for thirty (30) days, thereafter, then and in that case each and every of said bonds shall thereupon, at the option of the respective holders thereof, become immediately due and payable; and the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, at their discretion may, and on the written request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds then unpaid, shall cause the said railroad premises and property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay and discharge the principal and interest of all of said bonds as may be then unpaid, together with the expenses of said sale, to be sold at public auction in the city of Chicago, in said State of Illinois, after giving thirty (30) days' notice of the time and place and terms of such sale by publishing the same in one of the principal newspapers for the time being in each of the cities of Boston and Chicago, and upon such sale to execute to the purchaser or purchasers thereof good and sufficient deed or deeds of conveyance in fee simple for the same, which shall be a bar against the said Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and all persons claiming under it or them, of all right, interest, or claim in or to the said premises or property, or any part thereof; and the said trustees shall, after deducting from the proceeds of such sale the cost and expense thereof, and of managing the said property, and enough to indemnify and save themselves harmless from all liabilities arising from this trust, apply so much of the proceeds of said property as may be necessary to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds remaining unpaid, whether the same be then due and payable or otherwise, and shall restore the residue thereof to said first party, its successors and assigns: it being expressly understood and agreed that in no case shall any claim be made or advantage taken of valuation, appraisement, redemption, or extension laws by said first party, its successors or assigns, or any injunction or stay of proceedings be had, or any process be obtained or applied for it by them, to prevent such entry, sale, and conveyance as aforesaid.

It is hereby mutually agreed that said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, may and are hereby authorized, in case they shall at any time deem it for the interests of the holders of said bonds hereby secured, to restore the possession of said railroad to said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, or to transfer the possession thereof, together with the equipments that may be placed thereon, and other property connected therewith, to any assignee or other parties authorized by said first party to receive and hold possession of the same at all times, retaining nevertheless the right and authority to again take possession and fully to repossess themselves of the same upon any default in the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds hereby secured, or any part thereof, as they shall severally become due and payable, or for any other violation on the part of said first party, their successors and assigns, of any of the covenants and agreements herein contained.

It is also mutually agreed and understood that the proceeds of said bonds of said first party shall be applied to the construction and completion of that part of said railroad lying between Mendota and Prophetstown, and not elsewhere nor for any other purposes whatsoever. It is further mutually agreed that at the maturity of said bonds, and at the maturity of any other bonds that may be issued under this mortgage, they and every of them may be paid and taken up by substitution, issue, and sale, and place thereof, of other bonds of said first party, of like character and bearing the same rate of interest; and all such issues and successive issues of bonds shall be countersigned by the said trustees named herein, their successors in said trust and assigns, and the aggregate amount at any one time outstanding shall not exceed the sum of nine hundred and sixty thousand (960,000) dollars. And the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, are hereby fully authorized and empowered, at the maturity of said bonds and at the maturity of each successive issue of said bonds under this instrument, as herein contemplated, to make, execute, and deliver, or cause to be made, executed, and delivered, from time to time, in due form of law and under the seal and in the name of said first party or otherwise, as they shall deem best, new bonds of like character as those herein described, bearing the same rate of interest, and to countersign and make sale of the same in the market for the purpose of paying and taking up the aforesaid first-mentioned bonds, and each and every successive issue of bonds that may be made, issued, and substituted in place thereof; and all such bonds as may be thus substituted and issued, whether in one or successive issues, shall be deemed and taken to be secured by this indenture of trust, in the same manner and to the same extent as are the bonds of said first party herein first described, provided that no bonds shall be substituted or issued under the provisions of this instrument, maturing later than the first day of November, A. D. nineteen hundred and sixty-nine (1969).

It is hereby expressly understood and agreed that the Illinois Grand Trunk Railway, for itself, its successors and assigns, shall execute and deliver any further reasonable and necessary conveyance of said premises or any part thereof to said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, which counsel may advise for more fully conveying the said premises, and carrying into effect the objects and purposes of these presents and causing them to embrace the property and effects so conveyed or intended to be conveyed.

It is further mutually agreed that upon the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, the estate hereby granted to said second parties shall be void, and the right to the premises and property hereby conveyed shall revert to and revest in said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, without any acknowledgment of satisfaction, reconveyance, re-entry, or other act, and that the said second parties, their successors in said trust and assigns, having used reasonable care, shall not be liable for the mismanagement or want of proper management of said railroad and property, or any part thereof, and shall only be accountable for reasonable diligence in the management of said trust, and shall not be responsible for any agent employed by them when such agent shall have been employed with reasonable precaution, and that the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for their services in the management of said trust, and that the said trustees shall not in any manner be liable or responsible for the acts of each other to which they do not severally assent. And it is hereby agreed that in case of the death or resignation or mental inability of any one of said trustees to act in the matter of said trust, all his right, estate, interest, and power and control in the premises shall be divested, cease, and determine, and the said party of the first part, or its successors and assigns, and the surviving trustee, may mutually agree upon a new trustee to supply such vacancy; or failing to agree, the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, may, or in case of its or their failure to take proceedings therefor for thirty (30) days, the holders of one-tenth of said bonds may apply to any court in the State of Illinois having jurisdiction of the premises to appoint a new trustee to fill such vacancy, and thereupon such new trustee shall become vested with all right, title, and interest requisite to enable him to execute with the other the purposes of this trust, without any further assurance or conveyance of the same. But if it should be deemed necessary, both or either of the parties hereto shall execute and deliver any and all such releases and conveyances for that purpose as counsel shall advise; it being expressly understood, however, that the surviving trustee, be fully competent to execute the purposes of this trust until such vacancy or vacancies shall be filled as herein provided.

And the said parties of the second part hereby accept the trust created by these presents.

In witness whereof, the said Illinois Grand Trunk Railway has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, attested by its secretary, and its corporate name to be hereunto subscribed by its president, and the said parties of the second part have signed and sealed the same, all on the day and year first above written.

AMERICAN CENTRAL RAILWAY

WESTERN AIR LINE RAILROAD COMPANY.

AMERICAN CENTRAL RAILWAY.

WESTERN AIR LINE RAILROAD COMPANY

This company was incorporated by Special Act of the Illinois Legislature in force February 9, 1853, with authority, to build a railroad from New Boston, easterly to Lacon. It was organized at Lacon March 2, 1853. It acquired right of way, and in 1857 began construction, but did not complete any part of its railroad.

By an amendment dated February 21, 1859, its name was changed to American Central Railway.

AMERICAN CENTRAL RAILWAY

This company was formed February 21, 1859, by change of name, and by an amendment March 13, 1869 was authorized to lease and sell its road and franchises.

The company was organized March 2, 1859 at Lacon. Of date June 25, 1859 the company made a Trust Deed to secure an issue of bonds to Isaac Seymour, Trustee, who died and of date January 14, 1865, John P. Yelverton was appointed his successor. Because of default in the payment of interest and in accordance with the provision of the Trust Deed, said Yelverton on May 10, 1865 sold the railroad to James S. Thompson and others, creditors, the deed being of the same date.

Of date July 1, 1865 said purchasers held a meeting at Galva, Illinois at which meeting, and as assignees and purchasers under the Original Charter of the company, they reorganized the company under its former name and charter and elected officers and directors.

Prior to October 1868 very little work was done towards the construction of the road, but of date October 12, 1868 a contract was made between the reorganized American Central Railway and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, acting by James F. Joy, President whereby the latter company agreed to provide the funds to construct and equip the road, and to take possession of the same when built, and operate it in perpetuity.

As part of the same arrangement the American Central Railway of date May 14, 1868 executed a mortgage on its road to James F. Joy and John N. Denison, as Trustees, to secure an issue of $1,250,000 bonds, and the lease contract of October 12, 1868 provided that the net proceeds from the operation of the road should be applied to meet the interest and retire the principal of said bonds. The road was completed and opened for traffic between Galva and New Boston (50.59 miles) in October 1869. No part of the grade east of Galva was used in the construction of the road. That portion between Galva and Wyoming was sold to the Peoria and Rock-Island Railroad Company in 1869, and the part east of Wyoming was abandoned.

By deed dated June 1, 1899 the road and franchises were conveyed in fee simple to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

LEASE, October 12, 1868, American Central Railway to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

Memorandum of Agreement, made and entered into this twelfth day of October, A. D. 1868, by and between the American Central Railway Company of the first part and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company of the second part, both corporations duly organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of Illinois enacted with reference to said corporations respectively.

Whereas, the said first party is duly authorized by its charter to locate, construct, and operate a railroad from the east bank of the Mississippi River at the town of New Boston, county of Mercer and State of Illinois, by the way of Galva to Lacon, and thence in the direction of Ft. Wayne, in the State of Indiana, to the east line of said State of Illinois, and is now presently engaged in the construction of that portion of its said railroad extending from its said western terminus to Galva in the county of Henry, and has already made considerable progress in the construction of the same, and expects soon to complete the construction thereof, so far as the grading and bridging and making the road-bed is concerned, and placing thereon the entire superstructure of said track, and at an early day to have the same in readiness to receive the rolling stock necessary to maintain and operate the same.

And whereas, for the purpose of obtaining rights of way, and the means to thus complete its road-bed, track and superstructure, it has executed and is about to negotiate in the market its bonds to the amount of eight hundred thousand dollars, in sums of one thousand dollars each, dated on the first day of July, A. D. 1868, and payable at any time not less than ten nor more than twenty years from the date thereof in the city of New York, with interest at the rate of eight per cent, payable semi-annually, free from government tax, which bonds it has secured by the execution and delivery of its first mortgage or deed of trust to James F. Joy and John N. Denison as mortgagees or trustees therein, upon its said road from its aforesaid western terminus to Galva in said county of Henry, and including the depot and depot grounds at each of said points, which said mortgage or deed of trust bears date the fourteenth day of May, A. D. 1868. And in order that there may be no doubt or question as to the value of said first mortgage bonds, or as to the prompt and certain payment of the interest coupons and principal thereof as they shall severally mature, it, the said first party, is desirous of, and has applied to the said second party for, certain aid and assistance in the premises, hereinafter more particularly mentioned.

And whereas, said section of said road covered by said mortgage intersects the railroad of said second party at said town of Galva, thereby making a continuous line over the road of said first party from Chicago to the Mississippi River at New Boston, and from and to which said section of said road of said first party and the country adjacent a large amount of traffic and travel will pass over the road of the said second party, and large advantages are thereby expected to be derived by said second party from the completion of said section of said railroad, and such connection with its said road, it, the said second party, has therefore deemed it advisable and expedient to render the aid and assistance herein specified, as it may lawfully do.

And whereas, the said first party will have exhausted all of its means in procuring the right of way, grading, bridging, tying, and finally completing the track and superstructure of its said section of road, and is and will be wholly unable to maintain and operate the same, or to procure the rolling stock necessary to maintain and operate it as the business of the country and the public convenience requires, and has therefore for these reasons applied to the said second party to take a lease of said road, to maintain and operate the same, and to purchase and place thereon all the rolling stock that may be necessary to do the business of the country through which the said section of road of the said first party passes, and the said second party is willing to and has agreed to lease said road, and to equip, maintain, and operate the same.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, in consideration of the premises and of one dollar to it in hand paid at the execution of this instrument, and of the covenants and agreements hereinafter contained, to be kept and performed by the said second party, its successors and assigns, hath granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, all the following-described property of the American Central Railway, that is to say: all that part of its said road extending from its western terminus at New Boston on the Mississippi River, in the county of Mercer and State of Illinois, to Galva in the county of Henry in said State, made or to be made, including the right of way and the land occupied thereby, together with the superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, and all the rails and other materials used thereon, procured or to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depots, grounds, and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, also all cars, tools, materials, machinery, and all other property, real and personal, pertaining to said road or to the use thereof, now owned or which may hereafter be acquired by said first party, and used in and about the completion of said road-bed, track, and property, together with the rent or income to be had, levied, or derived therefrom, and all franchises, rights, and privileges of the said first party of, in, to, or concerning the same.

To have and to hold the above-described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises thereunto belonging, or in any wise appertaining, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof for and during and until the full completion and end of the period and term of nine hundred and ninety-nine years.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the leasing of the premises aforesaid, doth hereby covenant and agree with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to pay or cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on said demised premises or any part thereof during the existence of this lease, and to save the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, from all damage or expense by reason thereof.

And said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does also hereby covenant and agree with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to take the possession of said demised railroad premises and property, and as soon as the said road-bed, track, and superstructure shall be completed ready for use, to purchase and place thereon all such engines, tenders, cars, and rolling stock as may be required for the transaction of the business of said demised road, and at all times during the continuance of this agreement to keep said road equipped with such and such an amount of rolling stock as the business of the country through which said road runs may reasonably require, and also during the continuance of this agreement maintain said demised road and property, and keep the same in repair, and to run and operate the same in connection with its own road or otherwise in such manner as shall accommodate the travelling and business public, and that it will at all times save the said party of the first part harmless from all damage or liabilities that may be incurred or occasioned by the said party of the second part in the maintenance and operation of said section of said demised railroad and property.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does hereby further covenant and agree with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, for the purpose of assisting the said first party as before mentioned, and to enable it to negotiate and make sale of its said first mortgage bonds at fair rates, that it will appropriate and set apart as a fund to purchase the said bonds of said first party in the market so long as they can be purchased at or below par and accrued interest, all the net profits which may accrue or come to it by reason of the transportation over its own road of the business, both freight and passenger, which may come or be furnished to it from or by the said demised road of the said first party, and which may come upon said demised road at any and all points between the junction at Galva and at and including New Boston on the Mississippi River, and also all the net profit which it may receive from the transportation of freight and passengers from any and all points on its own road, which are destined to and shall pass to any point on the said demised road of the first party west of Galva; which said net profits, in order that the amount thereof may be made as uniform and certain as practicable for the purpose of this contract, shall be deemed and taken to be fifty per cent of the gross amount earned by the said second party, by the transportation over its own road of the said business, coming from or going unto the said demised road of the said first party. It being the intention of the parties to this instrument that the net profits so estimated and earned by the second party in the transportation of freight and passengers over its own road which may come from or pass to said demised road of the said first party, as aforesaid, shall constitute a fund for the purchase of said first mortgage bonds of the said first party so long as they can be purchased at or below par and accrued interest, the said second party thereby in effect receiving compensation for the transaction of such business beyond the expenses thereof, in the said mortgage bonds of the said first party at or below par and accrued interest.

It is mutually agreed by the parties hereto that the said party of the second part shall not be obliged or required to purchase said bonds or any of them beyond their par value and accrued interest; and if, in response to the notice to be published as hereinafter provided, the holders of said bonds shall not, within a reasonable time as herein stated, present them for sale at or below par and accrued interest, then the said second party shall not be required longer to retain or keep on hand the funds provided for the purpose, the understanding of the parties hereto being that when the bonds are worth more than par they are not to be purchased, and the funds so provided not being required for that purpose, the said party of the second part is at liberty to divide or appropriate the same like other earnings of said road; but it is expressly understood that when said bonds can be bought at par or for less than par value and accrued interest, then the funds to be provided for the year as hereinafter mentioned shall be appropriated and used for the purpose of purchasing the same and otherwise.

And the said second party hereby further agrees that on the first day of November in each year it will cause an account to be taken and stated of the amount of gross earnings which shall have accrued to it during the preceding year from the aforesaid business, and of the fifty per cent thereof which is to be appropriated to the purchase of the bonds of the said first party, and shall furnish to the party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and to the trustees of the bondholders under the said first mortgage of the said first party, each a copy of said accounts so to be stated, and that it will apply in the manner hereinafter set forth the several amounts so derived to the purchase of such of said bonds of the said first party as shall be offered at the lowest prices, not exceeding their par value and accrued interest, after the notice published as hereinafter provided.

And it is hereby mutually agreed that as soon as the said first party or the said trustees shall be informed of the amount of moneys applicable to the purchase of the said first mortgage bonds, and in the month of November in each year, they, the said trustees, shall advertise for proposals to sell said bonds for two weeks in a daily newspaper published in each of the cities of New York and Boston for the information of such of said first mortgage bondholders as may wish to sell any of said bonds under this agreement, and that if in response to said advertisement no bonds are offered at or below par value and accrued interest, then the obligation of said second party hereto to purchase bonds for that year, and until another advertisement for proposals under this agreement shall have been made, shall cease; but this shall in no way affect the obligations of the said second party to purchase said bonds with the amount which may accrue as aforesaid, and be applicable thereto, from the earnings of any year thereafter.

It is also mutually agreed that the said first party shall cause this agreement, or the material parts of it, to be printed upon or attached to each of the bonds so as aforesaid to be sold by it, and which may be purchased by the said second party in virtue of this agreement; and that when any of said bonds have been purchased by the said second party, its successors and assigns, all liability of the party of the second part in reference thereto shall cease, and this agreement, or the material parts thereof, printed upon or attached to the said bonds so purchased, shall be cancelled by said trustees.

It is further agreed that the amount of the proposals for the sale of said bonds under the advertisement to be made as aforesaid, as soon as known, shall be certified by said trustees under said first mortgage of said first party to the said party of the second part, who shall thereupon, within fifteen days, furnish to the said trustees the amount of money necessary to purchase the amount of bonds ascertained as aforesaid, which said bonds, when and as soon as the same may be purchased by the said trustees, are to be delivered by them to the said second party hereto, its successors and assigns.

It is further mutually agreed and understood that the said first mortgage bonds, after they shall have been duly executed by the said party of the first part, shall be placed in the hands of the said trustees to be by them certified as required by this instrument, and to be held by them until sales thereof shall be made, when the same shall be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, upon the receipt by said trustees of the purchase money, which purchase money shall be held by said trustees and paid over to said party of the first part from time to time, upon their being satisfied that the same is necessary to and will be applied to the construction and completion of said section of road of the said first party between Galva and New Boston as aforesaid, to the end that all the money received for said bonds shall in good faith be applied, as the bondholders expect, solely to the construction and completion of said section of road and superstructure, for which alone they were intended.

In witness whereof, the said parties hereto have caused their corporate seals to be hereto attached and their corporate names to be hereto subscribed by their respective presidents, the day and year first above written.

TRUST MORTGAGE, June 25, 1859. American Central Railway to Isaac Seymour, Trustee.

This Indenture made this twenty-fifth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, between the American Central Railway, a body corporate created by and under special act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois approved February ninth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three by the name of The Western Air Line Railroad Company, and its corporate name having been afterwards changed to that of the American Central Railway, by act of said General Assembly approved February twenty-first in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, party of the first part, and Isaac Seymour residing and doing business in the City and State of New York, party of the second part. Witnesseth.

Whereas, the said party of the first—is expressly authorized and empowered in and by its Charter and other special or general acts of said General Assembly, to borrow money for the objects and purposes therein specified; and for such authorized objects and purposes said party of the first part is desirous of borrowing a sum not exceeding two millions and seven hundred and ninety thousand dollars, and of securing the payment of its corporate bonds or obligations, issued or negotiated therefor, by a mortgage or deed of trust to said party of the second part, as trustee as hereinafter set forth and provided.

And Whereas, to that end under and pursuant to lawful authority conferred by said charter and special and general acts aforesaid, the Board of Directors, of said party of the first part have resolved in substance and legal effect, that said American Central Railway, make, execute issue and negotiate and deliver under its corporate seal, its corporate bonds, bearing even date herewith, severally payable to William M. Caldwell or bearer at the Bank of North America in the city of New York, on the first day of January in the year eighteen hundred and eighty, with interest from and after the first day of January in the year eighteen hundred and sixty, at the rate of eight per centum per annum, payable at the same bank, semi annually, as follows. That is to say, that Twenty-five hundred of said bonds be made and issued for One Thousand Dollars each, and that Five hundred and eighty of said bonds be made and issued for Five Hundred Dollars each, in all Three thousand and eighty bonds, in the aggregate amounting to Two Million and Seven Hundred and Ninety thousand Dollars, and no more and that for a more specific identification thereof, the said three thousand and eighty bonds be numbered in a consecutive series from number one to number three thousand and eighty, both inclusive, and that upon the face of each bond shall be printed or engraved a certificate, signed by the party of the second part hereto to the effect that such bond is one of the three thousand and eighty bonds, intended to be secured by these presents, attached to which bonds shall be coupons for payment of the interest thereon as aforesaid, signed by the Secretary of said Company, but the body or principal obligation of each of said bonds to be signed by the President of the said Company and by the Secretary attesting the same.

And Whereas, said Board of Directors have further resolved under and pursuant to lawful authority conferred upon said party of the first part by its Charter and special and general acts aforesaid in substance and legal effect, that the President of said party of the first part execute and acknowledge in its name and on its behalf and under its corporate seal, and deliver to said party of the second part hereto, a mortgage or deed of trust, conveying, assigning and transferring to him in trust, all its corporate real and personal property, franchises and effects, as security for the payment of said three thousand and eighty bonds and the interest to grow due thereon; and that such mortgage or deed of trust should contain all and singular the covenants, provisos and conditions hereinafter set forth, and that such mortgage or deed of trust, and the three thousand and eighty bonds thereby secured, be severally dated June twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and fifty-nine.

And Whereas, said three thousand and eighty bonds are to contain express agreements, stipulations or provisions in substance and legal effect as follows:

In case said party of the first part hereto shall for the space of thirty days, make default in the payment of the semi-annual interest due or to become due upon any or either of said three thousand and eighty bonds; or in case said party of the first part shall fail as hereinbefore provided and covenanted to create and maintain a sinking fund to be applied in payment of said three thousand and eighty bonds and the interest due and to grow due thereon as hereinafter mentioned or to comply with the provisions hereinafter contained in respect of such sinking fund or in case the said party of the first part shall issue and sell or use a greater number of said three thousand and eighty bonds than are hereinafter stipulated to be issued proportionally as the work on its railway progresses that then and in either of said cases the whole principal sum of each and all said three thousand and eighty bonds shall immediately become due and payable anything in said bonds to the contrary thereof notwithstanding.

Now therefore this Indenture Witnesseth, that the said American Central Railway, the party of the first part hereto under, pursuant to, and by virtue of the express powers and authority conferred upon and vested in it by its charter and said acts of the General Assembly aforesaid, and under and pursuant to resolutions passed and adopted by its Board of Directors, and which are duly entered upon the official minutes of the said Board, and for and in consideration of the foregoing premises and especially for the purpose and with the intent of the better and more effectually securing the payment of said three thousand and eighty bonds with the interest due and to grow due thereon, equally in proportion to their respective amounts without preference to the holders of any of the said bonds over others by reason of priority in the time of their issue, and for and in consideration of one dollar and other moneys, lawful money of the United States of America by said party of the second part hereto, in hand fully and truly paid to the said party of the first part hereto, before the ensealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, hath granted, bargained, sold, assigned, transferred and set over, enfeoffed, conveyed and confirmed, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, assign, transfer and set over, enfeoff, convey and confirm, to the said Isaac Seymour, the said party of the second part, as Trustee, and in trust and to his successor or successors, all and singular the railway of the said party of the first part hereto, constructed or hereafter to be constructed from the town of New Boston, in Mercer County, Illinois to the eastern boundary of the State of Illinois in Kankakee County, together with all its lands, tenements, and hereditaments, acquired and appropriated, or which shall hereafter be acquired and appropriated, for the purpose of a right of way for a single or double track railway as aforesaid, and all the appurtenances thereunto belonging; and also all its lands acquired and appropriated, or which shall hereafter be acquired and appropriated for depots, engine houses, car houses, station houses, warehouses, machine shops, work shops, superstructures, erections and fixtures; and also all and singular, the franchises, rights and privileges now owned, possessed or acquired, or which shall hereafter be owned, possessed or acquired, by said party of the first part; and also all the rails, bridges, ways, piers, depots, engine houses, car houses, station houses, warehouses, machine shops, work shops, erections, superstructures, fixtures, privileges, franchises and rights of said party of the first part, and all the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate acquired and appropriated wheresoever and whatsoever, now owned by said party of the first part, or which shall hereafter be owned by it, and also all and singular the locomotives, tenders, passenger cars, freight cars, and all other cars; carriages, tools, machinery and equipment for said railway now owned or which shall hereafter be owned or acquired by said party of the first part; and also all goods and chattels, now owned, or which shall hereafter be owned by said party of the first part, and in any way relating or appertaining or belonging to or connected with the said railway or the running or operating the same, together with all the rents, issues, income, profits, moneys, rights, benefits, and advantages derived or to be derived had or received therefrom by said party of the first part in any way whatsoever:—

—To have and to Hold all and singular the premises, rights, franchises, property, real and personal, hereinbefore and hereby assigned, mortgaged, pledged and conveyed or intended so to be, and every part and parcel thereof with all the appurtenances unto the same belonging or in anywise appertaining, unto the said Isaac Seymour, the said party of the second part, hereto, and his successor or successors, and his or their assigns, In Trust for the person or persons, firm or firms, bodies politic or corporate, who have heretofore or who shall hereafter at any time become the purchasers, or holders or owners of any or either of said three thousand and eighty bonds, amounting in the aggregate to two millions and seven hundred and ninety thousand dollars, and no more, without preference of any of such bonds over any of the others, by reason of priority in the time of their issue, subject to the terms, provisions and stipulations in said three thousand and eighty bonds contained and subject also to the provisions of the several acts of the said general assembly of the State of Illinois, affecting or relating to or binding upon the said party of the first part and also subject to the possession and management of said railway and property by said party of the first part and its successors or assigns, so long as no default shall be made in the payment of either the interest or principal of said three thousand and eighty bonds, or any or either of them, and so long as the said party of the first part shall well and truly observe, keep and perform all and singular, the covenants, agreements, conditions and stipulations in said three thousand and eighty bonds, and in this indenture contained and set forth, and which are to be observed, kept and performed by and on the part of said party of the first part.

And the said American Central Railway, the party of the first part, hath covenanted and agreed, and by these presents doth for itself, its successors and assigns covenant and agree to and with the said party of the second part hereto and his successor or successors, in manner and form following, that is to say:

First. The said American Central Railway, the party of the first part, shall and will pay, or cause to be paid, all taxes, charges, rates, levies and assessments, imposed, assessed or levied or which may hereafter be imposed, assessed or levied upon the premises, franchises and property hereby mortgaged, conveyed or assigned, or intended so to be; and shall and will at its own proper cost, expense and charges, do or cause to be done all acts and things necessary or proper to be done or performed in order to preserve and keep valid and intact the lien or encumbrance upon all and singular the aforesaid premises, property, and franchises, hereby created or intended so to be; and further that the lien or encumbrance, created by the execution and delivery of this indenture, constitutes and is in fact, the first and only valid lien and encumbrance upon the premises, property and franchises therein described; and further that said party of the first part shall not and will not, at any time hereafter, or in any way or manner, interpose or avail itself of any extension laws, stop laws, valuation laws, appraisement laws, or any other laws of the State of Illinois now in force, or hereafter to be enacted and in force in said State, and which do or would alter, affect or impair, or which are or may be designed, intended or construed to alter, affect or change the rights and interests of said parties of the second part, as herein declared, or which shall in any way impede or obstruct the mode or manner of realizing, perfecting or enforcing the rights and interests of any of the holders or owners of said three thousand and eighty bonds, as herein provided, or which shall affect, change or alter the time, place, mode, means, or manner of perfecting, enjoying or enforcing any of such rights or interests as the same are herein declared.

Secondly. The said American Central Railway, the party of the first part, shall and will at any time or times hereafter, and from time to time, execute, acknowledge and deliver under its corporate seal, to the said party of the second part and his successor or successors, all such further and other assurances, deeds, mortgages, obligations, transfers, indentures and instruments in writing, and shall and will do and perform all such further or other acts or things, as shall or may be proper or necessary, or as their or his counsel, learned in the law, shall deem necessary, proper or expedient for the better or more effectually securing the payment of said three thousand and eighty bonds and the interest due and to grow due thereon, or for carrying into effect the true intent, design, objects, and purposes of these presents, or making, preserving, continuing and keeping valid and effectual the lien and encumbrance created or intended to be created by the execution, delivery and recording of this indenture, upon all the property, real and personal, rolling stock, equipments, franchises and effects, now owned, possessed or acquired or which shall hereafter be owned, possessed or acquired by said party of the first part.

Thirdly. That no greater amount of the three thousand and eighty bonds hereinbefore provided for, shall from time to time be issued or put into circulation than at the rate of Fifteen Thousand Dollars of such bonds at their par value for each mile of the railway of said Company, actually completed and put in operation, and to that end it is hereby expressly declared and agreed by and between the parties hereto, that no more than seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars in amount, at their par value of the bonds hereinbefore provided for shall have placed upon them the certificate of the party of the second part, as Trustee, identifying them as entitled to the security of this mortgage or deed of trust as herein above provided, until at least fifty miles of said railway of the party of the first part shall have been actually completed and put in operation, and after such full completion of such fifty miles of such road, no more than an additional seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars in amount at their par value of such bonds, shall have placed upon them such certificate until at least an additional fifty miles of such railway shall have been in like manner completed and put in operation, and so from time to time, and at all times thereafter, in like manner, the amount of such bonds which may have placed upon them such certificate or which may be in any wise made entitled to the benefit of the security of this mortgage or deed of trust, shall be so restricted as that the whole amount of such bonds bearing such certificate shall not exceed the rate of Fifty Thousand Dollars per mile for portions of road of fifty miles each, theretofore actually completed and put in operation with not more than seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars in amount of such bonds applicable to the construction of a further fifty miles of such railway then in process of construction, except that after one hundred and fifty miles of said railway shall have been fully completed and put in operation, the remaining five hundred and forty thousand dollars in amount of such bonds for the construction of the remaining portion of such railway may be certified by said trustee; provided further nevertheless, that after affixing such certificate of such trustee to bonds for seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars or any less amount applicable as aforesaid to the construction of a given fifty miles of such road, no further issue of such bonds shall be certified by such trustee until all those so previously certified by him shall have been fully and in good faith used and applied to the construction of such road.

Fourthly. And for the purpose of further and more effectually securing the payment of said three thousand and eighty bonds, together with the interest due or to grow due thereon, that said American Central Railway, the party of the first part hereto shall and will set apart and appropriate all of the net earnings and receipts arising from the use and operation of its said railway, remaining after the payment of the actual and necessary expense and incidental charges attending the management of the affairs of the Company, the working and operating of its said road and the keeping up and maintaining of its necessary and proper running connections, and after the necessary and proper expenditures for keeping the said railway in constant and safe working order, including any extraordinary outlay for repairs and refurnishing the road or the stock for working the same which may be occasioned by unforeseen accidents or casualties, and shall establish out of the said net earnings, so to be set apart and appropriated, a sinking fund, which sinking fund shall be constituted and faithfully expended as follows; first, that so much thereof as shall be necessary for that purpose shall be semi-annually applied to meet and pay the interest due or to become due on each and all of said three thousand and eighty bonds, or on as many thereof as may have been up to that time issued and sold by said party of the first part and yet outstanding, and—secondly, that the entire residue and remainder of said sinking fund shall be held and applied, as far as the same will go, to the redemption and cancellation of the principal of said bonds, or as many of the same as shall have been issued and are then outstanding; with this further express provision and understanding, however, that not more than the sum of One Hundred and thirty-nine thousand and five hundred dollars, that is to say, five per centum of two millions seven hundred and ninety thousand dollars, the original aggregate amount of said three thousand and eighty bonds, shall be applied and paid toward the extinguishing of the principal of said bonds outstanding, in any one year, prior to the year eighteen hundred and eighty; but if there be found on the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, or on the first day of January of any year thereafter, up to the first day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty, a sum remaining of said sinking fund, after paying all interest due on said bonds as aforesaid, exceeding one hundred and thirty-nine thousand and five hundred dollars, then such excess may at the discretion of the Board of Directors of said Company, be reserved and resumed from said sinking fund, to be returned into its general treasury and applied to the general uses and need of said American Central Railway, or to be declared and paid in dividend on the capital stock of said American Central Railway to the shareholders thereof, entitled to receive the same.

It is understood and agreed that the redemption of the said bonds or any of them before they become due shall be conducted as follows: The said party of the first part shall apply the whole of such sinking fund which up to the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-two shall become applicable to the redemption of the principal of such bonds to the purchase of such outstanding bonds to an extent sufficient to absorb such funds applicable thereto at such lowest rate, not exceeding par as shall be agreed upon with the holder or holders thereof, and shall immediately cancel and deface such bonds, so redeemed with such sinking fund in such manner as that the same cannot again be put in circulation; and in the month of January in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-two, the party of the first part shall deliver to the party of the second part, his successor or successors, an account in writing, verified by the oath of the President or Secretary of said Company showing the amount of the gross receipts of said railway, up to said first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, from the earnings thereof, the deductions therefrom for the purposes in that behalf above specified, and the net amount thus left applicable to such sinking fund, and the disposition which shall have been made of such net amount, and shall deliver to the party of the second part, his successor or successors, for his or their custody, the cancelled bonds, which shall have been so redeemed from said sinking fund up to the first day of January eighteen hundred and sixty-two; and thereafter in the month of January in each year, up to and including the month of January in the year eighteen hundred and eighty, the party of the first part shall deliver to the said party of the second part his successor or successors, a like account, verified in like manner, of the gross receipts of said railway for the year preceeding the first day of the said month of January, with the deductions therefrom and net amount applicable to such sinking fund, and disposition made of such net amount applicable to such sinking fund as aforesaid, and shall also deliver over in like manner to the said party of the second part, his successor or successors for custody, the cancelled bonds which shall have been redeemed from said sinking fund during such preceeding year. But in case during the period up to January first eighteen hundred and sixty-two or during any succeeding year up to the first day of January eighteen hundred and eighty, the said party of the first part shall be unable to purchase or procure, at a rate not exceeding par, a sufficient amount of such outstanding bonds to exhaust the amount of such sinking fund, or proportion thereof as aforesaid, from time to time applicable to the redemption of the principal of said bonds, the said account to be delivered to the party of the second part his successor or successors, in January, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and the said like accounts to be hereafter delivered in January of each year, shall exhibit the amount remaining unapplied from that cause, and thereupon it shall be the imperative duty of the party of the second part, his successor or successors, within thirty days after receipt of such account showing such unapplied amount of such sinking fund, in the City of New York to determine by lot, in a fair and impartial manner which of said bonds shall be subject to payment and redemption at par, out of said sinking fund or out of so much thereof as may be applicable thereto, in manner following, that is to say; the numbers upon all the then outstanding and unpaid bonds shall be placed in a box; each number on a single slip of paper, and so many and only so many of said slips of paper shall then be drawn from said box, by the party of the second part hereto, as shall be sufficient in the amount of the bonds represented by the numbers on such slips to exhaust the said unapplied amount of said sinking fund, and the holders of the bonds corresponding in the numbers thereon with the numbers on the slips so drawn, shall be compelled to receive payment of the principal thereof, and any interest which may then be due thereon, out of said sinking fund, at such bank in the City of New York, as the party of the first part may select for that purpose, and to surrender them, with the coupons thereon there-after to become due, to said party of the first part for cancellation, and when surrendered the same shall be immediately so cancelled in manner aforesaid, and the application of the funds thus used from time to time for the redemption of bonds, and the amounts and numbers of the bonds so redeemed and cancelled, shall be noted in the successive annual accounts to be delivered to said trustee; and all the said cancelled bonds shall be delivered to him for custody.

It is hereby declared that public notice shall annually be given by advertisement for thirty days in at least two newspapers in the City of New York of good circulation of the numbers of the bonds so drawn and made subject to redemption and payment out of said sinking fund, and of the bank at which they will be redeemed, and if not presented for redemption within six months from the publication of such notice they shall cease to draw interest after such six months.

Fifthly. The said American Central Railway, the party of the first part hereto, hath pledged, and hereby doth irrevocably pledge, for the purposes and objects hereinbefore specified, and in the manner aforesaid, to the said party of the second part, his successor or successors for the benefit of the holders of said bonds, the entire net earnings and receipts of its railway, subject only to the limitations aforesaid as to the amount to be applied in any one year to the redemption of bonds, before the year eighteen hundred and eighty, so long as and while any of said three thousand and eighty bonds shall be outstanding unredeemed and unpaid.

Sixthly. The said American Central Railway, the party of the first part hereto, shall and will, well and truly pay the said sums of money in said three thousand and eighty bonds mentioned, together with the semi annual interest due or to become due thereon, at the times, in the manner and at the place specified therein; and further, said American Central Railway hereby covenants and agrees, that in case it shall for the space of thirty days make default in the payment of the semi annual interest due or to become due upon any or either of said three thousand and eighty bonds, or in case it shall fail to create and maintain with and out of the net earnings and receipts of its railway as hereinbefore provided, a sinking fund, for and to be applied in payment or redemption of said three thousand and eighty bonds, in the manner hereinbefore specified, or to comply with the provisions herein contained in reference to such sinking fund, or in case it shall issue and use a number of said bonds to an amount exceeding the proportion hereinbefore limited and provided to be issued as the work progresses on its said railway, then and in either of said cases the whole principal sum mentioned in each and all of said three thousand and eighty bonds, shall forthwith become due and payable, and the lien or encumbrance hereby created for the security and payment thereof may be at once enforced, anything in said bonds, or in this indenture to the contrary thereof notwithstanding; and that it shall and may be lawful and the said party of the second part and his successor or successors is and are hereby expressly authorized and empowered, and upon the request in writing of any two or more holders of any of said three thousand and eighty bonds, directed and required to enter into and upon, and to take actual possession of, all and singular the railway, premises, franchises, rights, property real and personal, and effects hereby granted, conveyed, mortgaged, pledged, assigned, transferred and set over, for the payment of said three thousand and eighty bonds and by himself or themselves or his or their agents, to take, collect and receive the total earnings, income and profits thereof and of every part thereof, or to be derived therefrom; and that the said party of the second part, his successor or successors may, and upon the written request of a majority in amount of such bonds then outstanding, shall within such reasonable time as he or they may deem proper, being not less than sixty days, and after public notice being made by advertising of at least eight weeks in one or more newspapers published in each of the cities of Lacon and Chicago in the State of Illinois, and in the City of New York, proceed to sell at public auction in the City of New York to the highest bidder, as well all and singular the said railway, rights and franchises as all other the property real and personal, and premises hereby granted, conveyed, assigned, mortgaged, pledged, transferred and set over or intended so to be, and all benefits and equity of redemption whatsoever of the said American Central Railway, the said party of the first part hereto, of in and to the same and every part and parcel thereof, together with the benefits of the franchise belonging thereto or connected therewith; and as the attorney or attorneys of the said American Central Railway, for that purpose by these presents duly appointed and constituted, the said party of the second part and his successor or successors shall have full power and authority to make, execute and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, good, valid and sufficient deed or deeds, conveyance or conveyances, assignments or transfers in fee, simple or otherwise, of said railway, lands, tenements, and real estate and of all and singular the said personal or other property, rights and premises hereby granted, assigned, transferred or conveyed as aforesaid; which sale so to be made as aforesaid and which deeds, conveyances, assignments, and transfers so to be made and delivered as aforesaid shall operate to convey, assign and transfer to, and vest in said purchaser or purchasers, all the right, title, interest and estate whatsoever, reversionary or otherwise of the said American Central Railway, the party of the first part, of, in and to the premises so sold, conveyed, assigned or transferred, and which said sale so to be made shall be a complete and perpetual bar both at law and in equity, against said American Central Railway, the party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and all persons or parties claiming by, from or under it or them in any wise or manner whatsoever; and that out of the moneys or proceeds arising either from said tolls, earnings or receipts of said railway and premises or out of or from said sale, so to be made as aforesaid, after first deducting the expenses, disbursements, costs, charges and counsel fees incurred in and about the conducting of said sale, and the running and operating of said railway, the commission or compensation of said trustee, the said party of the second part and his successor or successors shall pay said three thousand and eighty bonds or so many thereof as shall then be outstanding and unpaid, together with all arrears of interest then due or owing upon the same, or in case of a deficiency in such proceeds to pay in full all such outstanding bonds, and interest, shall pay the same pro rata in proportion to the respective amounts owing thereon, without any preference of one over another by reason of priority of the time of issuing the same, rendering or paying over the surplus of all such moneys, if any there shall be, to the said party of the first part hereto, its successors or assigns.

This Indenture further witnesseth and these presents are upon the express condition, that upon the payment in full of said three thousand and eighty bonds and the interest due thereon, then these presents and the estate hereby granted shall cease and be void, and the said American Central Railway, the party of the first part shall be immediately and fully reinvested, with the said premises hereby granted in law and in fact without any entry or other act whatsoever; and that until default shall be made by said party of the first part hereto, either in the payment of the interest due or to grow due thereon, as aforesaid, or in the keeping and observing any of its covenants and agreements hereinbefore contained, the said American Central Railway, the party of the first part, and its successor and assigns, shall remain in the quiet and peaceable possession and enjoyment of the said premises and property hereby granted or conveyed or intended so to be as aforesaid.

And it is hereby mutually covenanted, granted and agreed, by and between the parties hereto, that in case of the death or mental incapacity of the said party of the second part or of his resignation of the said office of trustee, the said party of the first part, may by resolution of its Board of Directors, thereupon appoint a new trustee in his place; and so from time to time in case of the death, mental incapacity or resignation of the substituted trustee, his place may be filled in like manner; but in case of neglect by the party of the first part to appoint such new trustee at any time when a vacancy shall occur as aforesaid, or in case the trustee whom the said party of the first part shall so appoint shall not be satisfactory to the holders of a majority in amount of said bonds then outstanding, the holders of a majority in amount of said bonds then outstanding may by writing under their hands, appoint a new trustee to fill such vacancy, which appointment so made shall supersede that which may have been made by the party of the first part to fill the same.

And it is hereby declared, covenanted, granted and agreed that the new trustee to be appointed as aforesaid, shall immediately upon such appointment and without any further act, deed, conveyance or assurance, become vested with all the estate, trust, rights, powers and duties of the trustee in whose place he shall have been so appointed; but nevertheless the respective parties hereto, and their successors and assigns shall and will upon request, make, execute, and deliver, all such releases, conveyances and assurances, as shall be appropriate to vest in and confirm and assure to such new trustee, such estate, trust, rights, powers and duties according to the intent above expressed.

And it is hereby declared and agreed that in case the party of the second part or his successors in said trust, shall, upon default made, take possession of, or make sale of the said mortgaged premises, in pursuance of the provisions herein contained, he or they shall be entitled to receive and retain, from the rents, profits and proceeds of said premises, a reasonable compensation for his or their services in the care and management of said premises, and a reasonable commission or compensation for the sale thereof as aforesaid.

In Witness whereof, the said American Central Railway, the party of the first part hereto hath caused these presents to be subscribed by its President and attested by its Secretary and hath by express authority of a resolution of its Board of Directors caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed; and the said party of the second part, for the purpose of signifying his acceptance of the trusts herein and hereby created has hereunto subscribed his name and affixed his seal, all done the day and year first above written.

DECREE, November 8, 1905, Circuit Court, Hendy County, Illinois. Henry Parkman, George H. Richards and A. G. Stanwood, Trustees vs American Central Railway, and heirs of James F. Joy and John N. Denison, deceased.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, }
COUNTY OF HENRY. } SS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT THEREOF,—TERM, A. D. 1905.

Henry Parkman, George H. Richards, and A. G. Stanwood, Trustees vs American Central Railway and the unknown heirs and devisees of James F. Joy and John N. Denison, deceased.

Decree.

This day came the complainants by C. K. Ladd, their solicitor, and it appearing that at the time of the filing of the bill of complaint herein an affidavit was also filed in due form that there were persons interested in the subject matter and premises in said bill of complaint mentioned, whose names and places of residence were unknown, and who are designated in this suit as the unknown heirs and devisees of James F. Joy and John N. Denison, deceased, and it further appearing that pursuant to the filing of said affidavit the Clerk of this Court has caused publication to be made in the Kewanee Daily Star Courier, a newspaper in this County, containing a notice of the pendency of this suit, the names of the parties thereto, title of the Court and the time and place of the return of summons in the case, which publication was made once in each week for four successive weeks, to wit:—on September 22d and 29th and October sixth and thirteenth, A. D. 1905, and that more than forty days has intervened between the first publication as aforesaid, and the first day of this (November, 1905) term of this Court, and that all things required by law to give the Court jurisdiction of said defendants has been done. And it further appearing that the defendant; the American Central Railway, has duly filed its appearance in the said cause, to wit: on the 8th day of November, 1905, waiving service of process and consenting to a decree in accordance with the prayer of said bill, and the Court having jurisdiction of all of the parties to said cause and subject matter thereof, it is ordered that the said defendants and each of them be, and they are hereby required to plead, answer or demur to the said Bill of complaint, and no plea, answer or demurrer or other matter of defense being interposed herein by said defendants, and they being now here three times solemnly called in open Court come not, nor does any person for them, but herein they make default, which is on motion ordered to be taken, and the same is hereby entered of record. And it is ordered that the said bill of complaint be and the same is hereby taken as confessed by and against the said defendants and all of them.

Now in consideration of the foregoing and of the proof taken in said cause, the Court finds that all the material allegations in said bill of complaint contained are true: that the equities of this cause are with the complainants.

It is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed that C. I. Sturgis, be and he is hereby appointed trustee in the place and stead of James F. Joy, deceased, and that T. S. Howland be and he is hereby appointed trustee in the place and stead of John N. Denison, deceased, to execute the trust described in said bill of complaint.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that the said C. I. Sturgis and T. S. Howland, now appearing and accepting said trust, that they and each of them are hereby vested with the legal title to said property and all the right, title, interest, estate and power requisite to enable them to carry out the purpose of the trust described in the said Bill of complaint, without any further assurance or conveyance to them of the same.

F. D. RAMSAY,
Judge.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, }

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT TO NOVEMBER TERM A. D. 1905.

Henry Parkman, George H. Richards and A. G. Stanwood vs American Central Railway et al.

To the Honorable Judge of said Court, in Chancery sitting:—

In pursuance of an order of this Court made in the above entitled cause, on the 8th day of November A. D. 1905, whereby it was referred to the Master in Chancery of this Court to take the proof of the respective parties, and report the same to the court. I, John Root, the said Master in Chancery do hereby respectfully report that having first given notice to Complainants Solicitor, Charles K. Ladd, Esq. of the time and place when and where said testimony would be taken (no counsel appearing for defendants) (defendant American Central Railway having entered their appearance in writing and consenting that a decree be entered according to the prayer of the bill in said cause), I caused to come before me all such witnesses as the respective parties desired, or made known to me. I did on the 20th day of December, A. D. 1905, proceed to take the proofs of the respective parties. And the several witnesses attending having been severally sworn and examined by me, I reduced their testimony to writing and have attached the same hereto and make the same a part of this report.

Charles K. Ladd, being first duly sworn on his oath deposes and says:

James F. Joy, one of the former Trustees, is now dead, he has been dead for some time. I don't know how long. I have made inquiry on behalf of Complainants as to whether he left any heirs or devisees, but have been unable to ascertain whether he did or not. I have also made inquiry orally and by letters addressed to parties that I thought ought to know. As to John N. Denison, I have ascertained that he is now dead, but I have been unable to learn whether he left any heirs or devisees and the Complainants do not know whether said Joy or the said Denison left heirs or devisees. American Central Railway is indebted on bonds issued several years ago, which bonds are now unpaid and Trustees should be appointed to take the place of said Joy and the said Denison, and act with Complainants.

These bonds were the only bonds issued, secured by said Trust deed and Complainants own a majority of said bonds.

Chas. K. Ladd.

From the evidence introduced herein and the Bill filed in this cause, and the appearance of defendant, American Central Railway Co. and consent expressed therein, I find

That defendant American Central Railway Co. has issued bonds for the construction of said Railway which bonds are still unpaid.

That to secure the payment of said bonds the property of said Railway Co. was conveyed in trust to one James F. Joy and one John N. Denison, and by the terms of said Trust deed that it was provided that "in case of death * * of any one of said Trustees * * said Railroad Company and the surviving trustee may mutually agree upon a new trustee to supply said vacancy, or failing so to do the said Railroad Company shall, or in case of their default to take proceedings therefor * * the holder of a majority of said bonds may apply to any Court of the State of Illinois having jurisdiction of the premises to appoint a new trustee to supply said vacancy." * *

That the said James F. Joy and the said John N. Denison are both dead and no successor or successors have been appointed to fill said vacancy.

That under the terms of said Trust deed this Court has power to appoint said successors in trust, and that such appointment should be made according to the prayer of said Bill.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN ROOT.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, }

I, P. B. Keeler, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Henry County, in the State aforesaid, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be a true, perfect and complete copy of the Decree of said Court in a certain cause lately pending in said Court, on the Chancery side thereof, wherein Henry Parkman and others were Complainants and American Central Railway and others were Defendants as appears from the Record and Files of said Court now remaining in my office.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of said Court at Cambridge this 27th day of February A. D. 1906.

THE DIXON AND QUINCY RAILROAD COMPANY

This Company was originally promoted in 1869 by citizens of Keithsburg for a North and South road in connection with The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis, then being built by Judge Green of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Of date March 4, 1869 they procured a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature authorizing them to build a road from Dixon south to Quincy.

The Company was organized at Keithsburg March 24 1869, and Township bonds were voted to aid in its construction amounting to $45,000.

Of date June 30, 1869, The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Company made a proposition to build the line which was accepted July 10, 1869, but nothing further was done thereunder.

Of date November 1, 1870, The Dixon and Quincy Company made a contract with James F. Joy, who was acting for the C. B. & Q., whereby Joy agreed to procure the immediate construction of the five and six tenths miles from Keithsburg north to Arpee on what was known as the American Central branch of the C. B. & Q.

The Company agreed to place a mortgage of $150,000, or $25,000 per mile, on the road and turn over to Joy the $45,000 of local aid bonds and all the outstanding Capital Stock, and Joy agreed that the C. B. & Q. would take a lease in perpetuity and operate the road, paying the interest on said first mortgage bonds and set aside forty per cent of the gross earnings for the purchase of said bonds if offered at less than par. The road was built under this arrangement and opened for business January 17, 1871.

The Lease to the C. B. & Q. was dated November 1, 1870. The bonds all remained in the Burlington treasury.

Of date June 1, 1899, The Dixon and Quincy Company made a deed in fee simple of its road to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Company.

CONTRACT—November 1, 1870, The Dixon and Quincy Railroad Company and James F. Joy.

This Agreement, made and entered into this first (1st) day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy (1870), by and between the Dixon and Quincy Railroad Company, a corporation organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and James F. Joy of Detroit, in the State of Michigan, party of the second part.

Whereas, the said first party is authorized by its charter and the laws aforesaid to construct, maintain, and operate a railroad from the city of Dixon on the Rock River in the county of Lee, by way of Keithsburg to Quincy on the Mississippi River, in said State of Illinois, and has already located that part of its railroad between the town of Keithsburg and a point on the American Central Railroad about three miles east of the town of New Boston, and is now proceeding with the construction of said part of said railroad.

And whereas, certain towns and municipalities along the line of said railroad, at Keithsburg and between Keithsburg and the aforesaid point on the American Central, to aid and secure the construction of the same between Keithsburg and the said point on the American Central Railroad, have subscribed to the capital stock of said company, and have issued their bonds in payment therefor, to the amount in the aggregate of forty-five thousand (45,000) dollars, which said bonds, however, cannot be delivered to or had by said first party until it shall have constructed and put in operation the said portion of said railroad between Keithsburg and the said point on the American Central Railroad, and which the said first party, now without credit, is unable of itself to accomplish.

And whereas, said first party, for the purpose of obtaining money necessary to proceed with the construction of said section of railroad between Keithsburg and the said point on the American Central Railroad, to procure and pay for the right of way, and also to pay the contractor, the said second party, who hereby agrees to obtain the iron, ties, and other material necessary for the construction of said section of railroad, and to construct and complete the same as hereinafter stated, has executed and is about to issue its bonds in the sum of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, of even date herewith, payable in the city of Boston, with semi-annual interest thereon at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, free of government tax, and payable in like manner in the city of Boston, which said bonds amount in the aggregate to one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) dollars, and have twenty (20) years to run to maturity, all of which said bonds are to be stamped as the law requires, and their payment has been secured by a deed of trust or mortgage duly executed by said first party to James F. Joy, of the city of Detroit and State of Michigan, trustee therein and party of the second part herein, on its aforesaid railroad, made and to be made, its right of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, buildings, and all other of its property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises of said first party belonging thereto and the revenues to be derived therefrom, which said trust mortgage bears even date herewith and has been duly recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs.

And whereas, the proceeds of said bonds and other means of said first party will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of said section of railroad between Keithsburg and said point on the American Central Railroad, and the said first party is, and when said railroad shall be completed as herein provided, will be, wholly unable to procure the equipment or any part thereof necessary for the maintenance and operation of said railroad, and in order that the same may be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and a fund be created for the annual purchase of said bonds at not above par and accrued interest so that a present sale can be made of the same in the market, it has become necessary for the said first party to make with the said second party the agreements and covenants hereinafter mentioned.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said second party hereby stipulates and agrees, for the considerations hereinafter mentioned, to obtain and pay for the right of way, so far as has not already been obtained, from Keithsburg to said point on the American Central Railroad, and to procure all the iron, ties, and other necessary materials, and to construct thereon and complete in a good, substantial manner a first-class railroad, with all necessary switches, turnouts, and station houses, from Keithsburg to said point on the American Central Railroad, and have the same completed and ready for use on or before the first day of January, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-one (1871); and in the construction of said section of railroad the said second party agrees to iron the same with iron weighing not less than fifty-four pounds to the yard, to be laid with fish joint, and be fully spiked, surfaced up, and made ready for use, with all needful ditchings and road crossings, all to be done under the plans, specifications, and directions to be made and given by the chief engineer who shall be placed by said first party in charge of the construction of said railroad.

And the said first party, in consideration of the construction and completion of said section of railroad between Keithsburg and the said point on the American Central Railroad, hereby agrees, immediately on the execution of this instrument and as a part of the consideration to the said second party for the construction of the aforesaid section of railroad, to assign, transfer, and deliver to said second party the aforesaid one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) dollars of first mortgage bonds of said first party as hereinbefore mentioned, to be received, owned, and negotiated, or otherwise appropriated, by said second party in such manner as to him shall seem best.

The said first party further agrees, in further payment to said second party for the construction of the aforesaid section of railroad, on the completion of the same, to deliver or cause to be delivered to him all the aforesaid township and municipal bonds voted to secure the construction of said section of railroad, amounting as hereinbefore stated in the aggregate to forty-five thousand ($45,000) dollars.

The said first party further agrees, in payment to said second party for the construction of the aforesaid section of railroad, upon the execution of this instrument, to assign or cause to be assigned, transferred, and delivered to him all the capital stock which has hitherto been issued, excepting that which has been issued to townships and municipalities in payment of the township and municipal bonds hereinbefore mentioned.

And also to assign and issue to said second party so much additional capital stock, to be delivered to said second party, [as shall] amount to twenty thousand dollars per mile on said section of railroad between Keithsburg and said point on the American Central Railroad, and to issue certificates therefor to said second party whenever he shall demand the same. And said first party further agrees to issue no certificates of stock to any other party or parties whomsoever without the written consent of said second party, until the option hereinafter reserved to said second party to construct other sections of said railroad shall have expired.

And the said first party, for the considerations hereinafter mentioned, hereby further agrees that upon the completion of said section of railroad between Keithsburg and said point on the American Central Railroad, the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns, shall thereupon have and continue to hold the sole and exclusive possession of said railroad of said first party, and may run, maintain, and operate said section of railroad, and receive the tolls, incomes, and profits thereof and to be derived therefrom, and to appropriate the same to his own use and as he shall be advised, upon compliance with the agreements and provisions hereinafter provided to be kept and performed on his part; and that the said second party shall also have the exclusive right, and it shall be optional with him during the continuance of this contract, to construct or not, as he shall think proper, the whole or any portion of said railroad lying north of said point on the American Central Railroad, or the or any portion of said railroad lying south of Keithsburg. But it is mutually understood, however, that the said second party is not required by the terms of this contract to construct any portion of said railroad other than that lying between Keithsburg and said point on the American Central Railroad.

And the said second party, in consideration of the right to possess, maintain, and operate said section of railroad between Keithsburg and said point on the American Central Railroad, and to receive the tolls, incomes, and profits therefrom as above provided, hereby agrees that he will, immediately upon the completion of said section of railroad from Keithsburg to the said points on the American Central Railroad either by himself or his duly authorized agents, take exclusive possession, control, and management thereof, and will, either himself or by his said agents, equip, maintain, and operate the said section of railroad, and receive the tolls and income thereof, and pay the semi-annually accruing interest on said first mortgage bonds of said first party, and procure the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company to set aside (40) per cent of the gross earnings on its road derived from the business to and from said section of railroad, for the annual purchase of said bonds at the lowest price at which proposals may be made, but not above par and accrued interest, and also agrees to pay all taxes that may be lawfully assessed on said section of railroad, and pay all damages that may be incurred or occasioned in the maintenance and operation thereof, and save said party of the first part harmless therefrom; or he will procure a contract to be entered into by and between the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company and the said first party, in virtue of which the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company shall, upon the completion of said section of railroad as herein provided, take absolute and exclusive control and management thereof, and shall purchase and place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as the business of the country through which said railroad runs may reasonably require, and shall keep said section of railroad equipped and in good repair, and maintain and operate the same as a part of its own road or otherwise, but in such manner as to furnish all reasonable facilities to the travelling and business public along the line of said section of railroad, and shall pay all taxes and assessments that may be levied or assessed upon said section of railroad or any part thereof during continuance of this contract, and to pay all damages that may be incurred or occasioned in the maintenance and operation of said section of railroad, and save said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, harmless therefrom; and in addition thereto the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, in consideration of the use of said section of railroad and of the income to be derived therefrom, shall pay to the holders of the said one hundred and fifty thousand dollars of first mortgage bonds of said first party the semi-annually accruing interest thereon as it shall become due and payable according to the terms thereof, and shall set aside forty (40) per cent of the gross earnings on its own road accruing from the business going to and coming from the aforesaid section of railroad of said first party, and pay over annually in the month of November in each year the amount thereof to the trustee named in the deed of trust securing said bonds, to be applied by him to the purchase of bonds on proposals to be invited by notice duly published annually, whenever the same can be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest. Provided, that if in answer to proposals for the purchase of bonds in any one year, none shall be offered for sale upon said terms, then the funds for the purchase of bonds for that year are to be returned to said Chicago, Burlington and

Quincy Railroad Company, its successors and assigns; but the fact that no bonds are offered for sale in any one year shall not relieve the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company from setting aside forty per cent of the gross earnings for the next or any ensuing year.

And it is hereby mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that the said second party, his heirs and assigns, in case he or they equip, maintain, and operate said section of railroad, and especially in case the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company shall take possession of the same and equip, maintain, and operate it, that company shall be and are hereby clothed with all the requisite authority, rights, privileges, and franchises of said first party in and to the same which may be necessary or convenient to the equipment, maintenance, and operation of said section of railroad, and the receipt of the tolls and incomes therefrom; and the said party of the second part and his assigns, and the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company in case it shall come into possession of the aforesaid section of railroad, may maintain and operate the same in the name of said first party or otherwise as they shall think proper, and may have, use, and employ the name of said first party and its rights, privileges, and franchises relating to said section of railroad whenever and in such manner as may be necessary or convenient in the transaction of the business connected therewith.

It is hereby further mutually agreed and understood that this contract shall continue and be in force for the period of ninety-nine (99) years from and after the date hereof. And that the same, and each and every of the provisions, stipulations, and agreements thereof, shall be binding upon the successors, heirs, and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In witness whereof, the said first party has caused its corporate name to be subscribed to this instrument by its president, and its corporate seal to be hereto affixed and attested by its secretary, and the said second party has hereunto set his hand and seal, the day and year first above written.

LEASE, November 1, 1870. The Dixon and Quincy Railroad Company and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture, made and entered into this first (1st) day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy (1870), by and between the Dixon and Quincy Railroad Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, both corporations duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, the said first party is authorized by the aforesaid laws to construct, maintain, and operate a railroad extending from the city of Dixon on the Rock River, in the county of Lee, by way of Keithsburg in Mercer County to the city of Quincy on the Mississippi River, in said State of Illinois, and has already located that part of its railroad between the town of Keithsburg and a point on the American Central Railroad about three miles east of the town of New Boston, and is now proceeding with the construction of said part of said railroad.

And whereas, for the purpose of obtaining money necessary to proceed with the construction of that section of its railroad between Keithsburg and the said point on the American Central Railroad, to procure and pay for the right of way, and to pay the contractor for labor and materials in the construction thereof and completing it ready for the equipment and use, the said party of the first part has executed its bonds in the sum of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, of even date herewith, amounting in the aggregate to one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) dollars, having twenty (20) years to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, free from government tax, with both principal and interest payable in the city of Boston, and has secured the payment of the same by a deed of trust or mortgage duly executed by it to James F. Joy, of the city of Detroit and State of Michigan, upon the aforesaid railroad of said first party, made and to be constructed, its right of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, buildings, and all other of its property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto and revenues to be derived therefrom, which said trust mortgage bears even date with said bonds and has been duly recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs.

And whereas, the proceeds of said bonds, and other means and resources of said company, will be sufficient only for the construction of the road-bed and superstructure, and in accomplishing so much the said first party will have exhausted its resources, and will be wholly unable to procure the equipment or any part thereof necessary for the maintenance and operation of said section of railroad between Keithsburg and said point on the American Central Railroad, and in order that the same may when completed be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and means be provided for the payment of the semi-annual interest accruing on said first mortgage bonds of said first party, and a fund be created for the annual purchase of said bonds at the lowest price at which proposals may be made, but not above par and accrued interest, it, the said first party, has made and executed a contract of even date herewith with James F. Joy, of the city of Detroit and State of Michigan, in virtue of which, and for the considerations therein expressed, the said Joy has agreed among other things, either by himself or his duly appointed agents, to take possession of said railroad and to equip, maintain, and operate that portion thereof between Keithsburg and the said point on the American Central Railroad, to pay the interest on the bonds above mentioned, or to procure the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company to enter into a contract with said first party, in virtue of which that company shall, on the completion of said section of railroad between Keithsburg and said point on the American Central Railroad, equip, maintain, and operate the same during the continuance of said contract with the said Joy, and pay the semi-annually accruing interest on said bonds, and also to set aside forty (40) per cent of the gross earnings on its own road accruing from the business going to and coming from the aforesaid section of road, to be applied to the purchase of said bonds annually at not above par and accrued interest, and also to pay all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied on said section of railroad, and all damages that may be occasioned in the maintenance and operation of the same.

And whereas, the said second party, at the solicitation of and in pursuance of an agreement with said Joy to that effect, has consented to make such contract, and undertake the equipment, maintenance, and operation of said section of railroad.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said party of the first part hereby agrees, in consideration of the covenants herein contained to be kept and performed by said second party that upon the completion of said section of railroad of said party extending from Keithsburg to said point on the American Central Railroad, by the said James F. Joy and his duly authorized agents, and the transfer and possession thereof to said second party in accordance with the agreement between said Joy and said second party above mentioned, it, the said party of the second part, shall have and continue to hold the exclusive possession, control, and management of said section of railroad, and shall have and receive to its own use the earnings and revenues which may accrue or be derived from the aforesaid section of railroad; and in order that the said second party may have every facility for the equipment, maintenance, and operation of said section of railroad, in such manner as the business public may require, it, the said first party, hereby assigns and transfers all its rights, privileges, and franchises in and belonging to the said section of railroad, and requisite to its use and maintenance, to said second party, and hereby clothes this said second party with all needful authority, in the name of said first party or otherwise as it shall deem best, to exclusively possess said section of railroad, and to equip, maintain, and operate the same during the continuance of this contract, and as fully to all intents as the said first party could or might do were it to remain in the possession thereof.

And the said second party, in consideration of the premises and the gains and profits to be derived from the aforesaid section of railroad, hereby covenants and agrees to take possession of the aforesaid section of railroad, property, and appurtenances thereto belonging, and as soon as the same shall be completed and ready for use to procure and place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be reasonably required in the transaction of the business thereof, and will at all times keep the same equipped and in good repair, and during the continuance of this contract will run, maintain, and operate the same as a part of its own road and in connection therewith, in such a manner as will furnish reasonable accommodations to the travelling and business public, and that it will pay or cause to be paid all taxes or assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on said section of railroad or any part thereof, and will pay and discharge all damages and liabilities that may be caused or occasioned by said second party in the maintenance and operation thereof, and save said first party and its successors harmless therefrom.

And the said second party, for the aforesaid considerations, further agrees that it will pay or cause to be paid the semi-annually accruing interest on the aforesaid one hundred and fifty thousand dollars of first mortgage bonds of said party hereinbefore mentioned, when and where the same shall become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and that it will set aside forty (40) per cent of the gross earnings accruing from the business, both freight and passenger, over its own road or any part thereof, coming from and going to the aforesaid section of railroad between Keithsburg and the said point on the American Central Railroad, as a fund to be annually appropriated each year to the purchase of the aforesaid bonds of said first party so long as they can be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, and that it will cause to be kept a separate account of all such earnings, and on the first day of November in each year will pay over the amount thereof to the trustee named in the aforesaid trust mortgage securing said bonds, or his successors, to be applied by him or them to the purchase of said bonds at the lowest price at which proposals may be made for them, but not above par and accrued interest, in the manner hereinafter provided.

And it is mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that the said trustee named in the said trust mortgage shall in the month of November in each year advertise for proposals for ten (10) successive days in a daily newspaper for the time being in the city of Boston, stating therein the time and place when and where and the terms upon which the said bonds will be purchased, for the information of such of the holders of said bonds as may wish to sell any of the same on the terms contained in this agreement. If in response to said advertisement none of such bonds are offered for sale on the terms aforesaid, then the obligation to purchase bonds for that year and until the time for another advertisement shall cease, and the moneys thus applicable to the purchase of bonds for that year shall be returned to said second party or its successors; but the fact that no bonds are offered for sale on the terms herein provided for that year or any one year shall not in any manner affect the liability and obligation of said second party to purchase said bonds on the terms and in the manner herein provided with the amount which may accumulate from the forty per cent of the gross earnings for the next or any year thereafter, and which by the terms of this agreement shall be applicable to the purchase of said bonds: it being the intention of this agreement not to purchase said bonds at more than par and accrued interest, and when they cannot be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, the funds provided therefor, not being required for that purpose, shall be returned to and may be divided and used by said second party like other earnings of its road, year by year.

It is also mutually agreed that an abstract of this agreement relating to the payment of interest and to the purchase of said bonds shall be printed and attached to each of them, and that the provisions of this contract shall only extend to the one hundred and fifty thousand dollars of bonds hereinbefore mentioned, and to those of them only which shall have printed and attached thereto the abstract above mentioned.

And that it shall be the duty of said trustee, upon the purchase of said bonds or any of them as herein mentioned, to deliver the same to said second party, to be held, used, and employed by it and its successors as its own property and in such manner as it shall deem advisable.

It is further mutually agreed that this contract shall take effect and be in force for the period of ninety-nine (99) years from and after the date thereof; and that each and every of the stipulations and provisions of this contract shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused their respective corporate names to be hereto subscribed by their respective presidents, and their respective corporate seals to be hereto affixed and attested by their respective secretaries, on the day and year first above written.

And the said Trustee shall, after deducting from the proceeds of said sale the cost and expense thereof, and of managing the said property, and enough to indemnify and save himself harmless from all liabilities arising from this trust, apply so much of the proceeds of said property as may be necessary to the payment of the principal of said Bonds remaining unpaid, whether the same be then due and payable or otherwise, and shall restore the residue thereof to said first party, its successors and assigns. It being expressly understood and agreed that in no case shall any claim be made or advantage taken of valuation, appraisement, redemption or extension laws by said first party, its successors or assigns, or any injunction or stay of proceedings be had, or any process be obtained or applied for by it or them, to prevent such entry, sale and conveyance as aforesaid.

It is also mutually agreed and understood that the proceeds of said Bonds of said first party shall be applied to the construction and completion of that part of said railroad lying between the American Central Railroad and Keithsburg aforesaid, and not elsewhere, nor for any other purpose whatsoever.

It is further mutually agreed that at the maturity of said Bonds, and at the maturity of any other Bonds that may be issued under this mortgage, they and every of them may be paid and taken up by substitution, issue and sale in place thereof of other Bonds of said first party of like character and bearing the same rate of interest, and all such issues and successive issues of Bonds shall be countersigned by the said Trustee named herein, his successors in said trust or assigns, but the aggregate amount at any one time outstanding shall not exceed the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand (150,000) Dollars. And the said party of the second part, his successors in said trust and assigns, is hereby fully authorized and empowered, at the maturity of said Bonds, and at the maturity of each successive issue of said Bonds under this instrument as herein contemplated, to make, execute and deliver, or cause to be made, executed and delivered, from time to time, in due form of law, and under the seal and in the name of said first party, or otherwise, as they shall deem best, new Bonds of like character as those herein described, bearing the same rate of interest, and to countersign and make sale of the same in the market for the purpose of paying and taking up the aforesaid first mentioned Bonds, and each and every successive issue of Bonds that may be made, issued and substituted in place thereof, and all such Bonds as may be thus substituted and issued, whether in one or successive issues, shall be deemed and taken to be secured by this Indenture of Trust in the same manner and to the same extent as are the Bonds of said first party herein first described: Provided, that no Bonds shall be substituted or issued under the provisions of this instrument maturing later than the first day of November, A. D. Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-nine (1969).

It is hereby expressly understood and agreed that the "Dixon and Quincy Railroad Company," for itself, its successors and assigns, shall execute and deliver any further reasonable and necessary conveyance of said premises, or any part thereof, to said party of the second part, his successors in said trust and assigns, which counsel may advise, for more fully conveying the said premises and carrying into effect the objects and purposes of these presents, and causing them to embrace the property and effects so conveyed or intended to be conveyed.

It is further mutually agreed, that upon the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds the estate hereby granted to said second party shall be void, and the right to the premises and property hereby conveyed shall revert to and revest in said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, without any acknowledgement of satisfaction, conveyance, re-entry or other act and that the said second party, his successors in said trust and assigns, having used reasonable care, shall not be liable for the mismanagement or want of proper management of said railroad and property, or any part thereof, and shall only be accountable for reasonable diligence in the management of said trust, and shall not be responsible for any agent employed by him when such agent shall have been employed with reasonable precaution; and that the said party of the second part, his successors in said trust and assigns, shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for his services in the management of said trust.

And it is hereby further understood and agreed, that in case of the death, or resignation, or mental inability of said trustee to act in the matter of said trust, all his right, estate, interest, power and control in the premises shall be divested, cease and determine, and the said party of the first part, or its successors and assigns, and a majority of the holders of said Bonds may mutually agree upon a new Trustee or Trustees to supply such vacancy, or, failing so to agree, the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns may, or, in case of its or their failure to take proceedings therefore for thirty (30) days, the holders of a majority of said Bonds may apply to any Court in the State of Illinois having jurisdiction of the premises, to appoint some proper person or persons to act as Trustee or Trustees herein; and such new Trustee or Trustees, when appointed, shall become vested, for the purposes aforesaid, with all the right, interest and power requisite to enable him or them to execute the purposes of this trust, without any further or other authority, release or conveyance of the same. But, should it be desirable or necessary, the said parties hereto shall each execute and deliver such release and conveyance as counsel, learned in the law, may advise.

And the said "Dixon and Quincy Railroad Company" further covenants and agrees that all the moneys realized from the sale of said One Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($150,000) Dollars of Bonds herein first mentioned, which are secured by this Deed of Trust, shall be faithfully applied to the construction and completion of said section of railroad and its appurtenances, between Keithsburg and said point on the said American Central Railroad, and not elsewhere, and for no other purpose whatsoever.

And the said party of the second part hereby accepts the trust created by these presents.

In witness whereof, The said "Dixon and Quincy Railroad Company" has caused its Corporate Seal to be hereto affixed, attested by its Secretary, and its corporate name to be hereunto subscribed by its President; and the said party of the second part has signed and sealed the same, all on the day and year first above written.

DIXON, PEORIA AND HANNIBAL RAILROAD COMPANY

All of the original records of this Company were destroyed in the Chicago fire in 1871, but it was probably a C. B. & Q. branch proposition from the start.

Of date March 5, 1867, the Illinois Legislature passed a Special Act authorizing the construction of the road from Dixon to Quincy.

Apparently all the legal relations between the Company and the C. B. & Q. are expressed in the Lease of July 1, 1867.

Local aid township bonds had been voted to the amount of $310,000, all of which were placed in the C. B. & Q. Treasury as likewise first mortgage railroad bonds of $800,000 which latter were sold to the public.

As part of the rental under the Lease the C. B. & Q. agreed to devote all the net earnings on the branch (fifty per cent of the gross) to pay the interest on the bonds and provide a Sinking Fund to purchase the bonds if offered at less than par. The C. B. & Q. always paid the interest and took up the principal of all the bonds when they came due July 1, 1889, relying upon its Lease and ownership of all the Stock.

Of date June 1, 1899, the road was deeded to the C. B. & Q. in fee simple.

Said directors shall, as soon after the passage of this act as convenient, open books for the purpose of receiving subscriptions to the capital stock of said company, at such places along the line of said road, and elsewhere as said directors shall determine, under the direction of such agents as said directors shall appoint, and said books shall be kept open from time to time until the amount of said capital stock shall be subscribed, or until said directors shall determine to close the same.

§ 5. All and singular the powers, rights, privileges, provisions, rules and regulations conferred, expressed and contained in sections five (5), six (6), seven (7), eight (8), nine (9), ten (10), eleven (11), twelve (12), thirteen (13), and fourteen (14), of an act entitled "An Act to incorporate the Mississippi Railroad Company," approved February 15th, 1865, shall be and are hereby conferred upon, and made applicable to the company hereby created, in as full and complete a manner as if said sections were inserted at length in this act: Provided, that the words "either in this State or the State of Wisconsin," which occur in two places in the said tenth section of said act, shall not be deemed or taken as any part of this act, and said tenth section shall, for the purposes of this act, be read and construed the same as if said words were erased therefrom.

§ 6. The several counties in which any part of said road may hereafter be located, and the several townships in said counties which have adopted or may hereafter adopt township organization, and the cities and incorporated towns in said counties, are hereby authorized to subscribe and take stock in said Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company. Elections may be held in any such county, township, city or incorporated town, upon the question whether such county, township, city or town shall subscribe for any specified amount of the stock of said company, not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars for each county, and not exceeding thirty-five thousand dollars for each of such townships, cities or towns; and elections may be held in any such county, township, city or town, as often as a petition shall be presented as hereinafter specified, until such county, township, city or town shall have subscribed for the full amount of stock authorized by this act. Whenever a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors, signed by fifty legal voters of any such county, setting forth the amount of stock proposed to be taken by any such county, and specifying the time for holding such an election, it shall be the duty of the county clerk of such county to give twenty days' notice for the time of holding such election, which shall be the same time as that specified in such petition, and whenever a petition shall be presented to the supervisors of any such township, or to the corporate authorities of any such city or town, signed by twenty-five legal voters of any such township, city or town, setting forth the amount of stock proposed to be taken by any such township, city or town, and specifying the time for holding such an election, it shall be the duty of the clerk of every such township, city or town, to give twenty days' notice of the time of holding such an election in such township, city or town, which shall be the same as that specified in such petition, which said notice or notices shall be given in the same manner, and such election or elections shall be conducted in the same mode and at the places provided for holding general elections in such counties, townships, cities and towns; at which election or elections the qualified voters of the respective counties, townships, cities and towns shall vote "For subscription"; or "Against subscription"; and if a majority of the votes actually cast at any such election shall be "For subscription," it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of every such county, the supervisor and clerk of any such township, and the corporate authorities of such city or town, to subscribe without unnecessary delay, upon request of said company, for stock in said company, to the amount mentioned in such petition, and to issue and deliver to said company the same amount as the stock so subscribed of the bonds of such county, township, city or town, as the case may be, payable at any time specified, not exceeding twenty years from their date, with interest at a rate not exceeding ten per cent. per annum, payable annually, which said bonds and the interest accruing thereon shall be made payable at such place, within the United States, as said company may request.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the respective authorities of the several counties, townships, cities and towns, which may vote such subscription, and they are hereby required to levy and collect a sufficient special tax on all the taxable property, both real and personal, in such counties, townships, cities and towns, not exceeding three dollars on every one hundred dollars' worth of taxable property, to pay the interest annually accruing on such bonds, and to liquidate the principal of said bonds, within the time specified in the same for their payment. Said tax shall be levied on the assessments made by the assessors of their respective counties, townships, cities and towns, as provided by the revenue laws of this State for assessing property, and shall be extended on the collector's books of such county, township, city or town, as a special road tax, and collected by the respective collectors of such counties, townships, cities and towns, at the same time and in the same manner, as provided by law for collecting State and county tax, which said tax shall be paid by the respective collectors to the county treasurer of the county in which the tax is collected, deducting therefrom a commission of two per centum only for collecting. And the said county treasurers shall be respectively liable on their bonds for the faithful application of said tax to the payment of the interest and principal of the bonds for which said tax was levied and collected to pay, and shall receive therefor, in full compensation, a commission of two per centum only, for paying out said tax. The corporate authorities of the respective counties and townships, shall certify to the county clerk of the proper county, the rate per cent. to be levied for each year, for such special tax, and the said county clerks shall extend on the collectors's books for such county or townships, as a special railroad tax, at the rate so certified for each year in the same manner and on all the property on which State and county tax is extended, and the respective authorities of such cities and towns, shall levy and collect such special railroad tax, in the same manner as other tax is levied and collected in and for such towns: Provided, that in case the said authorities for any such county or township, shall fail to certify to such clerk the rate, per cent. to be levied for any year, before the time required by law for said clerk to extend State and county tax, then the said clerk shall extend such tax for such year, at the rate of one per centum.

§ 8. Said company shall have the right to acquire, by purchase or lease, the chartered rights, powers and privileges of any person or persons, corporation or corporations, to keep, operate and maintain any ferry or ferries across the Mississippi river, now operated and run, or hereafter to be operated and run in connection with said railroad, and to build and erect a bridge across said Mississippi river at such point as shall be deemed most eligible by said company for that purpose, and upon acquiring such rights, by purchase or lease, or upon the building and erection of such bridge, said railroad company shall have the right to keep and operate such ferry or ferries, and to use and maintain such bridge in connection with such railroad.

§ 9. In case said company shall, within ten years from the passage of this act, complete and put in operation any twenty-five miles or upwards of said railroad so authorized to be built, but shall for any cause, fail to complete the whole of said line within that time, such failure shall not operate as a forfeiture of the franchises of said company, so far as the same may affect or relate to such portion of said road as shall have been so completed and put in operation.

§ 10. There shall be an annual meeting of the stockholders of said company, for the election of directors, the time and place for holding which shall be fixed by the by-laws of said company, and at all meetings each stockholder shall be entitled to vote, in person or by proxy duly appointed, one vote for each share he, she or they may hold and own, bona fide, in said corporation. The immediate government and direction of the affairs of said corporation shall be vested in the board of directors, which shall consist of not less than seven nor more than thirteen members. After the election of said board, as aforesaid, such directors shall hold their offices for one year after their election, and until their successors shall be duly elected and qualified. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and shall elect one of their number to be the president of such corporation; they shall also elect a secretary and treasurer, and may choose such other officers or agents as they may think proper.

§ 11. This act shall be deemed a public act and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

LEASE, July 1, 1869 Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

Memorandum of Agreement made and entered into this first day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, by and between the Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company of the first part and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company of the second part, both said parties being corporations duly organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, the said Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company is authorized among other things by its charter to locate, construct, and operate a railroad from the city of Dixon, in the county of Lee and State of Illinois, to some point on the east bank of the Mississippi River near to or opposite the city of Hannibal in the State of Missouri, and is also by its said charter authorized and empowered to commence the construction of any portion of its said railroad at such place and places along the line of the routes to be selected by it as it may deem expedient and most advantageous, and is now presently engaged in the location and construction of that portion of its said railroad extending from Buda, a point on the line of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in the county of Bureau, to Elmwood, a point on the Peoria branch of the C., B. & Q. R. R. in the county of Peoria, and has already made considerable progress in the survey, location, and construction of the same, and expects soon to complete the construction of said part of said railroad, so far as the grading and bridging and making the road-bed is concerned, and placing thereon the track and entire superstructure, and at an early day to have the same in readiness to receive the rolling stock necessary to the maintenance and operation of the same.

And whereas, for the purpose of obtaining right of way and the means thus to complete the road-bed, track, and superstructure, it has executed and is about to negotiate in the market its bonds to the amount of eight hundred thousand dollars, in sums of one thousand dollars each, dated on the first day of July, A. D. 1869, and payable at any time not less than five nor more than twenty years from the date thereof, in the city of New York, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and free of government tax thereon, which bonds it has secured by the execution and delivery of its first mortgage or deed of trust to James F. Joy and John N. Denison, as mortgagees or trustees therein, upon the said portion of its railroad from Buda in the county of Bureau to Elmwood in the county of Peoria, and including the depots at each of said points, which said mortgage or deed of trust bears date the first day of July, A. D. 1869; and in order that there may be no doubt or question as to the value of said first mortgage bonds, or as to the prompt and certain payment of the interest coupons and principal thereof as they shall severally mature, it, the said Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company, party of the first part, is desirous of and has applied to the said second party for the aid and assistance in the premises hereinafter more particularly mentioned.

And whereas, said section of railroad covered by said mortgage intersects the railroad of the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company at Buda and at Elmwood as aforesaid, thereby making a direct and continuous connection over the road of the said second party with Chicago and Peoria, and from and to which said section of road of said first party a large amount of traffic and travel will pass over the road of the said second party, and large advantage is thereby expected to be derived by the said second party from the construction and completion of said section of road of the said Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company, the said second party has therefore deemed it advisable and expedient to render the aid and assistance herein specified, as it may lawfully do.

And whereas, the said Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company will have exhausted all its means in procuring the right of way, grading, bridging, tying, and finally completing the road-bed, track, and superstructure of its said portion of its railroad, and is and will be wholly unable to maintain and operate the same, or procure the rolling stock necessary to maintain and operate it as the business of the country and the public convenience will require, and has therefore for these reasons applied to the said second party to take a lease of said portion of said road, and to maintain and operate the same, and purchase and place thereon all the rolling stock that may be necessary to do the business of the country through which the said section of road of the said first party passes, and the said second party is willing to and has agreed to lease said portion of said railroad of said first party, and to equip and maintain and operate the same.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company, party of the first part, in consideration of the premises and of one dollar to it in hand paid at the execution of this instrument, and of the covenants and agreement hereinafter contained, to be kept and performed by the said the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, its successors and assigns, has granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, all the following-described property of the said Dixon, Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company, that is to say: all that portion of its said railroad extending from Buda, a point on the line of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in the county of Bureau and State of Illinois, to Elmwood, a point on the Peoria branch of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in the county of Peoria and State of Illinois, made or to be made, including the right of way and land occupied thereby, together with the superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, and all the rails and other materials used thereon, and procured or to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depot grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, also all the tools, fixtures, and machinery, and all other property, real and personal, pertaining to said road or the use thereof, now owned or which may hereafter be acquired by the said party of the first part, and used in and about the completion of said road-bed, track, and superstructure, and all the property rights, privileges, and franchises of the said party of the first part of, in, to, or concerning the same, together with the rents or incomes to be had, levied, or derived therefrom.

To Have and to Hold the above-described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises thereto belonging or in any wise appertaining, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the completion of said road ready for the rolling stock, for and during and until the full end and completion of the term and period of ninety-nine years.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the leasing of the premises aforesaid to it, doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to pay or cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed upon said demised premises or any part thereof during the existence of this lease, and to save the said party of the said part, its successors and assigns, from all damage or expense by reason thereof.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does also hereby covenant and agree with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to take the possession of said devised railway and property as soon as the road-bed, track, and superstructure shall be completed ready for the rolling stock, and to purchase and place thereon all such engines, tenders, cars and rolling stock as may be necessary for the transaction of the business of said demised road, and to build depots and stations at such points as the said party of the first part may locate them, and to keep and maintain the same at such points during the continuance of this lease, and at all times during the continuance of this lease to keep said road equipped with such and such an amount of rolling stock as the business of the country through which said road runs may reasonably require, and also to maintain said demised road and property, and to keep the same in repair, and to run and operate the same in connection with its own road or otherwise, in such manner as shall accommodate the traveling and business public, and that it will at all times save the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, harmless from all damage or liabilities that may be incurred or occasioned by the said party of the second part in the maintenance and operation of said demised premises and property.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does hereby further covenant and agree to and with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, for the purpose of aiding and assisting the said first party as hereinbefore mentioned, and to enable it to negotiate and make sale of the said first mortgage bonds at fair rates, that it will appropriate and set apart as a fund to pay the interest on said bonds as it shall become due, and to purchase the said first mortgage bonds of the said first party in the market, so long as they can be purchased at or below par and accrued interest, all the net profit which may accrue or come to it by reason of the transportation over its own road of all the business, both freight and passenger, which may come upon the said demised road at any point between the said village or town of Elmwood and the said village or town of Buda, and be furnished to it, the said second party, for transportation over its own road or any part thereof, and the net profits which it may receive from the transportation of freight and passengers from any and all points on its own road, consigned or destined to pass to any point on the said demised road, and also all the net profits arising from the transportation of freight or passengers on or over the said demised road of the said party of the first or any part thereof,—all which said net profits, in order that the amount thereof may be made as uniform and certain as practicable for the purposes of this contract, shall be deemed and taken to be fifty per cent of the gross amount earned by the said second party or its successors by the transportation of all business, both freight and passenger, over the said demised road or any part thereof, and also all business which may pass to and from said demised road over the whole or any part of the road of said second party, or over the whole or any part of the line of road now or which may hereafter be owned by it; it being the intention of the parties to this instrument that the net profits so as aforesaid earned and estimated by the said second party shall be constituted a fund for the payment of the accruing interest on and the purchase of said mortgage bonds of the said first party, so long as they can be purchased at or below par and accrued interest, the said second parties thereby in effect receiving compensation for the transaction of such business beyond the expenses thereof in the said first mortgage bonds of the said first party at or below par and accrued interest: but it is expressly understood and agreed that the said second party shall not be obliged nor required to purchase said first mortgage bonds of the said first party, or any of them, at a price above their par value and accrued interest.

It is hereby further agreed that the party of the second part shall keep distinct and separate accounts of all business of the said demised road, and also of all business which may pass to and from it over the whole or any part of the road of the said second party, or over the whole or any part of the line or road now or which may hereafter be owned by it, and shall on the first days of January and July of each year furnish to the trustees of the bondholders of said first mortgage bonds the said account, showing the gross earnings of said traffic and the amount applicable to the purchase of said first mortgage bonds, and thereupon the said trustees shall, in the said months of January and July, advertise for proposals to sell so many of said bonds as shall be equal to the sum thus applicable to the purchase thereof, in a daily newspaper published in each of the cities of New York and Boston, for the information of such of said first mortgage bondholders as may wish to sell their bonds at any sum not exceeding par and accrued interest thereon; and if at the date fixed for the opening of said proposals, offers sufficient to absorb a fund thus applicable to the purchase of said bonds or any part thereof, not above par and accrued interest, shall have been made, the party of the second part shall then upon notice furnish to the said trustees the money to purchase the said bonds thus offered for sale, and all bonds so purchased or that shall be purchased pursuant to any of the provisions of this agreement shall be forthwith delivered to the said party of the second part. But if at the opening of said proposals, offers sufficient to absorb the funds aforesaid shall not have been made to sell said bonds in manner aforesaid to the party of the second part, the balance of the fund thus applicable to said purchase shall be retained by the party of the second part and added to the next semi-annual sums applicable to the purchase of said bonds; and if at or after the expiration of five years from the date of said bonds, any sums thus retained, together with the semi-annual sums thus applicable to the purchase of said bonds, shall be sufficient to purchase all of the same then outstanding at the rate aforesaid, and proposals to sell the whole of the same to the said party of the second part shall not have been made as aforesaid, or shall not be made upon public notice twice a week for six weeks successively in the newspapers aforesaid, fixing a further period of sixty days for such proposals, said party of the second part is to apply to its own use any surplus, and its obligation to purchase said bonds shall cease.

It is also mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that the said party of the said first part shall cause this agreement, or the material parts thereof, to be printed upon each of the said first mortgage bonds so as aforesaid to be sold by it, and which may be purchased by the said second party in virtue of the provisions of this agreement, and that the said first mortgage bonds of the said first party, after they shall have been duly executed by the said party of the first part, shall be placed in the hands of the said trustees to be by them certified as required by this instrument, and be held by them until sales thereof shall be made, when the same shall be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers thereof upon the receipt by the said trustees of the purchase money therefor; which purchase money shall be held by said trustees and paid over to the said party of the first part or its duly authorized agent from time to time, upon their being satisfied that the same is necessary for and will be applied to the construction and completion of the said section of road of the said first party herein demised; to the end that all the money received for said bonds shall in good faith be applied as the bondholders expect, solely to the construction and completion of the roadbed, track, and superstructure covered by the said deed of trust, for which alone they were intended.

In witness whereof, the said parties hereto have caused their separate seals to be hereto attached by their respective secretaries, and attested by them, and their corporate names to be hereunto subscribed by their presidents respectively, the day and year first above mentioned.

Whereas, The railroad of the first party connects with the railroads of the second party, and forms therewith a continuous and connected line of railroad; and,

This Indenture made this first day of July in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Eight hundred and Sixty Nine between "The Dixon Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company" a corporation duly incorporated and organized by and under the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and James F. Joy of Detroit in the State of Michigan and John N. Denison of Boston in the State of Massachusetts, parties of the second part.

Whereas the said "Dixon Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company," in virtue of the power of its charter and amendments thereto, and of the laws of the State of Illinois is authorized to construct, maintain and operate a railroad from Dixon, in the County of Lee and State of Illinois to a point on the East side of the Mississippi River near to or opposite the City of Hannibal in the State of Missouri, and is now in pursuance of its said charter and amendments and laws aforesaid presently engaged in locating and constructing that part of its said Railroad lying between the Town or Village of Buda, a point on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, in the County of Bureau and State of Illinois, and the town or village of Elmwood, a point on the Peoria branch of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in the County of Peoria a distance of about 48 miles.

Now Therefore this Indenture Witnesseth that the said Dixon Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company, in order to secure the payment of its said bonds, and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of Five Dollars, to it in hand paid by the said parties of the second part at the ensembling and delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged has granted, bargained, sold, transferred and conveyed, and by these presents does grant, bargain, sell, transfer and convey unto the said parties of the second part, their successors in the trust hereby created, and assigned, all the following present and in future to be acquired property of the said "Dixon Peoria and Hannibal Railroad Company," and all the right, title and interest and equity of redemption therein, that is to say; All that part or portion of said Railroad of the said first party located, constructed or made or to be located, constructed or made, which lies between the Depot of the said party of the first part at the Village of Buda in the County of Bureau, and State of Illinois, and its said Depot at Elmwood in the said County of Peoria and State aforesaid including the depots of the said party of the first part at Buda and Elmwood aforesaid, and the right of way and land occupied thereby, together with the superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, and all the iron, rails, chairs, spikes, ties, timber, materials furnished and property purchased or to be purchased or furnished for the construction and equipment of the said portion of said railroad hereby conveyed where ever the same may be, and whether now upon said premises or elsewhere, all depots and station grounds and the buildings thereon, and to be erected thereon, and all the side tracks, bridges, viaducts, fences, Engines, tenders, cars and rolling stock of whatsoever nature, machinery, tools and fixtures, and all other real, personal and mixed property of the said party of the first part, now on said mortgaged premises or belonging thereto or purchased or procured for the construction thereof though elsewhere situated, and all the rights, privileges and franchises of said company now held or possessed by it or which may hereafter be acquired, and all the immunities and appurtenances of said company in and to said mortgaged premises or in any manner belonging thereto or connected therewith so far as by law said party of the first part is authorized to convey the same together with the net earnings, revenues and profits to be derived from the use and operation of the said portion of the said railroad hereby conveyed. THE CARTHAGE AND BURLINGTON RAILROAD COMPANY

This company was organized by citizens of Burlington, Iowa and Carthage, Illinois, who of date March 8, 1867, procured a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature under which they organized as a company at Carthage on the 28th of March, 1867.

Stock to the amount of 540 shares was subscribed at Burlington and along the line, but little progress was made until the spring of 1869, when a construction contract was made with Woods & Wright, and a Mortgage of date June 9, 1868, to John Fallon, Trustee, of Philadelphia, for $825,000, was authorized.

By May 1, 1869, all of these bonds had been turned over to James F. Joy, acting for the C. B. & Q., and this Fallon Mortgage was cancelled.

Of date October 8, 1868, an agreement was made with Woods & Wright, under which a new mortgage for $650,000 of date May 1, 1869, was executed to James F. Joy, Trustee, and $600,000 of bonds were issued and sold to the public with a C. B. & Q. guarantee, which Company ultimately paid them in full.

Of the same date another mortgage for $175,000 was executed to John N. Denison, Trustee, who was a C. B. & Q. official.

Woods & Wright turned over to the C. B. & Q. all the stock issued to them as contractors. At the same time, and as part of the same transaction, a ninety-nine year Lease of the road, dated May 1, 1869, was made to the C. B. & Q., the rental to be one half the net earnings (fifty per cent) to be applied to the purchase of the bonds issued under the Mortgage to Joy if offered at par.

Of date June 1, 1899, The Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company made a deed of all its property in fee simple to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

ACT OF LEGISLATURE

LEASE, May 1, 1869. The Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

Memorandum of Agreement made and entered into this first day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, by and between the Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company of the first part and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company of the second part, both the said parties being corporations duly organized under and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, the said Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company is authorized by its charter to locate, construct, and operate a railroad from Carthage in the county of Hancock and State of Illinois to East Burlington in the county of Henderson and State aforesaid, and is now presently engaged in the location and construction of its said railroad extending from Carthage aforesaid to East Burlington, a point on the line of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in the county of Henderson, and has already made considerable progress in the survey, location, and construction of the same, and expects soon to complete the construction of said railroad, so far as the grading, bridging, and making the road-bed is concerned, and placing thereon the track and entire superstructure, and at an early day to have the same in readiness to receive the rolling stock necessary to maintain and operate the same.

And whereas, for the purpose of obtaining rights of way and the means thus to complete the road-bed, track, and superstructure, it has executed and is about to negotiate in the market its bonds to the amount of six hundred and fifty thousand dollars (650,000), in sums of one thousand

(1,000) dollars each, dated on the first day of May, A. D. 1869, and payable at any time within ten years from the date thereof, at the National Bank of Commerce in the city of New York, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and free of government tax thereon, which bonds it has secured by the execution and delivery of its mortgage or deed of trust to James F. Joy, as mortgagee or trustee therein, upon its said railroad from Carthage to East Burlington aforesaid, which said mortgage or deed of trust bears date the first day of May, A. D. 1869; and in order that there may be no doubt or question as to the value of said bonds, or as to the prompt and certain payment of the interest coupons and principal thereof, as they shall severally mature, it, the said Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company, party of the first part, is desirous of and has applied to the said second party for the assistance in the premises hereinafter more particularly mentioned.

And whereas, said railroad covered by said mortgage intersects the railroad of the said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company at East Burlington aforesaid, thereby making a direct and continuous connection over the road of the said second party with Chicago and the West, and from and to which said railroad of said first party a large amount of traffic and travel will pass over the road of the said second party, and large advantage is thereby expected is to be derived by the said second party from the construction and completion of said railroad of the said Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company, the said second party has therefore deemed it advisable to render the aid herein specified as it may lawfully do.

And whereas, the said Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company will have exhausted all of its means in procuring the right of way, grading, bridging, tieing, and finally completing the road-bed, track, and superstructure of its said railroad, and is and will be wholly unable to maintain and operate the same, or to procure the rolling stock necessary to maintain and operate it, as the business of the country and the public convenience will require, and has for those reasons applied to the said second party to take a lease of said railroad and to maintain and operate the same, and purchase and place thereon all the rolling stock that may be necessary to do the business of the country through which the said railroad of the said first party passes, and the said second party is willing and has agreed to lease said railroad of said first party, and to equip, maintain, and operate the same.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company, party of the first part, in consideration of the premises and one dollar to it in hand paid at the execution of this instrument, and of the covenants and agreements hereinafter contained, to be kept and performed by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, its successors and assigns, have granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said second party, its successors and assigns, all the following described property of the said Carthage and Burlington Railroad Company, that is to say: all its said railroad extending from Carthage in the county of Hancock and State of Illinois to East Burlington on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in the county of Henderson and State aforesaid, made or to be made, including the right of way and land occupied thereby, together with the superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, and all the rails and other materials used thereon, and procured or to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depots, grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, also all the tools, fixtures, and machinery, and all other property, real and personal, pertaining to said road or to the use thereof, now owned or which may hereafter be acquired by said party of the first part, and used in and about the completion of said road-bed, track, and superstructure, and all the property, rights, privileges, and franchises of the said party of the first part of, in, to, or concerning the same, together with the rents or incomes to be had, levied, or derived therefrom.

To have and to hold the above-described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof for and during and until the full end and completion of the period and term of ninety-nine years.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the leasing of the premises aforesaid to it, doth hereby covenant and agree to and with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to pay or cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed upon said demised premises or any part thereof during the existence of this lease, and to save the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, from all damage and expense by reason thereof.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does also hereby covenant and agree with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to take the possession of said demised railroad, premises, and property as soon as the road-bed, track, and superstructure shall be completed, and to purchase and place thereon all such engines, tenders, cars, and rolling stock as may be necessary for the transaction of the business of said demised road, and at all times during the continuance of this lease to keep said road equipped with such and such an amount of rolling stock as the business of the country through which said road runs may reasonably require, and also to maintain said demised road and property, and properly keep the same in repair, and to run and operate the same in connection with its own road or otherwise, in such manner as shall accommodate the travelling and business public, and that it will at all times save the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, harmless from all damage or liabilities that may be incurred or occasioned by the said party of the second part in the maintenance and operation of said demised premises and property.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does hereby further covenant and agree to and with the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, for the purposes of aiding and assisting the said first party as hereinbefore mentioned, and to enable it to negotiate and make sale of its said mortgage bonds at fair rates, that it will appropriate and set apart as a fund to purchase the said bonds of the said first party in the market so long as they can be purchased at or below par and accrued interest, all the net profits which may accrue or come to it by reason of the transportation over its own road of all the business, both freight and passenger, which may come upon the said demised road, and be furnished to it, the second party, for transportation over its own road or any part thereof, and the net profits which it may receive from the transportation of freight and passengers from any and all points on its own road, consigned or destined to pass to any point on the said demised road, and also all the net profits arising from the transportation of freight and passengers on or over the said demised road of the said party of the first part, or any part thereof,—all of which said net profits, in order that the amount thereof may be made as uniform and certain as practicable for the purposes of this contract, shall be deemed and taken to be fifty per cent of the gross amount earned by the said second party or its successors, by the transportation of all business, both freight and passenger, over the said demised road or any part thereof, and also of all business which may pass to and from said demised road over the whole or any part of the road of the said second party, or over the whole or any part of the line of roads now or which may hereafter be owned by it; it being the intention of the parties to this instrument that the net profits so as aforesaid earned and estimated by the said second party shall constitute a fund for the purchase of said mortgage bonds of the said first party so long as they can be purchased at or below par and accrued interest, the said second party thereby in effect receiving compensation for the transaction of such business beyond the expense thereof in the said first mortgage bonds of the said first party at or below par and accrued interest: but it is expressly understood and agreed that the said second party shall not be obliged or required to purchase said first mortgage bonds of the said first party, or any of them, at a price above their par value and accrued interest.

It is hereby further agreed that the party of the second part shall keep distinct and separate accounts of all business of the said demised road, and also of all business which may pass to and from it over the whole or any part of the road of the said second party, or over the whole or any part of the line of roads now owned or which may hereafter be owned by it, and shall on the first days of May and November of each year furnish to the trustee of the bondholders of said bonds the account showing the gross earnings of said traffic, and the amount applicable to the purchase of said mortgage bonds; and thereupon the said trustee shall, in the said months of May and November, advertise for proposals to sell so many of said bonds as shall be equal to the sum thus applicable to the purchase thereof, in a daily newspaper published in each of the cities of Boston and New York, for the information of such of said first mortgage bondholders as may wish to sell their bonds at any sum not exceeding par and accrued interest thereon; and if at the date fixed for the opening of said proposals, offers sufficient to absorb the fund thus applicable to the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof at not above par and accrued interest shall have been made, the party of the second part shall then upon notice furnish to the said trustee the money to purchase the said bonds thus offered for sale; and all bonds so purchased, or that shall be purchased pursuant to any of the provisions of this agreement, shall be forthwith delivered to the said party of the second part. But if at the opening of said proposals, offers sufficient to absorb the said funds aforesaid shall not have been made to sell said bonds in manner aforesaid to the party of the second part, the balance of the fund thus applicable shall be retained by the party of the second part and added to the next semi-annual sum applicable to the purchase of said bonds; and if at or after the expiration of five years from the date of said bond, any sums thus retained, together with the semi-annual sums applicable to the purchase of said bonds, shall be sufficient to purchase all of the same then outstanding at the rate aforesaid, and proposals to sell the whole of the same to the said party of the second part shall not have been made as aforesaid, or shall not be made upon public notice twice a week for six successive weeks in the newspapers aforesaid, fixing a further period of sixty days for such proposals, said party of the second part is to retain to its own use any surplus, and its obligations to purchase said bonds shall cease.

It is also mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that the said party of the first part shall cause this agreement, or the material parts thereof, to be printed upon each of the said bonds so as aforesaid to be sold by it, and which may be purchased by the said second party in virtue of the provisions of this agreement, and that the said bonds of the said first party, after they shall have been duly executed by the said party of the first part, shall be placed in the hands of the said trustee, to be by him certified and be held by him until sales thereof shall be made, when the same shall be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers thereof upon the receipt by the said trustee of the purchase money therefor, which purchase money shall be paid over by said trustee to the party or parties entitled thereto upon his being satisfied that the same will be applied to the construction and completion of the said railroad of the said first party herein demised; to the end that the money received for said bonds shall in good faith be applied to the location, construction, and completion of the road-bed, track, and superstructure covered by the said deed of trust.

In witness whereof, the said parties hereto have caused their corporate seals to be hereto attached, and their corporate names to be hereunto subscribed by their presidents respectively, the day and year first above written.

This agreement, made and entered into this sixth day of April, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and eighty nine (1889), by and between the

Whereas, bonds of date May 1st, 1869, and having ten years to run to maturity, were duly and regularly issued and certified by the Trustee under said mortgage, to the amount of six hundred thousand (600,000) dollars in the aggregate, said bonds bearing interest from their date at the rate of eight (8) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually; and

Whereas, said bonds were sold on the market, and the said Henry Parkman and H. H. Hunnewell, as Trustees, under a certain mortgage or trust deed, executed to them of date July 1, 1873, by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, have become the purchasers and are now the holders of a majority of said bonds; and

Whereas, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company has become the purchaser and is now the holder of all the remainder of said bonds; all of which said bonds, together with the interest thereon up to this date, at the rate of eight (8) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, are now due and wholly unpaid; and

Whereas, the party of the first part has made application to the parties of the second part for an extension of the time of payment of the said bonds and interest:

Now therefore, it is agreed between the parties hereto, that the first party will pay the principal of all said bonds; aggregating $600,000. as aforesaid, on the first day of July, A. The first party further agrees to pay, on the said first day of July, 1903, all the interest now due upon said bonds and unpaid, together with interest upon said over due interest at the rate of six (6) per cent. per annum. In consideration whereof, the parties of the second part agree to extend the time of payment of the principal of said bonds and of the interest now due ceedings before said date to foreclose the mortgage securing said bonds thereon, until said July 1st, 1903, and to forbear to sue or institute pro-bly reason of or on account of any default thereon which has occurred previous to the date hereof.

It is further stipulated and agreed between the parties, that the said debt evidenced by said bonds and interest shall be and remain in all respects secured by said mortgage or trust deed, of date May 1st, 1869, to James F. Joy, Trustee, with full right and power in the second parties and in said trustee to enforce said mortgage and all their legal rights and remedies thereunder, in all respects the same as if this agreement for extension had not been made, except as herein modified as to time of payment. And it is expressly agreed and understood that nothing herein contained shall be held or construed to impair the right of any person or parties entitled thereto, to sue for and recover any installment or amount of interest hereafter falling due upon said bonds, or any one of them, as provided, or to foreclose said mortgage on account of such future default in the payment of interest; but all such rights and remedies of suit and of foreclosure, in default of payment of such interest, are preserved in full force, as set forth in the mortgage.

THE QUINCY AND WARSAW RAILROAD COMPANY

Citizens of Quincy, Illinois, procured a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature to build a road from Quincy to Warsaw, approved February 16, 1865.

They organized the company at Quincy in December, 1867, but little was done until 1869, when they secured an amendment approved March 2, 1869, authorizing a change of route, namely from Quincy via Mendon to Carthage.

They secured a large amount in local aid bonds ($270,000) and in August, 1869, made a construction contract with Woods & Wright who were to receive stock and bonds of the Company to the amount of $40,000 per mile and all the local aid, and of date July 1, 1870, procured a Mortgage of the road to John B. Alley and William Claffin to secure an issue of twenty year bonds to the amount of $850,000.

Woods & Wright were not able to finance the proposition, and of date August 11, 1870 they caused James F. Joy to be elected President and made an agreement with him under which they were to turn over all the securities they held and complete the road, and Joy agreed that the C. B. & Q. would provide $640,000 and take a perpetual lease of the road and as rental pay the interest upon the bonds issued by the Company, which were sold to the public and were afterwards all redeemed by the C. B. & Q.

The Lease was dated December 1, 1870, and of date May 15, 1876, a Supplemental Lease was executed to correct certain errors and omissions in the original lease. The road was completed December 25, 1870; (40.6 miles.)

Of date June 1, 1899, the Quincy & Warsaw Company made a deed of all its property to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company in fee simple.

CONTRACT AND LEASE, December 1, 1870, The Quincy and Warsaw Railroad Company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture, made this first (1st) day of December, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and seventy, by and between the Quincy and Warsaw Railroad Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, both corporations duly organized and existing under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, the said party of the first part is authorized by the aforesaid laws to construct and operate a railroad from the city of Quincy in Adams County to the town of Carthage in Hancock County, in said State of Illinois, and has already located the same, and the work of construction has advanced far towards completion.

And whereas, for the purpose of obtaining money necessary for the construction and completion of said railroad, including labor thereon and materials used therein and other expenses incurred in the construction of the same, it has executed its bonds in sums of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, of the date of July first, A. D. 1870, amounting in the aggregate to eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars, having twenty (20) years to run to maturity, and bearing interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, free of government tax, and both principal and interest payable at the National Park Bank in the city of New York, and has secured the payment of the same by a deed of trust or mortgage duly executed by it to John B. Alley and William Claffin of Boston, Massachusetts, upon said railroad, made and to be constructed, its right of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto and revenues to be derived therefrom, which said trust mortgage bears even date with said bonds, and has been duly recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs.

And whereas, the proceeds of said bonds and the other means of said company will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of the road-bed and superstructure, and in accomplishing so much the said party of the first part will have exhausted its resources, and will be wholly unable to procure the equipment or any part thereof necessary for the maintenance and operation of said railroad, and in order that the same may when completed be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and means be provided for the annual purchase of said bonds at not above par and accrued interest, it has become necessary to have the assistance of and make the arrangement with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, hereinafter mentioned.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said second party, it, the said party of the first part hath granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, all the following-described property of said Quincy and Warsaw Railroad Company, that is to say: its said railroad extending from Quincy to Carthage aforesaid, made and to be made, including rights of way, lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, rails, ties, and other materials used therein, procured and to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depot grounds, and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, also all rolling stock, tools, and other property, real and personal, pertaining to said railroad and to the use thereof, now owned or to be hereafter acquired by said first party, together with the rents, revenues, and income to be had, levied, and derived therefrom, and all rights, privileges, and franchises of said first party of, in, to, or concerning the same.

To have and to hold the above-described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises appertaining thereto, unto the said party of the second part its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof in perpetuity, absolute and exclusive possession thereof to be delivered to and had by said party of the second part as soon as the road-bed and superstructure shall have been completed; and in the mean time the possession of the parties constructing the aforesaid railroad shall be deemed and taken to be the possession of said second party.

The said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does hereby covenant and agree with said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to pay and cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on the said demised premises or any part thereof during the continuance of this lease, and to take possession of said demised road and property as soon as the road-bed, track, and superstructure thereof shall be completed, to place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be required in the transaction of the business of said railroad, and at all times to keep the same equipped in such manner as the public convenience may require, and also to maintain and keep the said demised road in repair, to run and operate the same in such manner as will furnish reasonable accommodations to the public, and that it will at all times save said first party and its successors harmless from all damages and liabilities that may be incurred or occasioned by said second party in the management, maintenance, and operation of said railroad.

The said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, and also as rent and in full payment of rent for the aforesaid demised railroad and property hereby, covenants and agrees that it will set aside forty per cent of the gross earnings arising from the business done upon the said demised road extending from Quincy to Carthage aforesaid, and also forty per cent of the gross earnings arising from the business, both freight and passenger, over its own road or any part thereof coming from or going to the said Quincy and Warsaw Railroad, as a fund to be annually appropriated each year to the purchase of the aforesaid bonds of said first party at the lowest price at which they may be offered, so long as they can be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, and that it will cause to be kept a separate account of all such earnings, and on the fifteenth day of December in each year will pay over the amount thereof to the trustees named in the aforesaid trust mortgage securing said bonds, and their successors, to be applied by them to the purchase of said bonds at the lowest market price, but not more than par and accrued interest, in the manner herein provided.

It is mutually agreed by the parties hereto that the said trustees named in the aforesaid trust mortgage shall, in the month of December in each year, advertise for proposals for ten successive days in a daily newspaper for the time being in each of the cities of New York and Boston, stating therein the time and place when and where and the terms upon which the said bonds will be purchased, for the information of such of the holders of said bonds as may wish to sell any of the same under this agreement, and if in response to said advertisement none of such bonds are offered for sale on the terms aforesaid, then the obligation to purchase bonds for that year and until the time for another annual advertisement shall cease, and the moneys thus applicable to the purchase of bonds for that year shall be returned to said party of the second part and its successors. But the fact that no bonds are offered for sale on the terms herein provided, for that or any one year, shall not in any manner affect the liability and obligation of said second party to purchase said bonds on the terms and in the manner herein provided with the amount which may accumulate from the said forty per cent of gross earnings for the next or any year thereafter, and which by the terms of this agreement shall be applicable to the purchase of said bonds; it being the intention of this agreement not to purchase said bonds at more than par and accrued interest, and that when they cannot be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, the funds provided therefor, not being required for that purpose, shall be returned to and may be used and divided by said second party like other earnings of its road, year by year.

And it shall be the duty of said trustees, upon the purchase of said bonds or any of them as herein mentioned, to deliver the same to said second party, to be held, used, and employed by it as its own property, and in such manner as it shall deem advisable.

It is also hereby mutually agreed that the stipulations and provisions of this contract shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be hereto subscribed by their presidents, and their respective corporate seals to be hereto attached by their secretaries, the day and year first above written.

This Agreement made this Fifteenth (15th) day of May A. D. One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy Six (1876) by and between the Quincy and Warsaw Rail Road Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago Burlington and Quincy Rail Road Company, party of the second part.

Witnesseth, that whereas, an Indenture of Lease was made and entered into by and between the parties hereto, under date December 1st, 1870, of the railroad of the party of the first part to the party of the second part, in which it is found that there are certain errors and omissions, and for the purpose of correcting which into the stipulations and agreements of the parties as they were made and understood at the time, it is agreed that said Lease shall be so reformed and modified as to read as follows, that is to say.

Whereas, the said party of the first part is authorized by the aforesaid laws, to construct and operate a railroad from the City of Quincy in Adams County to the Town of Carthage in Hancock County in said State of Illinois and has already located the same and the work of construction has advanced far toward completion and

Whereas, for the purpose of obtaining money necessary for the construction and completion of said railroad including labor thereon and materials used therein and other expenses incurred in the construction of the same, it has executed its bonds in sums of One Thousand Dollars each of the date of July First A. D. 1870, amounting in the aggregate to Eight hundred and fifty thousand Dollars, having twenty years to run to maturity and bearing interest at the rate of Eight per cent. per annum payable semi-annually, free of Government Tax, and both principal and interest payable at the National Park Bank in the City of New York and has secured the payment of the same by a Deed of Trust or Mortgage duly executed by it to John B. Alley and William Claflin of Boston, Massachusetts upon said railroad made and to be constructed its right ofway, road bed, superstructure grounds, buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith together with the rights, privileges and franchises belonging thereto and revenues to be derived therefrom, which said Trust Mortgage bears even date with said Bonds and has been duly recorded in the Counties through which said railroad runs, and

Whereas the proceeds of said Bonds and other means of said Company will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of the road bed and superstructure and in accomplishing so much the said party of the first part will have exhausted its resources and will be wholly unable to procure the equipment or any part thereof necessary for the maintenance and operation of said railroad, and in order that the same may, when completed, be equipped, maintained and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and means be provided for the annual purchase of said Bonds at not above par and accrued interest, it has become necessary to have the assistance of and make the arrangements with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Rail Road Company, hereinafter mentioned.

Now Therefore this Indenture Witnesseth, that the said party of the first part in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said second party, it the said party of the first part hath granted demised and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise and lease unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns all the following described property of said Quincy and Warsaw Railroad Company, that is to say:

Its said railroad extending from Quincy to Carthage aforesaid, made and to be made, including rights of way lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, rails, ties and other materials used therein, procured and to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depots, depot grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, also all rolling stock, tools and other property real and personal pertaining to said railroad and to its use, now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said first party together with the rents, revenues and income to be had, levied and derived therefrom, and all rights, privileges and franchises of said first party, of, in, to or concerning the same.

To Have and To Hold the above described railroad, premises and property with the appurtenances, rights privileges and franchises appertaining thereto unto the said party of the second part its successors and assigns for the period of ninety-nine (99) years from the day of the date thereof. Absolute and exclusive possession thereof to be delivered to and had by said party of the second part as soon as the road bed and superstructure shall have been completed, and in the meantime the possession of the parties constructing the aforesaid railroad shall be deemed and taken to be the possession of said second party.

The said party of the second part in consideration of the premises does hereby covenant and agree to and with said party of the first part its successors and assigns, to pay and cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged or assessed on the said demised premises or any part thereof, during the continuance of this lease, and take possession of said demised premises, and property as soon as the road bed, track and superstructure thereof shall be complete, to place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be required in the transaction of the business of said railroad, and at all times to keep the same equipped in such manner as the public convenience may require, and also to maintain and keep the said demised road in repair, to run and operate the same in such manner as will furnish reasonable accommodations to the public. And that it will at all times, save said first party harmless from all damages and liabilities that may be incurred or occasioned by said second party in the management, maintenance and operation of said railroad.

The said party of the second part in consideration of the premises and also as rent and in full payment of rent for the aforesaid demised railroad and property, hereby covenants and agrees that it will pay or cause to be paid the semi-annually accruing interest on the aforesaid Eight Hundred and fifty thousand dollars of first Mortgage bonds of said first party hereinbefore mentioned when and where the same shall become due and payable according to the tenor thereof,

It is mutually agreed by the parties hereto that the said Trustees named in the aforesaid Trust Mortgage shall in the said month of October in each year, advertise for proposals for ten successive days in a daily newspaper for the time being published in each of the cities of New York and Boston, stating therein the time and place when and where and the terms upon which the said Bonds will be purchased, for the information of such of the holders of said Bonds as may wish to sell any of the same under this agreement, And if in response to said advertisement, none of such bonds are offered for sale on the terms aforesaid, then the obligation to purchase bonds for that year and until the time for another annual advertisement, shall cease, and the monies thus applicable to the purchase of bonds for that year shall be returned to said party of the second part and its successors:

But the fact that no bonds are offered for sale on the terms herein provided, for that or any one year shall not in any manner affect the liability and obligation of said second party to purchase said bonds on the terms and in the manner herein provided with the amount which may accumulate from the said forty per cent. of gross earnings for the next or any year thereafter and which by the terms of this agreement shall be applicable to the purchase of said bonds. It being the intention of this agreement not to purchase said bonds at more than par and accrued interest, and that when they cannot be purchased at or less than par and accrued interest, the funds provided therefor not being required for that purpose shall be returned to and shall be used and divided by said second party like other earnings of its Road year by year. And it shall be the duty of said Trustees upon the purchase of said bonds or any of them as herein effect as if such person or persons so appointed were expressly named as trustee or trustees or as of the trustees in this deed named.

And should the party of the first part, its successors or assigns, satisfy and pay the said bonds and coupons, according to the tenor and effect of the same, then this deed shall cease to have force or effect, and the said trustee, the survivor of them, or their successors in the premises of the trusts herein expressed, shall the said trust property release unto the party of the first part, its successors or assigns.

THE QUINCY, ALTON AND ST. LOUIS RAILWAY COMPANY

This company was incorporated by Special Act of the Illinois Legislature in force March 8, 1867, to build from Quincy to Alton thence to a point opposite St. Louis and unite with any other railroad.

By an Amendment approved March 29, 1869, in force June 19, 1869, this company was authorized to construct and operate a branch from any point on its line to and connecting with any railroad built or to be built extending eastwardly.

It was organized at Quincy September 10, 1869. There was constructed a main line from Quincy to a connection with the Chicago & Alton Railroad at Pike, forty three and one hundredths miles, and a branch line from the above connection, at Fall Creek westerly to a connection with the Wabash Railroad at East Hannibal of four and seven tenths miles, a total of forty seven and seventy one hundredths miles. The main line was completed December 10, 1871, and the branch line August 10, 1873.

This road was originally promoted by citizens of Quincy, who subscribed stock and secured a large subscription of Adams County and other communities in aid bonds. In 1870, W. S. Woods of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, made a contract to build the road with the financial aid of John B. Alley of Boston. Woods undertook to run it for the next three years but becoming deeper and deeper in debt applied to the C. B. & Q. for assistance.

Of date December 3, 1875, a contract was made between the C. B. & Q. and Woods and Alley whereby the then existing mortgage was cancelled, and a new twenty year mortgage for $840,000 to the Farmers Loan & Trust Co. was executed, and the C. B. & Q. agreed to take a Lease of the road in perpetuity of date February 1, 1876, and pay a yearly rental of $42,000.

The C. B. & Q. has retired all of the bonds issued under said mortgage and of date June 1, 1899, the Quincy, Alton & St.

Louis conveyed all its property to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company by deed in fee simple. The Wabash Railway has joint use of line between Quincy and Fall River.

AGREEMENT, December 3, 1875, The Quincy, Alton & St. Louis Railroad Company and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, William S. Woods and John B. Alley.

* * * * *

This Agreement, made and entered into this Third day of December, A. D. One Thousand, Eight Hundred and Seventy-five (1875) by and between the Quincy, Alton & St. Louis Railroad Co., of the first part—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. of the second part—William S. Woods of the third part and John B. Alley of the fourth part.

Witnesseth: That the party of the first part, owns and is possessed of a Railway, extending from Quincy, Illinois, to a point opposite Louisiana, in the State of Missouri, including its branch, running from its main line to Hannibal, together with the franchises, property, rights and privileges, connected therewith. That its authorized Capital is One Million of dollars, of which only about Nine Hundred Thousand dollars in shares has been issued. That said Road is subject to a mortgage, purporting to secure Two Million, Five Hundred Thousand dollars, the interest on which, at the rate of seven per cent per annum in gold, is payable semi-annually, under which mortgage however, only one million of dollars in bonds have ever been issued, and which are now outstanding. That there also exists a floating debt, claims and liens, other than said mortgage lien, against said party of the first part, or its said Railway and property. That the above recitals constitute the basis and condition, on which this contract is made by the party of the second part.

That thereupon, it has been agreed between the parties of the first and second parts hereto, that ultimately after the performance of certain acts by the said party of the first part, or their causing the same to be performed as hereinafter stated, the said Railway, its branch, franchise, and all its property and rights shall be by it, demised and leased to the party of the second part in perpetuity, upon the terms, conditions, and in the manner hereinafter set forth. Which acts and the terms of said lease are to be, as follows;

First. Said party of the first part, shall, on or before the first day of February next pay and discharge all its debts, floating or otherwise, except that secured by said existing mortgage, and all liens or encumbrances upon its road or property, except the mortgage aforesaid, to the satisfaction of the party of the second part.

Second. That on or before the first day of August next, it will take up, pay and discharge all the bonds now outstanding, secured by the mortgage aforesaid, and will cause said mortgage to be duly discharged of record, and farther, that it will, in proper form, create and execute a new mortgage of the same premises, to secure its bonds to be issued, for a sum, not exceeding Eight Hundred and Forty Thousand dollars ($840,000) payable in twenty years, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, with principal and interest payable in the lawful money of the United States. Said Mortgage and Bonds to be in a form, acceptable to the party of the second part.

Third. That when all the foregoing acts shall be done and performed to the satisfaction of the party of the second part, a Lease, in perpetuity, of all said premises, shall be duly executed and delivered to the party of the second part. The rent payable under which lease, shall be as follows:

Out of the first fifteen hundred dollars ($1500) per mile of gross earnings per annum, on the Road of the first party, the said first party shall receive seven hundred dollars ($700).

And out of the next Three thousand dollars ($3,000) per mile of gross earnings per annum on its said road, or any part of that amount, it shall receive One thousand dollars ($1,000) or in that ratio.

And out of the gross earnings over Forty-five hundred dollars ($4500) per mile per year, it shall receive twenty per cent thereof.

And, it is further agreed, that said Lease shall provide, that the party of the second part, shall have the option at any time within five years from the first day of October 1875, to substitute for the rent, reserved by said Lease, a fixed yearly rental of Forty-two thousand dollars ($42,000) said rent, in either case, to be paid semi-annually.

And further, that said party of the second part, shall pay all taxes and other expenses of keeping the Road in repair, operating the same, and maintaining, preserving and protecting the property, and shall operate the Road, and furnish such, and such an amount of rolling stock for that purpose, as shall reasonably accommodate the traffic and travel, offered from time to time for transportation.

And further, that until the exercise of such option, if at all, and so long as the rent shall be payable, and paid by it as aforesaid, it will send all business which it controls over the demised Road, to and from points, between which said demised Road is a link in the shortest line. And that as against any Road, between Quincy and Hannibal, west of the Mississippi River, it will send business within its control, over said demised Road.

It is understood however, that in case said second party should desire at any time and send any of its business between Quincy and Hannibal, by a Road on the west side of the Mississippi River, it may do so, but, in that case, it will pay to the party of the first part, such a sum of money, as it, the said first party, would have received on such business under the terms of said lease, had such business been sent over the demised Road.

And, since it is desirable, to the parties of the first and second part, that before the completion of the whole of said acts to be done, or caused to be done, by the party of the first part, the possession and management of said Road, shall pass into the hands of the party of the second part, to be used and employed by it, paying therefor, while thus in its hands, rent, at the same rate, as is to be paid by it, under said lease, when executed.

It is further agreed, by and between said parties, that, contemporaneously with the execution and delivery of this Instrument, there shall be transferred to the party of the second part, shares of said Railway, of the value at par of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) to be held and disposed of, as hereinafter described, and that said party of the first part, will immediately thereafter, with the aid of the shares, thus transferred to the party of the second part, cause, by proper vote, and action of its Board of Directors and Stockholders at meetings, duly called and held, its President and Secretary to be authorized to make, execute and deliver, a lease, in the form, manner and time herein contemplated: And that immediately after said Lease, shall have been thus duly authorized, it will at the request of the second party, with the aid of the shares aforesaid, procure the resignations, of such of its Directors as may be necessary, to be placed in the hands of its Board, and to be accepted by it: And will thereupon, elect such other persons as Directors, as said second party may designate, so as to give to said second party a majority of Directors, and the control of said Board. And that thereafterwards, the said party of the second part shall and will, if and when all the floating debts of the party of the first part, have been paid by it, and also all liens and encumbrances, upon the said Road, of its property, other than the subsisting mortgage, at once enter into, and take possession of said Road, and manage and use the same, upon the terms aforesaid, until the said contemplated Lease shall be executed as aforesaid, or until this contract, shall, from any cause, be terminated or fail to be carried out. And thereupon, said party of the second part, will farther, purchase of the party of the first part, its cars and engines now upon the Road, including its tools and machinery in the shops at Quincy—the same to be free from all liens and encumbrances, at a fair valuation, to be agreed upon, by and between the Presidents of the first and second parties, if may be, and on their failure to agree, such Presidents to select a third disinterested party, whose determination shall be conclusive and binding, upon the respective parties hereto. And there upon, as soon as such value shall be determined, and if and when, said party of the first part, shall have caused all the floating debt, and all the liens and encumbrances, except the mortgage aforesaid, to have been discharged, leaving only the amount to be paid, for said cars, engines, tools and machinery necessary to complete the payment of such floating debt and the discharge of said liens and encumbrances, upon the delivery of said rolling stock, tools and machinery, apply and pay the amount, at which the same shall have been valued as aforesaid, towards the completion of the discharge and payment of such floating debt, liens and encumbrances.

It is hereby further agreed, by and between the parties of the first and third part, that said party of the first part, will, within the periods, and in the manner hereinbefore provided, do and perform all the acts aforesaid, which are to precede the delivery and acceptance of said Lease.

And said party of the third part, further agrees, that he will, on or before the first day of June next, cause to be transferred and delivered, to the party of the second part, all other, the outstanding shares of the Capital Stock of the party of the first part, beyond and beside the six thousand shares, so to be placed in its hands as aforesaid, so far as he can control the same, and at all events, such part thereof, as shall not leave in the hands of other parties, exceeding eight hundred shares. And further, that all said shares, including said six thousand shares, shall, on the execution and delivery of said Lease, be held by the said party of the second part for its own use, except as hereinafter provided.

And it is further agreed, by and between the parties of the first and second part, that until the execution and delivery of said Lease, no new bonds liens or mortgages, upon said road or property, shall be made or created, except the new mortgage for Eight Hundred and Forty Thousand Dollars ($840,000) hereinbefore referred to.

And further, that said party of the second part, should it have a control of the Board of Directors, as aforesaid, or by means of its control of the shares of said Company, will cause all acts to be done, by said Directors, or said corporation, necessary to enable the party of the first part, to perform the acts which are to precede the execution and delivery of said Lease.

And said party of the second part agrees to and with all the other parties hereto, that it will, if said lease shall be duly executed and delivered as aforesaid, apply the rent, payable thereunder, to the taking up and extinguishing of the interest, payable upon new five per cent bonds to be issued as aforesaid, and unless and until it shall elect to pay said rent of Forty-two thousand dollars ($42,000) per annum, it will pay and apply any surplus of said rent, after payment of the interest on said mortgage bonds, to the use of the shareholders.

And further, that it will not, if said Lease shall be executed and delivered, agree to any cancellation or change thereof, unless for non performance of its conditions, without the consent of the holders of said new mortgage five per cent bonds, to be issued as aforesaid.

This Indenture further witnesseth: That the party of the third part is indebted to a large amount to the party of the fourth part with interest thereon, and that he holds as security therefor, Seven Hundred Thousand dollars ($700,000) in amount, of the existing first mortgage bonds, with all the unpaid coupons thereto belonging, together with Three Thousand Two Hundred shares of stock, and also, a judgment note of Twenty-five Thousand dollars ($25,000) and interest in favor of said fourth party, and against said third party, and entered in the Cumberland County, Penn. Circuit Court.

A claim for Ten Thousand dollars ($10,000) and interest, made by said third party to said fourth party, and secured by a deed of the farm called the "Lee Farm" in Cumberland County, Penna.

Twenty-nine Thousand of Bonds of the City of Louisiana, Missouri, and coupons thereon, due January 1st, 1876, and a note of said first party for about Ninety-eight Thousand, Three hundred and Four dollars ($98,304). And thereupon, said party of the fourth part has agreed, and does hereby agree with the party of the second part, that for the purpose of aiding the performance by the party of the first and third part, of this, its contract, he will, upon the execution and delivery of said Lease, place all his said bonds, and securities in the hands of John N. Denison, in trust nevertheless for the following purposes, first

For the payment, on or before the first day of August next to the party of the fourth part, the sum of ($450,000) Four Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars, with six per cent interest thereon from October 1st, 1875 (which payment, the third party hereby agrees to make or cause to be made, and second as security to the second party, for the performance of the provisions of this agreement on the part of the first and third parties as herein above provided.

And said party of the fourth part, further agrees, that in order that sale and delivery may be made of the rolling stock, tools and machinery hereinbefore mentioned, by said first party, to said second part, he will and does hereby release any and all liens or claims he may have upon the same or any part thereof individually, (except to the amount of 4000 dollars) or as holder of Seven Hundred Thousand dollars ($700,000) or any other amount of the Bonds of said first party hereinbefore mentioned.

And it is further agreed, that said Trustee may, upon the execution and delivery of the Lease aforesaid, and after the creation of the new mortgage aforesaid, and the discharge of the old one exchange the bonds so placed in his hands in trust, for a like amount of Bonds to be issued under said new mortgage.

And it is further agreed, between the parties that in case, said party of the third part, shall fail to pay the said sum of Four Hundred and Fifty Thousand dollars ($450,000.) with interest at the time aforesaid, then and thereupon, the said Trustee shall, after the expiration of thirty days, sell and dispose of all such securities, by public auction in the City of Boston, giving twenty days notice of such sale, by publication thereof, once a week, for two weeks successively, in either of the daily newspapers, published in the City of Boston, and apply the proceeds thereof, after deducting all expenses, and his own reasonable compensation, first, to the payment of the Four Hundred and Fifty Thousand dollars ($450,000) of the debt and interest from October 1st 1875, so due to the party of the fourth part, and the residue thereof, if any, pay over to the party of the second part, to be held by it, as security for the performance by the parties of the first and third parts, of their respective agreements herein contained.

Provided however, that upon such failure of said party of the third part, to pay as aforesaid, his said debt, the party of the second part, if it so elect, may pay to said Trustee, said debt and interest, and thereupon, said Trustee and said fourth party, shall assign, transfer and set over to said party of the second part, all said securities, together with the evidences of debt, as above described, held by said party of the fourth part, and the same shall all be held by the party of the second part, to secure the sum thus paid by it, with interest, at the rate of seven per cent per annum, with full authority, after demand and ten days notice to said party of the third part, to sell and dispose of the same in manner as aforesaid, and apply the proceeds to their reimbursement with interest as aforesaid, and to hold the balance, if any, as security, for the performance, by the parties of the first and third parts, of the agreements herein contained.

If by reason of the non-performance by the parties of the first or third parts of the preliminary conditions, upon the party of the 2nd part has agreed to take a lease, and thus, this contract be terminated, the 6,000 shares of stock, placed in the hands of the second party, shall be returned to the party equitably entitled to the same.

In Witness Whereof, the first and second parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents and their Corporate Seals to be hereto attached and attested by their respective Secretaries. And the said third and fourth parties have hereunto set their hands and seals all on the day and year first above written.

LEASE, February 1, 1876, The The Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture, made this first day of February, A. D. 1876, by and between the QUINCY, ALTON AND ST. LOUIS RAILWAY COMPANY, party of the first part, and the CHICAGO, BURLINGTON AND QUINCY RAILROAD COMPANY, party of the second part, both corporations organized under the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, said first party was and is authorized by its charter, among other things, to construct and operate a railroad from Quincy, Illinois, to a point on the Mississippi River in Illinois opposite Louisiana, Missouri, about forty-one miles, and also a branch of its said road from the main line to a point on the east bank of the Mississippi River in Illinois opposite Hannibal, Missouri, about five miles in length, both which said sections of road are completed and now in operation.

And to provide for the payment of the cost of construction of the same, has executed its bonds in sums of one thousand dollars each, dated February 1st, A. D. 1876, amounting in the aggregate to eight hundred and forty thousand dollars ($840,000), payable twenty years from the date thereof, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, with principal and interest payable in the lawful money of the United States, at the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company in the city of New York, and has secured the payment thereof by a mortgage of even date therewith to the said Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of its said road now completed and in operation as aforesaid, together with its right of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, buildings, and all other property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto, and the revenues to be derived therefrom, which said trust mortgage has been duly recorded in the counties through which said completed railroad runs.

And Whereas, the proceeds of said bonds and the other means of said company have been sufficient only to pay the cost of construction of said railroad and superstructure, and when paid for, said first party will have exhausted its resources, and be without means to acquire the equipment and to maintain and operate said road, and in order that the same may be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience requires, and means provided for the payment of the annually accruing interest on said bonds, it has become necessary to make the provisions herein contained.

Now Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth; That the said first party, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said second party, has granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, all the following-described premises and property of said Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company, that is to say:—

Its said railroad now constructed, extending from Quincy, Illinois, to a point on the east bank of the Mississippi River opposite Louisiana, Missouri, including its branch extending from its main line to a point on the Mississippi River opposite Hannibal, Missouri, in all about forty-six miles in length. And also including the right of way therefor, road-bed, superstructure, and all lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, tools, materials, and all other property, real or personal, appertaining to said road and to the use thereof, now owned or possessed by said first party, together with the rents, revenues, and income to be had, levied, or derived therefrom, and all rights, privileges, and franchises of said first party of, in, to, or concerning the same and every part thereof.

To Have and to Hold the above-described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises appertaining thereto, and the complete and exclusive possession thereof, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof in perpetuity. Said party of the second part, in consideration of the premises, does hereby covenant with said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, to take immediate and exclusive possession of said demised road and property, and at its own expense place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be reasonably required for the transaction of the business of said railroad, and at all times to keep the same equipped in such manner as the public convenience may require, to maintain said demised road in good condition, and operate the same in such manner as shall reasonably accommodate the traffic and travel offered from time to time for transportation.

And that it will at all times save said first party and its successors harmless from all damages and liabilities that may be incurred or occasioned by said second party in the maintenance and operation of said demised road.

And also that it will pay or cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied or charged on said demised premises, or any part thereof, and all other expenses necessary to the preservation of the property during the continuance of this lease.

Said second party further agrees that it will pay to or for said first party, its successors and assigns, rent for the above demised premises at the times and in the manner as follows, that is to say:—

A fixed annual rental of forty-two thousand dollars ($42,000), said rent to be all paid by said second party, its successors and assigns, semi-annually, by taking up and cancelling the semi-annually maturing interest warrants attached to the eight hundred and forty (840) five per cent bonds above mentioned, upon their presentation at its office in Boston, and this instrument shall be deemed a covenant with the bondholders severally so to apply the same.

Said second party further agrees that it will not consent to the cancellation of this lease, or any change in the terms thereof, without having first obtained the consent of the holders of said five per cent bonds above mentioned.

Said second party further agrees that if at the maturity of said bonds the time for the payment of the principal thereof be extended, or other bonds substituted instead thereof, it will continue to pay the rent reserved in said lease by applying the same semi-annually, as herein provided, to the payment, taking up, and cancelling the coupons upon any new issue of bonds that may be substituted, at a rate of interest not exceeding five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

And the said first party agrees for itself, its successors and assigns, that it will not, without first having obtained the consent in writing of the second party thereto, create or authorize to be created by mortgage, trust deed, or otherwise, any lien or encumbrance upon the said demised property, or any part thereof, during the continuance of this lease.

And it is mutually agreed that in case the party of the second part shall be deprived of the possession of the premises by legal proceeding, under the mortgage or otherwise, this lease shall thereupon be in all parts terminated.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereunto have caused these presents to be subscribed by their respective presidents, and their corporate seals to be hereto affixed and attested by their secretaries, as of the day and year first above written.

D. 1899, by and between The Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, both being corporations created, organized, and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Illinois, Witnesseth: That,

Whereas, The first party, being thereto duly authorized by law, is the owner of the following described railroad in the State of Illinois, to-wit:

Beginning at Quincy, in Adams County, extending thence south-easterly to East Louisiana, a distance of about forty-one and sixty-nine hundredths (41.69) miles; with a branch from Fall Creek to East Hannibal, a distance of about four and sixty-seven hundredths (4.67) miles; and,

Whereas, The railroad of the first party connects with the railroads of the second party, and forms therewith a continuous and connected line of railroad; and,

Whereas, The second party is now in possession of and operating the said above described railroad, in connection with its own railroads, under a lease in perpetuity, and has offered to purchase the remaining interests, property, and franchises of the first party in and to said railroad, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter stated, which have been agreed to by the directors of both the said companies, and approved by the stockholders owning and holding two-thirds in amount of the capital stock of the parties of the first and second parts, in manner and form as required by law:

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, for and in consideration of five dollars to it in hand paid, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and other good and valuable considerations, has granted, bargained, and sold, and by these presents does grant, bargain, sell and convey, release, assign, and transfer, to the said party of the second part, all and singular the said above described railroad, and all its right, title, and interest therein; together with all rights of way, road-bed, bridges, and depot and other lands, or interest therein; and all station houses and other buildings and structures of whatever kind belonging thereto; together with all the fixtures and appurtenances appertaining to the said railroad, or in any manner connected therewith; also all rights, privileges, and franchises of the said party of the first part, in and to the aforesaid railroad; together with all other present and in future to be acquired property, of every kind and description, belonging to the said first party, except its franchise to be a corporation.

To Have and to Hold, the said railroad and lands, tenements, rights, privileges, and franchises, and other property, above mentioned and conveyed, to the said second party, its successors and assigns, forever.

And the said party of the second part covenants and agrees with the said party of the first part to equip the said railroad, or cause the same

TRUST MORTGAGE, February 1, 1876, The Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company to The Farmers Loan and Trust Company, Trustees.

* * * * *

This mortgage covers the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway (subject to prior mortgage), and secures an issue of bonds amounting to $840,000. These bonds are dated Feb. 1, 1876, have twenty years to run, bear interest at the rate of five per cent, payable semi-annually, and mature Feb. 1, 1896.

This Indenture, made this first (1st) day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six (1876), between the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company, a corporation duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of the City of New York, in the State of New York, a corporation duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the said State of New York, trustee herein and party of the second part, witnesseth:—

That whereas, the said the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company, pursuant to the terms of the statutes and acts of the Legislature of the said State of Illinois creating it, and of the organization of said company under and in accordance therewith, built and constructed a railway, and is possessed of said railway, extending from Quincy, Illinois, to a point on the east bank of the Mississippi River, opposite the City of Louisiana, in the State of Missouri, a distance of about forty-one (41) miles, including its branch running from its main line to the railroad bridge across the Mississippi River at the City of Hannibal, in the State of Missouri, a distance of about four and one half ($4\frac{1}{2}$) miles, together with its side tracks, franchises, property, rights, and privileges connected therewith.

And whereas, said road is subject to a mortgage purporting to secure two million five hundred thousand dollars, the interest on which at the rate of seven per cent per annum in gold is payable semi-annually,—under which mortgage, however, only one million of dollars in bonds have ever been issued, and are now outstanding, which bonds said railway company has determined to take up and cancel.

And whereas, the said the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company is desirous of borrowing money to an amount not exceeding eight hundred and forty thousand ($840,000) dollars; that being at the rate of about eighteen thousand five hundred ($18,500) dollars per mile on the length of the road and its branch, for the purpose of paying off and cancelling its now existing and outstanding bonded indebtedness, so as to place said road and its branch free of any debt, lien, or incumbrance, save the one hereby created; and has resolved to execute the bonds of said railway company therefor, to wit: eight hundred and forty (840) bonds, in sums of one thousand ($1,000) dollars each, bearing date on the first day of February, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six (1876), having twenty (20) years to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum free of government tax, and payable semi-annually, on the first days of August and February in each year, at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company in the city of New York, where both principal and interest are made payable in the lawful money of the United States, or at such other place in said city as the said railway company may designate for that purpose: all of which said bonds are to bear the same date, and are to stand equally secured by this deed of trust, and are to be numbered consecutively from number one (1) to the highest number which may be issued, inclusive; each of which said bonds is to be authenticated by a certificate signed by the trustee named in this deed of trust.

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth: That the said the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company, in order to secure the payment of its said bonds last aforesaid, and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of five (5) dollars to it in hand paid by the said party of the second part, at the ensembling and delivery of these presents, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained, sold, transferred, and conveyed, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, transfer, and convey to the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns, all the following and all the above described property, to wit: all the present and in future to be acquired property of the said railway company in and relating to the said railway, and all the right, title, interest, and equity of redemption therein, that is to say: all the railway of said party of the first part now made and constructed, extending from Quincy to the east bank of the Mississippi River, opposite Louisiana, Missouri, including its branch from main line to Hannibal, Missouri, aforesaid, including the right of way therefor, road bed, superstructure, iron, ties, chairs, splices, bolts, nuts, spikes, and all the lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, viaducts, bridges, timber, and materials, and property purchased or to be purchased for said railway, and all the engines, tenders, cars, and machinery, and all kinds of rolling stock now owned or to be hereafter purchased by said party of the first part, and for and to be used upon said railway; all the revenues and income of said railway, and all the franchises and rights of said party of the first part relating thereto, and property acquired by virtue thereof, now in possession or hereafter to be acquired, including machine shops, tools, implements, and personal property used therein, or along the line of said railway.

To have and to hold the said railway and property, and all and singular the said premises and every part thereof, with the appurtenances, unto the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns; but for the following purposes and upon the following express trust, that is to say:—

In case the said the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company shall fail to pay the principal or any part thereof, or any of the interest on any of the bonds secured or intended to be secured hereby, at any time when and where the same may become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and for sixty (60) days thereafter, then and in such case all of said bonds, both principal and interest, shall thereupon, at the option of the holders thereof, become due and payable; and at the request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds, the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust or assigns, may enter into and take possession of all and singular the railway premises and property hereby conveyed, and as the attorneys in fact or agents of said first party, by itself or its agents duly constituted, have, use, and employ the same, making, from time to time, all needful repairs, alterations, and additions thereto, and after deducting the expenses of such use, repairs, alterations, and additions, apply the proceeds of said premises to the payment of the principal and interest of all of such bonds remaining unpaid; or the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust or assigns, at their discretion may, and on the written request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds then unpaid, shall cause the said premises, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to discharge the principal and interest of all of said bonds as may be unpaid, together with the expense of sale, to be sold at public auction at the city of Quincy, in the said State of Illinois, after giving thirty days' notice of the time and place and terms of such sale by publishing the same in one of the principal newspapers for the time being published in each of the cities of Quincy, New York, and Boston, and upon such sale to execute to the purchaser or purchasers thereof a good and sufficient deed or deeds of conveyance, in fee simple, for the same, which shall be a bar against the said the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis Railway Company, party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and all persons claiming under it or them, of all right, interest, or claim in or to the said premises or any part thereof. And the said trustee shall, after deducting from the proceeds of said sale the cost and expense thereof, and of managing the said property, and enough to indemnify and save it harmless from and against all liabilities arising from this trust, apply so much of the proceeds of said property as may be necessary to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds remaining unpaid, whether the same may be then due and payable or otherwise, and shall restore the residue thereof to the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns: it being expressly understood and agreed that in no case shall any claim be made or advantage taken of valuation, appraisement, redemption, or extension laws, by said party of the first part, its successors or assigns, nor any injunction or stay of proceedings be had, or any process be obtained or applied for by it or them to prevent such entry, sale, and conveyance as aforesaid.

It is also hereby agreed and understood that it shall be lawful for the said railway company, party of the first part, or its assigns, to dispose of the current net revenues of said road hereby conveyed as it or they shall elect, until default shall be made in the payment of the principal or interest of said bonds, or of some one or more of them.

And the said party of the first part, for itself and its successors, hereby covenants and agrees to execute and deliver any further reasonable and necessary conveyance of the said premises, or any part thereof, to the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns, which counsel may advise, for the more fully conveying the said premises, and carrying into effect the object and purposes of these presents, and of making them embrace the property and effects so conveyed or intended to be conveyed.

It is hereby mutually agreed that upon the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, the estate hereby granted to the said party of the second part shall be void, and the right to the premises and property hereby conveyed shall revert to and revest in said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, without any acknowledgment of satisfaction, reconveyance, re-entry, or other act.

And it is also hereby mutually agreed that the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns, shall only be accountable for reasonable diligence in the management thereof, and shall not be responsible for the acts of any agent employed by it, when such agent shall have been employed with reasonable discretion, and that the said party of the second part, and its successors in said trust and assigns, shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for their labor and services in the management of said trust.

It is further agreed and understood that in case of the incapacity or resignation of the said trustee to act in the matter of said trust, all its right, estate, interest, power, and control in the premises shall be divested, cease, and determine, and the said railway company and the holders of a majority of the bonds hereby secured may mutually agree upon a new trustee to supply the said vacancy; or failing so to agree, the said party of the first part or its successors may, or in case of its failure to take proceedings therefor for thirty (30) days, the holders of a majority of said bonds last aforesaid may apply to any court in the said State of Illinois having jurisdiction of the premises to appoint a new trustee to supply said vacancy: and such new trustee, appointed in the manner aforesaid, shall become vested for the purposes aforesaid with all the rights and interests requisite to enable him to execute the purposes of this trust, without any further assurance or conveyance of the same. But should it be desirable or necessary, the said parties hereto shall all execute and deliver such releases and conveyances as counsel shall advise; it being further expressly understood that the trustee thus appointed shall be fully empowered to execute all the purposes of this trust.

It is also expressly understood and agreed no bond shall be deemed to be secured by or issued under this mortgage unless the same is countersigned by the trustee herein named, or its successors in said trust; and that the proceeds of the above-mentioned bonds of said first party, or so much thereof as may be necessary for that purpose, shall be applied to the payment of the present outstanding bonds of said railway company as aforesaid, and for no other purpose whatsoever.

And the said party of the second part hereby accepts the trust created by these presents.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have caused their corporate names to be hereunto subscribed by their respective presidents, and their corporate seals to be hereto affixed and attested by their respective secretaries, all on the day and year first above written.

THE CHICAGO AND IOWA RAILROAD COMPANY

THE OGLE AND CARROLL COUNTY RAILROAD COMPANY.

THE CHICAGO, ROCKFORD AND NORTHERN RAILROAD COMPANY.

THE CHICAGO AND IOWA RAILROAD COMPANY.

This Company was incorporated under a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature, in force March 30, 1869. By this Act the Company was authorized to construct a railroad "from the City of Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, over the most eligible route, to a crossing of Rock River at or near the town of Oregon, in the County of Ogle, in said state; from thence over the most eligible route, through the Counties of Ogle and Carroll, in said state, to the Mississippi River, at Savanna, in said Carroll County; and from thence up, along or near said river, to the City of Galena."

By Section 9 the company was authorized "to unite, connect or consolidate its railroad, or any part thereof, with any other railroad constructed, or which may hereafter be constructed, in this state, or in the State of Iowa, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by and between the several companies."

Prior to the date of the incorporation of this company, the Illinois Legislature, in 1857, had granted a Charter to a company under the name of "The Ogle and Carroll County Railroad Company," authorizing the construction of a railroad along the same route as specified for this company, but although organized in 1860, that company took no steps to build its road until 1869, when it secured the financial backing of the Chicago and Iowa Company, with the result that its road was completed from Rochelle to Oregon (16.24 miles) in 1871. Meantime the Chicago and Iowa was constructing its road from Aurora, westerly to connect with the Ogle and Carroll County road at Rochelle and of date June 1, 1870, Articles of Consolidation between the two companies were adopted whereby the Ogle and Carroll County company was merged into the Chicago and Iowa Company, whose line was completed to Rochelle from Aurora (44.24 miles) in January, 1871, and thereafter it was operated as a part of the Chicago and Iowa Railroad.

At the same time this company was carrying on the extension of its own line from Oregon westerly to Forreston, (17.96 miles) which was commenced in 1869 and completed in January, 1872.

Soon afterwards (1874) this company promoted the organization of The Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company for a road from Flag Center northerly to Rockford, (23.50 miles) which was completed to Rockford in July, 1875.

Of date July 1, 1875, this company took a lease of said Rockford branch, so that after said date these three properties, (101.94 miles) were operated and known as the Chicago and Iowa Railroad, connecting at South Aurora with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

Meanwhile, beginning in April, 1870, the Chicago and Iowa Company entered into various contracts with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Company for carrying its business into Chicago, and for divisions of joint revenue, etc., and providing that the Burlington Company should devote its earnings from the joint business to creating a Sinking Fund for the purchase of the mortgage bonds of the Chicago and Iowa Company, which had executed first and second mortgages upon its road.

The Chicago and Iowa Company defaulted in the payment of interest upon its mortgage bonds, and suit was brought in July, 1877, in the United States Circuit Court at Chicago, and decree entered of date December 4, 1877, foreclosing the mortgages and ordering the road to be sold. Of date August 1st, 1877, W. H. Holcomb was appointed Receiver in said proceedings, and took possession of the road from Aurora to Forreston and operated it until July 1, 1882, when possession was restored to this company.

In 1875, the Chicago, Rockford and Northern mortgaged its road to secure an issue of bonds, and in 1877 defaulted in the payment of interest, and suit to foreclose was brought in the Circuit Court of Lee County, Illinois. Otis R. Glover was appointed Receiver, and his receivership continued until March 29, 1881.

In August, 1877, Glover as Receiver of the Rockford branch made a contract with Holcomb, Receiver, in the form of a Lease dated January 5, 1878, under which Holcomb operated both roads until March 29, 1881, after which possession was resumed by the Chicago and Iowa under the Lease of July 1, 1875, and continued until January 1, 1892.

Meantime, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Company had acquired control of all said properties with the following results:

First: Of date January 1, 1892, the Rockford branch was deeded in fee simple to The Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company.

Second: Of date January 1, 1892, the Chicago and Iowa road was leased to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy for an indefinite term, and on March 16, 1899, this Lease was amended to read that it should continue in perpetuity.

Third: Of date June 1, 1899, the entire Chicago and Iowa road was conveyed to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company by deed in fee simple.

This Indenture, made and entered into this first day of January, A. A correct schedule or memorandum of the engines, cars, and other rolling stock and personal property, leased as aforesaid, is hereto annexed, together with the estimated value thereof; and it is agreed that, if, for any reason, the second party cannot, at the expiration of the lease, return to the first party the identical articles so scheduled, then others of equal value may be substituted therefor.

“from the town of Lane, in the county of Ogle and State of Illinois, to the town of Oregon, in said county; from thence to the town of Mount Morris; from thence, on the most eligible and direct route to or near the town of Mount Carroll, in the County of Carroll; and from thence to the Mississippi River; and also the right to construct said railroad east, from Oregon to the City of Chicago, in said state.”

An Amendment, in force February 24, 1859, authorizes the construction of a railroad

“from the east bank of Rock River, opposite the town of Oregon, in Ogle County, Illinois; from thence, on the most eligible route, to the Galena & Chicago Union Air Line Railroad.”

An Amendment in force March 30, 1869, authorized the building of a railroad as follows:

“That the first division of said road shall commence on the east bank of Rock River, opposite the town of Oregon, in said County of Ogle; from thence, on the most eligible route, to a connection with the Chicago & North Western Railway, or with any other railroad leading to the City of Chicago, and the second division commencing at said point, opposite the said town of Oregon, and running thence in a westerly direction, on the most eligible route to the Mississippi River.”

V.

The Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that the Complainant Francis E. Hinckley subscribed to the Capital stock of the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company for forty two (42) shares thereof one hundred ($100) dollars each and that he paid for the same in money, labor and property which was actually received and applied to the purposes of constructing, maintaining and operating the said line of railroad and that he is now the bona fide owner and holder of said forty-two shares of the Capital stock of said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company.

VI.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that D. B. Waterman subscribed to the Capital stock of said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company for two (2) shares thereof which shares were paid for by him in labor actually performed for, received and applied by said Railroad Company for the purpose of constructing maintaining and operating the said line of Railroad and that a certificate for such two shares of stock was duly issued by said Railroad Company and is now outstanding.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that George M. Hunt was also a subscriber to the Capital stock of said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company for one (1) share thereof which said share of stock was paid for by the said Hunt in labor actually performed for said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and received and applied by it for the purposes of constructing, maintaining and operating said line of Railroad and a certificate of such share of stock issued by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company is now outstanding.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that George W. Adams was a subscriber for one (1) share of the Capital stock of the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and that he paid for the said one share of stock in labor actually performed by him for said Railroad Company and which was applied by it in the construction, maintainance and operation of said line of railroad and that a certificate of such one share of stock was duly issued by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and is now outstanding.

VII.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that the defendant Robert H. Tinker on or about March 1st, A. D. 1876, subscribed to the Capital stock of said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company for four hundred and fifty (450) shares thereof at one hundred ($100) each amounting to forty five thousand dollars.

That certificates therefor numbered eight (8) nine (9) ten (10) and eleven (11) for one hundred shares each and certificate number twelve (12) for fifty shares were issued by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company to said R. H. Tinker bearing date March 1st, 1876.

That said Robert H. Tinker paid no consideration whatever for said shares of the Capital stock of said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company or for any share thereof to said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company at the time of making such subscription to its Capital stock, or at any time thereafter, and that the said Robert H. Tinker never agreed to pay the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company any sum or value therefor or for any share thereof and that the said Certificates were so issued by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company without any consideration. Having been paid or agreed to be paid by said Robert H. Tinker to the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and that said certificates were and are and each of them was and is wholly fraudulent and void in whose hands soever they may be.

VIII.

The Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that afterwards on or about the fourth (4) day of March, A. D. 1880, the said Robert H. Tinker surrendered to the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company certificates of stock numbers eight (8) and nine (9) for one hundred (100) shares each and certificates number twelve (12) for fifty shares and that on that day stock certificates, but not under the seal of the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Rail Road Company were issued in lieu of said three certificates as follows: One to George Willard for fifty (50) shares in lieu of stock certificate number twelve (12) as aforesaid: a certificate without number for one hundred shares to James F. Meagher in lieu of one of said returned certificates and a stock certificate without number to Henry S. Hawley for one hundred (100) shares in lieu of one of said certificates so surrendered as aforesaid.

IX.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that neither the said George Willard, James F. Meagher nor said Henry S. Hawley paid or agreed to pay any consideration or thing of value to the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, for said Stock or Stock Certificates or either of them, so issued and delivered to them as aforesaid, but that the said certificates issued to said George Willard, Henry S. Hawley and James F. Meagher defendants in this cause there were and are now wholly fraudulent and void and that the assignment and transfer of said certificates by said Tinker to said Willard, Hawley and Meagher were merely colorable and that the certificates so as aforesaid issued to said Willard, Hawley and Meagher by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company were so issued at the request of said Robert H. Tinker.

X.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that the defendants, Robert H. Tinker, George Willard, James F. Meagher and Henry S. Hawley within ten days from the entry of this decree deliver to the Clerk of this Court the said certificates of stock as held and claimed to be owned by them as aforesaid and any and all other certificates for shares of stock in the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company held by them or either of them and which were issued or pretended to have been issued by the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company in lieu or in place of the aforesaid certificate or either of them for cancellation and that the Clerk of this Court, on receipt of said certificate, cancel the same and deliver the same when cancelled to Benjamin T. Lewis, Secretary of the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company.

XII.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that the injunction heretofore granted in this Cause be and the same hereby is continued and made perpetual.

XIII.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that upon the hearing of this cause the complainants in the Original Bill with the consent of Complainants in the Cross-Bill and with leave of the Court, dismissed the said Bill as to the 500 shares of stock alleged in said Bill to have been issued by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company to Francis E. Hinckley in trust for the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company and withdraw from the consideration of the Court all matters and things touching and concerning the said 500 shares of stock and this Court therefore does not pass upon any question concerning the same nor in this decree to be held or construed as determining the validity "of" invalidity of said 500 shares of stock or any matter or thing pertaining to the same, but this decree is entered without prejudice to the rights of any person interested in said 500 shares of stock and all rights of such persons and all matters concerning said 500 shares of stock are hereby reserved to be adjudicated upon at such time, place and manner as the parties interested therein may be advised.

XIV.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company on or about September 12th, A. D. 1876, but under date of October 1st, A. D. 1875, executed and delivered to Ralph Plumb and Arthur B. Meeker as Trustees, a deed of trust or Mortgage upon its said line of railroad together with all its property, income and franchises to secured an issue of bonds authorized to be issued thereunder in the aggregate amount of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) which deed of trust or mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Recorder of Winnebago County Sept. 14th, A. D. 1876, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon in Book 48 of Mortgages at page 439 and in the office of the Recorder of Ogle County Sept. 19th, A. D. 1876, in Book 32 of Mortgages at page 122 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, which deed of trust or mortgage still remains of record in said Counties. That the said Ralph Plumb and Arthur B. Meeker accepted the trust created by said trust deed or mortgage and entered upon the discharge of the duties thereof.

That afterwards the said Arthur B. Meeker resigned his Trusteeship under said deed of trust or mortgage and that the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and said Ralph Plumb under and pursuant to the provisions of said trust deed or mortgage duly appointed J. Irving Pearce a Trustee to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of the said Arthur B. Meeker, and that the said J. Irving Pearce accepted said Trust and has thence hitherto acted and now acts as and is a Trustee under said Trust deed or mortgage.

XV.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that there were executed by the officers of the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company bonds in the aggregate amount of one hundred and fifty thousand ($150,000.00) Dollars consisting of one hundred and fifty (150) bonds of one thousand dollars ($1000) each in accordance with the terms of said mortgage or deed of Trust: and that the said defendant Ralph Plumb and the said Arthur B. Meeker while acting as such trustees as aforesaid certified to the said Bonds: But that neither of the said one hundred and fifty (150) bonds nor either of them were ever issued, negotiated, sold, transferred or delivered by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company nor by any person acting under authority from said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company so to do to any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, and that the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company never received from any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations any consideration or thing of value whatever for any one of said Bonds: but that the said one hundred and fifty thousand ($150,000) dollars of Bonds were taken possession of by persons unauthorized by said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company or without paying or agreeing to pay any consideration therefor or for any part or portion thereof and were appropriated to the use of such persons without any authority from the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and that the said one hundred and fifty thousand ($150,000) dollars of Bonds were and each and every one of said Bonds was at the time they were taken possession of by such unauthorized persons wholly without consideration and void and that they have thence hitherto continued to be and now are wholly illegal and void in the hands of whomsoever they may be.

XVI.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that at the time of the filing of the Bill and Cross-Bill in this cause and at the present time, Robert H. Tinker one of the defendants herein had and now has in his possession and under his control and claims to be the owner of one hundred and twenty-five (125) of said one hundred and fifty (150) bonds numbered six hundred and one (601) to seven hundred and twenty-six (726) both inclusive.

XVII.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees, that the said Robert H. Tinker came in possession of said one hundred and twenty-five thousand ($125,000) dollars of bonds without paying or agreeing to pay any consideration whatsoever therefor or for any or either of said bonds to the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, and that he received the same without consideration and without authority from the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and in fraud of its rights and the rights of its Creditors and bona fide stockholders and that the said bonds were and that each of them was at the time he received the same and thence hitherto have continued to be and now are wholly void in his hands and in the hands of any transferee, by him and are held by him or them in fraud of the rights of the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company and its Creditors and bonafide stockholders.

XVIII.

And the Court further finds, adjudges and decrees that Francis E. Hinkley, one of the complainants in the said original bill, has in his possession and claims to own the other twenty-five (25) bonds, that he received the same without consideration paid or agreed to be paid by him therefor and that the same were at the time he received the same and now are wholly illegal and void in his hands.

XIX.

And the Court further adjudges and decrees that the said Robert H. Tinker produce and deliver to the Clerk of this Court within ten days from the entry of this decree the said one hundred and twenty-five (125) bonds so held by him for cancellation and that the Clerk of this Court thereupon cancel the same; and that the said Francis E. Hinckley within like time produce and deliver to the Clerk of this Court said twenty-five (25) bonds so held by him for cancellation and that the said Clerk on receipt thereof cancel the same and when so cancelled, that he deliver the whole $150,000 of said bonds so cancelled to Benjamin T. Lewis, Secretary of the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company.

XX.

And the Court further adjudges and decrees that within ten days after the entry of this decree the said Ralph Plumb and J. Irving Pearce as Trustees under said deed of trust or mortgage execute, acknowledge and record in the Recorders Office of the Counties of Winnebago and Ogle a proper satisfaction and discharge of the said deed of trust or mortgage so as to fully cancel the same of record in said Counties of Ogle and Winnebago and in case of the failure of the said trustees to so cancel and discharge the said Deed of Trust or Mortgage within the time aforesaid then and in that case it is adjudged and decreed that John C. Seyster Esq. who is hereby appointed a special Master in Chancery of this Court for that purpose (James H. Cartwright the Master in Chancery of this Court, being of counsel in this case) do in due form of law, cancel and discharge of record the said deed of trust or mortgage in the said Counties of Ogle and Winnebago and that when so discharged by the Trustees, or, on their failure so to do, by the said Master in Chancery of this Court, that said deed of trust or mortgage be fully satisfied, discharged and cancelled of record and shall thereupon and thereafter be held for naught.

XXI.

And the Court further finds adjudges and decrees that the Clerk of this Court be and he hereby is authorized and directed on the request of the plaintiffs to require the attendance in person of the said Robert H. Tinker, George Willard, Henry S. Hawley and James F. Meagher and that he is hereby authorized to administer an oath to each of them and that they and each of them deliver under oath, to the said Clerk the said and any and all certificates for the Shares of stock held and owned by each of them in said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company for the purposes hereinbefore adjudged and decreed and that the said Robert H. Tinker deliver the said one hundred and twenty-five thousand ($125,000) dollars of bonds to the said Clerk of this Court and the said Francis E. Hinckley the said twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars of bonds to said Clerk for the purposes hereinbefore adjudged and decreed.

The Bill filed by James Campbell in the United States Circuit Court for the Northern District of Illinois against the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company was duly dismissed March 29th, 1881, and is not now pending and that one-half of the costs of this cause be paid by the said Robert H. Tinker and the other half by the said Francis E. Hinckley.

Whereas, The second party is now in possession of and operating the said above described railroad, in connection with its own railroads, under a lease in perpetuity, and has offered to purchase the remaining interests, property, and franchises of the first party in and to said railroad, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter stated, which have been agreed to by the directors of both the said companies, and approved by the stockholders owning and holding two-thirds in amount of the capital stock of the parties of the first and second parts, in manner and form as required by law:

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, for and in consideration of five dollars to it in hand paid, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and other good and valuable considerations, has granted, bargained, and sold, and by these presents does grant, bargain, sell and convey, release, assign, and transfer, to the said party of the second part, all and singular the said above described railroad, and all its right, title, and interest therein; together with all rights of way, road-bed, bridges, and depot and other lands, or interest therein; and all station houses and other buildings and structures of whatever kind belonging thereto; together with all the fixtures and appurtenances appertaining to the said railroad, or in any manner connected therewith; also all rights, privileges, and franchises of the said party of the first part, in and to the aforesaid railroad; together with all other present and in future to be acquired property, of every kind and description, belonging to the said first party, except its franchise to be a corporation.

To Have and to Hold, the said railroad and lands, tenements, rights, privileges, and franchises, and other property, above mentioned and conveyed, to the said second party, its successors and assigns, forever.

And the said party of the second part covenants and agrees with the said party of the first part to equip the said railroad, or cause the same to be equipped, and to maintain and operate the same in such manner as to furnish reasonable accommodations to the public; to pay, or cause to be paid, all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed upon the said railroad and property, or any part thereof; and to assume all contracts, bonds, and other obligations, of whatsoever kind, and pay and discharge all debts and liabilities, both principal and interest, of the said party of the first part, as they may severally mature; and to issue and deliver to the owners and holders of the capital stock of the first party, one share of its own capital stock for every fifteen shares of the capital stock of said first party, upon the surrender and transfer to it of such shares of the first party's stock.

And to the end that the second party may have, hold, use, exercise, and enjoy the railroad and property and franchises of the first party, hereby conveyed and intended to be conveyed, and whether now existing or hereafter acquired, as fully as might be done by the first party, if this conveyance had not been made, the first party agrees to execute from time to time any additional assignment, conveyance, or assurance, and to perform any act, which the counsel of the second party may advise; for the purpose aforesaid, the first party agrees, if the second party shall so desire and advise, that it will keep up and maintain its corporate existence and organization.

TRUST MORTGAGE, November 1, 1869, The Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company to The Farmers Loan and Trust Company, Trustee.

This mortgage covers the Chicago and Iowa Railroad, and secures an issue of bonds amounting to $1,000,000. These bonds are dated Nov. 1, 1869, and mature Jan. 1, 1900, interest at the rate of eight per cent, payable semi-annually.

This Indenture, made this first day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, between the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, incorporated under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Illinois, of the first part, and the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York, a corporation duly organized by and under the laws of the State of New York, of the second part, witnesseth:—

Whereas, in pursuance of the power and authority in it duly vested, the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company has resolved to issue and negotiate a series of one thousand bonds for one thousand dollars each, numbered from one to one thousand inclusively and amounting in the aggregate to one million dollars, which said bonds are to be equally secured by these presents, and are to be of like tenor and in the form following:—

No. UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, STATE OF ILLINOIS, $1,000

CHICAGO AND IOWA RAILROAD COMPANY, FIRST MORTGAGE BOND.

Know all men by these presents: That the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company is indebted to the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York, or bearer, in the sum of one thousand dollars, lawful money of the United States of America, which the said company promises to pay to the said Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York, or the bearer hereof, on the first day of January in the year one thousand nine hundred, at the office of the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York, in the city of New York, with interest thereon after the first day of January, A. D. 1870, at the rate of eight per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, at the office of the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York, in the city of New York, on the first days of July and January in each year, on the presentation and surrender of the annexed coupons as they severally become due; and in case of the non-payment of any half-yearly instalment of interest which shall have become payable and shall have been demanded, if such default shall continue for six months after the maturity of the said instalment, the principal of this bond shall become due in the manner and with the effect provided in the deed of trust or mortgage hereinafter mentioned.

This bond is one of a series of one thousand bonds for one thousand dollars each, which form an issue of ten hundred bonds, numbered from one to ten hundred inclusively and amounting in the aggregate to one million dollars, all bearing date on the first day of November, A. D. 1869, and all of like tenor, and the payment of all of which bonds with interest is secured by a deed of trust or mortgage, dated the first day of November, A. D. 1869, made by said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company to the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York, trustee, and conveying the Chicago and Iowa Railroad and the equipments and appurtenances and things as therein described.

This bond shall pass by delivery or by transfer on the books of the company in the city of New York, after a registration of ownership certified hereon by the transfer agent of the company. No transfer except on the books of the company shall be valid unless the last transfer be to bearer, which shall restore transferability by delivery. But this bond shall continue subject to successive registrations and transfers to bearer as aforesaid, at the option of each holder.

This bond shall not become obligatory until it shall have been authenticated by a certificate indorsed hereon, and duly signed by the trustee.

In witness whereof, the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company has caused this bond to be signed by F. E. Hinckley, its president, and E. L. Chapman, its secretary, thereto duly authorized, and has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, the first day of November in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, and has also caused the signature of E. L. Chapman, its secretary, to be affixed to the coupons attached to said bonds in the manner provided by the vote of the directors of said company.

F. E. HINCKLEY,
President.
E. L. CHAPMAN,
Secretary.

Now this indenture witnesseth: That for and in consideration of the premises, and of the sum of one dollar to it duly paid by the party of the second part, and in order to secure the payment of the principal and interest of the said bonds according to the tenor thereof and of the coupons thereto annexed, the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, the party of the first part hereto, has granted, bargained, and sold, and by these presents does grant, bargain, sell, convey, and transfer unto the said party of the second part, and to its successors as continuing trustee and assigns, all and singular the railroad of the party of the first part, or which the said party of the first part is by law authorized to construct, from the city of Aurora, in Kane County, Illinois, to the Town of Rochelle in Ogle County, thence via the town of Oregon to the town of Forreston, or to the intersection of the track of the Illinois Central Railroad, in the county of Ogle and State of Illinois, as the same is or hereafter shall be constructed, including all the railways, ways, and rights of way, depot grounds, and other lands; all tracks, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, and other structures;

all depots, station houses, engine houses, car houses, freight houses, wood houses, and other buildings; and all machine shops and other shops, and all other real or personal estate held or acquired, or hereafter to be held or acquired by said company, its successors or assigns, for use in connection with the said railroad or the business thereof, and including also all locomotives, tenders, cars, and other rolling stock or equipments, and all machinery, tools, implements, fuel, and materials for constructing, operating, repairing, or replacing the said railroad or any part thereof, or any of its equipments or appurtenances, and all machinery of all kinds, and all and singular the other personal property of any nature, kind, and description whatever belonging to said company, and also all franchises connected with or relating to the said railroad, or to the construction, maintenance, or use of the said railroad, and all the property, franchises, rights, and things of whatsoever name or nature, now held or hereafter to be acquired by the said party of the first part, or its successors or assigns, together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments, and appurtenances to the said railroad, lands, and premises, or either thereof, belonging or in any wise appertaining, and the reversion and reversions, remainder and remainders, tolls, incomes, revenues, rents, issues, and profits thereof, and also all the estate, right, title, interest, property, possessions, claim and demand whatsoever, as well in law as in equity, of the said party of the first part of, in, and to the same and any and every part thereof, with the appurtenances.

To have and to hold the above mentioned and described railroad, real estate, personal property, and premises, with the appurtenances, unto the said party of the second part, and to its successors as continuing trustee and assigns; in trust nevertheless for the purposes herein expressed, to wit:—

ARTICLE 1. Until default shall be made in the payment of principal or interest of the said bonds or of some of them, the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company shall be suffered and permitted to possess, manage, operate, and enjoy the said railroad from Aurora to Forreston, with its equipments and appurtenances, and to take and use the rents, incomes, profits, tolls, and issues thereof in the same manner and with the same effect as if this deed of trust or mortgage had not been made.

ARTICLE 2. In case default shall be made in the payment of any interest or any of the said bonds according to the tenor thereof or of the coupons thereto annexed, or in any requirement to be done or kept by the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, and if such default shall continue for the period of six months, it shall be lawful for the said party of the second part by its duly authorized officer or officers, attorney or attorneys, agent or agents, to enter into and upon all and singular the premises hereby conveyed or intended so to be, and each and every part thereof, and to have, hold, and use the same, operating by its superintendents, managers, receivers, or servants, or other attorneys or agents, the said railroad, and conducting the business thereof, and making from time to time all repairs and replacements, and such useful alterations, additions, and improvements thereto as may seem judicious, and to collect and receive all tolls, freights, incomes, rents, issues, and profits of the same and of every part thereof; and after deducting the expenses of operating the said railroad and conducting its business, and of all the said repairs, replacements, alterations, additions, and improvements, and all payments which may be made for taxes, assessments, or charges, as well as a just compensation for its own services, to apply the moneys arising as aforesaid to the payment of interest in the order in which such interest shall have become or shall become due, ratably to the persons holding the coupons evidencing the right to such interest; and after paying all interest which shall have become due, to apply the same to the satisfaction of the principal of the aforesaid bonds which may be at that time unpaid, ratably and without discrimination or preference.

ARTICLE 3. In case default shall be made as aforesaid and shall continue as aforesaid, it shall likewise be lawful for the said party of the second part, after entry as aforesaid or other entry or without entry, to sell and dispose of all and singular the premises hereby conveyed or intended so to be, at public auction in the city of New York, or at such place within the State of Illinois as the said trustee may designate, and at such time as it may appoint, having first given notice of the place and the time of such sale by advertisement published not less than once a week for six weeks in one or more newspapers in the cities of New York and Chicago, or to adjourn the sale from time to time in its discretion, and if so adjourned, to make the same at the time and place to which the same may be adjourned without further notice, and to make and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers thereof a good and sufficient deed or deeds in the law for the same, in fee simple, which sale made as aforesaid shall be a perpetual bar both in law and equity against the parties of the first part and all other persons lawfully claiming or to claim the said premises or any part thereof by, from, through, or under them; and after deducting from the proceeds of such sale just allowances for all expenses of the said sale, including attorneys' and counsel fees and all other expenses, advances, or liabilities which may have been made or incurred by the said trustees in operating or maintaining the said railroad or in managing its business while in possession, and all payments which may have been made by it for taxes or assessments, as well as compensation for its own services, to apply the said proceeds to the payment of the principal of such of the aforesaid bonds as may be at that time unpaid, whether or not the same shall have previously become due, and of the interest which shall at that time have accrued on the said principal and be unpaid, without discrimination or preference, but ratably to the aggregate amount of such unpaid principal and accrued and unpaid interest; and if after the satisfaction thereof a surplus of the said proceeds shall remain, to pay over the same to the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, or to such other parties as may be entitled to receive the same.

And it is hereby declared that the receipt or receipts of the said trustee shall be a sufficient discharge to the purchaser or purchasers of the premises for his or their purchase money, and that such purchaser or purchasers, his or their heirs, executors, or administrators, shall not after payment thereof and having such receipt be liable to see to its being applied upon or for the trusts and purposes of these presents, or in any manner howsoever be answerable for any loss, misapplication, or non-application of such purchase money or any part thereof, or be obliged to inquire into the necessity, expediency, or authority of or for any such sale.

ARTICLE 4. At any sale of the aforesaid property or any part thereof, whether made by virtue of the power herein granted or by judicial authority, the trustee shall bid for and purchase or cause to be bid for and purchased the property so sold, or any part thereof, in behalf of all the holders of the bonds secured by this instrument and then outstanding, in the proportion of the respective interests of such bondholders, at a reasonable price, if but a portion of the said property shall be sold, at a price not exceeding the whole amount of such bonds outstanding, with the interest accrued thereon.

ARTICLE 5. In case default shall be made in the payment of any half-year's interest on any of the aforesaid bonds at the time and in the manner in the coupon issued therewith provided, the said coupon having been presented and the payment of the interest therein specified having been demanded, and that such default shall continue for the period of six months after the said coupon shall have become due, then and in either of such cases the principal of all the bonds secured hereby shall, at the election of the trustee, become immediately due and payable, anything contained in the said bonds or herein to the contrary notwithstanding; but a majority in interest of the holders of the said bonds may, in writing under their hands instruct the trustee to declare the said principal to be due or to waive the right so to declare, on such terms and conditions as such majority shall deem proper, or may annul or reverse the election of the trustees: provided, that no actions of the trustees or bondholders shall extend to or be taken to affect any subsequent default or to impair the rights resulting therefrom.

ARTICLE 6. The Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company shall from time to time and at all times hereafter, and as often as thereunto requested by the trustee, execute, acknowledge, and deliver all such further deeds, conveyances, and assurances in the law for the better assuring unto the trustee, and its successors in the trust hereby created, upon the trusts herein expressed, the railroad, equipments, and appurtenances hereinbefore mentioned or intended so to be, and all other property and things whatsoever which may be hereafter acquired for use in connection with the same, or any part thereof, and all franchises now held or hereafter acquired, including the franchise to be a corporation, as by the trustees or its successors, or by its counsel learned in the law, shall be reasonably advised, desired, or required.

ARTICLE 7. The trustee shall have full power in its discretion, and upon the written request of the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, to convey, by way of release or otherwise, to the persons designated by the said company, the whole or any part of the land acquired or held for the purpose of stations, depots, shops, or other buildings, or the uses connected therewith, and shall also have power to convey as aforesaid, on like request, any lands or property which in the judgment of the trustee shall not be necessary for use in connection with the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad, or which may have been held for a supply of fuel, gravel, or other material, and also to convey as aforesaid any lands which may become disused by reason of a change of the location of any station house, depot, shop, or other buildings connected with the said railroad, and such lands occupied by the track and adjacent to such station house, depot, shop, or other buildings as the said company may deem it expedient to disuse or abandon by reason of such change, and to consent to any such change and to such other changes in the location of the track as in their judgment shall have become expedient, and to make and deliver the conveyances necessary to carry the same into effect; but any lands that may be acquired for permanent use in substitution for any so released shall be conveyed to the trustee upon the trusts of these presents. And the trustee shall also have full power to allow the said company from time to time to dispose of, according to their discretion, such portions of the equipments, machinery, and implements at any time held or acquired for the use of the said railroad as may have become unfit for such use, replacing the same by new, which shall be conveyed to the trustee or be otherwise made subject to the operation of these presents.

ARTICLE 8. It is hereby declared and agreed that it shall be the duty of the trustee to exercise the power of entry hereby granted, or the power of sale hereby granted, or both, or to take appropriate legal proceedings to enforce the rights of the bondholders under these presents, upon the requisition in writing as hereinafter specified, as applicable to the several cases of default, in the manner and subject to the qualifications hereinafter provided as follows:—

First. If the default be as to interest or principal of any of the said bonds, such requisition upon the said trustee shall be by holders of not less than fifty thousand dollars in aggregate amount of said bonds; and upon such requisition, and a proper indemnification by the persons making the same to the trustee against the costs and expenses to be by it incurred, it shall be the duty of the trustee to enforce the rights of the bondholders under these presents, by entry, sale, or legal proceedings, as they, being advised by counsel learned in the law, shall deem most expedient for the interest of all the holders of said bonds.

Second. If the default be in the omission of any act or thing required by these presents for the further assuring the title of the trustee to any property or franchises now possessed or hereafter acquired, or in the omission to comply with any provision of these presents to be observed, performed, or kept by the said company, its successors or assigns, then and in either of such cases the trustee may enforce in its discretion, and upon the requisition aforesaid of a majority in amount of the holders of the bonds secured by these presents it shall be its duty, to enforce the rights of the bondholders by reason of such default; subject to the power hereby declared of a majority in interest of the holders of the said bonds, by requisition in writing under their hands, to instruct the said trustee to waive such default, or upon adequate indemnity as aforesaid to enforce the rights of the bondholders by reason thereof.

Provided, that no action of the said trustee or bondholders, or both, in waiving such defaults or otherwise, shall extend to or be taken to affect any subsequent default or to impair the rights resulting therefrom.

ARTICLE 9. If the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, shall well and truly pay the interest at the times and in the manner herein specified, and shall well and truly keep and perform all the things herein required to be kept or performed by the said company according to the true intent and meaning of these presents, then and in that case the estate, right, title, and interest of the said parties of the second part, and of their successors in the trust hereby created, shall cease, determine, and become void; otherwise the same be and remain in full force and virtue.

ARTICLE 10. It is mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that the word "trustee" as used in these presents shall be construed to mean the trustee for the time being, and that the said trustee shall be entitled to just compensation for all services which it may hereafter render in its trust, to be paid by the said company; that the said trustee or any successor may resign or discharge itself or himself of the trust created by these presents, by notice in writing to the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, three months before such resignation shall take effect, or such shorter time as they may accept as adequate notice, and upon the due execution of the conveyances hereinafter required; that the said trustee or any successor may be removed by the vote of a majority in interest of the holders of the aforesaid bonds and attested by an instrument under the hands and seals of the persons so voting; that in case at any time hereafter the said trustee or any trustee hereafter appointed shall resign or be removed as herein provided for, or by a court of competent jurisdiction, or shall become incapable or unfit to act in the said trust, a successor to such trustee shall be appointed by the holders for the time being of a majority in interest of the said bonds then outstanding, and the trustee so appointed shall thereupon become vested with all the powers, authorities, and estate granted to or conferred upon the party of the second part by these presents, and all the rights and interests requisite to enable it or him to execute the purposes of this trust, without any further assurance or conveyance, so far as such effect may be lawful; and the said trustee so resigning or being removed shall on the written request of the new trustee, who may be appointed immediately, execute a deed or deeds of conveyance, to vest in such new trustee and upon the trusts herein expressed all the property, rights, and franchises which may be at that time held upon the said trusts.

Provided, nevertheless, and it is hereby declared and agreed, that in case it shall at any time hereafter prove impracticable after reasonable exertions to appoint in the manner hereinbefore provided, in case that the trust shall become vacant, application in behalf of all the holders of the bonds secured hereby may be made by holders of the said bonds to the aggregate amount of fifty thousand dollars to any Circuit Court of the United States for any judicial district in which any part of the aforesaid railroad may be situate, or any other court of competent jurisdiction, for the appointment of a new trustee or new trustees.

In witness whereof, the said party of the first part has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, and the same to be attested by the signatures of its president and secretary; and the said party of the second part has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed and the same to be attested by the signatures of its president and secretary, to testify its acceptance of the trust hereby created, the day and year first above written.

TRUST MORTGAGE, July 1, 1871, The Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company to John W. Brooks and John W. Denison, Trustees.

This mortgage covers the Chicago and Iowa Railroad (subject to prior mortgage), and secures an issue of bonds amounting to $20,000 per mile. These bonds are dated July 1, 1871, have thirty years to run, bear interest at the rate of eight per cent, payable semi-annually, and mature Jan. 1, 1901.

(The bonds amounting to $1,000,000, dated November 1, 1869, and secured by mortgage of that date, to be taken up with bonds issued under this mortgage.)

This Indenture, made this first (1st) day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one (1871), between the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, a corporation duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and John W. Brooks and John N. Denison, of Boston, in the State of Massachusetts, trustees herein and parties of the second part, witnesseth:—

That whereas, the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, by authority of its charter, and under the laws of the State of Illinois duly authorizing the same, consolidated its stock and property with that of the Ogle and Carroll County Railroad Company, thereby constituting of said companies one corporation in law, under the name of the Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company; and

Whereas, the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, by virtue of such consolidation, and pursuant to the terms of its charter and other statutes and acts of the Legislature of said State of Illinois relating thereto, and of the organization of said company under and in accordance therewith, is authorized to construct and maintain a railroad from Joliet, in the county of Will and State of Illinois, by way of Aurora and Oregon to Foreston, in Ogle County in said State, a distance of one hundred and eleven (111) miles, and has already completed and in operation that part of its railroad between Aurora and Oregon, a distance of sixty-one (61) miles; and

Whereas, the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company is desirous of borrowing money in amount not exceeding twenty thousand (20,000) dollars per mile, for the purpose of constructing and equipping the remaining portion of its said railroad, in the construction of which it is now presently engaged, and for the purpose of defraying all the necessary expenses of right of way, transportation, interest on bonds, and all other charges connected with building, equipping and operating said railroad, and all the various appendages and appurtenances connected and to be connected therewith, and for the purpose of taking up the one thousand (1000) bonds of one thousand (1,000) dollars each issued by said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company before said consolidation, and has resolved to issue and negotiate a series of bonds therefor, in amount not exceeding twenty thousand ($20,000) dollars per mile, as aforesaid, upon its said railroad extending from Joliet to Foreston aforesaid, which said bonds are to be in sums of one thousand ($1,000) dollars each, bearing date the 1st day of July, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one (1871), having thirty (30) years to run to maturity, to bear interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, free of government tax, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July in each year, at the office of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, Boston, Massachusetts, where principal and interest are made payable, or at such other place as the said company may designate for that purpose: all of which said bonds are to bear the same date, and are to stand equally secured by this deed of trust, and are to be duly stamped with the revenue stamps required by law, and are to be numbered consecutively from number one (1) to the highest number which may be issued, inclusive; each of which said bonds is to be authenticated by a certificate signed by the trustees named in this deed of trust; and

Whereas, the said first party is authorized by its said charter and the laws aforesaid to secure said bonds by a mortgage of the whole or any part of its said railroad and property, and has therefore resolved to secure the punctual payment of the same, both principal and interest, by a trust mortgage of its said railroad, extending from Joliet to Foreston aforesaid, and of all of its corporate property and franchises of every nature and kind connected therewith, to the said party of the second part, trustees and mortgagees herein, for the benefit and security of the holders of said bonds.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, in order to secure the payment of its said bonds and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of five (5) dollars to it in hand paid by the said parties of the second part, at the ensealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained, sold, transferred, and conveyed, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, transfer, and convey to the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, all the following and all the above described property, to wit: all the present and in future to be acquired property of the said railroad company, in and relating to the said railroad, and all the right, title, interest, and equity of redemption therein, that is to say: all the railroad of said party of the first part, now made and to be constructed, extending from Joliet to Foreston aforesaid, including the right of way therefor, road bed, superstructure, iron, ties, chairs, splices, bolts, nuts, spikes, and all the lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, viaducts, bridges, timber, and materials, and property purchased or to be purchased for the construction of the said railroad, and all the engines, tenders, cars, and machinery, and all kinds of rolling stock now owned or to be hereafter purchased by said party of the first part, for and to be used upon said railroad; all the revenues and income of said railroad, and all the franchises and rights of said party of the first part relating thereto, and property acquired by virtue thereof, now in possession or hereafter to be acquired, including machine shops, tools, implements, and personal property used therein or along the line of said railroad.

To have and to hold the said railroad and property, and all and singular the said premises, and every part thereof, with the appurtenances, unto the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns; but for the following purposes and upon the following express trust, that is to say: in case the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company shall fail to pay the principal, or any part thereof, or any of the interest on any of the bonds secured or intended to be secured hereby, at any time when and where the same may become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and for thirty (30) days thereafter, then and in such case all of said bonds, both principal and interest, shall thereupon, at the option of the holders thereof, become due and payable; and at the request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds, the parties of the second part, their successors in said trust or assigns, may enter into and take possession of all and singular the railroad, premises, and property hereby conveyed, and as the attorneys in fact or agents of said first party, by themselves or their agents duly constituted, have, use, and employ the same, making from time to time all needful repairs, alterations, and additions thereto, and after deducting the expenses of such use, repairs, alterations, and additions, apply the proceeds of said premises to the payment of the principal and interest of all of such bonds remaining unpaid; or the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust or assigns, at their discretion may, and on the written request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds then unpaid, shall cause the said premises, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to discharge the principal and interest of all of said bonds as may be unpaid, together with the expense of sale, to be sold at public auction, at Chicago, in the said State of Illinois, after giving thirty days' notice of the time and place and terms of such sale, by publishing the same in one of the principal newspapers for the time being published in each of the cities of Boston and Chicago, and upon such sale to execute to the purchaser or purchasers thereof a good and sufficient deed or deeds of conveyance, in fee simple, for the same, which shall be a bar against the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company, party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and all persons claiming under it or them, of all right, interest, or claim in or to the said premises or any part thereof. And the said trustees shall, after deducting from the proceeds of said sale the cost and expense thereof, and of managing the said property, and enough to indemnify and save themselves harmless from and against all liabilities arising from this trust, apply so much of the proceeds of said property as may be necessary to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds remaining unpaid, whether the same may be then due and payable or otherwise, and shall restore the residue thereof to the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns: it being expressly understood and agreed that in no case shall any claim be made or advantage taken of valuation, appraisalment, redemption, or extension laws, by said party of the first part, its successors or assigns, nor any injunction or stay of proceedings be had, or any process be obtained or applied for by it or them to prevent such entry, sale, and conveyance, as aforesaid.

It is also hereby agreed and understood that it shall be lawful for the said railroad company, party of the first part, or its assigns, to dispose of the current net revenues of said road hereby conveyed, as it or they shall elect, until default shall be made in the payment of the principal or interest of said bonds, or of some one or more of them.

And the said party of the first part, for itself and its successors, hereby covenants and agrees to execute and deliver any further reasonable and necessary conveyance of the said premises or any part thereof, to the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, which counsel may advise, for the more fully conveying the said premises and carrying into effect the objects and purposes of these presents, and of making them embrace the property and effects so conveyed or intended to be conveyed.

It is hereby mutually agreed that upon the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, the estate hereby granted to the said parties of the second part shall be void, and the right to the premises and property hereby conveyed shall revert to and revest in said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, without any acknowledgment of satisfaction, reconveyance, re-entry, or other act.

And it is also hereby mutually agreed that the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, shall only be accountable for reasonable diligence in the management thereof, and shall not be responsible for the acts of any agent employed by them, when such agent shall have been employed with reasonable discretion; and that the said parties of the second part, and their successors in said trust and assigns, shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for their labor and services in the management of said trust.

It is further agreed and understood that the said trustees shall not in any manner be liable or responsible for the acts of each other, to which they do not severally assent; and that in case of the death, mental incapacity, or resignation of one of the said trustees to act in the matter of said trust, all his right, estate, interest, power, and control in the premises shall be divested, cease, and determine, and the said railroad company and the surviving trustee may mutually agree upon a new trustee to supply the said vacancy; or failing so to agree, the said party of the first part or its successors may, or in case of its failure to take proceedings therefor for thirty (30) days, the holders of a majority of said bonds may apply to any court in the said State of Illinois having jurisdiction of the premises, to appoint a new trustee to supply said vacancy; and such new trustee, appointed in the manner aforesaid, shall become vested, for the purposes aforesaid, with all the rights and interests requisite to enable him to execute with the other the purposes of this trust, without any further assurance or conveyance of the same. But should it be desirable or necessary, the said parties hereto shall all execute and deliver such releases and conveyances as counsel shall advise; it being further expressly understood that the surviving trustee shall be fully empowered to execute all the purposes of this trust, until said vacancy shall be so supplied.

It is hereby expressly understood and agreed that until the one thousand bonds above mentioned as having been issued by said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company before the said consolidation shall have been exchanged for the bonds herein specifically appropriated for that purpose, this indenture shall stand subject to such bonds and the trust mortgage securing the same.

It is hereby agreed and understood that the bonds herein provided for, and numbered from one (1) to one thousand (1,000), both inclusive, shall be issued by said trustees, for the purpose of exchanging and taking up said one thousand (1,000) bonds, now outstanding, and for no other purposes whatsoever; and that bonds numbered one thousand and one (1,001) to fourteen hundred and fifty (1,450), inclusive, are designed and appropriated for the construction and equipment of that portion of said railroad extending from Joliet to Aurora, and are to be issued by said trustees exclusively and only for the construction and equipment of that portion of said railroad.

It is also expressly understood and agreed that no bond shall be deemed to be secured by or issued under this mortgage unless the same is countersigned by the trustees herein named, or their successors in said trust, and that the proceeds of the above-mentioned bonds of said first party, or so much thereof as may be necessary for that purpose, shall be applied to the objects and purposes hereinafter mentioned, and not otherwise.

And the said parties of the second part hereby accept the trust created by these presents.

In Witness Whereof, the said Chicago and Iowa Railroad Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, attested by the secretary, and its corporate name to be hereunto subscribed by its president; and the said parties of the second part have also hereunto set their hands and seals, all on the day and year first above written.

TRUST MORTGAGE, July 1, 1875, The Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, to Robert P. Lane, Thomas D. Robertson, and Gilbert Woodruff, Trustees.

This mortgage covers the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad, and secures an issue of bonds amounting to $250,000. These bonds are dated July 1, 1875, have twenty years and three months to run, bear interest at the rate of eight per cent, payable semi-annually, and mature Oct. 1, 1895.

This Indenture, made this first day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (A. D. 1875), between the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, a corporation organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and Robert P. Lane, Thomas D. Robertson, and Gilbert Woodruff, of the city of Rockford in the State of Illinois, trustees herein and parties of the second part, witnesseth:—

That whereas, the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, pursuant to the terms of the statutes and acts of the Legislature of the State of Illinois creating it, and of the organization of said company under and in accordance herewith, is engaged in constructing a railroad to extend from a connection with the Chicago and Iowa Railroad at or near Rochelle, in the county of Ogle, to Rockford, in the county of Winnebago, in said State of Illinois, a distance of about twenty-four (24) miles, and has already located and laid the track of said railroad; and

Whereas, the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company is desirous of borrowing money to aid in the construction of and payment for materials and superstructure for said road, and has resolved to execute the bonds of said company therefor amounting to the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000) dollars, as follows, to wit:—

Bonds numbers one (1) to three hundred (300) inclusive, for one hundred ($100) dollars each; numbers three hundred and one (301) to four hundred (400) inclusive, for five hundred ($500) dollars each; and numbers four hundred and one (401) to five hundred and seventy (570) inclusive, for one thousand ($1,000) dollars each, all bearing date on the first day of July, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (1875), having twenty (20) years and three (3) months to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, and payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October in each year, at the Third National Bank of Chicago, Illinois, where both principal and interest are made payable, or at such other place as the said company may designate for that purpose: all of which said bonds are to bear the same date and are to stand equally secured by this deed of trust, and each of which said bonds is to be authenticated by certificate signed by at least two of the trustees named in this deed of trust.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, in order to secure the payment of the said bonds and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of five ($5) dollars to it in hand paid by the said parties of the second part at the ensembling and delivery of these presents, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained, sold, transferred, and conveyed, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, transfer, and convey to the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, all the following and all the above described property, to wit:—

All the present and in the future to be acquired property of the said railroad company in and relating to the said railroad, and all the right, title, interest, and equity of redemption therein, that is to say:—

All the railroad of said party of the first part, now made and to be constructed, extending from the connection at or near Rochelle to Rockford aforesaid, including the right of way therefor, road bed, superstructure, iron, ties, chairs, splices, bolts, nuts, spikes, and all the lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, viaducts, bridges, timber, and materials, and property purchased or to be purchased for the construction of the said railroad, and all kinds of property now owned or to be hereafter purchased by said party of the first part for and to be used upon said railroad; all the revenues and incomes of said railroad, and all the franchises and rights of said party of the first part relating thereto, and property acquired by virtue thereof, now in possession or hereafter to be acquired, including machine shops, tools, implements, and personal property belonging to said railroad company, and including depot and depot grounds in Rockford.

To have and to hold the said railroad and property, and all and singular the said premises and every part thereof, with the appurtenances, unto the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, but for the following purposes and upon the following express trust, that is to say:—

In case the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company shall fail to pay the principal or any part thereof, or any of the interest, on any of the bonds secured or intended to be secured hereby, at any time when and where the same may become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and for ninety (90) days thereafter, then and in such case all of said bonds, both principal and interest, shall thereupon at the option of the holders thereof become due and payable, and at the request of the holders of three fifths ($\frac{3}{5}$) of said bonds, the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust or assigns, may enter into and take possession of all and singular the said railroad premises and property hereby conveyed, and as the attorneys in fact or agents of said first party, by themselves or their agents duly constituted, have, use, and employ the same, making from time to time all needful repairs, alterations, and additions thereto, and after deducting the expenses of such use, repairs, alterations, and additions, apply the proceeds of said premises to the payment of the principal and interest of all of such bonds remaining unpaid; or the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust or assigns, at their discretion may, and on the written request of the holders of three fifths ($\frac{3}{5}$) of said bonds in amount then unpaid, shall cause the said premises, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to discharge the principal and interest of all of said bonds as may be unpaid, together with the expense of sale, to be sold at public auction at Rockford, in the said State of Illinois, after giving not less than sixty (60) days' notice of the time and place and terms of such sale by publishing the same in one of the newspapers for the time being published in the city of Rockford, and upon such sale to execute to the purchaser or purchasers thereof a good and sufficient deed or deeds of conveyance in fee simple for the same, which shall be a bar against the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and all persons claiming under it or them, of all right, interest, or claim in or to the said premises or any part thereof; and the said trustees shall, after deducting from the proceeds of said sale the cost and expense thereof, apply so much of the proceeds of said property as may be necessary to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds remaining unpaid, whether the same may be then due and payable or otherwise, and shall restore the residue thereof to the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns.

It is also hereby agreed and understood that it shall be lawful for the said railroad company, party of the first part, or its assigns, to dispose of the current net incomes of said road hereby conveyed, as it or they shall elect, until default shall be made in the payment of the principal or interest of said bonds, or of at least one half of them.

And the said party of the first part, for itself and its successors, hereby covenants and agrees to execute and deliver any further reasonable and necessary conveyance of the said premises, or any part thereof, to the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, which counsel may advise for the more fully conveying the said premises, and carrying into effect the objects and purposes of these presents, and of making them embrace the property and effects so conveyed or intended to be conveyed.

It is expressly understood that this and all such subsequent conveyances executed by said party of the first part to said party of the second part are in trust only, and that said party of the second part, their successors or assigns, do not hereby, or by any such subsequent conveyances, acquire an absolute title to said property, excepting as such trustees for the purposes hereby intended or expressed.

It is hereby mutually agreed that upon the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, the estate hereby granted to the said parties of the second part shall be void, and the right to the premises and property hereby conveyed shall revert to and revest in said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, without any acknowledgment of satisfaction, reconveyance, re-entry, or other act.

And it is also hereby mutually agreed that the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, shall only be accountable for reasonable diligence in the management thereof, and shall not be responsible for the acts of any agent employed by them, when such agent shall have been employed with reasonable discretion, and that the said parties of the second part, and their successors in said trust and assigns, shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for their labor and services in the management of said trust.

It is further agreed and understood that the said trustees shall not in any manner be liable or responsible for the acts of each other to which they do not severally assent, and that in case of the death, mental incapacity, or resignation of either of said trustees to act in the matter of said trust, all his right, estate, interest, power, and control shall be divested, cease, and determine, and the said railroad company and the surviving trustee or trustees may mutually agree upon a new trustee to supply the said vacancy; or failing so to agree, the said party of the first part or its successors may, or in case of its failure to take proceedings therefor, for ninety (90) days, the holders of a majority of said bonds may apply to any court in the said State of Illinois, having jurisdiction of the premises to appoint a new trustee to supply said vacancy; and such new trustee appointed in the manner aforesaid shall become vested for the purposes aforesaid with all the rights and interests requisite to enable him to execute with the others the purposes of this trust, without any further assurance or conveyance of the same. But should it be desirable or necessary, the said parties hereto shall all execute and deliver such releases and conveyances as counsel shall advise, to make said trust complete.

It is further expressly understood that the surviving trustee or trustees shall be fully empowered to execute all the purposes of this trust until said vacancy shall be supplied.

It is also expressly understood and agreed that no bond shall be deemed to be secured by or issued under this mortgage unless the same is countersigned by not less than two of the trustees herein named, or their successors in said trust.

And the said parties of the second part hereby accept the trust created by these presents.

In Witness Whereof, the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, attested by its secretary, and its corporate name to be hereunto subscribed by its president; and the said parties of the second part have also hereunto set their hands and seals all on the day and year first above written.

TRUST MORTGAGE, October 1, 1875. The Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company to Ralph Plumb and Arthur B. Meeker Trustees.

This mortgage covers the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad (subject to mortgage of July 1, 1875, for $250,000) and secures an issue of bonds amounting to $150,000. These bonds are dated Oct. 1, 1875, have twenty years to run, bear interest at the rate of eight per cent, payable semi-annually, and mature Oct. 1, 1895.

No. 68882.

This Indenture, made this first day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (A. D. 1875), between the Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, a corporation organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and Ralph Plumb and Arthur B. Meeker, of the city of Chicago and State of Illinois, trustees herein and parties of the second part, witnesseth:—

That whereas, the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, pursuant to the terms of the statutes and acts of the Legislature of the State of Illinois creating it, and of the organization of said company, and under and in accordance therewith, has constructed and put in operation a railroad extending from a connection with the Chicago and Iowa Railroad, at or near Rochelle, in the county of Ogle, to Rockford, in the county of Winnebago, in said State of Illinois, a distance of about twenty-four (24) miles.

And whereas, the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company is desirous of borrowing money to aid in the construction of and payment for material and superstructure for said road, and has resolved to execute the bonds of said company therefor, amounting to the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand ($150,000) dollars, as follows, to wit:—

Bonds numbered from No. six hundred and one (601) to seven hundred and fifty (750) inclusive, for one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, all bearing on the first day of October, A. D. 1875, and having twenty years to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum, and payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October in each year, both principal and interest payable at the Third National Bank of Chicago, Illinois, or at such other place as the said company may designate for that purpose. All of said bonds are to stand equally secured by this deed of trust, and each of said bonds is to be authenticated by a certificate signed by said trustees.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, in order to secure the payment of the said bonds and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of five ($5) dollars to it in hand paid by the said parties of the second part at the ensealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained, sold, transferred, and conveyed, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, transfer, and convey to the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns all the following and all the above described property, to wit:—

All the present and in future to be acquired property of the said railroad company in and relating to the said railroad, and all the right, title, interest, and equity of redemption therein, that is to say:—

All the railroad of said party of the first part, now made and to be constructed, extending from the connection at or near Rochelle to Rockford aforesaid, including the right of way therefor, road bed, superstructure, iron ties, chairs, splices, bolts, nuts, spikes, and all the lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, viaducts, bridges, timber, and materials, and property purchased or to be purchased for the construction of the said railroad, and all kinds of property now owned or to be hereafter purchased by said party of the first part for and to be used upon said railroad; all the revenues and income of said railroad, and all the franchises and rights of said party of the first part relating thereto, and property acquired by virtue thereof, now in possession or hereafter to be acquired, including machine shops, tools, implements, and personal property belonging to said railroad company, and including depot and depot grounds in Rockford.

Subject, nevertheless, to the lien of certain deed of trust made by said party of the first part to Robert P. Lane, Thomas D. Robertson, and Gilbert Woodruff, trustees, bearing date July 1, A. D. 1875 to secure the payment of $250,000 of the bonds of the said party of the first part; for a more full description whereof reference is hereby made to the record thereof in the recorder's office of Winnebago County, Illinois, in book 48 of Mortgages, at page 301, as also the record thereof in the recorder's office of Ogle County, Illinois, in book 32 of Mortgages, at page 4.

To have and to hold the said railroad and property, and all and singular the said premises and every part thereof, with the appurtenances, unto the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, but for the following purpose and upon the following express trust, that is to say:—

In case the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company shall fail to pay the principal or any part thereof, or any of the interest, on any of the bonds secured or intended to be secured hereby, at any time when and where the same may become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and for ninety (90) days thereafter, then and in such case all of said bonds, both principal and interest, shall thereupon, at the option of the holders thereof, become due and payable, and at the request of the holders of three fifths ($\frac{3}{5}$) of said bonds the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust or assigns, may enter into and take possession of all and singular the railroad premises and property hereby conveyed, and as the attorneys in fact or agents of said first party, by themselves or their agents duly constituted, have, use, and employ the same, making from time to time all needful repairs, alterations, and additions thereto, and after deducting the expenses of such use, repairs, alterations, and additions, apply the proceeds of said premises to the payment of the principal and interest of all such bonds remaining unpaid; or the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust or assigns, at their discretion may, and on the written request of the holders of three fifths ($\frac{3}{5}$) of said bonds in amount then unpaid, shall cause the said premises, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to discharge the principal and interest of all of said bonds as may be unpaid, together with the expense of sale, to be sold at public auction at Chicago, in the said State of Illinois, after giving not less than sixty (60) days' notice of the time and place and terms of such sale by publishing the same in one of the newspapers for the time being published in the city of Chicago, and upon such sale to execute to the purchaser or purchasers thereof a good and sufficient deed or deeds of conveyance in fee simple for the same, which shall be a bar against the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company, party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and all persons claiming under it or them, of all right, interest, or claim in or to the said premises, or any part thereof: and the said trustees shall, after deducting from the proceeds of said sale the costs and expenses thereof apply so much of the proceeds of said property as may be necessary to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds remaining unpaid, whether the same may be then due and payable or otherwise, and shall restore the residue thereof to the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns.

It is also hereby agreed and understood that it shall be lawful for the said railroad company, party of the first part, or its assigns, to dispose of the current net revenues of said road hereby conveyed as it or they shall elect, until default shall be made in the payment of the principal or interest of said bonds or of at least one half of them.

And the said party of the first part, for itself and its successors, hereby covenants and agrees to execute and deliver any further reasonable and necessary conveyance of the said premises, or any part thereof, to the said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, which counsel may advise for the more fully conveying the said premises, and carrying into effect the objects and purposes of these presents, and of making them embrace the property and effects so conveyed or intended to be conveyed.

It being expressly understood that by this and all such subsequent conveyances, executed by said party of the first part, the said parties of the second part, their successors or assigns, do not hereby or by any such subsequent conveyances acquire an absolute title to said property, excepting as such trustees for the purpose hereby indicated or expressed.

It is hereby mutually agreed that upon the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, the estate hereby granted to the said parties of the second part shall be void, and the right to the premises and property hereby conveyed shall revert to and revest in said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, without any acknowledgment of satisfaction, reconveyance, re-entry, or other act.

And it is also hereby mutually agreed that said parties of the second part, their successors in said trust and assigns, shall only be accountable for reasonable diligence in the management thereof, and shall not be responsible for the acts of any agent employed by them, when such agent shall have been employed with reasonable discretion; and that the said parties of the second part, and their successors in said trust and assigns, shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for their labor and services in the management of said trust.

It is further agreed and understood that the said trustees shall not in any manner be liable or responsible for the acts of each other to which they do not severally assent, and that in case of the death, mental incapacity, or resignation of either of the said trustees to act in the matter of said trust, all his rights, estate, interest, power, and control in the premises shall be devested, cease, and determine, and the said railroad company and the surviving trustee or trustees may mutually agree upon a new trustee to supply the said vacancy; or failing so to agree, the said party of the first part or its successors may, or in case of its failure to take proceedings therefor for ninety (90) days, the holders of a majority of said bonds may apply to any court in the said State of Illinois having jurisdiction of the premises to appoint a new trustee to supply said vacancy, and such new trustee appointed in the manner aforesaid shall become vested for the purposes aforesaid with all the rights and interests requisite to enable him to execute with the others the purposes of this trust, without any further assurance or conveyance of the same. But should it be desirable or necessary, the said parties hereto shall all execute and deliver such releases and conveyances as counsel shall advise to make said trust complete; it being further expressly understood that the surviving trustee or trustees shall be fully empowered to execute all the purposes of this trust until said vacancy shall be supplied.

It is also expressly understood and agreed that no bond shall be deemed to be secured by or issued under this mortgage unless the same is countersigned by not less than two of the trustees herein named or their successors in said trust.

And the said parties of the second part hereby accept the trust created by these presents.

In witness whereof, the said Chicago, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, attested by its secretary, and its corporate name to be hereto subscribed by its president; and the said parties of the second part have also hereunto set their hands and seals, all on the day and year first above written.

LEASE, October 9, 1872. The Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company to Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture, made and entered into this ninth day of October, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-two (1872), by and between the CHICAGO AND ROCK RIVER RAILROAD COMPANY of the first part and the CHICAGO, BURLINGTON AND QUINCY RAILROAD COMPANY, party of the second part, both corporations organized and existing in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas, the Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company is authorized by its charter and the laws of the State of Illinois to construct, maintain, and operate a railroad from Rock Falls on Rock River, in Whiteside County, by way of Lockport to Calumet on the Illinois Central Railroad, near Chicago.

And Whereas, the Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company has completed the first division of its railroad, extending from Rock Falls aforesaid to its junction with the Chicago and Iowa Railroad near Shabbona Grove, in De Kalb County, Illinois, a distance of about forty-five (45) miles, and made it ready for the equipment.

And Whereas, for the purpose of constructing said division of said railroad, said first party has executed and issued its bonds of the date of July first (1st), A. D. 1871, at the rate of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) per mile, amounting in the aggregate to nine hundred thousand dollars ($900,000), of one thousand dollars each, having thirty years to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, free of government tax and payable semi-annually, with both principal and interest payable at the office of the company in Chicago, Illinois, or at the agency of the company in Boston or New York, which said bonds are secured by a mortgage of its railroad, property, and franchise of even date with said bonds, executed to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York City, and recorded in the counties through which said road runs.

And whereas, the proceeds of the said bonds have only been sufficient for the construction and completion of the road-bed and superstructure, and after accomplishing so much said first party is unable to procure the full equipment necessary for the maintenance and operation of said railroad, and to operate the same and meet the interest on said bonds. And in order that said road may be equipped and operated, and the interest on said bonds be provided for, it has become necessary to make the arrangement with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company hereinafter mentioned.

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, for and in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said party of the second part, it, the said party of the first part, hath granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, all the following-described property of the said Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company, that is to say: its said railroad extending from Rock Falls to Calumet aforesaid, made and to be made, including right of way, lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, rails, ties, and other materials used therein, procured and to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depot grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, also all rolling stock, tools, and other property, real and personal, pertaining to said railroad and to the use thereof, now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said party of the first part, together with the rents, revenues, and incomes to be had, levied, and derived therefrom, and all rights, privileges, and franchises of said party of the first part of, in, to, or concerning the same or any part thereof.

To Have and to Hold the above-described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, right, privileges, and franchises appertaining thereto, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof in perpetuity, absolute and exclusive possession thereof to be delivered to and had by said party of the second part as soon as the road-bed and superstructure on the first division of said road, between Rock Falls and said junction aforesaid, shall have been completed, and the track laid thereon and ready for the equipment and rolling stock, and in the mean time the possession of the parties constructing said railroad shall be deemed and taken to be the possession of said second party.

And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said first party, hereby agrees that it and its successors and assigns will, as rent and in full payment of rent therefor, pay the semi-annually accruing interest on said nine hundred thousand dollars of said first mortgage bonds of said first party hereinbefore mentioned, at the time when and the place where the same shall become due and payable according to the tenor thereof.

Said party of the second part hereby further agrees to and with said first party, its successors and assigns, that it will cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on said demised road or any part thereof, and to take possession of said demised railroad premises and property, and as soon as the road-bed, track, and superstructure near Shabbona Grove shall be completed and ready for use, to place thereon such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be required in the transaction of the business of said division of said demised road, and at all times to keep the same equipped with such an amount of rolling stock as the business of the country through which said first division of said railroad runs may reasonably require, and also at all times to maintain the first division of said demised road and keep it in repair, to run and operate the same in connection with its own road and the Chicago and Iowa Railroad or otherwise, and in such manner as shall furnish reasonable accommodations to the public; and that it will at all times save said first party and its successors harmless from damage or liabilities that may be occasioned or incurred by the party of the second part in the management, maintenance, and operation of said section of railroad.

And the said party of the first part, in consideration of the premises, hereby agrees that the capital stock of its said railroad company shall be fixed and remain at one million dollars ($1,000,000), and that no greater or further amount of capital stock shall be created, authorized, or issued unless with the full consent and approval in writing of said second party.

And that for the considerations aforesaid, it will and does hereby assign, transfer, and set over to James M. Walker, president of the said party of the second part, and his successors in said office, all of said one million dollars of said capital stock, except such as has heretofore been issued or agreed to be issued to towns, municipalities, and individuals to aid in the construction of said railroad.

It is hereby mutually agreed and understood that in case said party of the second part should become the purchaser of the bonds herein mentioned or any part of them, the same shall not thereby be cancelled, but in the possession or ownership of said second party they shall be deemed and taken to be an outstanding indebtedness against said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and a valid and continuing lien upon the railroad and property mentioned and described in said mortgage securing the same, and on every part and parcel thereof.

It is further mutually agreed that at the maturity of said bonds said first party shall, at the request of said second party, cause to be made, executed, and issued in due form other bonds in their stead, of like character and amount and drawing the same rate of interest and having the same length of time to run to maturity, with which or with the proceeds of which the aforesaid bonds may be taken up and cancelled; and that it will secure the said new issue of bonds by a trust mortgage executed in due form, covering and embracing the same premises and property included in that already executed securing said present issue of bonds; and so on from time to time, as one issue of bonds shall mature, the same may be taken up in a like manner herein provided by another issue, executed and secured in the same manner, so long as said second party, its successors and assigns, may desire.

And the said first party hereby clothes said second party, its successors and assigns, with all needful authority, in the name and under the seal of said first party or otherwise, to do and transact any business that may be needful in the maintenance, management, and conduct of said demised railroad and premises; and also to execute said issues and successive issues of bonds provided for in this contract in case said first party shall neglect or fail to issue the same upon the request of said second party, its successors and assigns.

The provisions of this contract and each and every of them shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed by their respective presidents, and their corporate seals to be attached by their secretaries, as of the day and year first above written.

This Indenture, made this first day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one (1871), between the Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company, a corporation duly organized under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York City, trustee herein, party of the second part, witnesseth:—

That whereas, the Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company, pursuant to the terms of the special charter creating said company, and other acts of the Legislature of the said State of Illinois creating it, and of the organization of said company under and in accordance therewith, is engaged in constructing a railroad to extend from Rock Falls, in Whiteside County in said State of Illinois, running in an easterly direction to a place called Calumet Station, in Cook County, in said State, a distance of about one hundred and ten miles, and has already located and graded a portion of said road, and is now engaged in laying iron on the same.

And whereas, the said Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company is desirous of borrowing money to an amount not exceeding twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) per mile on the length of their said road, to aid in the construction of, and to be applied to the purchase and transportation of or in payment for materials, superstructure, and equipments for said road, and has resolved to execute the bonds of said company therefor in amounts not exceeding twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) per mile, as aforesaid, upon its said railroad extending from Rock Falls to Calumet Station aforesaid, which said bonds are to be in sums of one thousand dollars ($1,000), each bearing date the first day of July, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-one, having thirty years to run to maturity, to bear interest at eight per cent per annum, free of government tax, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July in each year, at the office of the company in the city of Chicago, or at the office of their agency in the city of New York or in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, where both principal and interest are made payable, or at such other place as the said company may designate for that purpose; all of which said bonds are to bear the same date and are to stand equally secured by this deed of trust and are to be duly stamped with the revenue stamps required by law and are to be numbered consecutively from number one to the highest number which may be issued, inclusive, each of which said bonds is to be authenticated by a certificate signed by the trustee in this deed of trust.

And whereas, the said first party is authorized by its said charter and the laws aforesaid to secure said bonds by a mortgage of the whole or any part of its said railroad and property, and has therefore resolved to secure the punctual payment of the same, both principal and interest, by a trust mortgage of its said railroad extending from Rock Falls to Calumet aforesaid, and of all of its corporate property and franchises of every nature and kind connected therewith, to the said party of the second part, trustees and mortgagees herein, for the benefit and security of the holders of said bonds.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth: That the said Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company, in order to secure the payment of its said bonds and the interest thereon, and in consideration of the sum of five dollars to it in hand paid by the said party of the second part, at the ensembling and delivery of these presents, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained, sold, transferred, and conveyed, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, transfer, and convey to the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns, all the following and all the above described property, to wit: all the present and in future to be acquired property of the said railroad company in and relating to the said railroad, and all the right, title, interest, and equity of redemption therein, that is to say: all the railroad of said party of the first part, now made and to be constructed, extending from Rock Falls to Calumet aforesaid, including the right of way therefor, road bed, superstructure, iron, ties, chairs, splices, bolts, nuts, spikes, and all the lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, viaducts, bridges, timber and materials, and property purchased or to be purchased for the construction of the said railroad, and all the engines, tenders, cars, and machinery, and all kinds of rolling stock now owned or to be hereafter purchased by said party of the first part, for and to be used upon said railroad; all the revenues and franchises and rights of said party of the first part relating thereto, and property acquired by virtue thereof, now in possession or hereafter to be acquired, including machine shop, tools, implements, and personal property used therein or along the line of said railroad.

To have and to hold the said railroad and property, and all and singular the said premises and every part thereof, with the appurtenances, unto the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns, but for the following purposes and upon the following express trust, that is to say: in case the said Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company shall fail to pay the principal or any part thereof, or any of the interest on any of the bonds secured or intended to be secured hereby, at any time when and where the same may become due and payable according to the tenor thereof, and for thirty days thereafter, then and in such case all of said bonds, both principal and interest, shall thereupon, at the option of the holders thereof, become due and payable; and at the request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds, the party of the second part, its successors in said trust or assigns, may enter into and take possession of all and singular the railroad premises and property hereby conveyed, and as the attorneys in fact or agents of said first party, by themselves or their agents duly constituted, have, use, and employ the same, making from time to time all needful repairs, alterations, and additions, apply the proceeds of said premises to the payment of the principal and interest of all of such bonds remaining unpaid; or the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust or assigns, at their discretion may, and on the written request of the holders of one tenth of said bonds then unpaid, shall cause the said premises, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to discharge the principal and interest of all of said bonds as may be unpaid, together with the expenses of sale, to be sold at public auction at Chicago in the said State of Illinois, after giving thirty days' notice of the time and place and terms of such sale, by publishing the same in one of the principal newspapers for the time being published in each of the cities of Chicago, Illinois, New York City, and Boston, Mass., and upon such sale to execute to the purchaser or purchasers thereof a good and sufficient deed or deeds of conveyance in fee simple for the same, which shall be a bar against the said Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company, party of the first part, its successors and assigns, and all persons claiming under it or them, of all right, interest, or claim in or to the said premises, or any part thereof; and the said trustee shall, after deducting from the proceeds of said sale the expense thereof, and of managing the said property, and enough to indemnify and save themselves harmless from and against all liabilities arising from this trust, apply so much of the proceeds of said property as may be necessary to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds remaining unpaid, whether the same may be then due and payable or otherwise, and shall restore the residue thereof to the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns. It being expressly understood and agreed that in no case shall any claim be made or advantage taken of valuation, appraisal, redemption, or extension laws by said party of the first part, its successors or assigns, nor any injunction or stay of proceedings be had, or any process be obtained or applied for by it to them, to prevent such entry, sale, and conveyance as aforesaid.

It is also hereby agreed and understood that it shall be lawful for the said railroad company, party of the first part, or its assigns, to dispose of the current net revenues of said road hereby conveyed as it or they shall elect, until default shall be made in the payment of the principal or interest of said bonds or some one or more of them; and the said party of the first part, for itself and its successors, hereby covenants and agrees to execute and deliver any further reasonable and necessary conveyance of the said premises or any part thereof to the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns, which counsel may advise for the more fully conveying the said premises, and carrying into effect the objects and purposes of these presents, and of making them embrace the property and effects so conveyed or intended to be conveyed.

It is hereby mutually agreed that upon the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, the estate hereby granted to the said party of the second part shall be void, and the right to the premises and property hereby conveyed shall revert to and revest in said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, without any acknowledgment of satisfaction, reconveyance, re-entry, or other act; and it is also hereby mutually agreed that the said party of the second part, its successors in said trust and assigns, shall only be accountable for reasonable diligence in the management thereof, and shall not be responsible for the act of any agent employed by them, when such agent shall have been employed with reasonable discretion; and that the said party of the second part, and its successors in said trust and assigns, shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for their labor and services in the management of said trust. It is hereby agreed and understood that for all purposes herein contained, the Chicago and Rock River Railroad shall be considered to be divided into two divisions: the first forty-five miles of said road running east from Rock Falls, the same or most of which is now graded, shall be known as the first division, and the balance of said road shall be known as the second division.

It is hereby further agreed and understood that the bonds herein provided for and numbered from one (1) to nine hundred, both inclusive, shall be issued by said trustee, for the purpose, and the same are hereby designated and appropriated for the construction and equipment of that portion of said railroad known herein as the first division, and they are to be issued by the said trustee exclusively and only for the construction thousand dollars ($20,000) per mile, and the bonds herein provided for in and equipment of that portion of said railroad, and not to exceed twenty the second division of said railroad shall not be issued by said trustee until the railroad is wholly graded and bridged ready for the ties and iron, and not in any case to exceed twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) per mile. It is also expressly understood and agreed that no bond shall be deemed to be secured by or issued under this mortgage unless the same is countersigned by the trustee herein named in said trust, and that the proceeds of the above-mentioned bonds of said first party, or so much thereof as may be necessary for that purpose, shall be applied to the objects and purposes hereinbefore mentioned, and not otherwise: provided, nevertheless, that the said party of the second part shall and may deliver to said railroad company the said bonds issued for the respective divisions of said railroad from Rock Falls easterly to Calumet Station, as hereinbefore mentioned, upon the orders of the president and secretary of said company, and the certificate of the said officers that the proceeds of said bonds are to be used exclusively and only for the construction and equipment of said railroad, and that the said bonds so delivered do not exceed twenty thousand dollars per mile; and the said party of the second part shall not be liable for any breach or omission of said railroad company to perform or comply with the provisions of this instrument, having reference to the delivery of said bonds by the party of the second part.

And the said party of the second part hereby accepts the trust created by these presents.

In witness whereof, the said Chicago and Rock River Railroad Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, attested by the secretary, and its corporate name to be hereunto subscribed by its president, and the said party of the second part has also hereunto set its hand and seal, all on the day and year first above written.

LEASE, January 2, 1888, Illinois Valley and Northern Railroad Company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture of Contract and Lease, Made this Second day of January A. D., 1888, by and between the Illinois Valley and Northern Railroad Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, said parties being corporations organized and existing under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois;

Witnesseth: That, Whereas, The said first party, pursuant to the statutes of the state of Illinois, and of its organization as a corporation, as aforesaid, is authorized to construct, maintain, and operate a railroad commencing at a point on the Mendota and Clinton Branch of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, at or near the town of Walnut, Bureau County, Illinois, and running thence in a southeasterly direction through the counties of Bureau and La Salle to a connection with the Aurora and Streator Branch of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, within or near the City of Streator, La Salle County, Illinois, and has already commenced the construction of its said railroad, as hereinbefore described, the remaining portions of the road to be built from time to time, as the Board of Directors of said Company may determine; and

Whereas, Said Company has resolved to borrow not to exceed Twenty thousand (20,000) dollars per mile for each mile and fraction thereof of single track of its constructed main and branch lines of road, and Ten thousand (10,000) dollars additional for each mile of second track, when built, to aid in paying for the construction thereof, and to issue its several bonds for the amounts so borrowed, all payable to bearer, and to bear date the Second day of January, A. D. 1888, to have Forty (40) years from their date to run to maturity, to bear interest at the rate of Six (6) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on the First day of January and the First day of July in each year, at the office of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, where the principal is also to be paid; and has secured the payment of all said bonds, issued and to be issued, by a trust mortgage, to which this Lease is subject, and for the provisions of which reference is hereby had, to Henry Parkman and William J. Ladd, of Boston, Massachusetts, trustees therein, upon its road and branches, constructed and to be constructed, described as aforesaid, and extending from Walnut to Streator, including all its rights of way and lands occupied thereby, road-bed, superstructure, depot grounds, depot buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto, which said trust mortgage bears date January Second, A. D. 1888, and will be recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs; and

Whereas, The proceeds of said bonds, and the other means of said Company, will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of said road-bed and superstructure, and will leave said first party without means to procure equipment necessary for the maintenance and operation of its said railroad; and in order that the same may, when completed, be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and also that means may be provided for the payment of the semi-annually accruing interest on said bonds, issued and to be issued, so that the same may be negotiated at reasonable rates, it has resolved to enter into the agreements hereinafter contained, and in reference to the subject matter of which the respective parties hereto are fully authorized by law to contract as herein provided; and

Whereas, The second party owns and is operating a continuous and connected line of railroad, extending from Chicago, in the State of Illinois, across and through the State of Illinois, and connecting at Walnut, Illinois, with the railroad of the first party, the roads of the two parties thus forming a continuous line of railroad from the City of Chicago, in the State of Illinois, to the said City of Streator;

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth: That the first party, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by the said second party, hath granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said second party, its successors and assigns, all the following described property of the said Illinois Valley & Northern Railroad Company, that is to say:

All its railroad, extending from Walnut to Streator, aforesaid, to the points hereinbefore in the first instance set out, constructed and to be constructed, and especially including that portion thereof now under construction between Walnut and Streator aforesaid, including all its rights of way and lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, and all materials used therein and procured or to be procured therefor; all bridges, viaducts, fences, depot grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, and all machine shops, and all other property, real or personal, appertaining to said railroad, and to the use thereof, now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said first party, together with the rents, revenues, and income to be had, levied, or derived therefrom and all the rights, privileges, and franchises of said first party in, to, or concerning said railroad, constructed and to be constructed, and every part thereof.

To Have and to Hold the above described railroad, premises, and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises appertaining thereto, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof, for and during the chartered existence of said first party, and during the extension or extensions, renewal or renewals, of the chartered rights and existence of said first party, if said renewals or extensions shall be had as hereinafter provided; absolute and exclusive possession to be delivered to said second party, its successors and assigns, of the said section of railroad now under construction, as aforesaid, as soon as the same is completed, and of the remaining sections or portions thereof when and as soon as built.

Said first party further agrees that, during the continuance of this lease and the life of its present charter, it will keep up its corporate organization, by the annual election of its directors and officers, and the performance of such other acts as may be required by law for that purpose.

And Further; that at the expiration of its present charter, it will, at the request of said second party, its successors or assigns, in case the mortgage herein mentioned shall not in the meantime have been foreclosed, cause its chartered rights, powers, and franchises to be renewed and extended for another term of Fifty (50) years, or for such other or further period as may at that time be authorized by law; and will, in like manner, and on like request, at each successive expiration of its chartered rights (provided always that no foreclosure of mortgage has taken place), renew and extend the same; and will, during all such renewals and extensions, keep up and maintain its organization, so as in effect to make such corporation a continuous one; and will, at the termination of its present chartered existence, and at the termination of each successive renewal and extension thereof, as hereinbefore provided, at the request of the second party, its successors or assigns, in case no foreclosure of mortgage shall have been had, renew and extend, or cause to be renewed and extended, this lease, on the terms, conditions, and stipulations herein provided, so as in effect to make the same perpetual.

The said second party, in consideration of the premises, hereby agrees to take full possession of the railroad, premises, and property hereby demised, and to pay or cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on said demised railroad, premises, and property, or any part thereof, during the continuance of this lease and all renewals thereof; and to procure and place on said railroad such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be reasonably required in the transaction of the business of said demised railroad, and to keep the same in good condition, and to maintain and operate said railroad in such manner as may be required to reasonably accommodate the country through which said demised railroad passes. And it is expressly agreed and understood, that when and as soon as any additional section or sections of said railroad shall be built, the second party will take possession thereof and operate the same under and in pursuance of the terms of this instrument; and this Lease shall be, and be held to be, applicable to such sections hereafter to be constructed in all respects the same as to the portion now built.

And, in addition to the foregoing, the second party agrees to pay an annual rental of Thirty (30) per cent. of the gross earnings of the demised railroad on all joint business, gross earnings to be computed upon a pro rata basis according to the distances carried respectively on the roads of the parties hereto, which said Thirty (30) per cent. of gross earnings, the said second party guarantees shall amount to a sum sufficient to pay the semi-annually accruing interest on the bonds herein mentioned and contemplated, and which shall be paid semi-annually on the First days of January and July in each year, at the office of the second party in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, to the trustees named in said deed of trust, or to their successors in said trust, and so much thereof as may be necessary to be used and applied by them to pay and take up the semi-annually maturing coupons attached to said bonds, until all are paid, and, after the maturity of said bonds, to be applied to the payment of interest thereon at the rate of Six (6) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same time and place, until the expiration of the chartered rights of said first party; and any balance remaining in their hands at the end of each year, and not required for the payment of coupons and interest as herein provided, shall be paid to the first party, its successors or assigns. Provided, however, that, in case a foreclosure of mortgage shall be had before or after the maturity of said bonds, or before the expiration of the chartered rights of said company, then and thereafter this lease shall cease and determine.

And Further, in case no foreclosure of said mortgage shall take place before the expiration of the chartered existence of said first party, and in case new bonds, secured by mortgage, as hereinafter provided, shall be executed and delivered to take the place of the bonds herein mentioned, and this lease shall be renewed as herein provided, then the said rent, or as much thereof as may be required, shall be appropriated by the trustees therein to paying and taking up the coupons that shall be attached to the same, and, in like manner, to paying and taking up the coupons on successive issues of the bonds, as hereinafter provided, so long as no foreclosure shall be had of such subsequent and successive mortgages; it being understood that a foreclosure, whenever had, shall terminate any lease which may be executed as herein provided.

And Further, in case no foreclosure shall have taken place at the termination of the present charter of said first party, and in case the holders of the said bonds shall consent, and the second party shall so request in writing, the said first party, having renewed and extended its charter and executed and delivered another lease, as hereinbefore provided, agrees that it will make, execute, and deliver other bonds in like amount, drawing the same rate of interest, and of like character to those hereinbefore mentioned, to take their place and run during the continuance of said renewed charter; and that it will in like manner secure the payment thereof by a trust mortgage on the property herein described, of like character to the one hereinbefore mentioned; and that it will thereafter, at each expiration of its renewed charter and this lease, as herein contemplated, with the consent of the bondholders, and at the like request of the second party, its successors and assigns, make, execute, and deliver successive bonds and mortgages of like character, to take the place of those previously existing.

But in the meantime, and at no time, shall said first party, its successors or assigns, execute any second mortgage, or any mortgages other than those hereinbefore mentioned or provided for, on the property herein described, or any part thereof.

It is Mutually Agreed, that the rent herein reserved shall commence on the Second day of January 1888, and continue thereafter as herein provided; and further, that in case this lease shall be terminated at any time, for any cause, said first party, its successors and assigns, before it shall be entitled to the possession of said demised premises, or any part thereof, shall pay to the second party, its successors and assigns, the original cost of all additional construction which the second party may deem it necessary or proper to make on said demised premises, and of all permanent improvements made thereon and on any part thereof, together with interest thereon at the rate of Six (6) per cent. per annum, from the time of the completion of each item of construction and improvement, and for all such expenditures, and the interest thereon, the second party shall have a lien, which shall entitle it to hold possession and use of said demised premises, and the revenues to be derived therefrom, until the same shall be paid.

It is Mutually and Expressly Agreed, That the capital stock of said first party shall not exceed the sum of One Million, Five Hundred Thousand (1,500,000) dollars, and that no other or greater amount of stock shall ever be created, authorized, or issued by said first party, its successors and assigns, by amendment of its charter or otherwise, without the written consent of the second party, its successors and assigns; and further, that the covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have caused their corporate names to be hereunto, and to one other original, subscribed by their respective Presidents, and their corporate seals to be hereto, and to one other original, affixed and attested, upon the part of the first party by its

Secretary, and upon the part of the second party by its Secretary, the day and year first above written.

CONTRACT AND LEASE, May 1, 1882 Joliet, Rockford & Northern Railroad Company and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture of Contract and Lease, made this first day of May, A. D. 1882, by and between the Joliet, Rockford & Northern Railroad Company, a corporation of the State of Illinois, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, a corporation of the State of Illinois, party of the second part:

Witnesseth: That Whereas, the said first party is authorized by the laws of the State of Illinois, to locate, construct, maintain and operate, a railroad between the town of Joliet, in Will County, and Rockford, in Winnebago County, State of Illinois, and has already located, and is engaged in the construction of, that section of said road between Sheridan, in LaSalle County, and Paw Paw, in Lee County, State of Illinois, a distance of about twenty miles, and has resolved to borrow a sum not exceeding sixteen thousand (16,000) dollars per mile of completed road, and to issue therefor, upon the said section between Sheridan and Paw Paw, now in process of construction, its single bond for a sum equal to sixteen thousand (16,000) dollars per mile of completed road upon that section, which bond is to bear date, the first day of May, A. D. 1882, to have forty (40) years to run to maturity, to bear interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent annum, payable semi-annually, both principal and interest payable at the office of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, in the City of Boston, Massachusetts, and has secured the payment therefor by a Trust Mortgage to which this Lease is subject, and for the provisions whereof reference is hereby had to Wm. J. Ladd and Henry Parkham, of Boston, Massachusetts, Trustees, therein named, upon that section of its road extending from Sheridan to Paw Paw, aforesaid, constructed and to be constructed, its right of way, road bed, superstructure, grounds, depot buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith, together with the rights privileges and franchises belonging thereto; which said Trust Mortgage bears even date herewith, and is to be recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs; and bed and superstructure of said section between Sheridan and Paw Paw and will leave said first party without means to procure equipment necessary for the maintenance and operation of said railroad; and, in order that the same may, when completed be equipped, maintained and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require; and also that means may be provided for the payment of the semi-annually accruing interest on said bond, so that the same may be negotiated at reasonable rates; it has resolved to enter into the agreement herein contained, and in reference to the subject matter of which the respective parties hereto are fully authorized by the laws of the State of Illinois to contract as herein provided;

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth, that the first party in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said second party, it, the said first party, hath granted, demised and leased, and by these presents, doth grant, demise and lease, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, all the following described property of said Joliet, Rockford and Northern Railroad Company; that is to say:—

All its railroad, extending from the town of Joliet to Rockford, aforesaid, constructed and to be constructed, and especially including that portion thereof now in process of construction between Sheridan and Paw Paw, aforesaid, made and to be made, including right of way, lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon, and to be placed thereon, and other materials used therein and procured and to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, fences, depot grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, and all other property, real and personal, appertaining to said railroad, and especially to the said section thereof between Sheridan and Paw Paw, and to the use thereof, now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said first party, together with the rents, revenues and income to be had, levied or derived therefrom, and all the rights, privileges and franchises of said first party, in, to, or concerning said railroad, constructed and to be constructed, and every part thereof:

To Have and to Hold the above described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges and franchises appertaining thereto, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof, for and during the chartered existence of said first party, and during the extension or extensions, renewal or renewals, of the chartered rights and existence of said first party, if said renewals or extensions shall be had, as hereinafter provided; absolute and exclusive possession of said section of railroad between Sheridan and Paw Paw to be delivered to the said second party, its successors and assigns, as soon as the same shall be completed and in like manner, possession of any additional sections which may hereafter be built to be delivered as, and as soon as, they shall be severally completed.

Said first party further agrees that, during the continuance of this Lease, and the life of its present charter, it will keep up its corporate organization by the annual election of its directors and officers, and the performance of such other acts as may be required by law for that purpose;

and further, that at the expiration of its present charter, it will, at the request of said second party, its successors or assigns, in case the mortgage herein mentioned shall not have, in the meantime, been foreclosed, cause its chartered rights, powers and franchises to be renewed and extended for another term of fifty years, or for such other or further period as may at the time be authorized by law; and will, in like manner, and on like request, at each successive expiration of its chartered rights, provided, always, that no foreclosure of mortgage has taken place, renew and extend the same, and will, during all such renewals and extensions, keep up and maintain its organization, so as, in effect, to make such corporation a continuing one; and will, at the termination of its present chartered existence and at the termination of each successive renewal and extension thereof, as hereinafter provided, at the request of the second party, its successors and assigns, in case no foreclosure of mortgage shall have been had, renew or extend, or cause to be renewed or extended, this lease, on the terms conditions and stipulations herein provided, so as, in effect, to make the same perpetual.

The said second party, in consideration of the premises, hereby agrees to take full possession of the railroad premises and property hereby demised, as soon as said section of road between Sheridan and Paw Paw shall be completed; and to pay, or cause to be paid, all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged or assessed on said demised railroad premises and property during the continuance of this lease, and all renewals thereof, and to procure and place on said sections of road between Sheridan and Paw Paw such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be reasonably required in the transaction of the business of said demised railroad, and to keep the same in good condition; and to maintain and operate said section of railroad in such manner as may be required to reasonably accommodate the country through which said demised railroad passes; and, whensoever any additional section of said railroad shall be constructed by the first party, the same shall, in like manner, be equipped and operated by the second party, under the terms and provisions of this lease; and the covenants herein shall become and be applicable thereto; and, in addition thereto, to pay an annual rental therefor of thirty per cent of the gross earnings thereon; gross earnings on all joint business to be computed upon a prorata basis, according to the distance carried, respectively, on the roads of the parties hereto: Said thirty per cent of gross earnings, the second party guarantees shall amount to a sum sufficient to pay the semi-annually accruing interest on the bond herein mentioned and contemplated, and which shall be paid semi-annually, on the first days of May and November in each year, at the office of the second party, in the City of Boston, to the trustees named in said deed of trust, or to their successors in said trust, and so much thereof as may be necessary to be used and applied by them to pay and take up the semi-annually maturing coupons attached to said bond or bonds until all are paid, and, after maturity of said bond or bonds to be applied by them to the payment of interest thereon, at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, at the same time and place, until expiration of the chartered rights of said first party; and any balance remaining in their hands at the end of each year, and not required for payment of coupons and interest, as herein provided, shall be paid to the first party, its successors and assigns provided, however, that in case a foreclosure of said mortgage shall be had before or after the maturity of said bond, or before the expiration of the chartered rights of said Company, then and thereafter this lease shall cease and determine;

And further, in case no foreclosure of said mortgage shall take place before the expiration of the chartered existence of said first party, and in case new bond or bonds, secured by mortgage, as hereinafter provided, shall be executed and delivered to take the place of the bond herein mentioned, and this lease shall be renewed, as herein provided, then the said rent, or so much thereof as may be required, shall be appropriated by the trustees therein to paying and taking up the coupons that shall be attached to the same, and, in like manner, to paying and taking up the coupons on successive issues of bonds, as herein provided, so long as no foreclosure shall be had of such subsequent and successive mortgages; it being understood that a foreclosure, whenever had, shall terminate the lease which may be executed, as herein provided.

And further, in case no foreclosure shall have taken place at the termination of the present charter of the said first party, and in case the holders of said bond or bonds shall consent, and the second party shall request, the first party, having renewed or extended its charter, and executed and delivered another lease, as hereinbefore provided, agrees that it will make, execute and deliver other bond or bonds in same amount, drawing the same rate of interest, and of like character as that herein first mentioned, to take its place, and run during the continuance of said renewed charter; and that it will, in like manner, secure the payment of the same by a trust mortgage on the property herein described, of like character to the one hereinbefore mentioned; and that it will thereafter, at each expiration of its renewed charter and this lease, as herein contemplated, with the consent of the bondholder or bondholders, and at the like request of the second party, its successors and assigns, make, execute and deliver, successive bond or bonds and mortgages, of like character, to take the place of those previously existing; but in the meantime and at no time shall said first party, its successors and assigns, execute any second mortgage, or any mortgages other than those hereinbefore mentioned and provided for on the property herein described, or any part thereof.

It is mutually agreed, that the rent herein reserved shall commence on the day of the completion of said section of road between Sheridan and Paw Paw, aforesaid, and continue thereafter, as herein, provided, and further, that, in case this lease shall be terminated at any time, for any cause, said first party, its successors and assigns, before it shall be entitled to the possession of said premises, or any part thereof, shall pay to the second party, its successors and assigns, the original cost of all additional construction which the second party may deem it necessary or proper to make on said demised premises, and of all permanent improvements made thereon, and on any part thereof, together with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the time of completion of each item of construction and improvement, and for all such expenditures and the interest thereon, the second party shall have a lien which shall entitle it to hold possession and use of said demised premises, and the revenues to be derived therefrom, until the same shall be paid.

It is mutually and expressly agreed, that the capital stock of said first party shall not exceed the sum of sixteen thousand (16,000) dollars per mile of completed road, and that no other or greater amount of stock shall ever be created, authorized or issued by said first party, its successors and assigns, by amendment of its charter, or otherwise, without the written consent of the second party, its successors and assigns; and further, that the covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof, the said parties hereto have caused their corporate names to be hereto subscribed by their respective presidents, and their corporate seals to be hereto attached and attested by their respective secretaries, the day and year first above written.

LEASE, October 1, 1886, Galesburg & Rio Railroad Company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This Indenture of Contract and Lease, Made this first day of October, A. D., 1886, by and between the Galesburg & Rio Railroad Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, said parties being corporations organized and existing under and in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois; Witnesseth: That, Whereas, The said first party, pursuant to the statutes of the state of Illinois, and of its organization as a corporation, as aforesaid, is authorized to construct, maintain, and operate a railroad and branches, commencing at a point on the main line of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company within or near Galesburg, in Knox County, Illinois, thence northerly to a connection with the St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company's tracks at or near Rio Station, in said county of Knox and has already commenced the construction of its said railroad, as hereinbefore described the remaining portions of the road to be built from time to time, as the Board of Directors of said Company may determine; and

Whereas, Said Company has resolved to borrow not to exceed twenty thousand (20,000) dollars per mile for each mile and fraction thereof of single track of its constructed main and branch lines of road, and ten thousand (10,000) dollars additional for each mile of second track, when built, to aid in paying for the construction thereof, and to issue its several bonds for the amounts so borrowed, all payable to bearer, and to bear date the Second day of May, A. D. 1887, to have forty (40) years from their date to run to maturity, to bear interest at the rate of Six (6) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of May, and the first day of November in each year, at the office of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, where the principal is also to be paid; and has secured the payment of all said bonds, issued and to be issued, by a trust mortgage, to which this Lease is subject, and for the provisions of which reference is hereby had, to Henry Parkman and William J. Ladd of Boston, Massachusetts, trustees therein, upon its road and branches, constructed and to be constructed, described as aforesaid, and extending from Galesburg to Rio including all its rights of way and lands occupied thereby, road-bed, superstructure, depot grounds, depot buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto, which said trust mortgage bears date May Second (2d), A. D. 1887, and will be recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs; and

Whereas, The proceeds of said bonds, and the other means of said Company, will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of said road-bed and superstructure, and will leave said first party without means to procure equipment necessary for the maintenance and operation of its said railroad; and in order that the same may, when completed, be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and also that means may be provided for the payment of the semi-annually accruing interest on said bonds, issued and to be issued, so that the same may be negotiated at reasonable rates, it has resolved to enter into the agreements hereinafter contained, and in reference to the subject matter of which the respective parties hereto are fully authorized by law to contract as herein provided; and

Whereas, The second party owns and is operating a continuous and connected line of railroad, extending from Chicago, in the State of Illinois, across and through the State of Illinois, and connecting at Galesburg, Illinois, with the railroad of the first party, the roads of the two parties thus forming a continuous line of railroad from the City of Chicago, in the State of Illinois, to the said town of Rio

Now, therefore, this Indenture Witnesseth: That the first party, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by the said second party, hath granted, demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease, unto the said second party, its successors and assigns, all the following described property of the said Galesburg and Rio Railroad Company, that is to say:

All its railroad, and branches, extending from Galesburg to Rio, aforesaid, constructed and to be constructed, and especially including that portion thereof now under construction between the towns of Galesburg, and Rio aforesaid, including all its rights of way and lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, and all materials used therein and procured or to be procured therefor; all bridges, viaducts, fences, depot grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, and all machine shops, and all other property, real or personal, appertaining to said railroad, and to the use thereof, now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said first party, together with the rents, revenues, and income to be had, levied, or derived therefrom, and all the rights, privileges, and franchises of said first party in, to, or concerning said railroad, constructed and to be constructed, and every part thereof.

To Have and to Hold the above described railroad, premises, and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges, and franchises appertaining thereto, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof, for and during the chartered existence of said first party, and during the extension or extensions, renewal or renewals, of the chartered rights and existence of said first party, if said renewals or extensions shall be had as hereinafter provided; absolute and exclusive possession to be now delivered to said second party, its successors and assigns, of the said section of railroad between the said town of Galesburg, and the said town of Rio, and of the remaining sections or portions thereof when and as soon as built.

Said first party further agrees that, during the continuance of this lease and the life of its present charter, it will keep up its corporate organization, by the annual election of its directors and officers, and the performance of such other acts as may be required by law for that purpose.

And further, that at the expiration of its present charter, it will, at the request of said second party, its successors or assigns, in case the mortgage herein mentioned shall not in the meantime have been foreclosed, cause its chartered rights, powers, and franchises to be renewed and extended for another term of fifty (50) years, or for such other or further period as may at that time be authorized by law; and will, in like manner, and on like request, at each successive expiration of its chartered rights (provided always that no foreclosure of mortgage has taken place), renew and extend the same; and will, during all such renewals and extensions, keep up and maintain its organization, so as in effect to make such corporation a continuous one; and will, at the termination of its present chartered existence, and at the termination of each successive renewal and extension thereof, as hereinbefore provided, at the request of the second party, its successors or assigns, in case no foreclosure of mortgage shall have been had, renew and extend, or cause to be renewed and extended, this lease, on the terms, conditions, and stipulations herein provided, so as in effect to make the same perpetual.

The said second party, in consideration of the premises, hereby agrees to take full possession of the railroad, premises, and property hereby demised, and to pay or cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged, or assessed on said demised railroad, premises, and property, or any part thereof, during the continuance of this lease and all renewals thereof, and to procure and place on said railroad such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be reasonably required in the transaction of the business of said demised railroad, and to keep the same in good condition, and to maintain and operate said railroad in such manner as may be required to reasonably accommodate the country through which said demised railroad passes. And it is expressly agreed and understood, that when and as soon as any additional section or sections of said railroad shall be built, the second party will take possession thereof and operate the same under and in pursuance of the terms of this instrument; and this Lease shall be, and be held to be, applicable to such sections hereafter to be constructed in all respects the same as to the portion now built.

And, in addition to the foregoing, the second party agrees to pay an annual rental of thirty (30) per cent. of the gross earnings of the demised railroad on all joint business, gross earnings to be computed upon a pro rata basis according to the distances carried respectively on the roads of the parties hereto, which said thirty (30) per cent. of gross earnings, the said second part guarantees shall amount to a sum sufficient to pay the semi-annually accruing interest on the bonds herein mentioned and contemplated, and which shall be paid semi-annually on the first days of May and November in each year, at the office of the second party in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, to the trustees named in said deed of trust, or to their successors in said trust, and so much thereof as may be necessary to be used and applied by them to pay and take up the semi-annually maturing coupons attached to said bonds, until all are paid, and, after the maturity of said bonds, to be applied to the payment of interest thereon at the rate of six (6) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same time and place, until the expiration of the chartered rights of said first party; and any balance remaining in their hands at the end of each year, and not required for the payment of coupons and interest as herein provided, shall be paid to the first party, its successors or assigns. Provided, however, that, in case a foreclosure of mortgage shall be had before or after the maturity of said bonds, or before the expiration of the chartered right of said company, then and thereafter this lease shall cease and determine.

And further, in case no foreclosure of said mortgage shall take place before the expiration of the chartered existence of said first party, and in case new bonds, secured by mortgage, as hereinafter provided, shall be executed and delivered to take the place of the bonds herein mentioned, and this lease shall be renewed as herein provided, then the said rent, or as much thereof as may be required, shall be appropriated by the trustees therein to paying and taking up the coupons that shall be attached to the same, and, in like manner, to paying and taking up the coupons on successive issues of the bonds, as hereinafter provided, so long as no foreclosure shall be had of such subsequent and successive mortgages; it being understood that a foreclosure, whenever had, shall terminate any lease which may be executed as herein provided.

And Further, in case no foreclosure shall have taken place at the termination of the present charter of said first party, and in case the holders of the said bonds shall consent, and the second party shall so request in writing, the said first party, having renewed and extended its charter and executed and delivered another lease, as hereinbefore provided, agrees that it will make, execute, and deliver other bonds in like amount, drawing the same rate of interest, and of like character to those hereinbefore mentioned, to take their place and run during the continuance of said renewed charter; and that it will in like manner secure the payment thereof by a trust mortgage on the property herein described, of like character to the one hereinbefore mentioned; and that it will thereafter, at each expiration of its renewed charter and this lease, as herein contemplated, with the consent of the bondholders, and at the like request of the second party, its successors and assigns, make, execute, and deliver successive bonds and mortgages of like character, to take the place of those previously existing.

But in the meantime, and at no time, shall said first party, its successors or assigns, execute any second mortgage, or any mortgages other than those hereinbefore mentioned or provided for, on the property herein described, or any part thereof.

It is Mutually Agreed, That the rent herein reserved shall commence on the first day of November, 1887, and continue thereafter as herein provided; and further, that in case this lease shall be terminated at any time, for any cause, said first party, its successors and assigns, before it shall be entitled to the possession of said demised premises, or any part thereof, shall pay to the second party, its successors and assigns, the original cost of all additional construction which the second party may deem it necessary or proper to make on said demised premises, and of all permanent improvements made thereon and on any part thereof, together with interest thereon at the rate of six (6) per cent. per annum, from the time of the completion of each item of construction and improvement, and for all such expenditures, and the interest thereon, the second party shall have a lien, which shall entitle it to hold possession and use of said demised premises, and the revenues to be derived therefrom, until the same shall be paid.

It is Mutually and Expressly Agreed, That the capital stock of said first party shall not exceed the sum of two hundred and sixty thousand (260,000) dollars, and that no other or greater amount of stock shall ever be created, authorized, or issued by said first party, its successors and assigns, by amendment of its charter or otherwise, without the written consent of the second party, its successors and assigns; and further, that the covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have caused their corporate names to be hereunto, and to one other original, subscribed by their respective Presidents and their corporate seals to be hereto, and to one other original, affixed and attested, upon the part of the first party by its Secretary, and upon the part of the second party by its Secretary, the day and year first above written.

LEASE, September 1, 1882, Fulton County Extension Railway Company to the Fulton County Narrow Gauge Railway Company.

This Indenture of Contract and Lease, made this First day of September, A. D. 1882 by and between the Fulton County Extension Railway Company, a corporation of the state of Illinois, Party of the first part, and the Fulton County Narrow Gauge Railway Company, a corporation of the same state, Party of the second part.

Witnesseth Whereas: The said first party is authorized by the laws of the state of Illinois, and pursuant to its organization thereunder to locate, construct, maintain, and operate a Railway from Fairview in the county of Fulton and state of Illinois, west to East Burlington, in the county of Henderson, and east to the city of Peoria in the county of Peoria, and from said line at some convenient point or points, by way of Monmouth, in the county of Warren, northwestwardly to the Mississippi River. And by way of Galesburg, in the county of Knox, north to the Mississippi River, and is engaged in the construction of that section of said road between Fairview and Galesburg, aforesaid, and has resolved to issue its First Mortgage Bonds at the rate of ten thousand (10,000) dollars per mile of completed road in part payment therefor, said bonds to bear date the First day of July A. D. 1882, to have thirty (30) years to run to maturity, to bear interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum payable semi-annually, both principal and interest payable at the Union National Bank in the City of Chicago, Illinois, and has secured the payment thereof by a trust mortgage of even date therewith, to which this lease is subject, and for the provisions whereof reference is hereby had to Edward A. Temple and Joseph Braden, of Chariton, Iowa, Trustees therein, upon its road extending from Fairview in the county of Fulton and state of Illinois, west to East Burlington, in the county of Henderson, and east to the city of Peoria, in the county of Peoria, and from said line at some convenient point or points, by way of Monmouth, in the county of Warren, northwestwardly to the Mississippi River, and by way of Galesburg in the county of Knox, north to the Mississippi River, and especially including said sections of road between Fairview and Galesburg and between Fairview and East Burlington, aforesaid, constructed and to be constructed, its right of way, road bed, superstructure, grounds, depot buildings, and all other of its said property connected therewith, together with the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging thereto; Which said trust mortgage bears even date herewith, and has been recorded in the counties through which said railroad runs.

And Whereas, The proceeds of said bonds, together with the money realized from the sale of the first party's capital stock, will be sufficient only for the construction and completion of said road bed and superstructure between Fairview and Galesburg, and between Fairview and East Burlington, aforesaid, and will leave said first party without means to procure the equipment necessary for the maintenance and operation of said sections of said railway, and in order that the same may, when completed, be equipped, maintained, and operated in such manner as the public convenience may require, and also that means may be provided for the payment of the semi-annually accruing interest on said Bonds, so that the same may be negotiated at reasonable rates; It has resolved to enter into the agreement herein contained, and in reference to the subject matter of which the respective parties hereto are fully authorized by the laws of the state of Illinois to contract as herein provided.

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth, That the first party, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said second party; it, the said first party, hath granted demised, and leased, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and lease unto the said second party, its successors and assigns, all the following described property of the said Fulton County Extension Railway Company; that is to say, all its railway extending from Fairview, in the county of Fulton and state of Illinois, west to East Burlington, in the county of Henderson, and east to the city of Peoria in the county of Peoria, and from said line to some convenient point or points, by way of Monmouth, in the county Warren, northwestwardly to the Mississippi River, and by way of Galesburg, in the county of Knox, north to the Mississippi River, constructed and to be constructed, and especially including those sections thereof between Fairview and Galesburg, and between Fairview and East Burlington, aforesaid made and to made, including right of way, lands occupied thereby, superstructure and tracks thereon and to be placed thereon, and all materials used therein, and procured or to be procured therefor, bridges, viaducts, fences, depot grounds and buildings thereon and to be placed thereon, and all other property, real or personal, appertaining to said railroad, and especially to the said sections thereof between Fairview and Galesburg and between Fairview and East Burlington, aforesaid; and to the use thereof; now owned or hereafter to be acquired by said first party, together with the rents, revenues and income to be had, levied or derived therefrom, and all the rights privileges and franchises of said first party, in, to, or concerning said railway, constructed and to be constructed, and every part thereof.

To Have and to Hold the above described railroad premises and property, with the appurtenances, rights, privileges and franchises appertaining thereto, unto the said second party, its successors and assigns, from the day of the date hereof, for and during the chartered extension of said first party, and during the extension or extensions, renewal or renewals, of the chartered rights and existence of said first party, if said renewals or extensions shall be had as hereinafter provided, absolute and exclusive possession thereof to be delivered to said second party, its successors and assigns, as soon as said section of railway between Fairview and Galesburg shall be completed. Said first party further agrees that during the continuance of this lease and the life of its present charter, it will keep up its corporate organization, by the annual election of its directors and officers and the performance of such other acts as may be required by law for that purpose.

And Further; that, at the expiration of its present charter, it will, at the request of said second party, its successors or assigns in case the mortgage herein mentioned shall not, in the meantime, have been foreclosed, cause its chartered rights, powers and franchises to be renewed and extended for another term of fifty years, or for such other or further period as may at that time be authorized by law; and will, in like manner, and on like request, at each successive expiration of its chartered rights, provided always, that no foreclosure of mortgage has in the meantime taken place, renew and extend the same; and will, during all such renewals and extensions. Keep up and maintain its organization so as, in effect, to make such corporation a continuing one, and will, at the termination of its present chartered existence, and at the termination of each successive renewals and extension thereof, as hereinafter provided, at the request of the second party, its successors and assigns, in case no foreclosure of mortgage shall have been had, renew and extend or cause to be renewed and extended, this lease, on the terms, conditions and stipulations herein provided, so as, in effect to make the same perpetual. The said second party, in consideration of the premises, hereby agrees to take full possession of the railroad premises and property hereby demised, as soon as said section of road between Fairview and Galesburg shall be completed, and to pay or cause to be paid all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged or assessed on said demised railroad premises and property, or any part thereof, during the continuance of this lease and all renewals thereof, and to procure and place on said section of road between Fairview and Galesburg such and such an amount of rolling stock as may be reasonably required in the transaction of the business of said demised railway and to keep same in good condition, and to maintain and operate said section of railway in such manner as may be required to reasonably accommodate the country through which said demised railroad passes, and, in addition thereto, to pay an annual rental therefor of thirty (30) per cent of the gross earnings thereon on all joint business; said gross earnings to be computed upon a pro rata basis according to the distance carried, respectively on the roads of the parties hereto, which said thirty (30) per cent of gross earnings, the second party guarantees shall amount to a sum sufficient to pay the semi-annually accruing interest on the bonds herein mentioned and contemplated and which shall be paid semi-annually on the first day of July and January in each year, at the Union National Bank in Chicago, to the trustees named in said deed of trust, or to their successors in said trust, and so much thereof as may be necessary to be used and applied by them to pay and take up the semi-annually maturing coupons attached to said bonds, until all are paid and, after the maturity of said bonds, to be applied by them to the payment of interest thereon at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum, payable at the same time and place until the expiration of the chartered rights of said first party, and any balance remaining in their hands at the end of each year, and not required for the payment of coupons and interest as herein provided, shall be paid to the first party, its successors and assigns. Provided, however that, in case a foreclosure of said mortgage shall be had before or after the maturity of said bonds, or before the expiration of the chartered rights of said company, then and thereafter this lease shall cease and determine; and further; in case no foreclosure of said mortgage shall take place before the expiration of the chartered existence of said first party, and in case new bonds secured by mortgages, as hereinafter provided, shall be executed and delivered, to take the place of the bonds herein mentioned, and this lease shall be renewed as herein provided; then the said rent or so much thereof as may be required, shall be appropriated by the trustees therein to paying and taking up the coupons that shall be attached to the same, and, in like manner, by paying and taking up the coupons on successive issues of bonds, as hereinafter provided, so long as no foreclosure shall be had of such subsequent and successive mortgages; it being understood that a foreclosure, whenever had, shall terminate any lease which may be executed as herein provided.

And Further; in case no foreclosure shall have taken place at the termination of the present charter of said first party, and in case the holders of said bonds shall consent, and the second party in writing shall request, the said first party having renewed and extended its charter, and executed and delivered another lease, as herein before provided, agrees that it will make, execute and deliver other bonds in like amount, drawing the same rate of interest, and of like character as those herein first mentioned, to take their place and run during the continuance of said renewed charter, and that it will in like manner, secure the payment of the same by a trust mortgage on the property herein described, of like character to the one herein before mentioned, and that it will thereafter, at each expiration of its renewed charter and this lease, as herein contemplated, with the consent of the bond holders, and at the like request of the second party, its successors and assigns, make, execute and deliver successive bonds and mortgages of like character, to take the place of those previously existing. But, in the meantime, and at no time shall the said first party, its successors and assigns, execute any second mortgage, or any mortgage other than those hereinbefore mentioned and provided for, on the property herein described, or any part thereof.

It is Mutually Agreed, that the rent herein reserved shall commence on the day of the completion of said section of road between Fairview and Galesburg, aforesaid, and continue thereafter, as herein provided; and further; that, in case this lease shall be terminated at any time, for any cause, said first party, its successors and assigns, before it shall be entitled to the possession of said demised premises, or any part thereof, shall pay to the second party, its successors and assigns, the original cost of all additional constructions which the second party may deem it necessary or proper to make on said demised premises, and of all perma-ment improvements made thereon, and on any part thereof, together with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the time of the completion of each item of construction and improvement, and for all such expenditures and the interest thereon, the second party shall have a lien which shall entitle it to hold possession and use of said demised premises, and the revenues to be derived therefrom, until the same shall be paid.

It is Mutually and Expressly Agreed, that the capital stock of said first party shall not exceed the sum of ten thousand (10,000) dollars per mile of completed road and that no other or greater amount of stock shall ever be created, authorized or issued by said first party, its successors and assigns, by amendment of its charter or otherwise, without the written consent of the second party, its successors and assigns; and further; that the covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof, The parties hereto have caused their respective corporate names to be hereto subscribed by their respective presidents, and their corporate seals to be hereto attached and attested by their respective secretaries, the day and year first above written.

This company was incorporated by Special Act of the Illinois Legislature, approved February 14, 1855, in force February 15, 1855.

It was authorized to construct a railroad

Section 14 of the original Act provides:

“Said company shall have the power to unite its railroad with any other railroad now constructed, or which may hereafter be constructed, at either termini, or at any point at which it may cross the same within this state, upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between said corporations so connecting; and for this purpose full power is hereby given to said company to make and execute such contracts with any other company that may secure the objects of such connection.”

By an Amendment, in force February 14, 1857, it was provided

“that in the event the said Rock Island Railroad Company shall not be able, by consolidation or otherwise, to make a satisfactory arrangement for the running of cars from Whitehall to Illinoistown (East St. Louis) with the railroad now built, or authorized to be built, said Rock Island Railroad shall have the right to locate, construct, complete and operate as an extension of the present route a railroad from Whitehall by the most eligible route to Illinoistown.”

THE ROCKFORD, ROCK ISLAND AND ST. LOUIS RAILROAD COMPANY

This company was incorporated by a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature, in force February 16, 1865. It was authorized to construct a railroad “commencing at the City of Rockford, in the County of Winnebago; thence, by the most practicable route by way of the City of Sterling, in the County of Whiteside, and the City of Rock Island, in Rock Island County, to some practicable point on the east bank of the Mississippi River, opposite the City of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri.”

By Section 7 it was authorized

“to unite, connect or consolidate its railroad, or any part thereof, with any other railroad constructed, or which may hereafter be constructed, in this state, upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon by and between the several companies; and for that purpose full power is hereby given to the company hereby incorporated to do all such acts and execute all such instruments as may be necessary or advisable to effect such union, connection or consolidation, as the case may be.”

By Section 17 it was authorized

“at any time or times hereafter to project and extend from any point or points of their said road, branches or side tracks thereof to any coal or mineral bed or beds or mines in the respective vicinity.”

It was organized at Sterling May 17, 1865.

Of date October 8, 1868, this company purchased by deed all of the property of The St. Louis, Alton and Rock Island Railroad Company.

Of date March 11, 1869, a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature legalized the sale, of date October 8, 1868, to The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company.

In 1857 the Village of Oquawka issued bonds in payment for grading the right of way from Oquawka to Sagetown (about 5 miles) [now Gladstone] in aid of the Peoria and Oquawka Railroad Company. This company failed, and did not use the grade.

In 1869 this grade was acquired by The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company, which laid the rails and completed this section of the road.

(See also Section 5, Act Illinois Legislature, approved February 21, 1861, vesting title to this grade in the Trustees of the Town of Oquawka.)

In 1868, the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis R. R. Co. executed two Mortgages upon what were called Three Grand Divisions of the Road which it proposed to construct.

The first Mortgage was dated June 15, 1868, and was secured upon what was called the "North Division", and the second Mortgage was dated October 23, 1868, and was secured upon the remainder of the road.

The Company defaulted in the payment of the interest upon the Bonds issued under these Mortgages, and they were foreclosed in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois. The Decree of Foreclosure is dated July 13, 1875, ordering a sale of the Road and of its property, and Henry W. Bishop was appointed Master to make the sale, which he did of date August 16, 1875, and this sale was confirmed by the Court in a final Decree entered of date May 17, 1876, directing a Deed to be made to Heyman Osterberg, Trustee, who had purchased the entire property for $1,320,000. The Master's Deed to Osterberg is dated May 18, 1876.

The purchasers at this sale organized a new Company under the General Laws of Illinois, called St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company, its Articles being dated April 27, 1876.

That Company executed three Mortgages, all of which were canceled September 13, 1876, at which time the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company acquired the property, taking possession through a Lease of date February 1, 1877, and the purchase of all the Capital Stock.

Following this, the St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company executed a new Mortgage of date February 1, 1877, to secure an issue of Bonds in the amount of $2,500,000, which were used to pay for the property.

The Lease was continued in force until June 1, 1899, when the property was conveyed by the St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company by a deed to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

THE ORION AND MINERSVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY

This company was incorporated under the General Laws of Illinois by Articles dated December 20, 1872, and filed with the Secretary of State, December 21, 1872.

By Article II of its said Articles, the company defined its road as follows, to wit:

“The railroad of this corporation shall be constructed from a junction with the Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis Railroad, at the village of Minersville, in the township of Colona, in the county of Henry, and State of Illinois, to a point of junction with the said Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis Railroad Company, in the town of Orion, in said county and State.”

It was organized in the interest of The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company. The date of its organization is not given because the record books are not available. It built between two points on The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad from Orion northerly to near Minersville, seven and six-tenths miles.

The road was completed and opened about July 1, 1873, and was leased December 28, 1872, to The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company which company furnished the means to complete it.

In the same proceeding wherein the trust deed given by The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company to the Union Trust Company was foreclosed, The Orion and Minersville Railroad Company was made a co-defendant and by the decree in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois, it was ordered that from any income from the operation of The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad the Receiver was to pay to the creditors of the Orion and Minersville Railroad Company a specified amount, whereupon this road was to become the absolute property of The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company and of the purchaser thereof at the sale of the Master.

The Receiver paid the money as directed in the decree, and of date December 19, 1875, The Orion and Minersville Railroad Company acknowledged the receipt of all moneys due and transferred and conveyed to Heyman Osterberg, as Trustee, its entire line of road and all other property.

By deed dated May 18, 1876, Heyman Osterberg, as Trustee, conveyed to the St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company all of the property of The Orion and Minersville Railroad Company.

ARTICLE VII.—The said party of the first part shall from time to time, and as often as thereunto requested by the trustee, execute, acknowledge, and deliver all such further deeds and conveyances in the law, for the better assuring unto the trustee, the rail-road, coal lands and equipments, rights and equities hereinbefore mentioned, or intended so to be, and all other property and things whatsoever which may be hereafter required for use, in connection with the same, or any part thereof, in said counties, and all franchises now held or hereafter to be acquired, including the franchise to be a corporation.

ARTICLE VIII.—The trustee shall have full power, in its discretion, upon the written request of the party of the first part, to convey, by way of release or otherwise, to the persons designated by the said Company, any lands acquired or held for the purposes of stations, depots, shops or other buildings; and shall also have power to convey as aforesaid, on like request, any lands or property which, in the judgment of the trustee, shall not be necessary for use in connection with the said railroad, or which may have been held for a supply of fuel, gravel or other material, and also, to convey as aforesaid, on like request, any lands not occupied by the track, which may become disused by reason of a change of the location of any station house, depot, shop or other building connected with the said rail-road, and such lands occupied by the track and adjacent to such station-house, depot, shop or other buildings as the said Company may deem it expedient to disuse or abandon by reason of such change, and to consent to any such change, and to such other changes in the location of the track, or depot, or other buildings, as in their judgment shall have become expedient; and to make and deliver the conveyances necessary to carry the same into effect; but any lands which may be acquired for permanent use, in substitution for any so released, shall be conveyed to the trustee, upon the trusts of these presents; and the trustee shall also have full power to allow the said Company from time to time to dispose of, according to their discretion, such portions of the equipments, machinery and implements at any time held or acquired for the use of the said rail-road, as may have become unfit for such use, replacing the same by new, which shall be conveyed to the trustee, or be otherwise made subject to the operations of these presents.

ARTICLE IX.—The said party of the first part shall at all times hereafter keep at its office or agency in the City of New-York, transfer books for the transfer of the bonds aforesaid, and of the stock of the said Company.

ARTICLE X.—It is hereby declared and agreed, that it shall be the duty of the trustee to exercise the power of entry hereby granted, or the power of sale hereby granted, or both, or to take appropriate proceedings in equity or at law to enforce the rights of the bondholders under these presents, in writing, as hereinafter specified.

1. If the default be as to interest or principal of any bonds, such requisition upon the said trustee shall be by holders of not less than two million dollars in the aggregate amount of the said bonds; and upon such requisition, and a proper indemnification by the persons making the same to the trustee, against the costs and expenses to be by them incurred, it shall be the duty of the trustee to enforce the rights of the bondholders under these presents, by entry, sale or legal proceedings, as they, being advised by counsel learned in the law, shall deem most expedient for the interest of all the holders of the said bonds.

2. If the default be in respect to any payment into the sinking fund herein established by article sixth of these presents, or be in the omission of any act or thing required by article seventh of these presents for the further assuring of the title of the trustee to any property or franchise now possessed or hereafter acquired, or with any other provision herein contained, to be performed or kept by the said Company, then, and in either of such cases, the requisition shall be as aforesaid; but it shall be within the discretion of the trustee to enforce or waive the rights of the bondholders by reason of such default, subject to the power hereby declared of a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds, by requisition, in writing, or by a vote at a meeting duly held, to instruct the said trustee to waive such default, or upon adequate indemnity as aforesaid to enforce their rights by reason thereof: Provided, that no action of the said trustee, or bondholders, or both, in waiving such default, or otherwise, shall extend to or be taken to affect any subsequent default, or to impair the rights re-resulting therefrom.

ARTICLE XI.—It is mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto, that the word trustee, as used in these presents, shall be construed to mean the trustee for the time being and whenever any vacancy may be created a majority of the bondholders interested shall have the right to appoint a successor or continuing trustee, and the acceptance of such appointment, in writing, shall immediately and by force of such written appointment and acceptance, vest in said new trustee, as fully and completely in all respects as if he had been herein named as the party of the second part.

ARTICLE XII.—The party of the first part, in consideration of the premises and of one dollar duly paid, further covenants and agrees to and with the party of the second part, to keep open an office or agency in the City of New-York for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds hereby secured as the same shall become payable, and for the transfer and voting registration of such bonds.

ARTICLE XIII.—The party of the first part further covenants and agrees, that the proceeds of the said bonds shall at all times be faithfully applied to the uses and purposes herein specified, and to no other use or purpose whatsoever.

ARTICLE XIV.—And the said party of the first part, in consideration of the premises, hereby covenants and agrees, to and with the party of the second part, that it, the said party of the first part, shall and will, at all times hereafter, observe perform and keep all and every the conditions, covenants and provisions herein contained, to be by the said party of the first part performed and kept.

To have and to hold the above described premises and property unto the said party of the second part, and to its successor as continuing trustee: In trust, nevertheless, for the purposes herein expressed, and upon the following conditions, covenants and agreements, to wit:

ARTICLE I.—Until default be made in the payment of the principal of the said bonds, or some of them, or until default shall be made in respect to something herein required to be done by the party of the first part, the said party of the first part shall possess, manage, operate and enjoy the said rail-road, coal lands and coal mines, with their equipments, and all the other property and franchises hereinbefore described, and to take and use the earnings, incomes, profits, rents, tolls and issues thereof, and dispose of the same in any manner not inconsistent with this instrument.

ARTICLE II.—In case default shall be made in the payment of any of the interest coupons annexed to any of the foregoing bonds, according to the tenor thereof, or in any payment required to be made into the sinking fund, as herein provided, and if such default shall continue for the period of six months, it shall be lawful for the party of the second part, by its duly authorized officer, agent or attorney, to enter into and upon all and singular the premises hereby conveyed, and each and every part thereof, and to have, hold and use the same under such superintendent, manager, receiver or agents as the party of the second part may select to conduct the business of said rail-road and coal mines, and to exercise the franchises pertaining thereto, and to make, from time to time, all repairs, replacements, additions and improvements thereto as may seem judicious, and to collect all earnings, dues, freights, incomes, rents, tolls, issues and profits of the same, and of every part thereof, and after deducting the expenses of operating the said rail-road and coal mines, and of conducting the business thereof, and of all the said repairs, replacements, additions and improvements, and of all taxes, assessments or liens upon the said premises, or any part thereof, to apply the money arising as aforesaid to the payment of interest coupons in the order in which they shall have become due, and thereafter to the payment of any instalment or balance due and payable to the sinking fund herein established; and after paying all such past due coupons, and all instalments or balances due to the sinking fund, to apply the same to the satisfaction of the principal of the aforesaid bonds which may be at that time unpaid, rateably and without discrimination or preference.

ARTICLE III.—In case default shall be made as aforesaid, and shall continue as aforesaid, it shall likewise be lawful for the party of the second part, after entry as aforesaid, or without entry, to sell and dispose of the premises hereby conveyed, at public auction, in the City of New-York, or at such place as the said party of the second part may designate, having first given notice of the place and the time of such sale by advertisement, published not less than once a week for six months in one or more newspapers published in the City of New-York and in Sterling, Illinois, and to adjourn the said sale from time to time by announcement at the time and place advertised, without other notice, and to make and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers thereof good and sufficient deed or deeds in fee simple; which sale, made as aforesaid, shall be a perpetual lien, both in law and in equity, against the party of the first part and all other persons lawfully claiming the same, or any part thereof, through or from the said party; and after deducting from the proceeds of such sale just allowance for all expenses thereof, including reasonable attorney's fees, and any other necessary expenses incurred by the said trustee in managing the business of said rail-road while in possession, and in arranging the sale thereof, to apply the proceeds to the payment of the principal of such of the aforesaid bonds as may be at that time unpaid, whether or not the same shall have previously become due, and of the interest which shall at that time have accrued on the said principal and be unpaid, without discrimination or preference, but rateably, to the aggregate amount of such unpaid principal and such accrued and unpaid interest, in United States gold coin, at par; and if, after satisfaction thereof as aforesaid, a surplus of the said proceeds shall remain, to pay the same over to the party of the first part.

ARTICLE IV.—At any sale of the aforesaid property, or any part thereof, whether made under the power herein granted or by judicial authority, the party of the second part may bid for and purchase the property so sold, or any part thereof, in behalf of the holders of the bonds secured by this instrument and then outstanding, in proportion to the respective interests of such bondholders.

ARTICLE V.—In case default shall be made in the payment of any half year's interest on any of the aforesaid bonds, according to the tenor of the coupons annexed thereto, and if such default shall continue for the period of six months after such coupons shall have become due and payment thereof shall have been demanded, then the principal of all the bonds secured hereby, if a majority in interest of all the holders of the said bonds direct in writing before the interest so in arrears has been paid, shall be declared by the said party of the second part to be immediately due and payable, and thereupon the same shall become due and payable, any thing contained in the said bond or herein to the contrary notwithstanding.

ARTICLE VI.—At the end of every six months, the first such period commencing on the first day of August, 1875, the sum of ten thousand dollars shall be reserved by the said party of the first part, and within sixty days thereafter be paid over to the trustee as a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds secured by these presents. The trustee shall at once deposit the said surplus so paid over to him, in the United States Trust Company of the City of New-York, or in some other depository in the said city, deemed by him to be safe; and the said moneys, together with all accumulations of interest thereon, which may actually come within the disposal of the said trustee, shall be invested by the said trustee in the purchase of the bonds secured by these presents, provided the same can be obtained at a rate not exceeding ten per cent. above the par of the said bonds, with the interest accrued thereon; and the bonds so purchased shall be deposited with the said Trust Company, or other depository deemed by the trustee to be safe as aforesaid, and be immediately registered, stamped or endorsed as belonging to the said sinking fund, but shall remain in force, and the interest thereon shall continue to be paid by the said party of the first part, and the amount of such interest shall be added and applied as a part of the capital of the sinking fund hereby established, and be invested in the purchase of other bonds in the same manner as the semi-annual payments of six thousand dollars herein above provided for:

And preparatory to such purchase of bonds, the said trustee shall give ten days' notice thereof, in one or more of the daily newspapers published in the City of New-York, and shall make the said purchase at the lowest price or prices at which the bonds may be offered, pursuant to such notice, or at such lower price as he may be able to obtain the same, but not in any case exceeding the rate of ten per cent. above the par and interest of the said bonds; and in case the said bonds cannot be purchased at such rate within three months after the expiration of the notice aforesaid, then the said money shall be invested in such manner as the trustee may deem proper: Provided, nevertheless, that it shall be at all times competent for the party of the first part, and the holders of the bonds secured hereby, acting by a majority in interest, to enter into any new agreement which they may deem necessary or proper for the modification of the sinking fund hereby established, or the regulation of investments under the same.

ARTICLE VII.—The said party of the first part shall from time to time, and as often as thereunto requested by the trustee, execute, acknowledge, and deliver all such further deeds and conveyances in the law for the better assuring unto the trustee, the rail-road, coal lands and equipments, rights and equities hereinbefore mentioned, or intended so to be, and all other property and things whatsoever which may be hereafter acquired for use, in connection with the same, or any part thereof, in said counties, and all franchises now held or hereafter to be acquired, including the franchise to be a corporation.

ARTICLE VIII.—The trustee shall have full power, in its discretion, upon the written request of the party of the first part, to convey, by way of release or otherwise, to the persons designated by the said Company, any lands acquired or held for the purposes of stations, depots, shops or other buildings; and shall also have power to convey as aforesaid, on like request, any lands or property which, in the judgment of the trustee, shall not be necessary for use in connection with the said rail-road, or which may have been held for a supply of fuel, gravel or other material and also to convey as aforesaid, on like request, any lands not occupied by the track, which may become disused by reason of a change of the location of any station-house, depot, shop or other building connected with the said rail-road, and such lands occupied by the track and adjacent to such station-house, depot, shop or other building as the said Company may deem it expedient to disuse or abandon by reason of such change, and to consent to any such change, and to such other changes in the location of the track, or depot, or other buildings, as in their judgment shall have become expedient; and to make and deliver the conveyances necessary to carry the same into effect; but any lands which may be acquired for permanent use, in substitution for any so released, shall be conveyed to the trustee, upon the trusts of these presents; and the trustee shall also have full power to allow the said Company from time to time to dispose of, according to their discretion, such portions of the equipments, machinery and implements at any time held or acquired for the use of the said rail-road, as may have become unfit for such use, replacing the same by new, which shall be conveyed to the trustee, or be otherwise made subject to the operation of these presents.

ARTICLE IX.—The said party of the first part shall at all times hereafter keep at its office or agency in the City of New-York transfer books for the transfer of the bonds aforesaid, and of the stock of the said Company.

ARTICLE X.—It is hereby declared and agreed, that it shall be the duty of the trustee to exercise the power of entry hereby granted, or the power of sale hereby granted, or both, or to take appropriate proceedings in equity or at law to enforce the rights of the bondholders under these presents, in writing, as hereinafter specified.

1. If the default be as to interest or principal of any bonds, such requisition upon the said trustee shall be by holders of not less than two million dollars in the aggregate amount of the said bonds; and upon such requisition, and a proper indemnification by the persons making the same to the trustee against the costs and expenses to be by them incurred, it shall be the duty of the trustee to enforce the rights of the bondholders under these presents, by entry, sale or legal proceedings, as they, being advised by counsel learned in the law, shall deem most expedient for the interest of all the holders of the said bonds.

2. If the default be in respect to any payment into the sinking fund herein established by article sixth of these presents, or be in the omission of any act or thing required by article seventh of these presents for the further assuring of the title of the trustee to any property or franchise now possessed or hereafter acquired, or with any other provision herein contained, to be performed or kept by the said Company, then, and in either of such cases, the requisition shall be as aforesaid;

but it shall be within the discretion of the trustee to enforce or waive the rights of the bondholders by reason of such default, subject to the power hereby declared of a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds, by requisition, in writing, or by a vote at a meeting duly held, to instruct the said trustee to waive such default, or upon adequate indemnity as aforesaid to enforce their rights by reason thereof: Provided, that no action of the said trustee or bondholders, or both, in waiving such default, or otherwise, shall extend to or be taken to affect any subsequent default, or to impair the rights resulting therefrom.

ARTICLE XI.—It is mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto, that the word trustee, as used in these presents, shall be construed to mean the trustee for the time being; and whenever any vacancy may be created a majority of the bondholders interested shall have the right to appoint a successor or continuing trustee, and the acceptance of such appointment, in writing, shall immediately and by force of such written appointment and acceptance vest in said new trustee, as fully and completely in all respects as if he had been herein named as the party of the second part.

ARTICLE XII.—The party of the first part, in consideration of the premises and of one dollar duly paid, further covenants and agrees to and with the party of the second part, to keep open an office or agency in the City of New York for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds hereby secured as the same shall become payable, and for the transfer and voting registration of such bonds.

ARTICLE XIII.—The party of the first part further covenants and agrees, that the proceeds of the said bonds shall at all times be faithfully applied to the uses and purposes herein specified, and to no other use or purpose whatsoever.

ARTICLE XIV.—And the said party of the first part, in consideration of the premises, hereby covenants and agrees, to and with the party of the second part, that it, the said party of the first part, shall and will, at all times hereafter, observe, perform and keep all and every the conditions, covenants and provisions herein contained, to be by the said party of the first part performed or kept.

ARTICLE XV.—If the party of the first part shall well and truly pay the sums of money herein required to be paid by the said party, and all interest thereon, at the times and in the manner here specified, and shall well and truly keep and perform all the things herein required to be kept and performed by the said party, according to the true intent and meaning of these presents, then and in that case, the estate, right, title and interest of the said parties of the second part, and of their successors in the trust hereby created, shall cease, determine and become void, otherwise the same shall be and remain in full force and virtue.

In testimony whereof, the party of the first part has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, and these presents to be attested by the signatures of its President, Treasurer and Secretary; and the party of the second part has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, and the same to be attested by its President, to testify its acceptance of the said trust, on the day and year first above written.

TUESDAY, JULY 13, A. D. 1875.

The Union Trust Company, of New York, vs. The Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company, The Orion and Minersville Railroad Company, and Samuel M. Nickerson, and Robert S. Noyes and One Hundred and Twenty-three other holders of Bonds, who have Intervened Herein.	}	In Chancery.
--	---	----------------------------

This cause came on to be further heard at this term, to-wit on the thirteenth day of July, A. D. 1875, and no other exceptions being taken to the said master's report, it is ordered that said report be, and the same is, in all things affirmed. And thereupon this cause coming on for final hearing upon the pleadings, proofs and admissions of the parties, and having been argued by counsel, upon full consideration thereof, it is ordered adjudged and decreed as follows, viz.:

First: That said mortgage of June 15, 1868, covers all that portion of the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad, with its appurtenances, which is north of a point on the main line of said railroad, due east of the city of Burlington, in the State of Iowa, together with all the real estate of said company, north of that point, and the holders of the first series of said bonds, numbered from one to five thousand inclusive, which are secured by said mortgage, are entitled to a first and prior lien for the payment thereof, upon all the property covered by said mortgage of June 15, 1868, and if the proceeds of said property, at the sale hereinafter decreed to be made, are insufficient for the full payment of said first series of bonds, the holders thereof, after exhausting such proceeds, are entitled for any balance which may be due upon said bonds, to share pro rata with the holders of the said second series of bonds, numbered from five thousand and one to nine thousand inclusive, in the proceeds of all the other property of said Railroad Company, covered by said mortgage of October 23, 1868, and the holders of said second series of bonds are not entitled to any part of the proceeds of the property, covered by said mortgage of June 15, 1868, unless such proceeds are more than sufficient to pay the whole of said first series of bonds, in which event the holders of said second series of bonds would have a lien upon such surplus, and the holders of said second series of bonds, numbers 5001 to 9000 inclusive, have not the right, or equity, which is claimed by them or on their behalf, in this suit, to require the respective holders of said first series of bonds numbers 1 to 5000 inclusive, to elect whether to claim and have the benefit of a lien pro rata with the holders of the said second series of bonds, upon the entire property covered by the said mortgage of October 23, 1868, and, as a condition thereof, to relinquish priority of lien under the said mortgage of June 15, 1868, upon the property covered thereby, for the benefit of said first series of bonds, until satisfied to the exclusion of said second series, or in lieu thereof, to claim their full legal right and priority of lien, under the said mortgage of June 15, 1868, upon the property embraced therein, for the exclusive benefit of said first series of bonds, until satisfied, and thereupon relinquish the right to claim the benefit of said mortgage of October 23, 1868, until after satisfaction of said second series of bonds, nor have the holders of said second series of bonds any right or equity to put the holders of said first series of bonds to any election in the premises, or to require them, or any of them, to waive any right of preference under said mortgage of June 15, 1868, as a condition of claiming or enjoying the full benefit of the security afforded to them by said mortgage of October 23, 1868; that the property covered by said mortgages is so situated that it would be for the interest of the said Railroad Company, of the holders of said bonds of both series, and of all parties concerned, that it should all be sold together and not in separate parcels, and that the value of the property covered by the mortgage of June 15, 1868, is thirty-seven per cent. of the value of the entire property covered by both of said mortgages, and hereinafter decreed to be sold.

That the principal sum of both series of bonds in said mortgages mentioned, is hereby declared to be due, and the said bonds and coupons which were provisionally reduced, and the coupons which were provisionally funded under said contracts of July 1st and October 9th, 1872, are entitled to stand in full force and effect as if said contracts had not been made, crediting merely on such coupons the cash actually paid on account thereof, except that the holders of said certificates of indebtedness are entitled to be taken and held as the equitable owners of said coupons in lieu of which they were issued, and the holder of said preferred stock, after the holder of half-cancelled bond, on account of which it was issued, shall have received the full amount of his half of his bond and interest not cancelled, is entitled to the distributive share of any residue appertaining to such provisionally half-cancelled bond.

Second: That the said Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company pay to the said complainant, the Union Trust Company of New York, the trustee in said mortgages mentioned, within five days from this date, the sum of eleven million two hundred and fifty-one thousand five hundred and thirty-five dollars and ninety cents ($11,251,535.90) in gold, with interest thereon from the twenty-fourth day of May, 1875, and the costs of this suit, the said sum being the amount, principal and interest found by said master's report to be due and unpaid upon the bonds of said railroad company secured by said mortgages, of which sum six million two hundred and fifty-four thousand two hundred and nineteen dollars and twenty-eight cents ($6,254,219.28) was due on the first series of bonds numbered from 1 to 5,000 inclusive, and the balance four million nine hundred and ninety-seven thousand three hundred and sixteen dollars and sixty-two cents ($4,997,316.62) on the second series of bonds numbered from 5,001 to 9,000 inclusive.

Third: That in default of such payment the mortgaged premises in said bill of complaint mentioned, including the entire railroad of said Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis Railroad Company, with all branches and tracks, to the coal mines owned or leased by it, and also including all the railroads, rights of way, depot grounds, coal lands or other lands, all depots, station-houses, engine-houses, car-houses, freight-houses, grain-houses, grain elevators, wood-houses, coal-houses or other buildings, and all car-shops and machine-shops; also all kinds of rolling stock or equipments, machinery and tools held for use in connection with said Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company, or its coal lands and coal mines, including all locomotives, cars, tenders or other rolling-stock and equipments, and all implements, fuel and materials for the construction, operating, repairing or replacing the said railroad or any of its branches, or in or for operating and working any of its coal mines or any of its equipments; also all franchises connected with or relating to the said railroad, and also all rights, claims and benefits in and to all leases, contracts and agreements made with any parties owning any coal lands or mineral lands or railroad or railroads, or with any other parties for any other property; together with all and singular the tenements and appurtenances thereunto belonging, and the reversions, remainders, tolls, incomes, rents, issues and profits thereof; and also all the estates, rights, titles and interests whatsoever as well at law as in equity of the said Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company, of, in and to the same, also the entire railroad of the Orion and Minersville Railroad Company, with all the franchises, privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging, and all other property, real and personal, belonging to said Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company and Orion and Minersville Railroad Company or either of them, and which is now in the possession of said receiver and hereinafter described or referred to, and all other property, rights, franchises, and things which shall have been acquired by purchase or otherwise by the said receiver during the pendency of this suit for use in connection with said railroads, and shall be at the time of the sale hereby decreed in his possession or to which he may then be entitled, be sold by Henry W. Bishop, the master in chancery of this court, together as one property and not in separate parcels and in the manner hereinafter directed, in order to satisfy and pay the amount due on said mortgages, the costs of this proceeding and the said several sums hereinafter decreed to be paid; that any sale hereunder shall be at public auction to the highest bidder; two hundred thousand dollars of the sum bid to be paid in cash at the time of sale, and the balance as hereinafter provided when said sale (to be made in Chicago, in the State of Illinois at such time as said master shall appoint,) shall be confirmed by the court, that notice of such sale shall be given by said master by advertisement thereof daily, six times in each week for three successive weeks preceding the day of sale, in one daily newspaper of general circulation in each of the cities of Chicago and New York, that after the payment to the master of said sum of two hundred thousand dollars of the sum bid by the purchaser at said sale, the master may receive from such purchaser for the balance of the sum bid at such sale, in lieu of cash, any of the outstanding and unpaid bonds or coupons issued under and secured by said mortgages of June 15, 1868, or October 23, 1868, or certificates of indebtedness issued in lieu of any of said coupons at such per centage as the court shall direct at the approval of said sale.

Fourth: That out of the purchase money received by the master from such sale he shall first pay the costs of this suit, including those of all the parties thereto, to be taxed, together with the costs and expenses of executing this decree, and to the said Union Trust Company of New York the trustee in said mortgages, as a just allowance for its reasonable expenses and compensation and counsel fees, the sum of forty-two thousand, five hundred and six dollars and ninety-five cents $42,506.95 as specified in said master's report, and to the attorneys of said intervening bond-holders the sum of eight thousand four hundred dollars ($8,400) as specified in said master's report, and to the Orion and Minersville Railroad Company, from the proceeds of sale to which the holders of the first series of bonds are herein decreed to have a first and prior right or lien, the sum of twenty-nine thousand three hundred and sixty-two dollars and twenty cents, with ten per cent. per annum interest from the 15th day of June, 1875, the said sum being the balance unpaid to the said Orion and Minersville Railroad Company and agreed to be accepted by it in discharge of all sums due or hereafter to become due under its contract with the said Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company and a previous decree of this court, and upon the payment of the said sum of twenty-nine thousand three hundred and sixty-two dollars and twenty cents ($29,362.20) with interest as aforesaid, to the said Orion and Minersville Railroad Company, it shall, by a good and sufficient deed, convey to the purchaser at such sale its entire line of road with the privileges and appurtenances thereunto belonging, including its franchises and property of every description, real and personal, exclusive of the money hereinbefore directed to be paid to the said railroad company. And the master shall reserve in his hands such further sum as the court may at or before the confirmation of the sale direct, subject to its further order as may be necessary for the protection of persons who have filed petitions claiming any interest in some part of the property held at this time by the receiver, if any such shall be found to exist.

Fifth: That the master shall pay over the balance of the proceeds of said sale to the clerk of this court, who shall apply the same under the direction of the court to the payment of the bonds, coupons and certificates of indebtedness, issued in lieu of coupons secured by said mortgages respectively, and which shall then be outstanding and unpaid, paying the same in full if the said balance be sufficient for that purpose, and if not, he shall first set apart thirty-seven per cent. of the said balance, less the sum of forty-eight thousand, one hundred and seventy-five dollars and seventy-six cents ($48,175.76), being sixty-three per cent. of the amount heretofore paid and the entire amount hereinbefore directed to be paid to the Orion and Minersville Railroad Company for the payment of the first series of bonds numbered from 1 to 5,000 inclusive, and the coupons and the certificates of indebtedness issued in lieu of any of said coupons thereto belonging, and from the sum so set apart the clerk shall reserve the sum of twenty-nine thousand three hundred and forty-four dollars and twenty-eight cents ($29,344.28) in gold coin or its equivalent in United States currency on the day of sale for payment as follows: that is to say, to the holders of coupons numbered six (6), seven (7), eight (8), nine (9), and ten (10), belonging to said first series of bonds who did not become parties to said provisional contract of July 1 and October 9, 1872, and who have not already been paid such sum, an amount which shall make the sum paid on said coupons equal to the sum the holders thereof would respectively have been entitled to receive had they been parties to said contract, to-wit: the sum of seventeen dollars and fifty cents on each coupon No. 9, seventeen dollars and fifty cents on each coupon No. 10, one dollar and forty cents on each unsealed coupon Nos. 6, 7, 8, and by paying to the holders of half-cancelled coupons of certificates of indebtedness issued in lieu of coupons under said provisional contract belonging to said first series of bonds who have not already received the sum to which they were entitled under said contract between August 1, 1872, and up to and including August 1, 1873, any balance that may be due them respectively under said contract, the above mentioned sum of twenty-nine thousand three

CONTRACT AND LEASE, February 1, 1877, St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

* * * * *

This Indenture of Lease and Contract, made this first day of February, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-seven (1877), by and between the St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company, party of the first part, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, party of the second part, both corporations organized and existing under the laws of the State of Illinois.

Whereas said first party is authorized, among other things, to construct, complete and operate a railroad from Sterling, in the county of White-side, to East St. Louis, in the county of St. Clair, in the State of Illinois, and now owns and is operating the same, as hereinafter described.

And Whereas, for the purpose of providing for and funding its outstanding indebtedness and the completion and equipment of its road, it has executed its bond or bonds for the aggregate sum of two millions five hundred thousand dollars, of the date of October first, 1876, having twenty-five years to run to maturity, bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually; both principal and interest payable in currency, at the office of the second party, in the city of Boston, Mass.; and has secured the payment of the same by a trust mortgage, duly executed by it to J. N. A. Griswold, J. N. Denison and George Tyson, trustees therein, upon its said railroad, extending from Sterling aforesaid to East St. Louis, constructed or to be constructed, together with all its side tracks and branches, rights of way, road-bed, superstructure, grounds, depot buildings, equipment, leases, contracts and all other of its property connected therewith, together with its rights, privileges and franchises belonging thereto; which said trust mortgage bears even date herewith, and has been duly recorded in the several counties through which said railroad runs; and

Whereas said first party, in order that said railroad may be more fully equipped and efficiently maintained and operated, and the public convenience subserved, and also that means may be provided for the payment of the semi-annually accruing interest on said bonds, it has resolved to enter into the lease, covenants and agreements hereinafter mentioned, and in reference to the subject matter of which the respective parties hereto are fully authorized by the laws of said State of Illinois, and by the action of their respective stockholders to contract as herein stipulated.

Now, Therefore, this Indenture Witnesseth, that the party of the first part, in consideration of the covenants and agreements herein contained, to be kept and performed by said second party, it, the said first party, has granted, demised, leased, assigned and transferred, and by these presents doth grant, demise, lease, assign and transfer unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, subject to the mortgage aforesaid, all the following demised railroad, leases, contracts and other property of said St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company—that is to say:

Its railroad extending from Rock Island Junction to Port Byron Junction, thirty-nine and four-tenths miles; at Rock Island, five-twelfths of a mile; from Colona to Minersville, one and four-tenths miles; from Orion to Monmouth, thirty-eight and three-tenths miles.

Its branch from Rock River Junction to coal mines at Cleveland, three and five-tenths miles.

Its railroad from Monmouth Junction to Alton Junction, one hundred and sixty-one and six-tenths miles.

Its detached road from Keithsburg to Sagetown, seventeen and nine-tenths miles.

Its joint interest with the Chicago and North-Western Railway Company in the road from Rock Island Junction to Sterling, five and two-tenths miles. And a contract for the joint use of said road between said points.

Its right of way from Port Byron Junction to Rock Island.

Its railroad from Orion to Minersville, a distance of seven and six-tenths miles.

A contract with the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, for the use of its track between Colona and Port Byron Junction and Rock Island.

A contract with the Indianapolis and St. Louis Railroad Company, for the use of its road from Alton Junction to East St. Louis, twenty-one miles, and certain depot facilities at East St. Louis; including herein side tracks amounting to twenty-one miles, right of way, road-bed, superstructure, all the lands and depot grounds, station houses, depots, viaducts, fences and material appurtenant to said railroads; all the engines, tenders, cars and machinery, and all other kinds of rolling stock of said railroads, and all the rights, privileges and franchises of said first party relating to said railroads, or either of them; together with the revenues and income derived or to be derived therefrom, intending hereby to include all machine shops, and the implements and tools contained therein or along the line of said railroads, or either of them, although the same might not be herein specifically mentioned.

To have and to hold the above described railroads, premises and property, with the rights, privileges and franchises appertaining thereto, and the income and revenue to be derived therefrom, unto the said party of the second part, its successors and assigns, from the first day of October last to the end of the chartered existence of said first party, its successors and assigns, being fifty years from the tenth day of May, 1876, and during the extension or extensions, renewal or renewals of the chartered rights and existence of said first party, as hereinafter provided.

And the said first party hereby agrees that during the continuance of this lease and the life of its present charter, it will maintain its corporate organization, by the annual election of directors and officers, and the performance of such other acts as may be required by law for that purpose. And that at the expiration of its present charter, at the request of said second party, its successors and assigns, in case the mortgage herein mentioned in the meantime shall not have been foreclosed, cause its charter to be renewed and extended for another term of fifty years, or for such other period as may at that time be competent, under the provisions of law authorizing such extensions or renewals.

And that it will at that time make, execute and deliver all needful papers, and take all necessary action for that purpose.

And that it will in like manner, on like request, at each successive expiration of its charter—provided always that no foreclosure of said mortgage, or those hereinafter provided for, has taken place—renew and extend the same. And will during all such renewals and extensions of such chartered rights, maintain its corporate organization, so as in effect to make such corporation a continuing one.

Said first party further agrees that it will, at the expiration of its present chartered existence, and at the termination of each renewal and extension thereof, as hereinbefore provided, at the request of said second party, its successors and assigns, in case no foreclosure of said mortgage shall have been had, renew and extend, or cause to be renewed and extended, this lease for the like considerations and stipulations herein mentioned, so as in effect to make the lease of the property herein mentioned, to the party of the second part, its successors and assigns, perpetual.

Said second party, in consideration of the premises, and of one dollar to it paid by the first party, the receipt of which is confessed, does hereby covenant and agree with said first party, its successors and assigns, to take possession of the premises and property hereby demised, not already in its possession, and as of the date of October 1st, 1876, and to pay or cause to be paid, all taxes and assessments that may be lawfully levied, charged or assessed on said demised premises, or any part thereof, during the continuance of this lease and all renewals thereof.

And also at all times to keep said demised road in good order and suitably equipped; to maintain and operate the same in such manner as may be requisite to reasonably accommodate the business of the country through which said demised road passes.

And also in addition thereto to pay an annual rental therefor of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, at its office in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, in the manner following—that is to say:

By paying semi annually the maturing interest on the said two millions five hundred thousand dollars mortgage bond or bonds hereinbefore mentioned, until all of said interest shall have been paid in full. And thereafter, and after the maturity of said bonds, by paying in lawful money interest thereon, at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same time and place, unless the said bonds are extinguished for foreclosure, or otherwise, until the expiration of the chartered rights of said Company.

Provided, however, that in case a foreclosure of said mortgage shall be had before the maturity of said bond or bonds, or before the expiration of the chartered rights of said Company, then and thereafter this lease shall cease and determine.

But in case no foreclosure of said mortgage shall take place before the expiration of the chartered existence of said Company, and in case a new bond or bonds, at that time secured by mortgages as herein provided, shall be executed and delivered, to take the place of said bond or bonds, then the rental is to be paid by paying and discharging the interest that shall accrue on such new bond or bonds. And in like manner by paying and discharging the interest of successive issues of bonds, as herein provided, so long as no foreclosure shall be had of any of such subsequent and successive mortgages.

It being understood that such foreclosure, whenever it may occur, shall terminate the leases which may be executed as herein provided.

It is further agreed that in case no foreclosure shall have taken place at the termination of the present charter of said Company, then and in case the holders of said bond or bonds shall consent, and said second party in writing shall so elect, said first party having hereby renewed and extended its charter, and executed and delivered another lease as hereinbefore provided, shall make, execute and deliver other bonds or bond in like amount, drawing the same rate of interest, and of like characters as those hereinbefore mentioned, to take the place thereof, or to pay and discharge the same, and to run during the continuance of said renewed charter.

And shall in like manner secure the payment of the same, principal and interest, by a trust mortgage duly executed and delivered on the property herein described, of like character to the one hereinbefore mentioned. And thereafter at each expiration of its renewed charter and lease as contemplated, with the consent of the holders of said bonds, and at the like election of said second party, it shall make, execute and deliver successive bonds or bond and mortgages of like character, to take the place of those previously existing.

But it is expressly agreed that in the meantime, and at no time, shall said first party execute any second mortgage or other mortgages than those hereinbefore mentioned and provided for on the property herein described, or any part thereof.

It is further mutually agreed that in case this lease shall be terminated at any time for any cause, the said first party, its successors and assigns, before it shall be entitled to the possession of said demised premises, or any part thereof, shall pay to said second party, the original cost of all additional construction and new work on said demised premises, and of all permanent improvements made thereon, or on any part thereof, together with interest on all such sums, at the rate of ten per cent. per annum from the time of the payment of such moneys, and from the time of the completion of each item of construction or improvement. And for all such expenditures and payments and the interest thereon, said second party shall have a lien which shall entitle it to the possession and use of said demised premises, and the revenues to be derived therefrom, until the same shall be paid.

It is also mutually agreed that no increase of the capital stock of said first party, now by its charter fixed at three millions dollars, shall be authorized or made by said first party, its successors or assigns, by amendment of its charter or otherwise. And also that the covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof the parties hereto have caused their corporate names to be hereto subscribed by their respective Presidents, and their corporate seals to be hereto attached and attested by their respective Secretaries, the day and year first above written.

TRUST AGREEMENT, February 1, 1877, New England Trust Company with Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

This agreement provides for the deposit by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, with the New England Trust Company, of bonds of the St. Louis, Rock Island and Chicago Railroad Company amounting to $2,500,000, to secure and provide sinking fund for redemption of an issue of bonds, by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company amounting to $2,500,000. These bonds are dated Oct. 1, 1876, have twenty-five years to run, bear interest at the rate of five per cent, payable semi-annually, and mature Oct. 1, 1901.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company have sold by public proposals, and propose to issue at once, two thousand and two hundred bonds, of one thousand dollars each in currency, to run twenty-five years, from October 1st, 1876, with five per cent interest, payable semi-annually, at the office of the Company in Boston, Mass., on the first day of April and October of each year: and they propose also to issue and sell, at some future time, three hundred other bonds of the same tenor and date: such bonds as are countersigned by the said Trust Company, and no other, shall be entitled to the benefits of the Sinking Fund, provided by this agreement.

As fast as these Bonds are issued, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company will place in trust with the New England Trust Company, an equal amount of the registered currency bonds of the St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad Company, to run twenty-five years from Oct. 1, 1876, bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and secured by a First Mortgage, on the said St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad.

At the date of the maturity of the semi-annual interest of the St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad Bonds, thus placed in the hands of the said Trust Company, and on proper acknowledgement to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, the latter Company will pay to the New England Trust Company the difference between the interest on the then outstanding five per cent bonds of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, issued under this agreement, and the interest upon the seven per cent bonds of the St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad Company, held by said Trust Company in accordance with their agreement.

The total amount of bonds to be issued by each of said Railroad Companies under this agreement, shall not exceed two million, five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000).

Said Trust Company, upon the receipt of the amount of such difference in interest, shall immediately advertise, in one or more daily newspapers, published in Boston, Mass., inviting sealed proposals to sell them said bonds of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, to the amount of the money in said Sinking Fund uninvested, and shall accept the most favorable offers, provided the price named shall not exceed par and accrued interest, and shall cancel the bonds so purchased.

Whenever the bonds cannot be bought at a price not exceeding par and interest on public proposals, then the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company shall invest the amount of the money held by the New England Trust Company in those, or other securities, and deposit the same with the said Trust Company, provided the said Trust Company do not object to the same as in their opinion unsafe; in which case, the money is to be invested by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company in said five per cent bonds, at such price as they may think best, or in United States Bonds, or Bonds of either of the New England States, or of the State of New York, New Jersey or of the City of Boston.

The five per cent bonds of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, issued in accordance with this Trust and so purchased by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, shall be cancelled by the New England Trust Company.

All other securities so purchased, shall be registered as far as practicable, and the same shall be received and held by the New England Trust Company, and the income thereof, together with interest paid on the bonds, shall remain on deposit with the said Trust Company, they allowing interest on the same, at their current rates on deposits, until invested as above, in said five per cent bonds of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, or otherwise, as above provided.

In as much as the five per cent bonds of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company subject to this agreement, were not issued at their date, it is agreed that the first payment into the Sinking Fund shall not be the full difference between the five and seven per cent interest for six months, but only the proportion accrued after the sale and payment for the five per cent bonds.

The cost of advertising, stamps and all other expenses, other than the services of the New England Trust Company, necessary to carry this agreement into effect, except in case of default as hereinafter provided, to be paid by said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

No responsibility shall attach to the New England Trust Company, for any of the investments made in accordance with the provisions of this agreement, or in regard to the final redemption of either of said classes of bonds, or the interest thereon, other than as funds come into their hands from the Sinking Fund.

The compensation for said services, to be paid by the said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company to the New England Trust Company, shall be, for the first year fifty cents on each bond so issued by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, and twenty-five cents for each and every year thereafter, on each bond so issued, for the remainder of the term of twenty-five years, or until the trust shall have been discontinued, as provided in the last clause of this agreement.

In case of default of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company to pay their outstanding bonds, or the interest upon the same, for the term of thirty days after becoming due, then upon the request of one-tenth of the holders of said bonds, the said New England Trust Company shall sell at public auction, such portion of the St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad Company bonds, or other securities they may have in their possession for said trust, as may be necessary, and pay the proceeds pro rata to the amount of principal and interest upon all the bonds of the said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, issued under this agreement, remaining unpaid, whether due or otherwise, and after said payment from the proceeds of said sale, shall render the surplus thereof, if any, with the remainder of the bonds to the said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

In case of the default of the St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad Company, on either principal or interest, or any part thereof, then the said New England Trust Company, shall thereupon, if the said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, by a vote of its Directors so direct, instead of enforcing said bonds by foreclosure, or otherwise, deliver the whole of the same, or those of them on which default has been made, as the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company shall elect, to the said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, upon receiving from it other equivalent full securities to the satisfaction of said Trust Company, for the payment of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company Bonds, issued under this agreement, and interest upon the same: which securities are to be held and administered by said Trust Company, in the same manner and upon the same trusts as those upon which it holds the St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad Bonds.

In case the New England Trust Company perform any services, in consequence of the default of either of the said Railroad Companies, in the payment of either principal or interest on their bonds, then the said New England Trust Company shall receive a reasonable compensation therefor, to be paid out of the proceeds of the trust funds, before payments are made for or on account of interest or principal of said bonds.

It is understood and agreed, that upon the purchase and payment at any time of principal and interest, and cancellation of all the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy five per cent bonds, countersigned under this trust, and upon the payment to the New England Trust Company of all the expenses of this trust as agreed on, the bonds of the St. Louis, Rock Island & Chicago Railroad Company, if any, and the securities and cash remaining with the said New England Trust Company under this trust, shall be paid over to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

In Witness Whereof, the said parties have interchangeably caused their respective corporate seals to be hereto affixed, and this Instrument to be signed, on behalf of said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, by the Chairman of its Board of Directors, and in behalf of said New England Trust Company by its Actuary, all having been duly authorized hereunto by their respective corporations, as of the day and year first above written.

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, for and in consideration of five dollars to it in hand paid, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and other good and valuable considerations, has granted, bargained, and sold, and by these presents does grant, bargain, sell and convey, release, assign, and transfer, to the said party of the second part, all and singular the said above described railroads, and all its right, title, and interest therein; together with all rights of way, road-bed, bridges, and depot and other lands, or interest therein; and all station houses and other buildings and structures of whatever kind belonging thereto; together with all the fixtures and appurtenances appertaining to the said railroads, or in any manner connected therewith; also all rights, privileges, and franchises of the said party of the first part, in and to the aforesaid railroads; together

THE DAVENPORT AND ROCK ISLAND RAILWAY BRIDGE COMPANY

This was originally in 1884, a project in the minds of citizens of Davenport and Rock Island, to secure another bridge across the Mississippi River between the two cities, but it remained dormant for about eleven years, or until 1895, when the Articles of the Company were amended to include the words "Railway and Terminal Company," and the purpose was expressed "to build, construct, own, lease or acquire railroads in the State of Iowa and in the State of Illinois."

Nothing was actively done for about three years, or until 1898, when the project enlisted the Burlington and St. Paul Companies. On the part of the St. Paul, the building of the bridge known as "The Crescent Bridge" would give that Company access to Davenport for its east side line, and the building of the joint road between Davenport and Clinton would give it access for its west side line to the industries of Rock Island and Moline.

To the Burlington it gave access to Davenport, and through use of the new joint road between Davenport and Clinton, it afforded a much shorter line for its east side passenger business between St. Louis and St. Paul.

These considerations of mutual advantage led to the two Companies jointly furnishing the money for the construction of the bridge and railroads, and becoming joint owners of the property and providing for its joint operation under the agreements effective February 27, 1901.

The first Articles are dated January 30, 1884, and the purpose of the Company was stated to be to build a bridge across the Mississippi River at Davenport.

Acts of Congress approved December 19, 1884, and March 3, 1885, were procured, granting the Company the right to build a bridge between Rock Island and Davenport.

January 28, 1895, by resolution of the Stockholders, confirmed in meeting February 11, 1895, the name of the Company was changed to "Davenport and Rock Island Bridge, Railway and Terminal Company," and the Articles were amended so that the Company was authorized "to build, lease or acquire railroads in Iowa and Illinois."

June 10, 1898, the name of this Iowa Company was changed to "Davenport, Rock Island and North Western Railway Company."

Meantime, in 1895, another Company was formed under the general law of Iowa, named "The Davenport, Clinton and Eastern Railway Company," to build a road from Davenport in a northeasterly direction to Clinton, 34.365 miles, which was completed January 8, 1900.

(Note: Until April, 1901, this company connected with the Chicago and North Western Railway at a point approximately 1.30 miles south of the North Western depot at Clinton, Iowa, and used the line of that company under trackage agreement. On April 1, 1901, this company made a connection with the Rock Island Railroad at Clinton and it and its successors used the line of said Rock Island Railroad from said point of connection thence northerly 1.71 miles to the joint Rock Island-Burlington depot at Clinton.)

May 8, 1896, a company named "The Rock Island and Eastern Illinois Railway Company" was organized to build from Rock Island easterly via Moline to Port Byron Junction. This Company did build a road from Thirty-eighth Street, Rock Island, to the terminus of the Moline and Peoria Railway in East Moline, Illinois, 5.867 miles, completed July 30, 1900.

Of the same date, the stockholders of this Company, by resolution, changed the name to "Davenport, Rock Island and Northwestern Railway Company," an Illinois corporation, of the same name as the Iowa company.

July 30, 1901, this Company conveyed all its property by deed to the "Davenport, Rock Island and North Western Railway Company," the Iowa company.

September 25, 1900, the "Moline and Peoria Railway Company" was organized under the general law of Illinois to build from East Moline to Peoria, and did build from the terminus of the Davenport, Rock Island and Northwestern at East Moline, to the north bank of the Rock River, 6.688 miles, during 1901. This track was used for switching purposes to serve industries at Carbon Cliff and coal mines. July 30, 1901, this Company made a deed of all its property to the Davenport, Rock Island and North Western Railway Company of Iowa.

The Davenport, Rock Island and North Western Railway Company, the Iowa company, continued work on the bridge commenced by the "Terminal" Company, and opened the bridge for travel January 1, 1900. It built a road in Davenport from a connection with the St. Paul Company at Iowa Street, easterly across the bridge and through Rock Island to 17th Street, Rock Island, 3.12 miles, including the bridge, of which 2.085 miles were in Iowa and 1.035 miles in Illinois; and from 17th Street easterly to 38th Street, in Rock Island, 1.45 miles, of which the Company owned 0.72 miles jointly with the C. B. & Q. and leased 0.73 miles from the C. B. & Q.; also 0.34 miles from 17th Street westerly.

In addition, this Iowa Company, by deed dated July 30, 1901, acquired the "Davenport, Clinton and Eastern" from Clinton to Davenport, 34.365 miles, and also the road formerly belonging to the Rock Island and Eastern Illinois to East Moline, 5.867 miles, by deed July 30, 1901; also the line built by the Moline and Peoria Company, 6.688 miles, by deed of the same date.

This made the mileage owned by the Iowa Company, including the 0.72 miles owned jointly with the C. B. & Q. at Rock Island, 50.76 miles, of which 36.45 miles are in Iowa, and 14.31 miles in Illinois. This Iowa Company also had the following trackage rights:

At Clinton, Iowa; 1.71 miles of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, including station facilities at the Rock Island-Burlington station in said city of Clinton.

Belonging to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company in Davenport, Iowa, between Mississippi Avenue and Iowa Street, a distance (first main) of .828 miles.

Main line in Rock Island, Illinois, between Seventeenth Street and Thirty-eighth Street, .735 miles owned by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

(Note: As originally constructed this company used .15 miles of the Rock Island & Peoria Railway—Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad—between Eleventh and Thirteenth Streets, Rock Island. The use of this trackage was discontinued after November 16, 1901, when this company constructed its own line between the above points.)

February 27, 1901, each of these four Companies executed a joint operating agreement with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, for joint control and operation of the entire property, of which they are joint owners, to-wit: Davenport, Rock Island and North Western Railway Company; Davenport, Clinton and Eastern Railway Company, Davenport, Rock Island and Northwestern Railway of Illinois, Moline and Peoria Railway Company.

AN ACT OF CONGRESS, December 19, 1884. To authorize the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi River at Rock Island, Illinois, and Davenport, Iowa, and to establish it as a post-route.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, "That it shall be lawful for the Davenport and Rock Island Railway Bridge Company, a corporation duly created and organized under the laws of the State of Iowa, to build a bridge across the Mississippi River at Rock Island, Illinois and Davenport, Iowa, as may accommodate the Moline, Rock Island and Southern Railroad, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, on the east side of said river, and the Davenport, Iowa and Dakota Railroad, a corporation created under the laws of the State of Iowa, on the west side of the river, and for the accommodation of any railroads that are or may hereafter be built, and to lay over said bridge a railroad track for the more perfect connection of any railroad or railroads that are or may be constructed to the said river, on either side thereof at or opposite said point," under the limitations and provisions herein after provided: Provided, That Congress may at any time prescribe such rules and regulations in regard to toll and otherwise as may be deemed reasonable.

SEC. 2. That said bridge shall be built with a draw, so as not to impede the navigation of said river; said draw shall be a pivot draw, over the channel of said river usually navigated, and with span giving a clear width of water way of not less than two hundred feet on each side of the central or pivot pier of the draw, and the next adjoining span or spans shall give a clear width of water way of not less than three hundred feet, and said spans shall not be less than three hundred feet, and said spans shall not be less than ten feet above extreme high water mark and not less than thirty feet above low water mark, measured to the bottom chord of the bridge, and the piers of said bridge shall, as nearly as practicable, be parallel with the current of said river: Provided, That said draw shall always be opened promptly upon reasonable signal; and said company, or its successors and assigns, shall at all proper times keep and maintain all proper lights on said bridge during nights, so that its presence may always be noticed by vessels and craft navigating the channel of said river. SEC. 6. That the right to alter, amend, or repeal this act is hereby expressly reserved; and the right to require any changes in such structure, or its entire removal, at the expense of the owner thereof whenever Congress shall decide that the public interest requires it, is also expressly reserved.

It is further mutually understood and agreed by and between the parties hereto, as follows; to wit:

SECTION 1. The parties of the second and third part, or either of them, shall have the right to construct and connect with the tracks of the parties of the first part, any branch track or extension of the railroads now owned by the parties of the first part, and shall also have the right to extend any existing main, side, spur or other track of said parties of the first part; and also to construct, maintain and operate side, spur or other tracks additional to those already constructed and owned by the parties of the first part, upon the premises now owned or which may hereafter be acquired by the party of the first part, or any of them; and also to acquire any additional facilities or conveniences, or to construct any additional buildings or structures, either upon property belonging to the parties of the first part, or upon property which either the party of the second part or the party of the third part may now own or hereafter acquire.

SECTION 2. If either of the parties of the second or third part, desire to exercise any of the rights herein last above granted, it shall give written notice to the other to that effect, and the other party shall, within thirty days therefrom, notify the party giving such notice, whether it elects to join in the construction and maintenance of the proposed additions or facilities, and if it elects to join in the construction and maintenance of such additional facilities, then such additions or facilities may be constructed and maintained at the joint and equal expense of both parties. If such party shall elect not to join in the construction and maintenance of such additional facilities, then the party desiring them shall have the right to construct and maintain them at its sole expense, and for its sole use. If such additions and facilities are constructed and maintained at the joint expense of both parties, then each shall own an undivided one-half thereof. If constructed at the sole expense of either of the parties, they shall be owned by the party constructing them.

SECTION 3. It is mutually understood and agreed by and between the parties of the second and third part, that if at any time within two years after the construction of any of the additions or facilities mentioned in this Article V by either of the parties, the other may acquire the joint and equal use and ownership thereof by paying to the party constructing the same; one-half of the cost of said property and improvement, with interest thereon at six per cent per annum.

SECTION 4. It is further mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto, that such branches, extensions, additions, structures, building or facilities as are owned by either the second or third party hereto, may be removed by the party owning them at any time during the term of this agreement, or within one year after the termination thereof, and such as are owned jointly by the parties of the second and third part, may, likewise, be removed by them within the time above stated, if they so elect, and if they cannot agree upon the removal thereof, then and in that event, the matter in dispute shall be determined by arbitration, as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 5. It is further mutually understood and agreed by and between the party of the second part and the party of the third part, that in case any vacant property of the parties of the first part is to be used solely by either the party of the second part or the party of the third part, then such use shall be by mutual agreement between the party of the second part and the party of the third part; and in case they cannot agree upon such use, then it shall be submitted and decided by arbitration as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 6. It is further mutually understood and agreed by and between the party of the second part and the party of the third part, that with respect to the agreements between the Davenport, Clinton & Eastern Railway Company and the party of the second part, of the date of November 1st, 1899, and between the Rock Island & Eastern Illinois Railway Company (now the Davenport, Rock Island & Northwestern Railway Company of Illinois), and the party of the third part, of the date of April 12th, 1898, hereinbefore in subdivisions "a" and "c" of this agreement referred to, the party of the third part, shall have, possess and enjoy all the rights, property and interests which were granted by the party of the second part to said Davenport, Clinton & Eastern Railway Company under the aforesaid agreement, and that the party of the second part shall have, possess and enjoy all the rights, property and interests which were granted by the party of the third part to the Rock Island & Eastern Illinois Railway Company (now the Davenport, Rock Island & Northwestern Railway Company of Illinois) under the aforesaid agreement, without further compensation therefor.

ARTICLE VI.

This agreement shall remain in force and effect for the period of nine hundred and ninety-nine years from and after the date thereof.

ARTICLE VII.

For the considerations aforesaid and for the carrying out of all the grants, covenants and conditions contained in the preceding articles of this agreement, all the parties hereto expressly covenant and agree as follows, to wit:

SECTION 1. If at any time a question shall arise, touching the construction of any part of this agreement, or concerning the business or the manner of transacting the business to be carried on under its provisions, or concerning the observance or performance of any of its conditions, upon which question they cannot agree, then the question shall be submitted to the arbitrament of three disinterested persons, familiar with such business and experienced in railway management. The party demanding such reference shall give to the other party notice of such demand, stating specifically the question to be submitted for decision, and nominating a person who has the required qualifications to act as one referee. If at the expiration of ten days from the receipt of such notice the party receiving it has not notified the party demanding the reference of its nomination of a second referee, having like qualifications, the party making the demand may make such selection. The first and second referees chosen shall select a third and when the board is complete the referees shall fix a day and place for the hearing, of which the parties shall be severally notified. If the two referees chosen shall be unable to agree upon a third referee, such third referee may be appointed, upon ten days' notice, on motion of either party, by a judge of the Circuit Court or District Court of the United States for the District of Illinois. After hearing the testimony and arguments which may be submitted by each party, the referees, if they unanimously agree upon an award, shall state it in writing, which, when delivered to both parties, shall be binding and conclusive upon each, and each party hereby expressly agree to be conclusively bound thereby. If they cannot unanimously agree they shall, by like agreement select two additional referees having like qualifications. If the two additional referees cannot be agreed upon, they may be appointed by a judge of the Circuit Court or District Court of the United States, as hereinbefore provided. To the board thus constituted shall be submitted a statement of the facts as to which there is a unanimous agreement between the three referees first selected, and the testimony as to the matters remaining in dispute. The award of a majority of the five referees shall be in writing, and when delivered to the parties, shall be as final and conclusive as an award by the first chosen referees would have been; and each or either shall immediately make such changes in the conduct of its business, or such payments or restitution, as the case may be, as are in and by such award required of it to be made.

SECTION 2. The books and papers of both parties so far as they relate to any matter submitted to arbitration, shall be open to the examination of the arbitrators, and the party against whom the award shall be made shall pay all the fees and expenses of the arbitration; and until the arbitrators shall make their awards upon any question submitted to them, the business, settlements and payments to be transacted and made under the terms of this agreement, shall continue to be transacted and made in the manner and form existing prior to the arising of such question.

SECTION 3. If either party shall refuse to keep and perform such award, the adverse party may enforce the same by apt proceedings in any court of law or equity.

ARTICLE VIII.

SECTION 1. All the notices which are hereinbefore provided to be given by either party to the other, shall be given by serving the same on the president, for the time being, of such party.

ARTICLE IX.

SECTION 1. If, for any reason, any of the covenants or agreements in this agreement contained, which are not material to the right of the parties of the second and third part to use the premises hereinabove mentioned or referred to, shall be adjudged void, such adjudication shall not affect the validity or obligation of any other covenant or agreement which is in itself valid. Any controversy as to the construction or validity of any covenant or agreement shall not delay the performance of any other covenant or agreement; and in the event of a failure in law of any of the covenants or agreements herein contained, such steps shall be taken and such contracts shall be made, as shall be advised by counsel, to carry into effect the purpose and intent hereby expressed.

ARTICLE X.

Each of the parties hereto further covenants and agrees with all the others that if it shall at any time during the continuance of this agreement, by lease, sale, consolidation, or otherwise, assign or in any manner transfer its rights under this agreement or its property, or its rights and franchises in or to any or all of the premises mentioned in the preceding articles hereof, then any instrument setting out and containing any such lease, sale or consolidation shall contain a covenant that the same is made subject to all the provisions of this agreement; and that its lessee, grantee or assignee, as the case may be, shall, by the acceptance of such instrument, and of such lease, grant, transfer or assignment become bound to do and perform such acts as are by the terms hereof required to be done by the party making such lease, grant, transfer or assignment, including all acts which may be necessary to preserve in full force the several obligations, promises and agreements herein contained, for the full term hereof.

ARTICLE XI.

If, for any reason, either the party of the second part or the party of the third part, shall fail to perform and carry out any or all the covenants and agreements on its part to be performed under this agreement, such failure shall not in any manner affect the validity of this agreement as between the other party and said parties of the first part; and the same shall continue and be in full force and effect as between such other party and the parties of the first part.

ARTICLE XII.

Nothing in this agreement shall be construed so as to give the control of the franchises or the railroad and property of the parties of the first part or of any of them to the parties of the second or third part or either of them; and the parties of the first part expressly reserve the right to permit other railroad companies to use their railroads and property jointly with the parties of the second and third part, subject nevertheless to the rights of such second and third parties as reserved and specified in this agreement.

In Witness Whereof, the parties have caused this agreement to be executed by their proper officers, thereunto duly authorized, and their corporate seals to be hereto affixed and properly attested, the day and year first above written.

THE ILLINOIS FARMERS' RAILROAD COMPANY

This company was incorporated by a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature, in force February 28, 1867. The company was authorized to construct a railroad

“from the town of Virginia in Cass County by the most eligible route to the town of DuQuoin, Perry County, through the towns of Scottville, Barrs Store, Chesterfield and Staunton, in Macoupin County.”

By Section 9 it was authorized

“to sell its road, franchises, real and personal property to any other company or companies which may have been or may hereafter be incorporated by this state, upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between said companies.”

By an amendment, in force April 20, 1869, the starting point of the road was changed from the town of Virginia to the City of Jacksonville, and Carlinville was substituted for Chesterfield as one of the points on the road.

The date of its organization is not given because its record books are not available, but it built from Jacksonville, Illinois, thence southeasterly to a connection with The Jacksonville, North-Western and South-Eastern Railway near Franklin, Illinois, a distance of about thirteen miles.

It was completed in 1870.

By deed dated July 10, 1872, this company conveyed all of its railroad property and franchises to the Jacksonville, North-Western and South-Eastern Railway Company.

Peebles, of Macoupin county, and E. W. Turner, John Epler, Benjamin C. Berry, and J. K. Van Demark of Cass county, and their associates, successors and assigns, are hereby created a body corporate and politic, under the name and style of "The Illinois Farmers' Railroad Company," with perpetual succession, and by that name be and they are hereby made capable, in law and equity, to sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, defend and be defended, in any court of law and equity in this State, or in any other place; to make, have and use a common seal, and the same to renew and alter at pleasure; and shall be and are hereby vested with all the powers, privileges and immunities which are or may be necessary or convenient to carry into effect the purposes and objects of this act, as herein set forth.

missioners, or a majority of them, shall attend at the places appointed for the opening of said books, and shall continue to receive subscriptions either personally or by such agent or agents as they shall appoint for that purpose, until the sum of one hundred thousand dollars shall have been subscribed; and as soon as said sum shall be subscribed, the said commissioners shall give twenty days' notice in a newspaper published in each of said three counties, of an election by said stock-holders of a board of directors, as herein provided for, for the management of said Company's affairs. The directors shall hold their offices for one year after their election and until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall elect one of their number as President of said Board; and in case of any vacancy occurring in said Board between elections, the same may be filled by the board, at any legal meeting of the directors; and the person so elected to fill the vacancy shall hold his office until the next annual meeting of the stockholders. In case of the absence of the president of the Board, the directors shall have power to elect a president pro tempore, who shall exercise for the time being, all the legal powers of the president of said board. The Board of Directors may call special meetings of stockholders for the election of directors, if their number is increased, or for other purposes.

§ 7th. It shall be lawful for the directors to make calls upon the sums subscribed to the capital stock of said Company at such times and in such amounts as they shall deem fit, giving at least twenty days' notice of each of said calls, by personal service or by publication in a newspaper in the county in which the stockholder resides, or in which the subscription was made; and in case of failure on the part of any stockholder to make payment of any call, made as aforesaid, by said directors, for sixty days after the same shall have been due, the said Board of Directors are hereby authorized to declare said stock so in arrears, and all sums paid thereon forfeited to the company; or said directors may enforce the payment of the whole amount subscribed by any stockholder, by suit.

§ 9th. It shall be lawful for said Company to unite or connect with any other railroad or company which may have been or may hereafter be incorporated by this State, on the line or route or at either terminus of its said road, and to grant to such company the right to construct or use any portion of said road hereby authorized to be constructed, upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between said companies, and also to purchase or to lease all or any part of any other railroad which is or hereafter may be built in this State on the line or route of its road, (sell its road, franchise, real and personal property, to any other company or companies which may have been, or may hereafter be incorporated by this State, upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between said companies).

§ 10th. Said company shall have authority to construct its road on or across any stream of water, water course, road, highway, railroad or canal, which the route of said road shall intersect, but the company shall restore the stream or water course, road or highway thus intersected, to its former state, or so near thereto, as not materially to impair its usefulness. Whenever the said railroad shall intersect a road or highway, the company shall have power to change the line of the road or highway, if said change shall not materially impair the usefulness of such road or highway; and the Company may take such additional lands as may be necessary, for the change of said road or highway, making compensation therefor, to be ascertained as in other cases provided in this act.

§ 11th. Any person who shall wilfully injure or obstruct said road or any part of the appendages thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall forfeit to the use of the Company a sum threefold the amount of the damages occasioned by such injury or obstruction, to be recovered in an action of debt, in the name of said Company, with costs of suit, before any justice of the peace, or before any court of record in this State.

§ 12th. Said company shall have power by mortgage or deed of trust on its railroad and the rents and profits thereof, and on all or any part of the property, real or personal, or franchises owned by said company, to secure the payment of its bonds issued by virtue of the provisions of this act, or such sums of money as said company may agree to pay, for all or any of the purposes connected with the construction or operation of its said railroad, herein authorized to be constructed.

§ 13th. Said company shall have power to make and ordain such rules and by-laws as may be necessary or expedient for the government of the Company, its servants, and agents; and the certificate of the secretary or principal clerk of the company, under the corporate seal of the company, shall be received in all courts and places as evidence of said rules and by-laws, the appointment of agents or officers, or of any order of the Company, and also of the due organization thereof.

§ 14th. The said Board of Directors shall have power to appoint all necessary clerks, secretaries, and all other officers and agents necessary in the transaction of the business of said company.

§ 15th. The stock of said Company is hereby declared to be personal property, and transferable in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the Company.

§ 16th. Said Company shall have power to have, receive, hold, sell, and dispose of any donations of real or personal property, for the use of the Company, and to acquire by purchase and hold real estate for the use of said Company, in the constructing or operating said railroad, or to sell and convey the same, if found not necessary or proper to be retained.

§ 17th. Said Company may commence building its road at any time within five years from the passage of this act, and shall own and operate such part as may be completed, notwithstanding the whole road may not be finished.

§ 18th. Said Company is hereby authorized to receive subscriptions to its capital stock, payable at any time or in any manner that may be specially agreed upon by the company and the subscriber.

§ 19th. Elections may be held by or in any county, city or incorporated town situated on or near the line of said railroad, as the same may be surveyed or located hereafter, upon the question whether such county, city or town shall subscribe for any specified amount in shares of the capital stock of said Company. Twenty day's notice shall be given of the time of holding such election, and the election shall be conducted in the mode prescribed in an act entitled "An act supplemental to an act entitled 'An act to provide for a general system of railroad incorporations,' " approved November 6th, 1849, or in the mode prescribed in any other general law relating to such elections, or in the mode in which county, city or town elections are usually conducted, and if a majority of the votes actually cast at any such election shall be "for subscription" it shall be the duty of the county court, (or board of supervisors, where township organization exists,) or the corporate authorities of such county, city or town to subscribe without unnecessary delay, upon request of said Company, for shares of said capital stock, to the amount so voted, and to issue and deliver to said company, without unnecessary delay, the same amount (as the stock so subscribed) of the bonds of such county, city or town, as the case may be, payable at any time specified, in not exceeding twenty years from their date, with annual or semi-annual coupons, for not exceeding ten per centum interest per annum attached; which bonds and coupons may be made payable within or without this State, as said Company may request, and the provisions of the above mentioned act, approved November 6, 1849, except such as are inconsistent with the provisions of this act, shall apply to and govern every election referred to in this section, in getting up the election and the other matters connected with or growing out of such electing but this act shall govern said elections, so far as it is applicable to them.

§ 20th. It shall be the duty of such County Court, Board of Supervisors, City or town corporate authorities, to order the holding of such election and give notice thereof, upon being requested so to do, by one-fourth of the legal voters of such county, city or town, as the case may be.

§ 21st. Said Company may bring suit against any of its stockholders for capital stock or upon any other claims or demands against stockholders or other persons, in any county in which the stock may have been subscribed, or in which the cause of action may have arisen or accrued, although the defendant or defendants may reside in a different county or counties; and no stockholder or officer of the Company shall, on account of his being such stockholder or officer, be incompetent to testify as a witness, or to act in any ministerial capacity in any suit or other legal proceeding in which the Company may be a party; Provided, that nothing in this section shall authorize any person to testify for himself or herself in any suit brought against such person by the company or against the company by such person.

§ 22nd. The said company shall carry and transport the mail of the United States, on such terms as may be agreed upon, and all such freights and passengers as may be offered, if required so to do, on the terms usual with like railroad companies.

§ 23rd. There shall be one resident director of said Company in Cass county, one in Morgan county, and one in Macoupin county; and when the removal of any director from either of said counties leaves such county without a resident director, such removal shall, of itself, constitute a vacancy in the board, to be filled as other vacancies, and all appointments and elections contrary to the letter and spirit of this section shall be null and void, and in all appointments and elections of directors one only shall be appointed or elected at a time, before the appointment or election of another is acted on; at least this course shall be pursued until each of said counties has secured or obtained one resident director.

§ 24th. The board of directors, may by an order, to be entered of record by the secretary, in the book he keeps for recording the proceedings of the board in, authorize all subscriptions made or to be made to the capital stock of the company, in any one county, or specially made to be extended in such county, situated on or near the line or route of said road, as the same may be surveyed or located, to be exclusively expended for the construction of that part of said road which lies within such county; which order shall be binding in law, and such subscriptions expended accordingly; and in every such case the directors may make calls of the stock subscribed in or by such county, or specially made to be expended in such county, without making the same calls on other counties or the stockholders residing therein, and every such county shall constitute a separate division of the road, to be called by an appropriate name, according to the provisions of such order, of the board; and such division may be constructed, completed and operated separately, until an adjoining part or division shall be ready for being operated; after which such separate division shall be operated in connection with such adjoining part, division or divisions, and the provisions of this section shall apply to each county on the line of the road.

§ 25th. § 19. The road to be constructed by said company may be divided into two divisions: that portion of the road between Jacksonville and the Illinois Central Railroad shall be designated the first division, and that portion between the Illinois Central Railroad and the Ohio or Wabash River, shall be designated the second division; and subscribers, either individual, or corporate, to the stock of said company, may designate upon which division of said road such subscription shall be applied; and said corporation shall faithfully apply such subscriptions to the division thus designated; but any surplus of stock subscribed for the benefit of said road remaining after the construction of said division may be applied by said company in aid of the construction of the other division, and said corporation is authorized and empowered to locate, construct and operate said Railway in and through either one of said divisions only, without so locating, constructing and operating through the other divisions as said corporation may determine, and for that purpose shall have all the rights, powers, privileges and immunities granted by this act.

The Farmers Loan & Trust Company vs. the Jacksonville, North Western & South Eastern Railway Company.

BILL.

And now on this 17th day of May, 1879, come the parties to this suit by their respective solicitors, and this cause coming on to be heard upon the bill and exhibits referred to and made part of the same, and the answer of the respondents, and on motion it is ordered that this cause be referred to the Master to pay complainant the sum due on the bonds set out and referred to in the bill and answer, and now again on this day come again the parties and presented the Master's report which is filed, and which being fully examined by the Court, the same is approved and ordered to be recorded, which report is in the words and figures, as follows:

"To the Hon. Cyrus Epler, Judge of the Circuit Court of Morgan County, State of Illinois, in Chancery Sitting:

In pursuance of an order of the Honorable Court entered in said cause this 17th day of May, 1879, by which it was referred to the undersigned Master in Chancery of said County, I, Henry Stryker, Jr., Master In Chancery of said County, report that the solicitor of the complainant appeared before me this day at my office on the matters in reference, and that I examined on his oath by me first duly administered according to law William S. Hook, who testified that he is the President of the said Railway Company, and that it executed the deed of trust exhibited with complainant's bill, and the bonds therein mentioned, which deed is recorded in the Recorder's Office of the Counties of Morgan, Sangamon, Macoupin, and Montgomery; that the principal of said bonds is $610,000.00 and the numbers thereof on which interest has been paid and the statement thereof is as follows:

Bonds Nos. 52 & 73 have coupons due Jan. 1st and July 1st, 1873, paid, and no other coupons paid;

Bonds Nos. 51 & 53 to 72 inclusive; 74 to 103 inclusive; 138 to 146 inclusive; 148 to 160 inclusive; 171 to 210 inclusive, in all 113 bonds, have coupons from Jan. 1st, 1873, to Jan. 1st, 1878, inclusive, in all 11 coupons paid, and no other;

Bonds Nos. 1 to 50 inclusive; 104 to 137 inclusive; 147-161 to 170 inclusive; 211 to 610 inclusive, have no coupons paid; in all 495 bonds. The taxes for this year are unpaid and certain taxes for a former year are in litigation, all of which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY STRYKER, JR.,
Master in Chancery.

And now this cause coming on for final hearing upon the bill, answer, and exhibits, and the Master's report, and the papers in said report referred to, and the Court having fully heard said cause, and being fully satisfied in the premises finds that the respondent did on the 10th day of July, 1872, make and deliver to the complainant as trustee the trust deed mentioned in the bill of complaint, and which was to secure 610 bonds of the respondents for $1000.00 each due thirty years after date with semi-annual interest from date, payable in gold, with the right vested in said trustee to declare the principal of said bonds due and payable on the written request of a majority, in value of the holders of said bonds, if the matured interest on the same should be overdue for more than six months.

And the court further finds that said mortgage deed was duly recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds in each and all of the Counties in the State of Illinois, through which said line of Railroad runs, and it further appearing to the said Court that the respondent has made default in the payment of the interest on 495 of said bonds from and since the date of said bonds, and that the holders of a majority of said bonds had requested in writing the complainant to declare the principal of all of said bonds due and payable, and that the complainant by its declaration in writing under its official seal, did on the 18th day of April, 1879, declare the principal of said bonds due and payable, and which declaration in writing is on file in this case, and the Court further finds that all of the principal of said bonds being $610,000.00 is due and unpaid and for interest on said bonds due and unpaid to this date there is due and unpaid the sum of $250,026.10, and the further sum of $4676.43 interest on matured coupons, making the sum of nine hundred and six thousand one hundred and twelve dollars and fifty three cents ($906112.53) due on said bonds to the date of this decree.

It is therefore ordered and decreed by the court that the defendant pay to the complainant for the use of the several bond holders as herein-after provided, the said sum of money proved due as aforesaid within ten days from this date with six per cent. interest per annum from the date of decree to the date of payment, and if default be made in the payment of said sum as aforesaid, then it is further ordered and decreed by the court that the defendant, and all persons claiming under it be forever foreclosed of all equity of redemption in and to the road bed, side tracks, and other real estate, depot buildings and branches mentioned and described in said bill of complaint.

And it is further ordered and decreed that all and singular the same be sold without redemption by consent, at public auction to the highest bidder at the South door of the Court House in the City of Jacksonville, Illinois.

And it is further ordered and decreed by the Court that out of the proceeds arising from said sale shall be first paid all costs of this suit, and of the making of said sale.

And it is further ordered and decreed by the Court that after the payment of costs of sale and this decree, the Master making said sale shall then pay out of said proceeds the interest warrants and coupons unpaid, and the interest accrued on the same to the holders of the same to such sum as will make the sum paid on said bond equal in interest paid to the bond holders on which the respondent has heretofore paid interest, and after the payment of interest so as to equalize said bonds, then the remainder of the proceeds, if any, shall be equally distributed upon the 610 bonds aforesaid in equal amounts until the proceeds of sale be distributed, and if any of said proceeds remain after the payment of all of such costs, and the sum found due by this decree, the remainder shall be paid over to the defendant.

And it is further ordered and decreed that said sale be made subject to any and all taxes now assessed against the defendant and unpaid.

And it is further ordered and decreed that any of the holders of said bonds shall have the right to bid at the sale of said property.

And it is further ordered and decreed that the Master in Chancery making said sale shall receive of and from the purchaser the overdue interest warrants on said bonds, if the purchaser shall offer to pay the purchase price in said interest warrants, and if the same be purchased by any one of the said bond holders, the purchase money may be paid in bonds and interest warrants, and in cash, such sum as may be necessary to equalize the distribution of the proceeds of this sale.

And it appearing to the court that the bonds and interest warrants aforesaid have been deposited with the complainant in this suit to enable it to proceed with this foreclosure suit, it is therefore ordered that the Master making said sale be, and he is hereby authorized to receive from the purchaser an order on the complainant for the sum of said bonds, and interest warrants which the purchaser may be entitled to pay in said purchase, which order shall be received and accepted by said Master and when said bonds and warrants are delivered to him by the complainant on said order, the said Master shall report the same to this Court for cancellation.

And it is further ordered and decreed that the Master shall require of the bidder at said sale before the same shall be accepted by the said Master, a deposit of five thousand dollars in interest warrants, or cash as the bidder may prefer to accompany said bid, and the further sum of fifteen thousand dollars when the property may be struck off to such bidder, which may be in said warrants or in cash as the bidder may prefer as a security that the said bidder will perfect his bid and comply with the terms of this sale, and with the terms of his bid, if the property shall be struck off to him or them, and the remainder of said bid shall be fully paid on the tender by the Master making the sale of a deed conveying all and singular the said property and franchises so ordered to be sold as aforesaid.

And it is ordered and decreed by the Court that said Master make and deliver a deed for said property on the purchaser complying with the terms of this sale.

And it is further ordered and decreed that the said Master shall make report to this Court of all and singular his proceedings under this decree for the approval of the Court.

And it is further ordered and decreed by the Court that the Master in Chancery first advertise the time, terms and place and conditions of sale by publication of notice thereof in the Jacksonville Journal, published in Jacksonville, Ills.; said sale to take place between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 3 o'clock P. M. on the day advertised for the sale of the property.

And it is further ordered and decreed that upon the production by the purchaser of a deed duly made and delivered pursuant to the terms of this decree for the property aforesaid, and a demand for the possession of the same, the defendant, its agents and its servants shall surrender possession of all of said property to the purchaser of the same, and it is ordered that the said Master make report of his proceedings to this court for its approval.

Endorsed on the back of said decree is the following: 193 Farmers Loan & Trust Co. vs. Jacksonville N. W. & S. E. Railway Co. To be recorded, C. EPLER, Judge. Entered O Pg. 5. M. W. & L.

By a decree of the Circuit Court of Marion County, Illinois, entered August 5, 1890, in a case wherein Peter Heiss and others were complainants and The Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company a defendant, the Court ordered the railroad property, then in the hands of said committee, to be sold at public auction.

In pursuance of the decree last above set out, L. M. Kagy, Master in Chancery, conveyed the railroad formerly belonging to The Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company to Robert F. Kennedy, Charlemagne Tower, Jr., and John H. Catherwood, who purchased the property in the interest of the mortgage creditors, said deed being dated October 4, 1890.

The mortgage creditors, through their committee, remained in possession of the property from October 4, 1890, until January 23, 1891, when the said committee (Robert F. Kennedy, Charlemagne Tower, Jr., and John H. Catherwood) conveyed the railroad to William Elliott, the line being described as follows:

“being a railroad formerly known as The Jacksonville Southeastern Railway, extending from the City of Jacksonville, in the County of Morgan and State of Illinois, through the Counties of Morgan, Sangamon, Macoupin, Montgomery, Bond, Clinton and Marion to the City of Centralia, in the County of Marion and State of Illinois.”

And Whereas, It is the true intent and meaning of these presents that each and all of the said bonds, whether now executed or hereafter to be executed shall be equally secured to be paid by these presents.

Now, Therefore, This Indenture Witnesseth, that the said party of the first part, in order the better to secure the payment of said bonds and all of the interest to accrue thereon, and for and in consideration of the premises, and of the sum of One dollar to the party of the first part duly paid by the said party of the second part, at or before the ensembling and delivery of these presents the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged hath granted, bargained and sold, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, convey, transfer, assign and set over unto the said party of the second part, and their successors in trust, all and singular the said railroad now belonging to the said party of the first part, and which the said party of the first part is by law authorized to construct and to be constructed, extending from the City of Jacksonville, in Morgan County, in the State of Illinois, aforesaid, to the City of Centralia, in Marion County, in the same State being a distance of about one hundred and ten miles, more or less. And also all rolling stock equipment and machinery connected or to be connected with said railroad, and all franchises now held or hereafter to be acquired by the said party of the first part, its successors or assigns, in connection therewith including in the premises hereby granted all the railways, ways and rights of way, and all the depot grounds and other lands and all the tracks, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences and other structures and all the depots, stations, station houses, engine-houses, car-houses, freight houses, wood-houses, and other buildings, and all machine shops and other shops, held or acquired, and which shall be

To have and to hold the said railroad and premises and all the franchises and property hereinbefore described unto the said party of the second part, their successors in trust forever, but in trust, nevertheless for the uses and purposes and with and subject to the powers, agreements and conditions hereinafter in that behalf mentioned and set forth.

And this indenture further witnesseth that for the considerations aforesaid and in order the better and more effectually to secure the payment of said bonds, and of all interest to accrue thereon the said party of the first part has covenanted, promised, granted and agreed to and with the said party of the second part, and their successors, as follows, to-wit:

Article First: Until default shall be made by the said party of the first part its successors or assigns, in the payment of interest or principal of said bonds or in the due observance of the covenants and agreements hereinafter contained on the part and behalf of the said party of the first part, the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, shall be suffered and permitted to remain in the actual possession of said railroad and premises, and to exercise the franchises and rights relating thereto, and to collect, receive and use the revenues and profits thereof in any manner which will not impair the lien created by these presents.

And the said party of the first part hereby covenants, promises and agrees to and with the said party of the second part and their successors, that the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns remaining in the possession of the said railroad and premises, shall and will keep the said railroad in good order and safe running condition, and shall and will from time to time pay and discharge all taxes, assessments and governmental charges, which may be lawfully imposed upon the said railroad and premises, or upon any part thereof, and the lien of which might or could be held to be prior to the lien of these presents so that the priority of these presents may be duly preserved, and that the said party of the first part will not do or suffer any act or thing whatsoever whereby the lien hereof may or can be impaired, until the said bonds and all interest thereon shall be fully paid and satisfied.

Article Second: In case default shall be made in the payment of any semi-annual installment of interest which may accrue upon the said bonds or upon any of them, when such interest shall become due and be demanded and such interest or any part thereof, shall remain unpaid and in arrears for the period of six months or in case default shall be made in the due observance and performance of the covenant of further assurance hereinafter set forth, or in the payment of any taxes, assessments or other governmental charges, which may be lawfully levied or imposed upon the said railroad and premises or upon any part thereof, and either of said last mentioned defaults shall continue for the period of six months or in case default shall be made in the payment of the principal of said bonds, or of any one of them, then and in any and every such case of default, it shall be lawful for the said party of the second part as the trustees under these presents, or for any successors of the said party of the second part in the trust created by these presents, to enter into and upon the railroad and premises hereinbefore granted or conveyed and each and every part of the same, and from thenceforth the said railroad and premises and each and every part thereof, and all and singular the rights and franchises hereinbefore granted, to have, hold and enjoy operating the said railroad by such superintendents, managers, receivers, assistants and servants or other attorneys or agents as the said trustees shall deem proper and making from time to time all such repairs and replacements and all such useful alterations, additions and improvements to the said railroad and premises as the said trustees may deem expedient and judicious. And it shall likewise be lawful for the said trustees, after any and every default happening and continuing as aforesaid, to collect and receive all revenues and profits of the said railroad and premises and of every part and parcel thereof, and after deducting therefrom all the expenses lawfully incurred in making such entry, or in otherwise obtaining possession of said premises including reasonable attorney and counsel fees, as well as any and all expenses of holding, operating and managing the said railroad and premises and conducting the business thereof, including the cost and expense of all such repairs, replacements, alterations, additions and improvements, as may be made by said trustees as aforesaid, and all payments which may be made or be due for taxes and assessments, or other charges of liens prior to the lien of these presents upon the said railroad and premises, or upon any part or parcel thereof and just compensation for the trustees own services to apply any and all revenues and profits of the said railroad and premises which may be received by said trustees as aforesaid, to the payment, first, of all overdue interest on the said bonds, with interest thereon, and secondly to the payment of all interest accruing during such possession of said trustees, which payments of interest shall be made to the holders of the bonds and coupons, evidencing the right to the same, ratably and without discrimination or preference between them.

Article Third: It is hereby mutually agreed that at any sale of the railroad and property hereinbefore conveyed, which may be made for the purpose of enforcing the lien of these presents, the trustees under these presents for the time being may in their own discretion, and not otherwise bid for, and if the same be obtainable at the price herein-after mentioned, purchase and acquire the property so offered for sale, in behalf of all the holders of the bonds aforesaid, which shall then be outstanding in proportion to the amount of said bonds, and of the overdue coupons thereunto belonging by them respectively held.

Provided, However, That nothing herein contained shall authorize the said trustees to bid for the entire property then held upon the trusts of this indenture on behalf of the holders of said bonds, a sum exceeding the whole amount of said bonds then outstanding with the interest accrued thereon, and the expenses of such sale, or an amount reasonably proportioned thereto for any part of the said property.

And it is hereby further agreed that the bonds and overdue coupons aforesaid, or any of them shall be received in payment, or on account of the purchase money of any property which shall be offered for sale as aforesaid, as equivalent to so much of the said purchase money as would be distributable and payable thereon out of the proceeds of such sale.

Article Fourth: In case default shall be made in the payment of any semi-annual installment of interest to accrue on any of the said bonds when such interest shall become payable, and if such interest shall remain unpaid and in arrear for the space of six months, then and in each and every such case of the happening and continuing of such default in the payment of interest, the principal of each and all of the said bonds may be declared by the trustees for the time being hereunder, or by a majority in interest of the holders of all the said bonds which may then be outstanding and unpaid, at the option of such trustees, or of such majority in interest of bond holders to be and thereupon the same shall become and be due and payable immediately notwithstanding that the time limited in said bonds for payment thereof may not then have elapsed.

Article Fifth: It is hereby expressly declared and agreed that in case default shall be made in the payment of interest upon any of the said bonds when such interest shall become due and be demanded, and such default shall continue for the space of six months, or in case default shall be made in the payment of the principal of any of the said bonds when the same shall become due, then, and in either and every such case of default, it shall be the duty of the trustees for the time being, under these presents to take appropriate proceedings at law or in equity to enforce the rights of the holders of said bonds upon a requisition to that effect being made upon the said trustees, signed by holders of, at least, one third in amount of the said bonds then outstanding.

Article Sixth: The Trustees, under these presents, shall have at all times, while the said bonds, or any of them remain outstanding and are hereby granted full power and authority to be exercised in their own discretion and not otherwise, to release from the lien and operation of these presents in such manner as they may be advised upon the request in writing of the said party of the first part, its successors or assigns any portion of the aforesaid premises, not being a part of the main line of the said railroad which in the judgment of such trustees shall not be necessary for use in connection therewith, and which shall have been acquired for station or depot purposes, or for shops or other buildings, or for supplying fuel, gravel, or other material, but which in the judgment of such trustees, it shall have become unnecessary or inexpedient to retain in consequence of its having become necessary or desirable to change the location of such depot, shop or other building, or to substitute other lands for the purpose of supplying such fuel, gravel or material, provided always that any and all lands and premises which shall be acquired for station or depot purposes, or for shops or other buildings or for the purpose of supplying fuel, gravel or other material shall be conveyed to the said trustees to be held by them upon the trusts of these presents in the same manner as the premises so released. And the said trustees may also allow the said Company, its successors or assigns, to dispose of any rolling stock, equipment, and machinery or other personal property, which may be held for use upon or in connection with said railroad, or the business thereof, but which in said trustees judgment shall have become unfit, or undesirable for such use. Provided always, that any and all rolling stock, equipment and machinery or other personal property which may be acquired in substitution for any similar property so disposed of shall become and be subject to the lien of these presents.

Article Seventh: It is hereby expressly declared, and these presents are upon the condition that if the said party of the first part shall well and truly pay and discharge the interest on each and every of the said bonds as the same shall mature, and shall well and truly pay and discharge the principal of each and every of the said bonds when such principal shall become due and payable according to the true intent and meaning of said bonds and of these presents, and shall well and truly keep and perform the other covenants and agreements in these presents contained to be by it kept and performed, then these presents, and all the estate and interest thereby granted shall cease, determine and become void, otherwise the same shall be and remain in full force and virtue, and the said party of the first part hereby covenants, promises and agrees to and with the said party of the second part and to and with their successors in trust, that the said party of the first part shall and will well and truly pay the said bonds, and all interest to accrue thereon, at the time and in the manner in said bonds mentioned and according to the true intent and meaning thereof.

Article Eighth: It is hereby declared and agreed that the trustee under these presents shall be entitled to a reasonable compensation for any services which the said Trustees may hereafter render in the trust hereby created to be paid by the said party of the first part that the said trustees shall not be answerable for the default or misconduct of any agent, or attorney who may be appointed by them in pursuance of these presents, if such agent or attorney be selected with reasonable care, and that the said trustees shall not be answerable or accountable for anything whatever in connection with said trust, but gross negligence or wilful misconduct or default. And it is further declared and agreed that the trustees hereunder, or either of them, may at any time be removed by a majority in interest of the bona fide holders of said bonds, provided such removal be made by an instrument in writing under seal, duly executed and acknowledged: that the said trustees, or either of them, may resign the trust under these presents at any time by giving sixty days notice in writing of the intention so to do, to the said party of the first part, and to such of the holders of said bonds as shall have registered with such trustees their names and post office addresses, provided such notice of resignation be served on the said party of the first part at its principal office, and on the bondholders who shall have so registered their names and addresses with said trustees, by the deposit thereof in the mail directed to the said bondholders respectively. And it is further agreed and declared that in case the trustees hereby appointed or either of them, or any successor of such trustees shall at any time hereafter die or resign the said Trust, or be removed therefrom as aforesaid, another trustee or trustees may and shall be appointed by a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds, by an instrument in writing duly signed by such majority in interest of said bondholders, or by the votes of a majority in interest of said bondholders given at a meeting of such bondholders duly convened and held as hereinafter provided.

And it is further agreed and declared that in case the appointment of a trustee shall be unduly delayed, and the trust shall remain vacant for more than sixty days, any holder or holders of said bonds to the aggregate amount of One hundred thousand Dollars or upwards, upon reasonable notice to the said party of the first part may apply to any Court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a new trustee, but no bondholders shall be entitled to make such application to Court, until a reasonable time, to-wit: Sixty days shall have been allowed for the purpose of enabling a majority in interest of said bondholders to appoint a new trustee as aforesaid.

And it is further agreed and declared that in the event either of the trustees, party of the second part herein, or the successor in trust of either of them, shall die, or for any reason refuse or become unable to act as such trustee then in such case the surviving or other trustee or surviving or other successor in trust, as the case may be, until the appointment of a new trustee, as herein provided, shall have and exercise all the powers and fulfill and discharge all the trusts by these presents conferred upon or granted to said trustees and their successors in trust jointly.

And it is hereby further agreed that it shall be the duty of any trustee resigning or being removed as aforesaid, to execute, acknowledge, and deliver, not at his own cost or expense, but at the cost and expense of the party of the first part any and all deeds or instruments which he may be reasonably requested by the said new trustee to execute for the purpose of assuring the title in said premises to such trustee.

And it is hereby further expressly declared and agreed that whenever and as often as any contingency shall arise in which the action of a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds shall be necessary or in which the said bondholders are herein declared to have any discretionary voice or power, the trustees hereunder shall be and are hereby authorized and empowered at the proper cost and expense of the said party of the first part, to call a meeting of all the holders of bonds secured hereby to be held in the City of New York, by advertisements to be published three times in each week for four weeks in one newspaper of good circulation amongst the business community in that City and in default of such meeting being called by said trustees within ten days after notification in writing by any bondholder of the necessity therefor it shall be competent for any holder or holders of said bonds to the aggregate amount of One hundred thousand dollars to call said meeting in the manner aforesaid.

Provided, However, That at any meeting called as aforesaid a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds may prescribe and establish such rules as they may deem proper for the calling of future similar meetings, and the regulation of the proceedings thereof. And it is hereby declared and agreed, that at any meeting convened and held pursuant to these presents, the holders of said bonds shall be competent to exercise in person, or by proxy, all the powers and authority conferred upon them by these presents.

Provided, Nevertheless, That any person appearing at said meeting of bondholders and claiming the right to participate therein shall if requested by any bondholder present thereat, produce the bond or bonds upon which such person may claim the right to vote at such meeting, or file an affidavit with the chairman of the meeting that he is the person so claiming the right to participate in such meeting is a holder of one or more of the bonds aforesaid, or the proxy of such holder in which affidavit he shall specify the amount and number of the bonds which he claims to hold or represent before being allowed to vote at such meeting, except for the purpose of temporarily organizing the same and on the adjournment of such meeting all such affidavits shall be delivered to the trustees under these presents.

And This Indenture Further Witnesseth, That the said party of the first part for the consideration aforesaid, has promised, and agreed and does hereby covenant, promise and agree to and with the said party of the second part, and their successors, that the said party of the first part its successors and assigns, shall and will well and truly pay, or cause to be paid unto the holder or holders of said bonds, the principal and interest thereof, as the same shall become payable according to the tenor of said bonds and the terms of the coupons thereto annexed, and shall and will do, observe and perform any and every act and thing mentioned in or required by these presents to be by it or them done, observed and performed, and that the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, shall and will, from time to time and at all times hereafter and as often as thereunto requested by the trustees under this indenture, execute, acknowledge, and deliver all such further deeds, conveyances and assurances in the law for the better assuring unto the said party of the second part, and unto their successors, upon the trusts herein expressed, the railroad, equipments, appurtenances, franchises, property, and things hereinbefore mentioned, and particularly any and all franchises whatsoever which shall or may at any time hereafter, while the said bonds, or any of them, remain unpaid, be acquired, by the said party of the first part, its successors or assigns, as by the said trustees, or by their counsel learned, in the law, shall be reasonably advised, directed or required.

ORIGINAL AND AMENDED BILLS

And now on this 27th day of February 1890 came the parties to this suit by their respective solicitors and this cause came on to be heard upon the original bill and the amendments to the same, the several answers to the original and amended bills of the several respondents to the same the cross bill filed in said cause and the exhibits made part of the same, the answers to the cross bill and the replications to the answers to the original and amended bill and cross bill. And the evidence of the case. And the court having heard the arguments of counsel in cause and being sufficiently advised of and concerning the premises, the court finds that the Jacksonville South Eastern Railway Company on the first day of July 1880, executed a mortgage deed to respondents L. C. Paine Freer and John G. Shortall as trustees on all their line of Railway from Jacksonville Illinois to Litchfield, Ill. to secure 300 bonds of said Company for $1,000 each drawing interest from date at 6 per cent per annum, the interest payable semi annually; that said mortgage included all the rolling stock of said Company and all of its tracks then constructed and to be constructed to Litchfield, Ill. and that said mortgage was duly recorded in the proper counties and became a lien upon all the property of said Railway Company from Jacksonville to Litchfield, Ill. and that all of the principal of said Bonds is unpaid with the interest on the same from January 1st, 1889.

And the court further finds from the evidence that the said Jacksonville South Eastern Railway Company on the first day of July 1882 executed a mortgage upon all of its line of Railway from Jacksonville Illinois to Centralia Illinois, and that at that time the line was constructed from Jacksonville, Ill. to Litchfield, Ill. And was afterwards constructed to Centralia, Ill. That said Railway Company issued 1120 Bonds of $1,000, each secured by said Mortgage said Bonds falling due on Feby 1st, 1912, and drawing interest from date at six per cent per annum payable semi annually. And said Bonds were secured by said mortgage; that said Bonds amounted to $10,000 per mile of completed Railroad. And the Court further finds that the City of Centralia was organized under the law passed by the Legislature of Illinois and that said city was organized under said law prior to the first day of August, 1870.

And the court further finds that the City Authorities of Centralia in the year 1882 duly passed and published an ordinance granting to the Jacksonville South Eastern Railway Company the right of way over and upon Chestnut street in said City with right to lay down and thereafter use a single Railway track upon said street.

And the court further finds that said Railway Company in the month of October 1883 laid a single track upon said street and the same has been used for ordinary Railway purposes since that date that said track was laid upon the level surface of the ground and no part of the abutting property on said street was taken possession of or in any way interfered with in any other way than by said Railway Company except such as resulted from the construction and operation of said railroad upon and over said street for Railroad purposes.

And the court further finds from the evidence that the Jacksonville South Eastern Railway Company failed to pay the taxes upon its property in the several Counties through which said line extends and on the 25th day of June 1889 the trustees named in the mortgage of July 1st, 1882, under the provisions of said deed entered upon and took possession of all of said line of Railroad and its equipment for the benefit of the holders of said Bonds.

And the court further finds that said Railway Company failed to pay the interest on said Bonds falling due July 1st, 1889 upon all of said Bonds and said interest remaining due and unpaid for more than six months, on the second day of January, 1890 Dunn and Butler as trustees named in said mortgage declared the principal of all of said Bonds due and payable and the court further finds that the claims of the several demands set up by the Complainants in the original Bill were for alleged injury to abutting property on said Chestnut street resulting from the construction and operation of said Railroad on said street as aforesaid that said several parties instituted suits against said Railway Company and secured judgments for the amounts and of the dates as follows: Peter Klepper, August 20th, 1888 for $850.00; Hugo Prill, August 27, 1888 for $8,000.00; Fred Buehler, August 27, 1888 for $2,700.00; Gottfreid Doeller, August 27, 1888 for $1,250.00; Matilda Loyer, August 27, 1888 for $1,500.00; Bertha Buehler, August 27, 1888, Amelia Ackerman, August 27, 1888, Clara Jahn, August 27, 1888, Theresa Jahn, August 27, 1888 for $3,000.00; Fred Sanders, August 27, 1888, Charles Schuchman, August 27, 1888, Anna Schuchman, August 27, 1888 for $1,750.00; Anna Eis and Matilda Baumer, August 27, 1888 for $2,400.00; Peter Heiss, August 28, 1888 for $8,875.00 Peter Heiss and Son, August 28, 1888 for $9,000.00; A. Vortride Admr. of &c. August 28, 1888 for $5,000.00; Charles Kaiser, August 28, 1888 for $4,000.00; Isaac S. Coe, August 28, 1888 for $8,000.00; Barbary Widman Ads. of &c. August 29th 1888 for $500.00.

And upon which said judgment execution has been issued as alleged in said bill and the court further finds from the evidence that Charlemagne Towers, Jr. and Richard Henry Lee as Executors of Charlemagne Tower deed. are the owners and holders of Two Hundred of said Bonds with the interest from January 1st, 1889 making together the sum of $213,906.84. That Ferdinand A. Litz is the owner and holder of one hundred of said Bonds with the interest from the first day of January 1889 making the sum of 106,953.42. That Daniel B. C. Cumins as executor of the estate of Isaiah V. Williams Dec. is the owner and holder of one hundred and sixty of said bonds with the interest from January 1st, 1889, making the sum of $171125.47. That said Daniel Cumins is the owner in his own right of ten of said Bonds with the interest from January 1st, 1889 making the sum of $10655.34. That the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company is the owner and holder of $50000 of said Bonds with the interest on the same from January 1st, 1889 making the sum of 53476.71. That John M. Kennedy is the owner and holder of twenty four of said Bonds with the interest from January 1st, 1889, making the sum of $25,668.56. That Edward Y. Townsend is the owner of twenty five of said Bonds with the interest from the first day of January, 1889, making $26733.35. That the Pennsylvania Fire Insurance Company is the owner and holder of thirty of said bonds with the interest on the same from January, 1st, 1889 making the sum of $32,086.02. And that all of said bonds are secure by the mortgage of the date of July 1st, 1882 upon the line of said Railway from Jacksonville, Ill. to Centralia, Ill. That all of the outstanding bonds not held by the Complainants in the Cross Bill are also secured by the said mortgage. And the court further finds that said Railway property was and is encumbered by lien for assessed and unpaid taxes in the several counties through which the said road runs as follows, towit: In Morgan County taxes for the year 1888 for the sum of $2,511.05; In Sangamon County for the year 1888 for the sum of $871.43; In Macoupin County for the year 1888 for the sum of $2,739.91; In Montgomery County for the year 1888 for the sum of $1,443.38; In Bond County for the year 1888 for the sum of $2,221.99; In Clinton County for the year 1888 for the sum of $1,198.50; In the County of Marion for the year 1888 for the sum of $977.17.

And the court finds from the inspection of the several declarations filed in the Common law cases in which the judgments hereinbefore mentioned were rendered among other things set up claims for damages which in the opinion of the court would not constitute a lien upon the railway prior to and superior to the mortgage lien to secure the payment of the bonds held by the Complainants in the cross bill and it appearing to the court that the Jacksonville South Eastern Railway Company after filing a plea in each of said cases and the trial of the case of Peter Clepper against said Railway Company abandoned all of the other cases and made no defense in either of said cases, it is therefore ordered by the court that the several judgments be opened And the Complainants in the cross bill be let in to defend said several suits And to the ruling of the Court in this issue Complainants in the original bill excepts and thereupon the Complainants in the original bill and its amendments move the court for an order referring several cases to a jury to ascertain the amount of damage sustained. Kagy, Master in Chancery of the county of Marion and State of Illinois, party of the first part, and Robert F. Kennedy, Charlemagne Tower, Jr., and John H. Catherwood as a committee representing the Mortgage creditors of the Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company, parties of the second part, witnesseth; that whereas at the February term A. D. 1890 of the Circuit court of the County of Marion and State of Illinois, in a certain case therein pending, wherein Peter Heiss and others were complainants, on original bill, and the Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company and others, were respondents; the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, the Penn Fire Insurance Company and others were complainants in a cross bill, and the Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company, and others were respondents, it was ordered and decreed, amongst other things by the court that the Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company pay to the several complainants in the cross bill the several sums found due each of them by said decree, with six per cent interest per annum from date thereof in twenty days from the date of this decree and order aforesaid, and in the event of the failure of the said Railway Company to pay the said sums of money then it was further ordered that the Master in Chancery of said county and State proceed to sell at the front door of the court house in the city of Salem, county of Marion, and State of Illinois, at public auction for cash to the highest bidder, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and three o'clock P. M. of the day fixed for said sale, said sale to be of all and singular the Railroad aforesaid, and all of its tracks, side tracks, sidings, stations and their houses, and all of its shops, and other buildings, and all equipments, rolling stock, franchises, and cars.

And it was further ordered by the court that the Master require a deposit of three thousand Dollars in cash or an amount equivalent to that sum in value of the Mortgage bonds of the Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company of the date of July 1st, 1882, and that no bid should be received by him unless the same should be accompanied with the cash, or its equivalent in the said bonds.

And it was further ordered that said sale be made subject to the lien for unpaid taxes, and subject to any balance due to Dunn and Butler trustees, found on final settlement, and subject to the out standing Mortgage described in cross bill.

And it was further ordered that said Master advertise said property for sale, by publication of notice of said sale, stating the time, terms, and conditions of said sale with a description of the property to be sold, by publication of notice in some public newspaper, published in the city of Salem, Illinois, said notice of sale to be published for four weeks prior to said sale. And it was further ordered that the purchaser should pay on the day of sale, to the Master in chancery, fifty thousand dollars in cash, or fifty thousand dollars in the bonds of said railway company dated July 1st, 1882, and should pay to the Master, in ninety days from said date of sale, fifty five thousand dollars in cash, and the remainder of the purchase money to be paid in the Bonds of said Railway Company at the election of the purchaser. And it was further ordered that said railway property be sold as one property and without redemption. And, whereas, the Jacksonville Southeastern Railway Company failed to pay any part of the said several sums of money so ordered to be paid within the time limited by said order.

And, whereas, the party of the first part, as Master in chancery as aforesaid, in the execution of the decree and order aforesaid caused the said railway property to be advertised, for sale by notice published in the city of Salem, in the county of Marion and State of Illinois, in which notice was stated the time, terms, and place of sale, and describing therein the property to be sold, as aforesaid and stating therein that he would attend at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Salem between the hours of twelve noon and three o'clock P. And at the time and place specified in the notice of sale aforesaid the party of the first part attended, and thereupon offered for sale, upon the terms and conditions in said order and decree provided, and in said notice of sale mentioned, the railroad and other property in said order mentioned and described; and the parties of the second part, being the highest and best bidder for the same, became the purchasers thereof for the sum of five hundred thousand Dollars. And whereas at a subsequent term of the court holden on the 4th, day of October 1890, it was further ordered and decreed that the purchasers pay the Master in chancery the sum of Eleven thousand two hundred and five dollars in lieu of the sum of fifty five thousand dollars as originally decreed, and that the balance of the purchase money be paid in the bonds of the said company of the issue of July 1st, 1882.

And the parties of the second part having fully complied with all the terms and conditions of said sale, as modified by said decree of October 4th, 1890, the party of the first part, as Master in chancery, as aforesaid, thereupon sold and by these presents does sell and convey to the parties of the second part, their heirs and assigns, all and singular the railroad, and all of its equipment, and more particularly described as follows, and being a railroad extending from the City of Jacksonville in the County of Morgan, in the State of Illinois, and extending from thence to the City of Centralia, in Marion County, Illinois, including all its railway,

And whereas, it is the true intent and meaning of these presents that each and all of the said bonds, whether now executed or hereafter to be executed, shall be equally secured to be paid by these presents.

Now therefore, this Indenture Witnesseth, That, in pursuance of the said resolutions of its stockholders and Board of Directors, the said party of the first part, in order the better to secure the payment of said bonds, and all of the interest to accrue thereon, and for and in consideration of the premises and of the sum of one dollar to the party of the first part duly paid by the said party of the second part at or before the ensealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, hath granted, bargained and sold, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, convey transfer, assign and set over to the said party of the second part and its successors in trust, all and singular the said railway now belonging and which may hereafter belong to the said party of the first part, and which the said party of the first part is by law authorized to construct, purchase, acquire and operate, beginning in the City of Jacksonville, and running through the Counties of Morgan, Sangamon, Macoupin, Montgomery, Bond, Clinton, and Marion and terminating in the City of Centralia in said county of Marion, in the State of Illinois, and also all rolling stock, equipment and machinery connected or to be connected with said railway, and all franchises now held or hereafter to be acquired by the said party of the first part, its successors or assigns in connection therewith, including in the premises hereby granted, all the railways, ways, rights of way, and all the depot grounds and other lands, and all the tracks, bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences and other structures, and all the depots, stations, station houses, engine houses, car houses, freight houses, wood-houses and other buildings, and all machine shops and other shops held or acquired, and which shall be held and acquired, for use upon the aforesaid line of railway, or in connection with the business thereof; and including also all the locomotives, tenders, passenger, baggage, freight and other cars and all the rolling stock and equipment, and all the machinery, tools, implements, fuel and materials for constructing, operating, repairing or replacing the said railway or the equipments or appurtenances of the said railway now held or hereafter to be acquired by the said party of the first part, together with all and singular the tenements hereditaments and appurtenances to the said railway and premises, or any part thereof, belonging or in any wise appertaining and the reversion and reversions, remainder and remainders, tolls, incomes, rents, issues and profits thereof, and also all the estate, right, title, interest, property, possession, claim and demand whatsoever, as well in law as in equity, of the said party of the first part of, in and to the same, and any and every part and parcel thereof, with the appurtenances, and all books of account and vouchers kept and to be kept by the said party of the first part, which the said party of the first part now holds, or shall hereafter acquire. To have and to hold the said railway and premises, and all the franchises and property hereinbefore described unto the said party of the second part and its successors in trust forever, but in trust, nevertheless, for the uses and purposes, and with and subject to the powers, agreements and conditions hereinafter in that behalf mentioned and set forth.

And this indenture further witnesseth that for the consideration aforesaid, and in order the better and more effectually to secure the payment of said bonds and of all interest to accrue thereon, the said party of the first part has covenanted, promised, granted and agreed to and with the said party of the second part, and its successors, as follows, to-wit:

Article first. The party of the first part shall, upon the execution, delivery and recording of this mortgage or deed of trust, make, execute and deliver unto the said party of the second part, and the said party of the second part, shall, upon the request of the President or Board of Directors of said party of the first part, certify or countersign and deliver to the said party of the first part, bonds of the party of the first part intended to be secured thereby, to an amount not exceeding the sum of one million six hundred and eighty thousand dollars, upon the railway of the party of the first part, beginning in the City of Jacksonville, and extending to the city of Centralia, all in the State of Illinois, being about one hundred and twelve miles of railway, more or less. Provided however, that of said bonds, bonds to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, numbered one to three hundred, inclusive, shall be certified and delivered by the party of the second part to the party of the first part only on the surrender and delivery to the party of the second part by the holder or holders of the same of an equal amount in par value of the first mortgage bonds of the Jacksonville South eastern railway Company, previously issued and now outstanding. And all and every of the said bonds so surrendered and exchanged shall be held by the party of the second part, without cancellation, and without any release, relinquishment or impairment of the lien or security of the mortgage or deed of trust under which the said surrendered bonds were issued, until the whole amount outstanding of said bonds shall have been surrendered, and when the whole amount of said bonds shall have been surrendered, as aforesaid, they shall be cancelled and delivered to the party of the first part, its successor or successors. The fact of the surrender as aforesaid of any of said bonds shall constitute an agreement of the party of the first part, as the holder and exchanger of said bonds that the said party of the second part up to the time of the cancellation and delivery of said bonds as aforesaid, and as the trustees of, and to and for the benefit, advantage and protection of the holders of all bonds issued and outstanding under this mortgage, or deed of trust, shall be invested with and entitled to fully exercise all the rights, privileges, resources and remedies given, granted and declared to the holder of said surrendered bonds, by the terms, conditions and provisions of the said mortgage or deed of trust, under which said bonds were issued.

Article Second. Until default shall be made by the said party of the first part, its successors or assigns in the payment of interest or principal of said bonds, or in the due observance of the covenants and agreements hereinafter contained on the part and behalf of the said party of the first part, the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, shall be suffered and permitted to remain in the actual possession of said railway and premises and to exercise the franchises and rights relating thereto and to collect, receive and use the revenues and profits thereof in any manner which will not impair the lien created by these presents.

And the said party of the first part, hereby covenants, promises and agrees to and with the said party of the second part and its successors that the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns, remaining in the possession of the said railway and premises, shall and will keep the said railway in good order and safe running condition, and shall and will, from time to time, pay and discharge all taxes, assessments and governmental charges which may be lawfully imposed upon the said railway and premises, or upon any part thereof, and the lien of which might or could be held to be prior to the lien of these presents, so that the priority of these presents may be fully preserved, and that the said party of the first part will not do or suffer any act or thing whatsoever whereby the lien hereof may or can be impaired, until the said bonds and all interest thereon shall be fully paid and satisfied.

Article Third. In case default shall be made in the payment of any semi-annual installment of interest which may accrue upon the said bonds, or upon any of them, when such interest shall become due, and be demanded, and such interest or any part thereof shall remain unpaid and in arrears for the period of six months, or in case default shall be made in the due observance and performance of the covenant of further assurance hereinafter set forth, or in the payment of any taxes, assessments or other governmental charges which may be lawfully levied or imposed upon the said railway and premises, or upon any part thereof, and either of said last mentioned defaults shall continue for the period of six months or in case default shall be made in the payment of the principal of said bonds, or of any of them, then and in any and every such case of default, it shall be lawful for the said party of the second part as trustee under these presents, or for any successors of the said party of the second part in the trust created by these presents, to enter into and upon the railway and premises hereinbefore granted or conveyed and each and every part of the same, and from thenceforth the said railway and premises, and each and every part thereof, and all and singular, the rights and franchises herein before granted, to have, hold and enjoy, operating the said railway by such superintendents, managers, receivers, assistants and servants or other attorneys or agents as the said trustee shall deem proper, and making from time to time all such repairs and replacements, and all such useful alterations, additions and improvements to the said railway and premises as the said Trustee may deem expedient and judicious, and it shall likewise be lawful for the said trustee, after any and every default happening and continuing as aforesaid, to collect and receive all revenues and profits of the said railway and premises, and of every part and parcel thereof, and after deducting therefrom all the expenses lawfully incurred in making such entry, or in otherwise obtaining possession of said premises, including reasonable attorney and counsel fees, as well as any and all expenses of holding, operating and managing the said railway and premises and conducting the business thereof including the cost and expenses of all such repairs, replacements, alterations, additions and improvements as may be made by said trustee as aforesaid, and all payments which may be made or be due for taxes and assessments, or other charges or liens prior to the lien of these presents upon the said railway and premises or upon any part or parcel thereof, and just compensation for the trustees own services, to apply any and all revenues and profits of the said railway and premises which may be received by said trustee as aforesaid, to the payment, first, of all overdue interest on the said bonds, with interest thereon, and secondly to the payment of all interest accruing during such possession of said trustee, which payment of interest shall be made to the holders of the bonds and coupons evidencing their right to the same, ratably and without discrimination or preference between them.

Article Fourth. It is hereby mutually agreed, that at any sale of the railway and property herein before conveyed, which may be made for the purpose of enforcing the lien of these presents, the trustee under these presents for the time being, may at its own discretion, and not otherwise, bid for, and if the same be obtainable at the price hereinafter mentioned, purchase and acquire the property so offered for sale, in behalf of all the holders of the bonds aforesaid, which shall then be outstanding in proportion to the amount of said bonds and of the overdue coupons thereunto belonging by them respectively held.

Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall authorize the said trustees to bid for the entire property then held upon the trusts of this indenture on behalf of the holders of said bonds, a sum exceeding the whole amount of said bonds then outstanding with the interest accrued thereon, and the expense of such sale; or any amount reasonably proportionate thereto for any part of the said property.

And it is hereby further agreed that the bonds and over due coupons aforesaid or any of them, shall be received in payment on account of the purchase money of any property which shall be offered for sale as aforesaid, as equivalent to so much of the said purchase money as would be distributable and payable thereon out of the proceeds of such sale.

Article Fifth. In case default shall be made in the payment of any semi-annual installment of interest to accrue on any of the said bonds when such interest shall become payable, and if such interest shall remain unpaid and in arrear for the space of six months, then and in each and every such case of the happening and continuing of such default in the payment of interest, the principal of each and all of the said bonds may be declared by the trustee for the time being hereunder or by a majority in interest of the holders of all of said bonds which may then be outstanding and unpaid, at the option of such trustee or of such majority in interest of bondholders, to be and thereupon the same shall become and be due and payable immediately, notwithstanding that the time limited in said bonds for the payment thereof, may not have elapsed.

Article Sixth. It is hereby expressly declared and agreed that in case default shall be made in the payment of interest upon any of the said bonds when such interest shall become due and be demanded, and such default shall continue for the space of six months, or in case default shall be made in the payment of the principal of any one of the said bonds when the same shall become due, then and in either and every such case, of default, it shall be the duty of the trustee for the time being under these presents to take appropriate proceedings at law or in equity to enforce the rights of the holders of said bonds upon a requisition to that effect being made upon the trustee, signed by holders of at least one third in amount of the bonds then outstanding.

Article Seventh. The trustee under these presents, shall have at all times while the said bonds or any of them remain outstanding, and is hereby granted full power and authority, to be exercised in the discretion of said trustee and not otherwise, to release from the lien and operation of these presents in such manner as it may be advised, upon the request in writing of the said party of the first part, its successors or assigns, any portion of the aforesaid premises, not being a part of the main line of the said railway which in the judgment of such trustee shall not be necessary for use in connection therewith, and which shall have been acquired for station or depot purposes, or for shops or other buildings, or for supplying fuel, gravel or other material, but which in the judgment of such trustee, it shall have become unnecessary or inexpedient to retain in consequence of its having become necessary or undesirable to change the location of such depot, shop or other building, or to substitute other lands for the purpose of supplying such fuel, gravel or material: provided always that any and all lands and premises which shall be acquired for station or depot purposes or for shops or other buildings, or for the purposes of supplying fuel, gravel or other material, shall be conveyed to the said trustee to be held by it, upon the trusts of these presents in the same manner as the premises so released. And the said trustee may also allow the said company, its successors or assigns to dispose of any rolling stock, equipment and machinery or other personal property which may be held for use upon or in connection with said railway, or the business thereof, but which in said trustee's judgment shall have become unfit or undesirable for such use: Provided always, that any and all rolling stock, equipment and machinery or other personal property which may be acquired in substitution for any similar property so disposed of, shall become and be subject to the lien of these presents. The verified certificates of the president or Vice-president and the Chief Engineer of the party of the first part shall be sufficient evidence to the trustee of the propriety of making any release under this article.

Article Eighth. It is hereby expressly declared, and these presents are upon the condition, that if the said party of the first part shall well and truly pay and discharge the interest on each and every of the said bonds as the same shall mature, and shall well and truly pay and discharge the principal of each and every of the said bonds when such principal shall become due and payable, according to the true intent and meaning of said bonds and of these presents, and shall well and truly keep and perform the other covenants and agreements in these presents contained, to be by it kept and performed, then these presents, and all the estate and interest thereby granted, shall cease, determine and become void, otherwise the same shall be and remain in full force and virtue; and the said party of the first part hereby covenants, promises and agrees to and with the said party of the second part and to and with its successors in the trust, that the said party of the first part shall and will well and truly pay the said bonds, and all interest to accrue thereon, at the times and in the manner in said bonds mentioned, and according to the true intent and meaning thereof.

Article ninth. It is hereby declared and agreed that the trustee under these presents shall be entitled to a reasonable compensation for any services which the said trustee may hereafter render in the trust hereby created, to be paid by the said party of the first part; that the said trustee shall not be answerable for any default or misconduct of any agent or attorney who may be appointed by it in pursuance of these presents, if such agent or attorney be selected with reasonable care, and that the said trustee shall not be answerable or accountable for any thing whatever in connection with said trust but gross negligence or willful misconduct or default. And it is further declared and agreed that the trustee hereunder may at any time be removed by a majority in interest of the bona fide holders of said bonds, providing such removal be made by an instrument in writing, under seal, duly executed and acknowledged; that the said trustee may resign the trust under these presents, at any time by giving sixty days notice in writing, of the intention so to do to the said party of the first part, and to such of the holders of said bonds as shall have registered with such trustee, their names and post office addresses, provided such notice of resignation be served on the said party of the first part at its principal office, and on the bondholders who shall have so registered their names and addresses with said trustee, by the deposit thereof in the mail directed to the said bondholders respectively. And it is further agreed and declared that in case the trustee hereby appointed or any successor of such trustee shall at any time hereafter resign the said trust, or be removed therefrom, as aforesaid, another trustee or trustees may and shall be appointed by a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds, by an instrument in writing duly signed by such majority in interest of said bondholders, given at a meeting of such bondholders, duly convened and held as hereinafter provided.

And it is further agreed and declared, that in case the appointment of a trustee shall be unduly delayed, and the trust shall remain vacant for more than sixty days, any holder or holders of said bonds, to the aggregate amount of one hundred thousand dollars or upwards, upon reasonable notice to the said party of the first part, may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a new trustee; but no bond holder shall be entitled to make such application to court until a reasonable time, to wit: sixty days shall have been allowed for the purpose of enabling a majority in interest of said bondholders to appoint a new trustee as aforesaid.

And it is hereby further agreed that it shall be the duty of any trustee resigning or being removed as aforesaid, to exercise, acknowledge and deliver not at his own cost or expense, but at the cost and expense of the party of the first part, any and all deeds or instruments which such trustee may be reasonably requested by the said new trustee to execute for the purpose of assuring the title in said premises to such new trustee.

And it is hereby further expressly declared and agreed that whenever and as often as any contingency shall arise in which the action of a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds shall be necessary, or in which the said bondholders are herein declared to have any discretionary Voice or power, the trustee hereunder shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered, at the proper cost and expense of the said party of the first part, to call a meeting of all the holders of bonds secured hereby, to be held in the City of New York, by advertisement to be published three times in each week for four weeks in one newspaper of good circulation amongst the business community in that city; and in default of such meeting being called by said trustee within ten days after notification in writing by any bondholder of the necessity therefor, it shall be competent for any holder or holders of said bonds to the aggregate amount of one hundred thousand dollars, to call said meeting in the manner aforesaid.

Provided, however, that at any meeting called as aforesaid, a majority in interest of the holders of said bonds may prescribe and establish such rules as they may deem proper for the calling of future similar meetings and the regulation of the proceedings thereof. And it is hereby declared and agreed that at any meeting convened and held pursuant to these presents, the holders of said bonds shall be competent to exercise in person or by proxy all the power and authority conferred upon them by these presents.

Provided nevertheless, that any person appearing at said meeting of bondholders, and claiming the right to participate therein, shall, if requested by any bondholders present thereat, produce the bond or bonds upon which such person may claim the right to vote at such meeting, or file an affidavit with the Chairman of the meeting that he, the person so claiming the right to participate in such meeting, is a holder of one or more of the bonds aforesaid, or the proxy of such holder, in which affidavit he shall specify the amount and number of the bonds which he claims to hold or represent, before being allowed to vote at such meeting except for the purpose of temporarily organizing the same, and on the adjournment of such meeting all such affidavits shall be delivered to the trustee under these presents.

And this indenture, further witnesseth, that the said party of the first part for the consideration aforesaid, has promised and agreed and does hereby covenant, promise and agree to and with the said party of the second part and its successors, that the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns shall and will well and truly pay or cause to be paid unto the holder or holders of said bonds, the principal and interest thereof, as the same shall become payable according to the tenor of said bonds and the terms of the coupons thereto annexed; and shall and will do, observe and perform any and every act and thing mentioned in or required by these presents to be by it or them done, observed and performed, and that the said party of the first part, its successors and assigns shall and will from time to time and at all times hereafter, and as often as thereunto requested by the trustee under this indenture, execute, acknowledge and deliver all such further deeds, conveyances and assurances in the law for the better assuring unto the said party of the second part, and to its successors, upon the trust herein expressed, the railway, equipments, appurtenances, franchises, property and things hereinbefore mentioned, and particularly any and all franchises, whatsoever which shall or may at any time hereafter, while the said bonds, or any of them, remain unpaid, be acquired by the said party of the first part, its successors or assigns as by the said trustee or by its counsel, learned in law, shall be reasonably advised, directed or required.

In Witness whereof, the said party of the first part has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed and these presents to be signed by its president and secretary on the day and year first above written, and the said party of the second part, in order to evidence its acceptance of the trust hereby created has also caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed and these presents to be signed by its Vice-president and Secretary.

together with interest on the coupons since each of them became due, at the rate of five per cent. per annum.

That default has been made in the payment of each and every of said semi-annual instalments of interest on the said bonds after such interest became payable, and that all of such interest has remained unpaid, and that all of such interest excepting the semi-annual instalment of interest which became due on the first day of January, 1896, has remained unpaid and in arrear for more than the space of six months after the same became due and payable. That after and by reason of such default continuing as aforesaid, the complainant The Finance Company of Pennsylvania has pursuant to said mortgage or deed of trust declared the principal of each and all of said bonds to be due and payable, and such principal has become and is due and payable.

VII. In Consideration Whereof and Therefore, It Is Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that the defendant, The Jacksonville, Louisville, & St. Louis Railway Company is insolvent, and that it shall, on or before the expiration of five days from the date, of this decree, pay into this Court or into the hands of the depository to be named by this Court, to the credit of this suit, the following several sums and interest for the use and benefit of the respective parties entitled thereto.

1. A sum sufficient to pay the costs and expenses of this cause to be taxed.

2. For the use and benefit of the holders of the said bonds and the unpaid coupons and interest thereon since their maturity at the rate of five per cent. per annum secured by the said mortgage or deed of trust to the complainant, The Finance Company of Pennsylvania, the sum of $1,585,243.64.

In case the amount hereinbefore found to be due for principal and interest upon the bonds secured by said mortgage or deed of trust of May 1, 1890 and for interest upon the matured coupons shall be paid as hereinbefore decreed, then any of the parties hereto may apply to this Court for such further relief and for such further directions as may be just and equitable.

VIII. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that in default of such payment by said "Railway Company" or by any one claiming under it or by any one for its account, the said mortgaged premises, property, and franchises shall be sold as hereinafter directed, without valuation, appraisement, redemption, or extension, and all the right, title, estate, interest and equity of redemption of said "Railway Company" and of each and all of the parties to this cause, and of all persons claiming or to claim under them or either of them, of, in or to the said mortgaged premises, property, and franchises, and every part and parcel thereof covered by said mortgage shall be forever barred and foreclosed, and without right of redemption in the mortgagor "Railway Company" or in judgment creditors, subject, nevertheless, to the reservation contained in the paragraph of this decree numbered XIV.

IX. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that, said mortgaged premises and property, real, personal or mixed, rights, privileges, immunities and franchises, shall be sold upon the terms and in the manner following:

(1) The sale of said railways, property and franchises shall be made by Philip Barton Warren, Esquire, who is hereby appointed Special Master to make, direct and conduct the said sale and to execute and deliver deeds of conveyance of the property to be sold to the purchaser or purchasers thereof upon the order confirming such sale, and upon payment or settlement of the purchase price bid as herein provided; and the Court reserves the right in Term time or in Chambers to appoint any other person such Special Master with like powers, in case of the death or inability to act or removal of the Special Master herein designated. The said Special Master before the day of sale shall file with the Clerk of this Court his bond, with surety to be approved by the Court or a Judge thereof, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, with the condition that he shall faithfully perform the duties herein imposed upon him as such Special Master.

(2) The Railways, property and franchises described in, and covered by said mortgage, the same being the railways, property and franchises described in paragraph III of this decree, and the property pertaining thereto including such portion claimed by the individual defendants or any of them, shall be offered for sale as an entirety.

(3) The said Special Master shall give public notice of the time and place of such sale by advertisement and previous publication of a notice published not less than once a week for four successive weeks prior to said sale in a newspaper published in the city of Springfield, and in a newspaper published in Jacksonville, Illinois, printed, regularly issued, and having a general circulation in the counties which said Cities are located, and in the State of Illinois.

(4) The sale shall be at public auction upon the premises of the defendant railway company, namely at its depot at Jacksonville, a station on the line of said railway company in the county of Morgan, in the State of Illinois, at the time and place designated in such public advertisement and notice.

(5) The said Special Master may adjourn said sale from day to day or week to week or otherwise, giving such notice as to him shall seem reasonable of such adjournment, and may make such sale at the time and place to which the same shall be adjourned.

(6) Said Special Master shall accept no bid for the said property mortgaged to said The Finance Company of Pennsylvania, as aforesaid, and above directed to be sold, unless the said bid shall be at least the sum of $250,000. If the Special Master does not receive a bid of at least that amount, he shall forthwith adjourn the sale and apply to the court for instructions.

(7) The Special Master shall be authorized to refuse to receive or consider any bid from any one offering to bid who shall not first deposit with him, as a pledge that he will make good his bid in case of its acceptance, the sum of $5,000 in money or by certified check, or $100,000 par value of the bonds to be first paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said mortgaged property, together with the coupons pertaining to such bonds. The deposit so received from any unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him when the property shall be struck down, and the deposit received from the successful bidder shall be deposited in the registry of this Court and applied on account of the purchase price of such property. Upon the acceptance of any bid, the purchaser shall forthwith, upon demand, deposit with the said Special Master a sum in cash, or by certified check upon any national bank or any trust company, which, together with any previous deposit of cash made prior to the acceptance of the bid, shall equal twenty per cent. of the amount of the bid; but the purchaser may in lieu of such cash or certified check deposit with the Special Master forty per cent. of the amount of the bid in bonds of the issue to be first paid out of the proceeds of such sale as hereinafter provided, together with the coupons pertaining thereto, and said sum or bonds shall forthwith be likewise, deposited by said Special Master in the registry of this Court and the same shall, upon confirmation of the sale, be applied on account of the purchase price of the property.

(8) In case any bidder or purchaser shall fail to make good his bid as above provided, or to comply with any orders of the Court relating to the consummation of the purchase or to any payment or part payment to be made on account thereof, then the sums or bonds deposited by such purchaser or purchasers prior to said bid or upon or after its acceptance shall be forfeited as a penalty for such non-compliance, and shall be applied towards payments of the expenses of a re-sale, and towards making good any deficiency or loss in case the property shall be sold at a less price upon such re-sale, and the Court reserves the right in any such case to order a re-sale of the property upon such notice as the Court shall fix. If any sale for which the deposit is made be not confirmed by the Court, such deposit shall be returned to the bidder. Any bondholder or bondholders or their representatives may bid and purchase at said sale.

(9) The purchaser at any such sale shall upon confirmation thereof by the Court make such further payment or payments in cash on account of the purchase price bid as the Court may from time to time direct; provided that the purchaser may in lieu of cash, after sufficient cash shall have been provided for the requirements of this decree, deliver to the Special Master to be stamped as hereinafter provided, any of the bonds and coupons to be paid out of the proceeds of such sale upon distribution thereof as hereinafter provided, such bonds and coupons being received in lieu of (and such purchaser being credited therefor on account of the purchase price) such sums in cash as would be payable on such bonds and coupons out of the proceeds of the sale if the whole amount of the purchase price were paid in cash.

(10) The Receiver shall, prior to any sale hereunder, and as soon as practicable, file with the Clerk of this Court, a statement showing as definitely as is practicable, all indebtedness, obligations and liabilities contracted or incurred by him then remaining unpaid, and outstanding certificates, and shall within one week prior to the time of the sale file with the Clerk of this Court a further statement showing as definitely as he shall find practicable any additional indebtedness, obligations, certificates or liabilities contracted or incurred and outstanding, and also the amount of the indebtedness, obligations and liabilities included in such first statement which may have been discharged.

(11) The purchaser or purchasers of said mortgaged property shall, as part of the consideration and purchase price of the property purchased, take the same upon the express condition that he or they or his or their successors or assigns shall pay, satisfy and discharge so much of the outstanding receivers' certificates and so much of the compensation to said Receiver and of all indebtedness, obligations or liabilities contracted or incurred, or which may be contracted or incurred, or additional receivers' certificates which may be issued by said Receiver before delivery of possession of the property sold as the Court shall fix and allow and order to be paid by such purchaser or purchasers or his or their successors or assigns. The Court may require the purchasers to pay all or any part of such compensation, receivers' certificates and indebtedness so assumed before delivery of possession of the property purchased; and any portion of such certificates, indebtedness, obligations and liabilities which shall not have been paid by the purchaser or by the Receiver prior to such delivery of possession shall, when duly established, remain and constitute a fresh lien upon the property in the hands of the purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors and assigns, until fully paid, satisfied or discharged, provided, however, that any such claims for indebtedness obligations or liabilities, contracted or incurred during the receivership which shall not have been presented to the Receiver at the time of delivery of possession of such property shall be presented for allowance within sixty days after the first publication by the Receiver of a notice to the holders of such certificates and claims for indebtedness, obligations, and liabilities to present their claims for allowance. The Receiver shall publish such notice at least once a week for a period of four weeks upon request of any such purchaser or purchasers after delivery of possession of the property to the purchaser or purchasers; and any such claims which shall not be presented for allowance within the period of sixty days after the first publication of such notice shall not be enforceable against the said Receiver nor against the property sold nor against the purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors or assigns.

(12) Any such purchaser or purchasers, and his or their successors and assigns, shall have the right to enter his or their appearance in this Court, and he or they, or any of the parties to this suit, shall have the right to contest the allowance of any claim or demand pending and undetermined at the date of the confirmation of the sale, and any claim or demand which may be presented thereafter which would be payable by such purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors or assigns, or which would be chargeable against the property purchased, and may appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals from any decision relating to any claim, demand or allowance whatsoever, according to the law and practice of said Court.

(13) The said Special Master may fix a time and place for the final consummation of any such sale after confirmation thereof, which time, may, however, be adjourned by consent of all the parties or by the order of this Court.

(14) At the time fixed by the Special Master for the consummation of the sale, and after the same shall have been confirmed by the Court the purchaser or purchasers of said property shall deposit the amount of the balance of his or their respective bids with said The Finance Company of Pennsylvania, in the City of Philadelphia, in cash or partly in cash and partly in bonds as aforesaid, to the credit of the Special Master appointed to sell said property.

X. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that the funds arising from the sale of the said premises shall be applied as follows:

(1). To the payment of the costs of this cause and of all proper expenses attendant upon said sale including the compensation of the Special Master appointed to make the sale and the payment of all charges, compensations, allowances and disbursements of the complainants, including solicitors and counsel fees, and of the Receiver and his solicitors and counsel, and also all such other proper allowance, compensation and disbursements to the parties or their counsel as may be directed by the order of the Court. All of the payments to be made under the subdivision shall be hereafter fixed and allowed and taxed by this Court or a Judge thereof.

(2). The balance of the fund realized from the sale of the premises covered by said mortgage to The Finance Company of Pennsylvania, shall be applied to the payment of the amount due and in arrear for principal and interest on said $1,380,000 of First Consolidated Mortgage Five per cent. Gold Bonds in full; or, if the said fund shall not be sufficient to pay said principal and interest in full, then ratably to the payment of such principal and interest, without preference or priority of principal over interest or of interest over principal. In case the fund is insufficient to pay said bonds and coupons and interest in full, said Special Master shall stamp or cause to be stamped upon said bonds or coupons so paid the amount of such payment, and shall return said bonds or coupons to the owners thereof, with the payment so stamped upon the same.

XI. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that when delivery is made by the Receiver of the property herein ordered to be sold to the purchaser or purchasers, said Receiver shall file his accounts before the Special Master, showing the surplus of revenue then in his hands, if any, and any amount realized upon the sale of property acquired by him, and all his outstanding liabilities, liquidated and unliquidated, and the Court reserves, for further order and disposition, all questions as to the distribution of said surplus and amount, if any, and all questions as to the protection of the Receiver from the demands and claims against him pertaining to the business of said Receiver.

XII. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that upon payment of the purchase price by the purchaser or purchasers of said property, the said special Master making the sale shall execute a deed conveying the property purchased to such purchaser or purchasers, or his or their assigns; and that upon the execution and delivery of such deed the grantee or grantees therein shall be let into possession of the premises conveyed. The purchaser or purchasers shall, after such delivery of the premises, hold, possess and enjoy the said premises and property and all the rights, privileges, immunities and franchises appertaining thereto, as fully and completely as said defendant, The Jacksonville, Louisville & St. Louis Railway Company, now hold or enjoy, or held or enjoyed, at the time of the commencement of the suit to foreclose the mortgage upon such premises and property or were or are entitled to hold or enjoy the same: and the respective purchaser or purchasers, and his or their successors and assigns, shall thereupon be entitled to have and hold the premises so conveyed free and discharged from the lien and incumbrance of said mortgage and from the claims of all parties to this suit and those claiming under them, save only as hereinafter provided, and subject to the payment of any amount which this Court may find and determine to be due and payable as provided in this decree.

XIII. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that the defendant The Jacksonville, Louisville & St. Louis Railway Company and The Finance Company of Pennsylvania, trustee of said mortgage, shall, as a further assurance to the purchaser or purchasers, severally execute their deed or deeds or join with the Special Master in the execution of the deed or deeds to be made by him to such purchaser or purchasers, of the property above ordered to be sold, and shall thereby convey and release to the respective purchaser or purchasers, their rights, titles, and interests in the property conveyed to such purchaser or purchasers respectively.

XIV. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that the remaining undisposed claims, issues and equities raised by the answers of the defendants William S. Hook and Mary B. Hook and the intervening petitions of all other persons or corporations now on file be reserved for further consideration by the Court, and that the sale of the mortgaged premises shall not affect the claims, issues, and equities so raised, and shall be made subject to such orders and decrees as may hereafter be made by the Court with respect to all and singular such claims, issues, and equities, but that the sale of the mortgaged premises shall include all and singular the right, title and interest of said "Railway Company" and of the complainant The Finance Company of Pennsylvania, as mortgagee in and to the property claimed by any of the defendants.

XV. It Is Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed, that any party to this cause and also any intervening petitioner who has heretofore duly filed his petition herein and also the Receiver may at any time apply to this Court for further relief, at the foot of this decree, as well as for such modifications thereof in respect to the terms or conditions or the said sale, or to the distribution of the proceeds thereof, or in respect to any other matter which may affect the rights of any of the parties to these causes as may be just and proper, and jurisdiction in this cause is retained by this Court for the purpose of enforcing all the provisions of this decree.

THE JACKSONVILLE AND SAINT LOUIS RAILWAY COMPANY

This road was started in 1867, by citizens of Jacksonville and Virden, Illinois, and between those points.

The first Company to be organized was named Jacksonville, North Western and South Eastern Railway Company, under a Special Act of the Illinois Legislature in force February 23, 1867, to build from Virden northwestwardly towards Jacksonville, the road being completed from Virden to Franklin, (17.7 miles), to a connection with the Illinois Farmers Railroad, July, 1872.

The second Company was organized by Special Act of the Illinois Legislature approved February 28, 1867, called "The Illinois Farmers' Railroad Company," amended April 20, 1869, to build from Jacksonville southeastwardly to Franklin to a connection with the Jacksonville North Western and South Eastern Railway (13 miles), completed in 1870.

July 10, 1872, the Illinois Farmers Railroad Company conveyed all its property to the Jacksonville North Western and South Eastern Railway Company.

July 10, 1872, The Jacksonville North Western and South Eastern Railway Company executed a Mortgage to the Farmers Loan & Trust Company of New York, to secure an issue of bonds, the interest upon which was defaulted and foreclosure proceedings resulted in a Decree May 17, 1879, in the Circuit Court of Morgan County, Illinois, under which Henry Stryker, Jr., Master in Chancery, executed a deed to William S. Hook, representing the bondholders, dated July 15, 1879.

The purchasers incorporated a new company under the general laws of Illinois, the articles being dated June 23, 1879, and the name adopted being "The Jacksonville South Eastern Railway Company," and William S. Hook conveyed the road to this new company by deed dated July 25, 1879.

This Company extended the road southeastwardly from Virden to Centralia, it being completed to that point in December, 1883, and the total mileage from Jacksonville to Centralia being 111.9 miles.

July 1, 1882, this Company executed a Mortgage to Henry Dunn and Edgar Butler, Trustees, to secure an issue of bonds, on which it defaulted, and foreclosure proceedings resulted in a Decree February 27, 1890, in the Circuit Court of Marion County, Illinois, under which possession of the road was turned over to Kennedy, Tower and Catherwood, a Committee of the bondholders.

August 15, 1890, the Circuit Court of Marion County in a case wherein Peter Heiss and others were complainants, ordered the railroad then in the hands of said bondholders committee to be sold, and pursuant to that Decree, it was bid in by the said bondholders committee, and conveyed by deed of date October 4, 1890, from L. M. Kagy, Master in Chancery. This committee remained in possession until January 23, 1891, when it conveyed the property to William Elliott by deed of that date. Elliott caused a new company to be incorporated under the general laws of Illinois, named "The Jacksonville, Louisville & St. Louis Railway Company," the Articles being dated December 30, 1889, and Elliott conveyed the road to it by deed January 23, 1891.

May 1, 1890, this Company executed a Mortgage to the Finance Company of Pennsylvania, as Trustee, to secure an issue of bonds, upon which the interest was defaulted, resulting in a foreclosure suit, and a Decree dated April 23, 1896, in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Illinois, and Samuel P. Wheeler was appointed Receiver in that proceeding.

June 28, 1896, Philip B. Warren, Special Master, executed a deed of the property to Robert F. Kennedy and J. H. Dunn, representing the bondholders, who organized a new company named "Jacksonville and St. Louis Railway Company," to which they conveyed the property by deed dated October 1, 1896.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company bought into this property in 1903, for the purpose of extending it to the southern Illinois coal fields, and caused the Jacksonville & Concord Railway Company to be organized for the purpose of building from Jacksonville to Concord, to connect up with its St. Louis division.

The Articles of the Jacksonville & Concord Railway Company are dated September 21, 1903, and the road (9.96 miles) was completed February 4, 1904, and the road was leased to the Jacksonville & St. Louis Railway Company March 24, 1904, and conveyed to that Company by deed July 1, 1904.

July 1, 1904, the Jacksonville & St. Louis Company made a twenty-five year lease of its road to the C. B. & Q. R. R. Co., and July 1, 1905, conveyed its road and franchises and all of its property to that Company by deed.
